There's many a splendid mansion
 With turret, and tower, and dome,
 That knows no peace nor comfort,
 And never has proved a home.
 I could not ask for splendor
 To crown my daily lot
 But give me a tidy kitchen
 A cheerful, homelike spot.

A Kitchen Bright and Clean!

Is the tidy housekeeper's delight. Nothing contributes so much to this, and helps so much to relieve the drudgery of housekeeping, as a floor covered with OIL CLOTH and LINOLEUM. THE PHILLIES BREAK EVEN

They Filled a Date Here For Harrisburg Yesterday.

GILL MAKES A SHOWING!

The Home Team Won the First Game, But Musser Went to Pieces in the Second.

The Harrisburgs failed to put in an appearance here yesterday on account of financial difficulties. It was stated that the players declined to come here because their manager had failed to pay them and they decided to return to Harrisburg after their games at Philadelphia on Saturday.

Manager Randall, of the Quaker City State League club, very kindly consented to fill the date and arrived here with his team yesterday morning. He also consented to play two games, but it was stipulated that the second should be of five innings only.

The attendance at the park was very light, even the announcement of two games for one price of admission failing to bring out the people.

The work by the home team in the first game was excellent, Gill covering himself with glory in the left field. He made one running catch which provoked prolonged applause. It was the feature of the game.

Yerkes' delivery was very effective and he received good support. Taking the game as a whole it was one of the best seen on the home grounds this season.

Manager Randall came here short of one player, but succeeded in filling the team for the first game by securing the services of Harry Hafner, a local player. In the second game Staltz was obliged to retire and Manager Brennan loaned Yerkes to the visitors.

THE FIRST GAME.

Yeager scored the first run for the home team by making a home run on a strong drive to deep left field and the second run was made in the fifth inning by Gill getting to second base on Hafner's mull of a fly, reaching third when Musser took his base on balls, and going home on a wild pitch.

Up to the close of the fourth inning the visitors remained closed out by a score of 2 to 0, but in the fifth a bigger, a base on balls, an error by Yerkes and a dropped fly by Gill, following each other in the order stated, gave the visitors three runs. The home team then settled down and the visitors were retired by Yerkes' throw to first, Gill's fly catch and Stewart's throw to Myers.

After this inning the game was a fast one. In the next five innings Shenandoah got eighteen men to the bat and the Philadelphia got seventeen. With two exceptions on each side the returns were made in one-two-three order. The winning run was made by Gill. He started out with a good two-bagger, reached third when Yerkes was thrown out at first by Fuesler and touched the home plate just before Clark caught Hafner's throw in from the center field. During the second inning of this game Childs distinguished himself by beating the home team out in a fox chase, in spite of the fact that six of the Shenandoahs were juggling the ball and surrounded Childs just before he reached second and third by the fielding of the ball before he could get back to first base after a fly catch. He dodged back and forth for thirty or forty seconds, when Ashenbach embraced him. On account of this interference the umpire allowed Childs to go to second base. Score: 4 to 0.

SECOND GAME.

The second game was an interesting one until the fourth inning when Musser went to pieces and threw the game away. Dunkle did not show up as well as Yerkes did in the previous game, so far as his pitching went, but he put in some good field work and the chances for the home team to score a second victory were very good.

Clark started the fourth inning for the Philadelphia with a hit. J. Ely went out on Musser's throw to first base and the Philadelphia started. While Myers was out hunting up the ball Clark and Yerkes ambled home, making the score 3 to 1. Westlake rested at third base until Musser hit the ball and Musser threw it short to first, when the Philadelphia came to the plate. Childs went out on Dunkle's throw to first and the score remained 4 to 1. In the fourth the home team reduced it to 4 to 2 on two hits and an error by Yerkes and the game ended. The score:

DIAMOND NOTES.

Shenandoah is playing at Harrisburg today. Yesterday's games do not count in the State League series.

Secretary Diddlebock in yesterday's Inquirer says: "Plans for next season are already under way and a twelve-club Interstate circuit seems to be favored. Camden and Wilmington will be represented, and Ben. Fishman, of the once famous manager of the Athletics, of Reading will hold the Wilmington franchise. There are two claimants for both the Lancaster and Reading franchises, but they will be retained by the present holders of the State League."

What does this mean? Secretary Diddlebock says that there are a number of professional gamblers about who may materially change the standing of Pottsville and Reading. What protested games? Those we have won? Oh, no, Diddlebock, none of that. We are willing to play off tie games, but no others—Miser's Journal. How about the cold-blood attacks brought about by personal assaults upon the umpire, etc.? Highway robbery is punishable whether committed on the diamond, or elsewhere.

FUNERALS.

The Remains of Departed Ones Laid at Rest.

The funeral of the late mine foreman, Thomas Gill, took place yesterday afternoon from the family residence at Mahanoy Plane. The attendance was so large that fifteen electric railway cars were required to convey the people to Ashland, where interment was made.

