CHAIRMAN WILSON is going abroad. It is not surprising that he wants to get out of a country with a Congress responsible for the tariff bill, whose fate is dependent on the will of the President. Mr. Wilson says that he feels fatigued. So do his fellow-citizens.

THERE is one form of malicious mischief which properly arouses the righteous wrath of riders of bicycles. It consists in the placing of nails, broken glass, etc., on roadways used by wheelmen, with the intention of puncturing their pneumatic tires and causing serious trouble. This is malicious mischief of the most aggravated type, and the persons responsible for it, if caught, would be severely punished, as they most certainly deserve to be.

On the whole, it is well that poor old Jack Falstaff died long ago. Were he living now he would be heartbroken with envy and despair at contemplation of the Chinese war reports. His tale at the Boar's Head of his battle with the buckram-clad host was good in its day. But it seems pale, indeed, by the side of the bloody tale of Ping-Yang and Chung-Ho, and how, with twenty-five thousand on a side, the Chinese smote the Japanese with dreadful slaughter, and chased them across country many a parasang. Yet "Mark, now, how a plain tale shall put you down." A handful of Japanese scouts fell in with some Chinese troopers on the road near Chung-Ho. They fought, and one man was killed and five wounded.

And that was all; from which the army clad in buckram grew! Truly, one more such victory, and the Celestial reputation for veracity will be undone!

BAD JUDGMENT.

The action of the Republican candidates at Pottsville on Tuesday, or rather the manipulation of the candidates by a skillful politician in the work of selecting a county chairman, does not reflect credit upon any who were concerned in the affair and shows miserable judgment. It has practically dashed to pieces all prospects for harmony in the Republican ranks at a time when an undivided party could have won a glorious victory.

It would seem that the candidates, at least some of them, are suffering from an extraordinary attack of swelled head and think that they have such a sure thing that it is not incumbent upon them to make any concession to promote harmony, or anything else.

When the Republican party has rules they should either be enforced or rescinded. While they remain in force they must be adhered to and not juggled, as appears to have been the case on Tuesday. Under the rules of the party a majority of the votes of all the candidates were required to elect a county chairman, but by some means or other which have not as yet been made clear the candidates passed a resolution providing that the chairman could only be elected by a unanimous vote.

When the time for the selection arrived Major S. A. Losch received 75% votes on several ballots and was legally elected under the rules, but the illegitimate resolution stood in the way, or at least blinded the good sense and intelligence of the candidate, and Mr. Losch was counted out.

It is hardly necessary to state that for several years the HERALD has opposed Mr. Losch because it believed that many of the stands taken by him were not for the best interests of the Republican party, and would oppose him to-day if it considered there was occasion for it; but now the HERALD feels that Mr. Losch is unjustifiably made a victim of a certain clique of the Republican party and it cannot endorse the methods of the candidates in making their selection of a county chairman.

Mr. Payne may be a gentleman of undoubted intelligence, respectability and integrity, and so far as we know, he is; but we fear he will find his work as county chairman very burdensome, in view of the manner in which he was placed in the position. His first appeal will no doubt be for the voters to stand by and uphold the rules and principles of the Republican party and he will be in the awkward position of having derived his authority through a barefaced violation of the rules. Mr. Payne's selection was a surprise and, under the circumstances, a misfortune.

An Unappreciated Aid.

Speaking of presidents reminds me of an amusing incident of the late President Arthur's administration which, I believe, has never been related before.

As is well known, Mr. Arthur was something of an athlete and pedestrian. He seldom used his carriage for about town visiting. One evening he called at the residence of a friend in the west end. He rang the doorbell and a colored woman answered the call. The servant did not recognize the president, and in a perfunctory manner informed him that none of the members of the family was at home. President Arthur apparently doubted her statement, and in his most courteous style said:

"I am President Arthur."

"I am Clara Brown," promptly replied the domestic, acknowledging the self-introduction of the president. The latter related his steps to the White House, where Clara went down stairs to tell her fellow servants of the politeness of the president in introducing himself to her. The old cook heard the unappreciated household relate her story and exclaimed: "You're a fool nigger. He didn't tend to introduce himself to you. He was simply leaving his name for do family."—Washington Post.

Patience.

