

Death's Busiest Harvest Time Among the Babies

August Heat Adds Hundreds to the Mortality Rate.

Lactated Food Keeps up Babies' Strength and Saves Their Lives.

More persons will die during the coming four weeks than at any other time of the year.

"And the greatest proportion of these deaths," says the New York Press, "will strike down children under five years of age, and from six to eight out of every 10 will be traced by the Board of Health to the ignorance and carelessness of mothers who will yet mourn the loss of their children as sincerely and deeply as any mother could."

The greatest source of mortality this month and next will be diarrheal diseases, due to improper food, which sows the seeds of disease. Hot, sultry nights ripen them into full fruition.

Boards of Health, physicians and mothers agree that there are but two ways by which babies' lives may be absolutely insured against cholera infantum and the wasting disorders of hot weather. One is healthy mother's milk, and the other is lactated food.

In eight cases out of ten where a physician is called because the "baby is not doing well," he sees that all that is needed is a more nourishing diet, and after advising such a rich but easily assimilated nutriment as lactated food the child shows right off a gain in weight and color and liveliness.

This most remarkable of all infant foods has great nourishing powers. It is made with the most scrupulous attention to purity and freedom from any source of contagion. It fills the tiny veins and arteries with ruddy, pure blood. Sound sleep follows its use, and rapid growth comes as naturally from a well-fed system as sleep does when the nervous centers are properly nourished.

Sunshine is food; it is meat for strong men, but the very young, the aged and the feeble are wiled and worsted by the fierce heat. For them as well as mothers trying to nurse their children through the hot summer, nothing so quickly and easily keeps them strong as lactated food. Every intelligent mother at once understands why it is possible for lactated food to build up the tissues so rapidly and to give strength to babies and persons with delicate stomachs when her physician explains to her the simple ingredients of this preparation—sugar of milk, and the nutritive qualities of wheat, barley and oats.

"The weight and size, not the age of the baby, should determine its food," says Dr. A. Siebert of the N. Y. Polyclinic Children's Hospital. At the first indication that baby is not thriving, give it lactated food. But be sure to feed it regularly. Lactated food will plump out the cheeks of thin, pale-lipped babies and make them gain steadily in weight. For weaning babies and during the teething period there is no substitute for lactated food. It resembles in every respect healthy mother's milk, it is particularly grateful to nervous, fretful children who are hungry and insufficiently nourished, yet find their usual food displeasing to their weak and disturbed stomachs.

Ask the first mother you talk with what she knows about lactated food. It will be hard in many communities to find a mother who has brought up a family who has not a personal knowledge of this splendid nourishment. Says Mrs. D. C. Baker, of Tiffin, Ohio, whose baby is shown above:

"We have been so well pleased with the use of lactated food for our baby that we feel like doing something to further the use of it by special recommendation. Our baby was very delicate when born and weighed but three pounds. We were very soon compelled to resort to artificial food, and by the advice of Dr. H. C. Wells, our family physician, we commenced using lactated food, since which time she has made a steady, healthy growth, and has never had one single day of sickness in sixteen months, and we have never lost one hour of sleep on account of teething."

CLEVELAND AT WASHINGTON

The President Greatly Benefited by His Trip to Gray Gables.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—President Cleveland returned to Washington at 8:30 last night from his few days' rest at Gray Gables. He was accompanied by Secretary Lamont, who met him at New York, and by Dr. O'Reilly, who went away from Washington with him. The fact that Mr. Cleveland was expected was generally known, and a good sized crowd was at the Pennsylvania railroad station when the train rolled in. Private Secretary Thurber was on hand with an open carriage from the White House, and as the party descended from the train he escorted them through the station proper, going out by the ladies' entrance. The president engaged in a moment's conversation with one of the messengers who came down to attend to Secretary Lamont's baggage, and then stepped into his carriage, and with Mr. Thurber drove off to the White House. Dr. O'Reilly shared Secretary Lamont's carriage. So far as his appearance and conduct the president has evidently profited by his short trip.

An effort was made last night to obtain some information as to what course the president is likely to pursue with reference to the tariff bill, but not the least intimation thereof could be obtained either at the White House or from the members of the cabinet.

Private Secretary Thurber said that the president had been very much benefited by his trip to Gray Gables.

Going to China to be Beheaded.

