

DON'T LET BABY CRY.

The Fretful, Piteous Cry Shows Something Wrong With Food—Babies Relish Lactated Food—They Grow Fat on It.

If baby kept a diary it would be full of nothing but eating, sleeping and growing. These three things make up baby's existence.

Plenty of rich, nourishing food, taken with a relish, brings sound sleep; and babies grow most rapidly during sleep.

When a child cries piteously, as if some terrible pain were convulsing its whole tender little form; when the mother fails to soothe it either by lullaby or playing, when perfectly distracted she runs to the doctor she is generally astonished by the simple statement which the doctor makes to her, that the sole cause of this trouble lies either in the bad food the baby had received or in the want of nourishment, which is rapidly impairing his constitution.

Then she feeds the infant with the good lactated food, and her fears disappear in the happy smiles of the baby.

Thousands of mothers know by experience that lactated food surely prevents cholera infantum and other summer diseases of a like character, and in hundreds of cases it has cured the severest attacks of these diseases. It is not safe to be without lactated food in the house.

Babies that are not gaining in weight, as their mothers wish, and who show too little animation and interest in things about them soon gain a liveliness and zest for living when fed with this splendid nutriment. They gradually cry less and less; their sleep becomes sound by night, and by day they are bright and noisy and happy.

Such is the great difference between babies that are nourished by lactated food and those that are poorly, because improperly fed.

There is no parent in the land but can read the following letter with profit. It is from L. D. Yager, a well known lawyer in Alton, Ill., and tells how his brother's child became the stout, sturdy youngster whose portrait is shown above. He writes:

"My baby nephew, Henry Hewitt Yager, was born Jan. 17, 1892. Of that event he might quote Richard III by saying, 'Sent before my time into this breathing world, scarce half made up.' At birth he weighed three pounds, and there were few who thought he could live. The mother was unable to nurse him, and this made the case all the more complicated. Sterilized milk was used, likewise goat's milk, and three or four kinds of baby food, but all to no advantage.

"In July it seemed a hopeless case, but luckily on the thirteenth of that month a package of lactated food was procured which acted like a charm and he picked up right away. Before using the food the skin was wrinkled on his hands, and he was a frail, sickly little body. The picture I send you was taken in October, 1892, when the baby was about 8 1/2 months old. He had used lactated food for something like 10 weeks, and there is no need to comment on his condition. The picture will show for itself. He still uses the food, and there is one thing certain—lactated food saved his life."

Now or Never.

People who have not secured copies of the exquisite photographs of the World's Fair embraced in "The Magic City," and superb photographs of famous men and women and scenes in every land as incorporated in "Voyage Around the World," should apply for them at the HERALD office without delay, as only a few copies are left and the supply will not be renewed. No household should be without a complete set of these marvelous productions.

When baby was sick, we gave her Castoria. When she was a child, she cried for Castoria. When she became a girl, she clung to Castoria. When she had children, she gave them Castoria.

Advertised Letters.

Letters addressed to the following named persons are advertised as remaining unclaimed for at the local post office: W. Edmondson, Mary E. Walters and James W. Borden.

While in Chicago, Mr. Charles L. Kahler, a prominent shoe merchant of Des Moines, Iowa, had quite a serious time of it. He took such a severe cold that he could hardly talk or navigate, but the prompt use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy cured him of his cold so quickly that others at the hotel who had had colds followed his example and half a dozen persons ordered it from the nearest drug store. They were profuse in their thanks to Mr. Kahler for telling them how to cure a bad cold so quickly. For sale by Grubler Bros.

TO SAVE AMERICAN LIVES

That is Why Captain Sumner Did Not Attack Nicaraguans.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 1.—The steamship Rover, just arrived from Bluefields, says the Nicaraguans feared to leave with their prisoners owing to threatened interference by the warship, and demanded a guarantee from the commander of the schooner Yula that he would not signal the warships. Captain Sumner, of the United States steamer Columbia, advised the Yula to sign no paper and make no promises. This delayed the matter, but after three days General Reyes, in command of the soldiers, decided to take chances and set sail. The prisoners were taken away without interference by Americans or British.

