JONES A POPULIST.

The Nevada Statesman Deserts the Republican Party.

TWENTY-ONE YEARS A BENATOR.

His Change of Political Patth Makes the Nevada Congressional Delegation Solid for the Third Party-The Announcement Causes Great Surprise,

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—The Star says: Today furnished a genuine sensation in political circles by the statement that Senator John P. Jones, of Nevada, whe has represented his state in the United States senate for over twenty-one years as a Bapublican, has formally renounced allegiance to the party and cast his lot with the Populists.

with the Populists.

Senator Jones has written a letter to his constituency, which will be published in Nevada this evening, and will be the first intimation to the people of that state that he has doffed the political garment which he has worn with such distinction for so many years and will don the garb of the third party. His intentions have been kept secret from all but his most intimate associates, and it was his intention to have associates, and it was his intention to have the first public announcement of his action made in the letter which will be published in his political home. On learning that the fact had leaked out, however, he gave the letter to the Associated Pressysterday before his departure for New York, His letter is an elaborate defense of his action, declaring that "whateverchings has occurred in the relation between the Republican party and myself is not a change in me." His change of nolicy is based almost entirely upon the not a change in me." His change of policy is based almost entirely upon the question of silvar. Sensior Jones' bolt makes the Nevada congressional delegation solidly Populist, Senator Stewart having left the Republican party some time ago, and Represen-tative Newlands having been elected as a silverite. The announcement that he has joined the Populists was a great surprise, as he has been regarded as one of the ablest men on the Republican side of the chamber, and as a man of solid parts and abilities. He has not been a frequent speaker in the senate. When he did take part in the debate be was always listened to with attention, and on the silver ques-tion his set speech usually kept his au-dience until he finished. He has been a atraight party man hitherto, and enjoyed the distinction of representation on the finance committee, a place much sought after. His action in joining the Populists may result in a shake up for the minority representation on this committee.

representation on this committee.

Mr. Jones was first elected to the senate in 1873 and has been continuously elected such six years since then, his present term running until 1897. He is an Englishman by birth, well known in financial circles, both in the east and west, and generally reported to be one of the wealthiest men in the senate as a result of successful mining operations, in which he has had a number of ups and downs. He was a member of the international monetary conference, being appointed by President Harrison, one of the delegates from the United States, and his speech at Brussels was conceded to be a great offert by the deligates to that conference, whether they were of silver faith or not.

Sensitive About His Age. When a distinguished man life M. Gre-ry i clused to tell his age surely ordinary women may be excused for so purely fem-hine a weakness. By his subterfuge the president misled his countrymen into be heving him to be six years younger than he was, according to an anesabte as fal-lows: "M. Grevy was always very reluctant to tell his age and openly admitted that reluctance. At a dinner party given by one of his friends in 1872 the future president of the republic said, with a smile People may try as much as they like they will never know my real age. And, in fact, when M. Herold, who was some time a minister of the third republic, entime a minister of the third republic, en-deavored to obtain definite particulars of M. Grevy's age for a new edition of 'Va-percau,' M. Grevy persistently refused to supply them. 'The archives of Mountsons-Vandrey were burned in 1813,' he said, 'and year must do the best you can. You will get no information from me.' As a consequence, all M. Grevy's blographers gave the year 1813 as that of his birth, while in reality he was born in 1807.' — Paris Letter. Paris Letter.

A recent book narrates that a party from the west of England was being shown over the British museum. In one of the recens the keeper pointed out a collection of an-tique vases which had been recently dug up at Herculaneam. "Dag up, sir!" ech-oed one of the party. "Yes, sir." "What, out of the ground?" "Undoubtedly." "What, just as they now are?" "Perhaps some little pains have been taken in cleaning them, but in all other respects they were found just as you see them." The wise man from Somersetshire turned to one of his comparitons, and, with an in-credulous shake of the head, whispered, "He may say what be likes, but he shall never persuade me that they dug up ready made pots out of the ground."

CAPE MAY CUP RACE OFF

The Unlucky Vigilant Again Loses Her Centerboard.

HER RACING IN ENGLAND ENDED.

Mr. Could Would Have Entered the Bace Without a Contestioned, but the Prince of Water Accepts His Withdrawal, and the Yacht Will be Laid Up.

Cowrs. Sept. 5 -- It has finally been de-Cover. Sont 5.—It has finally been decided that there will be no race this year for the Cape May obsilence cup, held by the Britannia, on account of the loss of the Vigilant's conterboard while on her way here on Toesday. The sailing committee of the Royal Yacht squadron, late yesterday afternoon, sent a letter to Mr. Howard Gould, who was on beard the Vigilant here, saying that under the cir-cumstances the Prince of Wales will con-sider the challenge for the cup as withdrawn.

Both the Mesers Gould, Captain Hank Haff and the crew of the Vigilant generally are greatly depressed at this last ac-eldent to the American yacht.

Howard Gould, discussing the matter with a correspondent of the Associated Press, said:

It is most unfortunate that we should be compelled to end the season's racing in this manner. The only explanation I can give for the loss of the centerboard is that the casting made at Southampton was defective.
"The accident occurred just as we were inside the Needles. We were sailing along in five fathems of water. A friend and I were sitting at lunch when suddenly the machinery of the centerboard began revolving backwards. The cops failed to hold the wheels and they flew around at a great pace.

"It was then evident that the board had "It was then evident that the board had dropped and was hauging by its chain. The board gave Vigilant several wery hard bumps as we dragged it along for some distance and then, suddenly it broke entirely off.

"After our arrival here we made up our "After our arrival here we made up our minds to race, centerboard or no centerboard, so long as we were allowed to ship extra ballast enough to make up for its loss. We had shipped an extra crow and were going to do our best to recapture the Cape May cup. We informed the Prince of Wales of our purpose, but an hour ago I received a note from the committee, informing up that under the circumstaninforming us that under the circumstan-ces the Prince of Wales would consider the challenge withdrawn.

"Of course, if we had insisted Britannia would have raced her, but I felt that we had no right to jeopardize the cup in this way. We could hardly have horsel to do ourselves justice without any centerboard, and had the Britannia won, as she probbly would, American chances of seeing the cup again would been small, as fire tamia would only have to win once more in order to become its possessor.

"There seems to be a fatality about our centerband over here, and I don't won-der that the English don't like them; I don't like them myself now. Why, one of the things we hoped to prove to then was the desimbility of using centerboards But I guess that the lesson must how be taken the other way. Centerbuards are certainly the last things one wants on most of these courses. The pilots here can never realize how much we draw with them, and there is constant danger from "Vigilant will be laid up immediately, and her crew will be sutpped home assoon as she is dismantled, and this will probahly be within a week. We shall never race the Vigilant again. I must admit that she is not suited for English waters.