Patience has two aspects—upward and downward. Was there ever an age or generation upon which a greater demand was made for patience in both parts? Circumstances are so different, poverty is so widespread, want of work, which means want of bread, the millions multiplying itself year by year with resources diminishing, along with this, instead of a general reasonableness, an unprecedented lawlessness, every man grudging and complaining of the conditions, such as they are, of his neighbor.

The cry on all sides is, "Who is lord over me?" making government difficult and the very idea of subordination an anachronism or a jest. It is coming to be assumed in the language of the workshops, as well as in the drawing rooms that there is nothing in Revelation; the Bible is a collection of myths and fables, fit only for the infancy and the nursery of the world, not worth the trouble of refuting or exposing, now that the robust manhood has been reached and the world has lost its youth. It is time to pray, Give me wisdom, which is patience to hold fast that I have, and to believe still, while to do so is to smile at as one prejudiced and stupid—a child or a fool!—Dean Vaughan.

Killed His Aged Mother to Death.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 29.—During a drunken frenzy James Foley, aged 42, beat and kicked to death his aged mother, Honora, aged 72, at their home, 2015 South Ninth street. The murderer was found lying on the grass plot in the backyard, in a condition of brutish, drunken insensibility. The family consisted of father, mother and seven children, and family quarrels were of frequent occurrence.

The President Off for Buzzard's Bay.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—President Cleveland left Washington for Buzzard's Bay early this morning. He took the 7:20 train on the Pennsylvania railroad, which arrives in Jersey City shortly after noon. The president was accompanied by Secretary Lamont and Private Secretary Thurber. Colonel Lamont will go only as far as New York, but Mr. Thurber will continue with the president to Gray Gables.

THE CIVIL SERVICE.

An Interesting Interview with Commissioner Roosevelt.

OPPOSING SOLICITATION BY MAIL.

The Commissioner Says the Decision of the Attorney General Will be Productive of Great Harm Unless Reversed by Special Legislation.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—Civil Service Commissioner Roosevelt, in an interesting interview on civil service, said that the commission is now on a far better footing than ever before for efficient work. This was due to the fact that the commission, under legislation pushed by Senator Lodge, of Massachusetts, and Senator Cochrane, of Missouri, hereafter would have its own force of clerks, instead of being dependent on clerks detailed to it by the several government departments.

"As a consequence," said Mr. Roosevelt, "our list of details was never full, and of those we had some of them were poor, and those who were good wished to get back to their own offices, so that they might be in line for promotion. We now have our own force, and I will guarantee that within three months there will be no force, either of any bureau in the government service or of any private persons, more efficient than ours."

The civil service commissioner next denounced the Byrum bill for the reinstatement of the Democratic railway mail clerks dismissed prior to the classification of the railway mail service under the civil service system in 1899 as a thoroughly vicious partisan measure, saying: "If it should become a law it would be a precedent for the enactment of similar measures whenever a change of administration took place. It is introduced purely in the interest of the spoilsman, and is a thoroughly vicious bill in every way."

"I wish to call attention to the recent decision of the attorney general, which permits solicitation for political purposes by letter in government buildings. If this opinion holds the commission must immediately request the passage of a law to prohibit such solicitation. The commission has always insisted that solicitation for political purposes was illegal, whether done in person or by letter, in a government building. It was owing to this interpretation that we were able to very nearly break up the practice during the last presidential campaign, and as the aftermath of that campaign we have procured the conviction of two government officials, one a postmaster in Ohio and the other a deputy internal revenue officer of Kentucky, but we have never had a case tried in the courts where the accusation was that the solicitation was by letter."

"Nine-tenths of the good done by the laws will vanish if solicitation by letter is allowed, and although the commission will of course do all it can to protect employees if they are molested in any way for refusing to contribute it is imperative that we should be given power to prosecute any attempt at political assessment in a government building, by letter or otherwise. The statute is so broad, inasmuch as it prohibits any person from soliciting in any manner whatsoever in a government building, that we have taken it for granted that it must mean by letter, and that, we know, was the meaning of the gentleman, both in congress and out, who saw to the passage of the bill."