CHICAGO, Aug. 28.—Three Chinese sat in a cell in the Harrison street jail yesterday meditating on death. They were Mook Coon, Mook Shan and Lam Pick Hop. Only a few weeks ago these three men were in China, soldiers in the militia branch of the military service. Then matters of war with Japan were heard, and they left China and landed at Vancouver, B. C. The United States was their mecca, but federal officers caught them when they crossed the line at Plattsburg, N. Y., in defiance of the Chinese exclusion act. They will be shipped back to China, and as deserters, death will be their portion when they arrive in their native land.

Will Probably Lose His Arm.

VICTOR, Colo., Aug. 28.—W. O. Wirt, of Council Bluffs, who was shot from ambush in both arms when riding in Cripple Creek Tuesday night, will probably lose his left arm. There is no doubt that the attacking party mistook Wirt and his traveling companion for Sheriff Bowers and a deputy who had been hunting for some of the desperadoes that infest this district. James Drury has been arrested on suspicion of having been one of the party. He was active in the strike, and is said to be a Molly Maguire.

Heavy Internal Revenue Receipts.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—Receipts from internal revenue sources continue to be abnormally large, with the very prospect of continuing so until the new tariff bill goes into effect. During the last seven working days from Aug. 15 the receipts have reached the unprecedented sum of $11,000,123, and it is confidently expected that by next Saturday at midnight, when the new act will become operative, the aggregate receipts for the preceding ten days will have reached $15,000,000.

Her Clothing Fired by a Spark.

PITTSBURG, Aug. 28.—Miss Edith S. Clark, daughter of a Pittsburgh bank official, was walking near the Fort Wayne railroad at Clifton when a spark from a locomotive set fire to her clothing. In a moment she was enveloped in flames. Crazed by fright and pain she rushed across the tracks and sprang into the Ohio river, from which she was rescued with difficulty. She is in a very serious condition, but may recover.

Attorney's Missing Cashier.

ALTOONA, Pa., Aug. 28.—A gentleman in this city received a telegram today from a friend in Philadelphia saying that this friend had seen Cashier Gardner, of the defunct Second National bank, on the street in that city yesterday. The source of the information is reliable, and it is believed that Gardner's presence there is due to the fact that the woman with whom his name is connected is lying ill in a Philadelphia hospital.

Both Man and Horse Cremated.

AKRON, O., Aug. 28.—The explosion of a dynamite cartridge in the cylinder of a threshing machine on the farm of George Wintner caused a fire which destroyed the large barn and several thousand bushels of grain. Michael Meyer, of Newark, went into the barn to save the horses. He mounted one, but the animal refused to move, and he and the beast were burned to death. Andrew and Rollins Wintner were seriously burned.

Colored Knights of Pythias Must Unite.

INDIANAPOLIS, Aug. 28.—The convention of International Colored Knights of Pythias yesterday adopted a unification resolution. The convention refused to approve any of the four factions which now exist. The result of the action in adopting this request will be to bring the colored knights, 15,000 strong, into one body within a few months.

Held for Nettie Douglas' Murder.

CONCORD, N. H., Aug. 28.—Arthur G. McLane, charged with the murder of Nettie Douglas, was held for trial, with whom he went riding on the night of Aug. 14, yesterday waived examination, pleaded not guilty and was committed without bail. McLane still maintains his nerve.

Two More Threshing Machine Victims.

LA MOINE, N. D., Aug. 28.—The boiler of a threshing engine on a farm eight miles southeast exploded yesterday, instantly killing John Lund and Louis Berg. The latter was blown 100 feet and frightfully mangled. Four men were more or less injured.

Providing Work for Paris Unemployed.

PARIS, Aug. 28.—Fifty trades unions of this city have voted that their members shall work on short time in order that employment may be furnished to working-men who are idle. The number of these unemployed workmen is very large.

The Long Deadlock in Texas.

DALLAS, Tex., Aug. 28.—On the 1,500th ballot the Sixth district Democratic convention voted as follows: Burke, 33; Pindexter, 22; Abbott, 21. At one time yesterday Burke looked but two votes of being nominated.

Peruvian Rebels Driven Back.

LIMA, Peru, Aug. 28.—The government has recovered complete control of the coast line. The insurgents in the northern provinces have retired to the mountainous districts of the interior.

ODDS AND ENDS.

Appropriate and Opportune for the Oppulent as Well as the Oppressed.

