Among the effects of the love-sick couple who a day or two since killed themselves in Central Park, New York, was a copy of Bob Ingersoll's recent article, "Suicide Not a Sin." The fact of Ingersoll's paper being in their possession raises the presumption that it may have had some influence in suggesting the dual suicide

Tris intimated that when the new Income Tox law goes into effect a number of American millionaires will leave the country and spend the rest of their days in other sands, in order to avoid paying their assessments. If any of them are as unpatriatic as that, the somer they pack up and get out, the better.

GOVERNOR BROWN, of Maryland, did : smart thing for his state this week when he released sixty of Coxcy's weary and forlorn-looking wanderers and gave them free transpotation to Philadelphia, where they were turned loose to become a bur den and a nuisance to that city. What disposition will be made of them is not known, but clearly they will have either to be cared for there or sent to their homes, that is, provided they have any. Those men who applied for bread and lodgings had to work for them at the Wayfarers' lodges in that city on Thursday by sawing wood.

BICYCLING by females is attracting attention and no small amount of unfavorable comment. It is said to be undignified as well as ungraceful. If gracefulness be possible in bleyeling, assuredly women are entitled to the first place. Most of the male riders may be aptly termed kangaroos in point of style when propelling their wheels. Female riders, on the other it is guaranteed to benefit or cure, or the money is refunded. hand, generally sit upright, and therefore appear to better advantage. Up to date Dr. Sage's Remedy positively cures Catarra.

Shenandoah ladles have not shown themselves in very great numbers on bicycles, that is, in comparison with men riders.

THE Chinese and the Japs appear to be cleing with each other in the matter of ending out untrathful reports. It is evident that somebody has been lying in regard to the recent reported battles. The Chinese announce sweeping successes, while the Japanese deny that there was any engagement at all.

It is just as well as not, Indeed a great leal better, to take note of the fact that the 6th day of September is the last day on which a voter can legally register. An examination of the registry list of your precinct may save the mortification of having your vote challenged, and of the delay that will certainly follow the proceedings necessary to establish your right to vote. Examine the registry lists now, register if necessary, and then at the proper time do your duty as a good citizen and vote for Hastings, Brumm and the whole ticket.

GLASS WORKS WILL RESUME

A Compromise with Two Factories Which May Bring Others to Terms.

PITTSBURG, Aug. 25.-The prospective rontest between window glass workers and manufacturers is likely to be nipped in the bud by a settlement effected be-tween the workers and the Chambers Slass company, of Kensington, and the Phillips Glass company, of Pittsburg.

The situation at the close of Thursday's conference pointed strongly to a complete shut down of the window glass plants of the United States. Yesterday, however, Mr. Chambers said the demand of the manufacturers was excessive, and he would start his works on Sept. 1 on a com-promise of 25 per cent. After consulta-tion with the workmen this proposition was changed to provide for a 20 per cent. reduction for blowers, flatteners and cuta ters, and a 10 per cent, advance for gath nen, and the Chambers & Phillips facto ries will blow in on Sept. 1. The starting of these works will probably result in the forcing of the other manufacturers to fol-

MR. ECAN'S TESTIMONY

The Railroads' Strike Leader Before the Commission.

DENIES COMPLICITY WITH RIOTS.

He Denounces the Allegation As Abaurd. Superintendent of Police Brennan Declares That the Deputy Marshals Were in the Way Rather Than of Service,

CHICAGO, Aug. 25. - General Manager E. St John, of the Rock Island road, was recalled by the strike commission yesterday Mr St John's testimony yesterday regarding the blacklist had apparently not satisfied the commissioners, and he was closely questioned regarding it.

"You have said," said Commissioner Kernan, "that your road has no blacklist. Now, is it a fact that the General Managers' association has a blacklist?

No such a thing as a real blacklist exists among the railroads to my knewledge," was the answer. "There was, however, I believe, a list of names prepared for the General Managers' association. It contained the names of the most active strikers, and has been, I think, submit-strikers, and has been, I think, submit-ted to most of the roads by the associa-tion. It cannot properly be called a blacklist, however,"

John M. Egan, strike manager of the General Managers' association, succeeded Mr. St. John on the stand. Mr. Egan was questioned regarding his duries during the strike, and said it was his duty to receive reports from the various roads of the progress of the trouble and to submit the same to the sessociation.

After preliminary questions Commissioner Wright asked Mr. Egan if in his official capacity he had made any effort to settle the strike peaceably.
"I did not," answered the strike man

"Is the policy of the railroads to settle such troubles by force?" "In this case, at least, it was," the witness replied frankly.