General Reyes, the Nicaraguan commander, it is since learned, was ready to blow up the Yula as soon as any attempt at rescue was made. Captain Sumner, of the Columbia, stated afterwards that his reason for silence was a feeling that the lives of the prisoners would have been sacrificed by any act of interference, and a feeling also that no naval victory or destruction of regiments would compensate for loss of American life.

As soon as the prisoners were taken away from Bluefields Captain Sumner wrote a strong letter to Madrise warning him that no more such acts must be committed without expectation of immediate punishment.

After telling Madrise he would be held responsible for future misconduct the Columbia sailed for Port Limon for coal and instructions from Washington. The Mar-blehead returned as the Columbia was leaving, and Captain O'Neil called on Madrise at once with similar protest and warning. Then her majesty's ship Mar-blehead came to port and also filed protest and reproof.

Congressman Mutchler Defeated.

MILFORD, Pa., Sept. 1.—The Democratic conference for the nomination of a candidate to succeed Howard Mutchler in congress ended its long struggle yesterday afternoon by selecting J. J. Hart, of Pike county, as the party candidate. The conference began on Wednesday morning and the first ballot developed a deadlock between Robert Kiota, Joseph H. Shell, Howard Mutchler and Mr. Hart. The balloting continued without any result through all of Thursday, and at noon yesterday the result seemed as far away as ever. A recess was then taken until 9 o'clock, and several conferences were held in the interim. On reassembling Mr. Mutchler's name was withdrawn, and Hart nominated. Mr. Mutchler was elected to succeed his father, who died a year ago, while in congress.

WILMINGTON, Del., Sept. 1.—Albert Stout, aged 40 years, freight agent for the Charles Warner company, was arrested yesterday on a warrant charging him with the murder of Katie Dugan, in this city, nearly two years ago. The murder was committed on the night of October, 1892, and the body was discovered next morning lying in the middle of a vacant lot in the southwestern section of the city. The girl's throat was cut from ear to ear, the head having been almost severed from the body. An examination proved that the girl was in a delicate condition.

Vigilant-Satanita Race a Fizzle.

DARTMOUTH, Sept. 1.—Vigilant and Satanita started yesterday in the regatta of the Royal Dart Yacht club for a prize of $250 and a second prize of $100. The course, a triangular one, was to be gone over four times to complete the distance of forty miles, but the wind died out, and when it became evident that neither yacht could complete the second round the race was declared off. The Vigilant was a long distance ahead when this decision was reached.

Mr. Studebaker's Denial.

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 1.—Mr. Clem Studebaker is greatly annoyed by the statement in the San Francisco dispatch of Thursday night referring to the record of Nellie Neustadter, in which the name of Studebaker, the millionaire carriage maker, was coupled with hers in an unpleasant manner. Mr. Studebaker absolutely and emphatically denies ever having known the woman.

Mutilating Captives in Samoa.

BERLIN, Sept. 1.—Advises received here from Samoa state that in a fight between the native forces in June the ears of one of the rebels were cut off and taken to Apia, while the heads of two other rebels were severed, despite the recent decree against such mutilation. The rebels retaliated by cutting off the head of one of Mallet's scouts.

Two of our popular young men looked beautiful, indeed, the other day, as they sat on a doorstep on one of our principal streets with a pretzel in one hand and a pickle in the other. This combination of food is all right, boys, but we would advise you to eat it inside as your best girl would not think much of you had she seen you that day. The food had acted upon your complexion.

A pretty wedding took place in St. Ignatius church on Wednesday morning, at half past eight o'clock. The happy couple principals were John J. Kinney and Miss Kate Collier, two of our well known and respected young folks. The ceremony was performed by Rev. M. Power in the presence of their numerous friends who had gathered to witness it. The bride wore a beautiful Henrietta dress of the salmon hue. The bride-maid's dress was of steel color and of the same pattern as the bride's. Both wore grand Gainsboro' hats and neat slippers. Miss Mary Kealey acted as bridesmaid and Thomas McDonnell did the honors as best man. After the ceremony the party were driven to Mahanoy City and rested at the Mohaves hotel, where a grand dinner awaited them. Upon their return in the evening they were greeted by numerous friends and all partook of a supper, after which dancing and singing and all other kinds of fun were indulged in until the "wee-wee" hours of morning.