The commissioner expressed the hope that there would be a vast extension of the classified service, and that there would be a great reduction in the number of places now exempted, on one theory or another, from the operation of the civil service rules, including not only the departments, but the post offices and custom houses throughout the country, and in this connection he called attention to several instances in which old and efficient employees had been gotten rid of by indirect methods. The commission, he thought, should have power to interfere in these cases of removals, and to require that reasons for dismissals be given in full and in writing.

To Test the New Tariff Law.

PROVIDENCE, Aug. 30.—A prominent lumber firm of this city has filed a protest against the decision of Collector Pomeroy, which will necessitate a test of the constitutionality of the new tariff bill. The firm imported on Aug. 15 a cargo of lumber, on which, under the McKinley bill, the duties would have been $97.60. This they paid under protest, claiming that the new bill should go into effect Aug. 1, and they were entitled to bring in lumber free after that date, regardless of the time on which the bill passed. The case will be taken into the United States court if necessary.

New York and New Jersey Bridge.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—No action will be taken on the report of the board of engineers upon the New York and New Jersey bridge until the return of Secretary Lamont. The report now in his office awaiting his action, it is understood, approves a plan for a bridge upon the lines of the bill passed by congress. The total length of the span will be 3,100 feet from pier head to pier head. Some discussion has arisen as to the practicality of constructing a bridge with a span of that length, but it is understood the board has found it entirely feasible.

The Destruction of Vesper.

MANSFIELD, Wis., Aug. 30.—The Port Edwards train arrived here yesterday, bringing additional news of the burning of Vesper. The town is completely wiped out, entailing a loss of about $150,000. Seventeen families employed in the lumber mills are homeless, and as the timber outcrops to the town burned up the place will never be rebuilt. A relief train could not come nearer than a mile beyond the doomed village, the flames overlapping the road further on.

Sees the Government for Wrongful Arrest.

MONTREAL, Aug. 30.—Hugh Annandale, now living in this city, who was arrested some time ago in Baltimore for one Peter Arnot, whom he resembled in appearance, has entered suit against the United States government for $10,000 damages for wrongful arrest. Arnot was charged with embezzlement by the English police, and Annandale, after being arrested, was taken to London, where he was recognized and released.

An Accused Policeman Acquitted.

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—The grand jury dismissed the charges of bribery against ex-policeman Richard Higginbotham. Higginbotham was charged by a railroad contractor, George C. Carpenter, with having permitted him to violate a city ordinance relative to blasting, Clark paying Higginbotham for the permission.

EXECUTION OF A PRIEST.

Abbe Brunseau Hebeated for Robbery, Arson and Murder.

LAVAL, France, Aug. 30.—Abbe Brunseau was executed at 5 o'clock this morning. Brunseau was awake when the officers entered his cell to tell him that it was time to prepare for the execution. When he was dressed the condemned man heard mass and received communion. He prayed the pardon of God and men for any faults he might have committed, and also asked that the clergy might pardon him for breaking his vows of chastity. He then informed the attendants that he was ready. He showed great coolness until he arrived at the foot of the scaffold, when his fortitude seemed to leave him.

An enormous crowd was present, and the people cheered when the criminal's head fell into the basket. Brunseau left a two page letter in which he protested his innocence of the crimes with which he was charged. The condemned man, though a regularly ordained priest, was convicted in July last of murder, arson and robbery. The order for his execution was not received until 5 o'clock last evening. When it became known to the people it caused general rejoicing. A crowd began to gather at the scene of the execution at nightfall, and 2,000 persons had assembled by midnight. They sang about the jail singing songs which had the sternly repeated refrain: "Brunseau. It is his head we want," and shouting coarse jokes or roaring under the prisoner's cell window.

All the windows overlooking the scene of execution were lighted and crammed with spectators, who beguiled the time in drinking and laughing. The scene was one of riotous and brutal rejoicing, which was continued until the knife had fallen, when the mob numbered about 8,000.

Race Riot Fared.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Aug. 30.—Governor Tillman received information last evening that a race riot was imminent at Hartly City, a small town in Orangeburg county. He ordered the State Troops of that county to put themselves at the disposal of Trial Justice B. B. Wetzel. The negroes in that section have formed a combination not to pick cotton for less than fifty cents a hundred for white farmers and forty cents for colored farmers. An old negro who violated this agreement and picked for a white man at forty cents per hundred was taken out of his house by a mob of negroes and severely beaten. Several negroes were arrested for the crime.