We learn that a Bombay man has constructed a bedstead priced at 10,000 rupees. It has at its four corners four full-sized gaily dressed Greek dancers—those at the head holding banjos, while those on the right and left hold fans. Beneath the cot is a musical box, and is capable of playing twelve different airs. The music begins the moment the least pressure is brought to bear from the top, which is created by one sleeping or sitting, and ceases the moment the individual rises. While the music is in progress the lady banjoists at the head manipulate the strings with their fingers and move their heads, while the two Greek dancers at the bottom fan the sleeper to sleep. There is a button at the foot of the cot, which, after a little pressure, brings about a cessation of the music, if such be the desire of the occupant.

Have you ever spent a week or two on a farm in the country? If not, the next time you want recreation, don't go to the seashore, but to the country for a change. To sleep on straw beds, live on spring chickens, fresh sweet butter, pure, sweet milk, garden vegetables and "sich," then take a walk occasionally over the hills and through the woods, get downright tired and hungry, and out word for it, you will want to repeat the experiment next year and many years after. The seashore won't be in it. Try it.

Apples are unusually plenty this year in some sections of the country and the cider mills are already beginning to turn out large quantities of the juice. Apple-butter here will be in their glory shortly and this fall's dainties will be plenty and cheap next winter.

Speaking of farmers, we believe yet the farmer is the happiest of mortals. It is true he works hard, but then he has plenty to eat, a good appetite and knows a good thing when he eats it. He sleeps the sleep of the just when he lies down, having earned a good rest by hard labor. A farmer never dies from brain fever.

There is a dispute between two well known sports of this place over a heavy bet on a horse race which took place at Jerome Park, N. Y., yesterday. Both claim the stakes. Glenmoyne beat Stonerell a length and a half, but on account of short weight Stonerell was declared the winner. A Shenandoah man holds the stakes.

Kenneth Bazemore had the good fortune to receive a small bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy when three members of his family were sick with dysentery. This one small bottle cured them all and he had some left which he gave to Geo. W. Baker, a prominent merchant of the place, Lewisville, N. C., and it cured him of the same complaint. When troubled with dysentery, diarrhoea, colic or cholera morbus, give this remedy a trial and you will be more than pleased with the result. The praise that naturally follows its introduction and use has made it very popular. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by Grubler Bros.

Two doses of it settled the matter and cured him sound and well. I heartily recommend this remedy to all persons suffering from a like complaint. I will never again in inquiries regarding it when stamps is enclosed. I refer to any county official as to my reliability. WM. ROACH, J. P., Primory, Campbell Co., Tenn. For sale by Grubler Bros.

A PLUCKY YOUNG WOMAN. Last evening a young and widely known lady, whose name we were requested not to publish, had an exciting experience while en route for Mt. Carmel. The young lady resides at Natalie, a little mining hamlet about three miles north of this city, and started out on foot to do some shopping. She hadn't gone far when she discovered that some one was following her. Being possessed of a little more nerve than is usually allotted to her sex, she slackened her pace to make sure and find out, if possible, her follower's intentions. After discovering that the tramp was bent on mischief she hastily drew from her pocket a handsome Smith and Wesson and fired one shot to inform her would-be intruder that she could defend herself. It was a sudden surprise to the busy tramp and he, too, lessened his gait and took a polite sneak into the woods.

INJURED ON THE RAIL. Two boys named McNamara and Riall attempted to board a moving coal train last evening and were thrown violently to the ground alongside of the rail, receiving serious injuries. Riall's hand was mashed so badly that Dr. Raessler found it necessary to amputate three fingers, while McNamara received but slight bruises about the head. This ought to be a warning to those who have been in the habit of jumping trains in the past, but it is doubtful if they will heed it.

A story of a christening and a death which took place in the same house is told to a HERALD reporter. The mother died on Sunday morning and about the same time the daughter gave birth to twins. The appearance of the new-born babes was such a sudden surprise to the non-in-law that he became so jubilant as to forget all about the corpse and ordered a barrel of beer, instead of summoning the undertaker. The body of the poor woman remained there amid the revelry and drunkenness for two days and nights before an undertaker was called, and by the time he reached the place the body was in a terrible state. The funeral took place. The procession was made up of a few mourners on foot and a truck wagon, which answered the corpse to a cart to convey the body to its last resting place, with the non-in-law sitting astride the coffin, which was nothing but a dry-goods box.
