CITY TRUSTS DIRECTORS.

They Are on Their Annual Tour of Inspection.

A BANQUET AT WM. PENN! Superintendent William H. Lewis Entertains the Directors and Others in Royal Style.

The Board of Directors of City Trusts to the Girard Estate ended the first day of their tour through Schuylkill and Columbia counties last night by dining at the residence of Mr. William H. Lewis, superintendent of the Wm. Penn colliery, at Wm. Penn, and as the guests of that gentleman.

In addition to the directors there were in attendance at the dinner a number of gentlemen prominently identified with the coal operations of the region and several well known professional and business men.

The directors had spent the day visiting Mahanoy City, Girard, West and East Bear Ridge collieries, East Mahanoy Junction, the pumping stations of the water works of Mahanoy City and Shenandoah and the several farms owned by the Girard Estate in the Catawissa valley.

In the afternoon the visitors were photographed in a group at the No. 4 reservoir of the Girard Water Company. At 5 p. m. they returned to Girardville and after spending three hours there took special cars on the Schuylkill Traction Company's line for Wm. Penn, arriving there at 8:30 o'clock.

The visitors were cordially received by Superintendent Lewis and upon arrival at the residence found in waiting the other invited guests. The arrangements for the dinner were of a most elaborate character.

The directors who occupied seats at the tables were Alexander Biddle, Joseph L. Caven, John H. Converse, John K. Cunningham, William B. Mann, John H. Michener, General Louis Wagner, James L. Miles, Frank M. Hiley, Francis E. Brewster, K. C. Brooks, A. S. L. Shields, Wm. Hartman, Hon. E. H. Franey, James E. Gordon and son, Hon. Michael Arnold, Hon. William B. Hanna, Hon. Joseph C. Ferguson and son, Joseph W. Crawford, George D. McCreary, Hon. F. Carroll Brewster, Hon. Edward M. Paxson, Lewis Bregy and Col. H. D. Paxson, all of Philadelphia.

The invited residents of this region in attendance were C. E. Wagner, John Granger, Elijah Gregory and Charles Wagner, of Girardville; William A. Marr, John and Harry Hunter, William Heaton, Budd Evans, L. A. Eiley, J. Harry James, E. W. Ash and McHenry Wilhelm, Ashland; Col. D. P. Brown, Dr. S. H. Brady and Fred E. Zerby, Lost Creek; John A. Grady, Mine Inspector, William Stein, G. Keim, Dr. H. Zullke, Dr. C. M. Bortner, George Krick, Leo Bamberg, Rev. Robert O'Boyle, Thomas Baird, Dr. D. J. Langton, J. J. Franey, Rev. John Grubler, Charles E. Titman, E. B. Hunter, William Gregory, John E. Franey, James E. Edwards, John A. Reddy, J. H. Martin and Rev. T. M. Morrison, Shenandoah; Richard Palmer, B. D. Beddall, V. A. Benner, W. J. Seltzer, John M. Hughes, Philip Jones, J. C. Glover, Thomas D. James and Rev. Wm. F. Penn; Hon. Charles F. King and Hon. John J. Coyle, Mahanoy City; Capt. Edward Reese, Centralia; John L. Williams, Mr. Carmel; A. P. Mitchell, J. Irvin Balkslee and Alexander Butler, Delano; Major Heber S. Thompson and Baird Walker, bait, Pottsville; John Bucher, Lewisburg; ex-Senator William L. Torbert, Girard Manor, and Walter Peterson, New York.

Most of the guests appeared in full dress. They were served by six colored waiters who were kept busy attending to the details of one of the most elaborate spreads ever seen in this part of the coal region. Mr. Lewis' mansion was brilliantly decorated for the occasion and the scene of festivity was in great contrast with the stolid coal breakers scattered here and there over the valley. There were no toasts or other addresses, everything other than the dinner itself being informal and the guests contenting themselves with chats on topics of common interest and occasionally turning an attentive ear to the remarks of some good story teller. At 10:30 the guests took their departure, the Directors returning to Girardville.

At half past eight this morning the Philadelphiaans resumed their tour by leaving Girardville on their special Pullman parlor car "Undine" via the Lehigh Valley railroad, and visited the Packer collieries Nos. 2, 3 and 4.

At ten o'clock the visitors arrived in town, alighting from their car at Emerson street and proceeding to the Kelley Run colliery. The stay here was brief and most of it was devoted to an inspection of the houses on West Line street, which, it is said, are in danger of being drawn down into the workings of the colliery. This trip was made in carriages. The special train with engine #14 and the crew were photographed at the Emerson street crossing after the directors returned.

Shortly before eleven o'clock the Directors reentered their car and went to Wm. Penn. They inspected the underground workings and the new breaker and were again photographed with the breaker and its surroundings in the back ground.

From Wm. Penn the directors went to the Miners' Hospital at Fountain Springs, the journey from Ashland being made in carriages. Lunch was served at the institution, after which the tour was continued by carriages to the Continental, North Ashland and Hammond collieries.

Charles Robinson, one of the finest comedians on the vaudeville stage, has been especially engaged for the support of the Lillian Kennedy engagement.

W. C. No. 112, Attention!

Commencing on Tuesday next, October 2nd, the meetings of Washington Camp No. 112, P. O. E. of A., will be held in Egan's hall, corner of Main and Centre streets, at 7:30 p. m. By order of LEWIS LEHR, Pres. Attest: F. C. REESE, Sec'y. 9-26-1W

McElhenny's ladies' dining rooms are the coziest in town.