Why Perjuror Hayes Was Pardon.

ALBANY, Aug. 30.—When asked why he had commuted the sentence of William B. Hayes, who was sentenced to Sing Sing prison for perjury in March, 1886, Governor Flower replied: "I commuted his sentence because I thought the ends of justice did not require his longer punishment. He was convicted of perjury in certain affidavits which formed part of a civil suit against him, and was given an unusually severe sentence. The civil suit has been settled since his imprisonment. He is of a nervous, excitable temperament, and his friends feared that his further incarceration would make him insane."

Brutally Beaten by Train Robbers.

LAFORTE, Ind., Aug. 30.—Lake Shore local freight, No. 55, west bound, was boarded by three highwaymen near Hudson lake, this county. They beat and robbed every man on the train before it reached the station. James Gardner and his brother from Bertrams, Mich., who were stealing a ride to Chicago, were terribly beaten, the former fatally shot, and both pitched from the train. They were found by the roadside later and taken to New Carlisle. Seven other tramps were beaten and thrown from the train before it reached this place, where the robbers disembarked and disappeared.

Falling Brakes Cause a Collision.

CHICAGO, Aug. 30.—An electric car collided with a passenger train on the Chicago and Northern Pacific railroad at the Forest Home crossing. Three persons were seriously and a number of others were badly shaken up. The injured are: John Briggs, left leg crushed and injured internally; E. H. Keys, badly injured about the head and body; Mrs. Mary Burns, cut about the head and body. The cause of the collision was the refusal of the brake of the electric car to work.

The Vamoose Defeats the Now Then.

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—The Vamoose, the fastest steam vessel afloat, again proved her superiority yesterday afternoon by walking away from J. Edward Addick's speedy vessel, the Now Then. The race was on the Hudson river between Fort Lee and Yonkers. Efforts will now be made to get up a race between the Yankee Doodle, of Philadelphia, and the Vamoose.

Killed by Falling Into a Well.

READING, Pa., Aug. 30.—Mrs. Milton Kline, aged 35 years, was killed at Reading by falling into a well 100 feet deep. She had drawn a bucket of water when the platform covering the well broke and she was precipitated to the bottom of the hole. Her body was taken out after several hours' hard work.

The Veteran Railroadman Dead.

CHICAGO, Aug. 30.—The veteran railroad official, John C. Gault, died yesterday, aged 55. He never recovered consciousness since first stricken. The relatives and friends of the dead man knew from the first that Mr. Gault could not recover, and for three days have been expecting death at any moment.

Fatally Shot by a Policeman.

AIKEN, S. C., Aug. 30.—William Chatfield, aged 35, son of Manager Chatfield, of the Highland Park hotel, was shot last night by James J. Wingard, a policeman of this city, as a result of a street fight. Wingard was arrested. Chatfield will probably die.

NUGGETS OF NEWS

There were 450 dismissals from the government printing office yesterday—one-fifth of the entire force.

Hailstorms have done great damage throughout Alabama. At Keweenaw, Poland, three children were killed by hail stones.

Major General Right Hon. Sir John Clayton Council, K. C. B., master of the queen's household, died at Cowes, Isle of Wight, yesterday.

The St. Louis hotel and Shea & Graham's livery stable, at Columbus, Ind., burned down last night. Ten horses perished. Loss, $75,000.

M. F. Brenton, formerly employed as a hotel clerk in Columbus, O., committed suicide by poison because his Columbus employer charged him with embezzlement.

Hood's Saved My Life

I Can Honestly Say This

"For years I was in a very serious condition with catarrh of the stomach, bowels and bladder. I suffered intensely from dyspepsia, and in fact was a miserable wreck, merely a skeleton. I seemed to go from bad to worse. I really wished I was dead. I had no rest day or night. I did not know what to do. I had taken so much medicine of the wrong kind that it had poisoned me, and my finger nails began to turn black and come off. I began to take Hood's Sarsaparilla. I had faith in the medicine, and it did more for me than all prescriptions. I have gradually regained perfect health, am entirely free from catarrh of the bowels, and pain in my back. My recovery is simply marvelous." W. R. Youvo, Potter's Mills, Pa.