The commissioner then asked the wit ness for his views regarding measures for the prevention of strikes. Mr. Egan said that all railroad employes, above commo hat all railroad employes, above common laborers, should be licensed and compelled to wear uniforms plainly indicating the positions they held. Such means, he believed, would tend to put reliable level beaded men in service, and would preven such troubles as those of the present sum

Commissioner Kernan, by a shrewd so ries of questions, succeeded in badly mix-ing up the witness and his theories, and Mr. Egan himself admitted that even with a system of licenses conditions might arise that would necessitate outside as

"Mr Egan," said Commissioner Wright, 'a witness has stated before us that yo used railroad noney and employed me to burn and , herwise destroy railroa property during the strike. Is this true! The witness grew evidently angry, an straightened up in his seat and said en phatically: "Considering the source from which that testimony came, it seems to m that it should be apparent that it is the most feelish rot. I will, however, enter general denial to any and all such stories The story is absurd.

Superintendent Dunlap, of the Rock Island, testified briefly regarding the black list, which he declared had no exist-

Superintendent of Police Brennan was the next witness. He was asked to tell how the disorder gas wing out of the strike was handled. He said:

"On June 95 the mayor directed me to use the entire force to protect properly and prevent violence. Until the arrival of troops on July 8 the force had handled in without any great violence and practically no destruction of property." "Complaints were made that policemen did not do their full duty repressing law-leasness. How about that?" "The mayor directed me to discharge immediately any policeman who was found lukewarm or inefficient. Indeed we did suspend several officers on com-plaints, but when we came to investigat we could find no responsible author. We did find that one officer had been over zealous in compelling railroad companies to keen tracks clear chief said many of the complaints made against the police were made by deputy marshals, who were more in the way than of service.

D. Doty said he was in the employ of the Pullman company as a civil engineer, and also as statistician and historian. He had been with the company since 1880, and was familiar with the construction of the town of Puliman. He testified that the Puliman rents were not high, and that the houses which could be secured at the same rentals in adjoining territory were inferior to those in Pullman.

Yes, I have an annual pass on all Pull man cars," said he with emphasis, "and use it whenever I want to."

Did you use it in coming to Chicago?" "I did not, and the government would have been none the poorer if I had," "Are you in the habit of traveling on

"I use it whenever I please. The pas was given me by Mr. Pullman, who is a personal friend of mine, and i have bad it for several years, ever since the first Pull man investigation I made—for I suppose that is what you are driving at. I never knew Mr. Puliman until then, but met him at that time, and he has always be a warm friend of mine since that. gave me the pass and invited me to rid on his cars whenever I want to-just as man would invite another to take a ride in his carriage."

Commissioner Wright's pass entitles him to ride free in any Pullman car at any time, or in any part of the United States pike, in the western end of the town.

About 5 o'clock Mrs. Torrey was awakened and found some one lying beside her in bed. She at once supposed it was her oldest boy, James, who slept in an adjoining room. He is not very well, and she thought he had come into her room and laid down beside her.
In attempting to arise to make investigation she was confronted by a burly looking negro, who had been lying on the bed beside her. Upon being aroused he attempted to assault both Mrs. Torrey and her mother.

A terrible struggle ensued, both women fighting desperately against the black brute. During the struggle young James Torrey was awakened and rushed into the room, when the man became frightened and made his escape by way of a side

The negro's intentions were evidently not to rob, as there were two pocketbooks and a gold watch lying on a bureau, which were left undisturbed

Constable Daly, of Merchantville, ar-rested "Shad" Blackson, a stalwart col-ored man, aged 35, who was formerly em-ployed by the Torrey family as a coachman. The arrest was made upon suspi-ciou, and the prisoner was taken to the home of Mrs. Torrey for identification. Mrs. Torrey was too ill from the result of her fright and nervousness to see the man, but it is reported that Blackson was immediately identified to mother of Mrs. Torrey. identified by Mrs. Iwor, the Suspected Clerks Bound Over ALTOONA, Ph., Aug. 25.—Mayberry Miller, one of the clerks of the Second National bank, was given a hearing yesterday afternoon before Commissioner Graf-fius on the charge of altering the books of the institution. The accused man's defence was that he acted under Gardiner's instructions, and without criminal intent. Commissioner Graftius adjourned the hearing to give the defendant's counsel time to look over the book which was altered, but bound Miller over today. Harry Ciabongh, another clerk, had a hearing today, and was also bound over