The funeral of Miss Julia Sullivan, daughter of Michael and Johanna Sullivan, took place at 10 o'clock this morning from the family residence on East Lloyd street. The High school classmate of the deceased were in attendance in a body. A number of floral offerings were made. High mass was celebrated at the Annunciation church on West Cherry street and interment was made in the Annunciation cemetery.

The late John R. Hughes was buried this afternoon, the funeral proceeding from the late residence on South West street at 2 o'clock to the Welsh Congregational church, where service was conducted by Rev. D. I. Evans, pastor of the Welsh Baptist church, and Mr. James Williams, the Yale student, who has been filling the pulpit of the former church. Interment was made in the Odd Fellows' cemetery.

The funeral of Mrs. Emma Morris took place yesterday afternoon and attracted a large attendance. Services were conducted at the family residence on South Howard street by Rev. John Bath, of the Primitive Methodist church, and the choir of the church was in attendance and rendered selections. The pall bearers were John Pooler, Ben. Haskey, John Barbach, William Neels, Thomas J. Williams and George Brown. There were many beautiful floral offerings. The Lady Harrison and Star of Bethlehem lodges of the A. P. L. A. were in attendance. Interment was made in the Odd Fellows' cemetery.

Oysters for Families. Fine milk and cream stews, fried, panned and raw oysters at Beuley and Schooner's new bay, 12 West Centre street. Families supplied with prime oysters at short notice. 9-31f.

Dedicated to the Pythians. "True Friendship March" is the title of a charming piece of music that has just been received from the author and publisher, Prof. A. R. Shaw, formerly of this town and now of Latrobe, Pa. It is dedicated to the 490,000 Knights of Pythians in the United States, of which order Prof. Shaw is an old and enthusiastic member, and is pronounced a most beautiful composition by those who have heard it. Copies may be had, for forty cents, from the publisher.

Bargain Week at Wilkinson's. In order to make room for Fall goods we offer extra inducements to buyers. Prices have been scaled down to rock-bottom in every department, and first class dry goods can now be had at prices usually paid for inferior goods. We are making great preparations for a large fall business, hence the necessity of moving goods quickly. Come and get our prices; we will help you to save money. L. J. GLEANINGS OF THE DAY

Items of Interest Picked up by the Reporters.

THE JUSTICES DOCKETS!

A Sunday Morning Free Fight in Which a Man Was Beaten Badly. Walters Is in Jail Again.

There was a hoed-down in a Hungarian house in Schmidt's row on South Main street Saturday night and it was continued until about two o'clock yesterday morning, when Harry Maroski, a neighbor, entered and suggested that it would be a good idea to stop for a few hours and observe the Sabbath.

Most of the merry-makers were too full of beer to pay much heed to the advice, but the musicians were sober enough to take the hint and after packing up their instruments they stole out into the darkness.

Shortly after Maroski started for his home and was stopped by John Klunk, who wanted to know by what authority Maroski had interfered at the hoed-down. A crowd gathered and in the free fight that followed Maroski was knocked down and badly kicked.

Klunk was hunted up and arrested. He remained in the lockup until yesterday afternoon, when he succeeded in inducing Maroski to consent to a settlement of the case.

Executive Committee Meeting.

The State Executive Committee of the P. O. S. of A. held a lengthy session in Reading, on Saturday night, at the office of Treasurer I. S. Smith, when considerable business was transacted and arrangements made to push the organization of new camps of the order throughout the state. Those members were present: President C. F. Huth, of Shamokin; Lincoln Brown, vice president, Shenandoah; Wm. Weand, secretary; George B. Andrews, master of forms; Major R. M. Reed, of Philadelphia, one of the trustees. Charters were granted for five new camps and the following district presidents were appointed: District No. 4, A. L. Ekert, Camp 36, Pottsville; No. 5, Walter S. Britton, Camp 155, Girardville; No. 6, A. W. Ward, Camp 503, Lefty; No. 7, W. J. Williams, Camp 1, Lehigh; Camp 92, Gordon.

Last Excursion to Atlantic City.

The Philadelphia and Reading railroad will run the last cheap excursion of the season to Atlantic City on Thursday, Sept. 13th. Tickets will be good going to Philadelphia on any train of that date; from Philadelphia to Atlantic City on any train of the 13th and 14th, and good to return on any train up to and including Sept. 22. Stop-off in Philadelphia allowed within time limit. 9-10 1/2.

Drowned in a Breach.

GIRARDVILLE, Sept. 10.—John Paulitz, a resident of this town, was drowned in a mine breach near 8:30 A. M. yesterday afternoon. He was bathing in the place and John Ambrose and son narrowly escaped being pulled down by the drowning man. The body was recovered at 11 o'clock this morning. The St. Anthony Society, of Shenandoah, took charge of the body.

"1996" Disbands.

Hettie Bernard Chase and her "1996" company will not appear at Ferguson's theatre to-night. Acting Manager Quinn received a message this morning that Miss Chase had been taken ill at Scranton and on this account the company was obliged to cancel all its dates, and disband.

Not a Ball.

The announcement that the Seven O'Clock Club of Mahanoy City would give a ball in Armory hall on the 29th inst. has been corrected. The affair is to be a private party.