A. M. Bailey, a well known citizen of Eugene, Oregon, says his wife has for years been troubled with chronic diarrhoea and used many remedies with little relief until she tried Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which has cured her sound and well. When applied before the parts become swollen it will effect a cure in one-half the time usually required. For sale by Grubler Bros.

She has therefore lowered the record of the steamer Campanian, of the same line. Preparations will be made for a most vigorous prosecution of the strike leaders.

The Other Day There seemed to be a misunderstanding about the meaning of the above cut—the 500 lbs. does not refer to the STRENGTH of the Butter. It means that we sell over 500 pounds a week of the Finest Creamery Butter made in the country—we get it fresh every other day and our customers understand that the 500 refers to QUANTITY, not QUALITY. CARLISLE'S PRIVATE SECRETARY. His Health at Once Improved by Paine's Celery Compound.

Paine's celery compound makes people well!

From the wilds of Maine to the land of golden sunsets, from Canada to the Florida reefs, rich and poor, men and women in high places, and those who serve their country equally as well by being simply good husbands and good wives—all manner of people are being benefited by Paine's celery compound.

Many in high positions, knowing that their example is likely to be followed, and wishing that their experience may help others, have given their testimonials to the value of this greatest remedy.

Mr. H. W. Van Selden, the private secretary of Hon. John G. Carlisle, secretary of the treasury says:

"I have used several bottles of Paine's celery compound, and its beneficial effects were manifested in a very much improved condition of the system. Those who are overworked will find it a splendid tonic and nerve invigorator."

Mr. James A. Bryan, the city editor of the Paducah (Ky.) Standard, one of the most influential newspapers in that part of the country, writing about a month previous, said:

"I have used several bottles of Paine's celery compound for nervousness and general debility, and the benefits have been marked. I consider it an invaluable remedy for nervousness and exhaustion, the result of confinement, sedentary habits, and long sustained mental and physical exertion. I take pleasure in recommending it to anybody who may be thus afflicted. This statement is made without solicitation and with no other object than to add my testimony to that of others as to the efficacy of what I believe is a meritorious renovator of the human system."

And N. J. Dilday, one of the publishers of the same paper, says: "I was troubled with nervous attacks, coupled with sleeplessness, and tried Paine's celery compound. Two or three bottles convinced me that it is not without merit. I am well pleased with it, and consider it a valuable remedy for nervousness caused by overwork and sedentary habits. I am never without it."

Thousands of testimonials come unasked-for to the proprietors of this remedy, the discovery of which by Dartmouth's greatest professor, Edward K. Paine, M. D., LL. D., is one of the ablest achievements of recent times.

Paine's celery compound furnishes ready, sufficient, appropriate food for nervous tissues all over the body. Its ingredients represent the most fruitful years of Prof. Phelps' practical study of the nervous system in disease. After taking Paine's celery compound the blood no longer creeps in a thin, sluggish stream, but the arteries gradually become filled with a rich, strong tide of vigorous red blood that reaches and bathes every tiny nerve and muscle fiber in the body.

Headache, neuralgia, and loss of appetite and strength cannot continue when such healthy arterial blood, full of ruddy, life-giving corpuscles, and capable of quickly repairing the waste of the hard-worked nerve and brain tissues, replaces the thin, pale fluid, full of bad humors and lacking in nutritive value.

Thousands of men and women whose daily life is making severe draughts on their vitality need Paine's celery compound.

None are too old to be helped by it; none are too young to be at once benefited. It permanently cures every kind of nervous disease. It quickly brings new material to the worn out nerve centers, and removes the one cause of the many forms that nervous diseases take: Dyspepsia, sleeplessness, heart disease, rheumatism, melancholy, kidney and liver troubles. As a relief for the debilitating effects of this hot season, nothing can do so much.