NEARING COMPLETION.

The Lakeside Railway Trestle Branch to be opened on Tuesday.

Hon. D. D. Phillips, the treasurer and manager of the Lakeside Railway, spent today in town viewing the electric railway work on Bowers and Oak streets. He stated that it would be impossible to have the trestle branch in operation by Sunday, but it will positively be opened on Tuesday next.

The curve at the corner of Centre and Bowers streets has been completed and it will be connected with the trestle track to-morrow.

There has been considerable speculation as to how the crossing where the curve swings on to Bowers street would be arranged, but the railway people have given assurance that everything in that direction will be made satisfactory to the Borough Council and the people. A 12-inch iron pipe has been laid to drain the south side of Centre street over Bowers street and the crossing for pedestrians is being raised. The rest of the intersection of the two streets will then be filled up and graded so that it will make an easy road to the trestle and at the same time leave the streets for vehicles unimpeded.

The bridge builders have done all the work necessary on the steel work of the trestle and are now engaged solely in laying the rails and sills.

The line men have put up all the poles required for the electrical power and will be ready to put up the trolley wires to-morrow.

Foot Ball.

The Shenandoah foot ball team will tackle the Mahanoy City eleven on the latter's grounds to-morrow afternoon. It will be the second meeting of the teams this season and it is expected the Mahanoy's will make a desperate effort to offset the defeat they suffered in the previous game. The Shenandoahs will line up as follows: Shortall, left end; A. Rose, left tackle; Mallek, left guard; Treize, center; McHale, right guard; R. Rose, right tackle; Hesse, right end; Coker, quarterback; Jones, right halfback; Frost, left halfback; Burkhardt, fullback. The Shenandoah team is composed of such promising young men and is showing up so well in practice that there is being considerable interest in preparing a valuable prize for the team to defend against all comers in the region.

Postmaster Puzzled.

Postmaster Mellet was sorely puzzled this morning to find that although he had the combination of the safe in the post office and the mechanism responded to every knob he was unable to open the door. Mr. Mellet and his clerks worked several hours at the safe and finally discovered that a piece of the mechanism had become dislodged. In consequence of the inability to get the safe open no business could be done at the postoffice to-day. Mr. Mellet has telegraphed to the safe manufacturers at Philadelphia, and expects to get the door of the safe open by to-morrow morning.

Well Produced.

"Fablo Romani" was produced at Ferguson's last evening before a large and appreciative audience. Notwithstanding the frequent presentation of the play here it always draws well. It is full of strong situations and the story is an intensely interesting one. Walter Lawrence and Miss King Summer sustained the leading roles admirably and Charles E. Farwell's work as Respetti was also very good. The serpentine and Spanish dances introduced incidental to the play by Miss Grace Hunter were very clever, the former being particularly fine. The living pictures presented after the close of the play were strikingly artistic.

Property Sold.

The committee of the School Board having charge of the property at the northwest corner of Cherry and Jardin streets, upon which a school building is to be erected, had last night and opened bids for the purchase of the double block now situated on the land. Mrs. Mary Horan was the highest bidder. She got the buildings for $115 and is to move them at once. They will be placed on property owned by the purchaser and located on Cherry street, between Jardin street and Pear Alley, so that they will only have to be moved about two-thirds of a square.

How to Make Money.

Great wealth has been accumulated by small savings. You can save money by purchasing Wall Paper now to keep for future use. I am selling out my entire stock at just what it cost me. Come and see the bargains.

J. P. CARLEN, 224 West Centre street.

Under Falling Coal.

Adam Bosalek, a single man, 25 years of age and residing on South Main street, was bruised from head to foot by falling coal in Wiggins' colliery. Notwithstanding the condition of the man the physician in attendance said there was no danger of fatal results. The victim was taken to the Miners' Hospital this afternoon.

STOPPED BY SMITH.

Unsatisfactory Results of Yesterday's Ball Game at Pottsville.

ATTACHMENT THE CAUSE!

The Shenandoah Management Nailed the Gate Receipts, Huston Balked and a Riot Almost Followed.

The seventh game between the Harrisburg and the Pottsville clubs for the championship of the State league, at Pottsville yesterday, ended very abruptly. The game was given to Pottsville by the umpire on the ground that Harrisburg forfeited it by refusing to continue playing, but it is claimed that an award could not be made because five innings were not played.

When the game ended the score was a tie on the fourth inning. Harrisburg scored three runs in the first and Pottsville scored one in the third and two in the fourth.

The championship is becoming badly twisted and many followers of the sport express the belief that it will never be settled.

The Harrisburgs have returned to their own grounds. Before leaving Pottsville Manager Huston said he would be pleased to play at Harrisburg today and if the Pottsvilles carried out their threats not to appear the game would be claimed. In such an event each club will have an equal number of games won and lost.

The Pottsvilles said they could not go to Harrisburg because they had arranged to play the Wilkes-Barre at home to-day. The cause of the abrupt ending of the game was an attachment of the gate receipts made by James Smith, of the Shenandoah base ball club. Mr. Smith wished to recover $28, which he claims is due from the Harrisburg club as a part of a guarantee.

When Manager Huston learned that the receipts had been attached he took the Senators off the diamond and the umpire gave the game to Pottsville by a score of 9 to 0.

Public opinion was against Huston for the action he took and the ticket agent at the gate came near being made a victim of violence because he refused to give the people their money back. They claimed that as five innings had not been played there was no game. Only the intervention of cool headed citizens prevented a riot, but the ticket agent did not disagree.

Mr. Smith, of the Shenandoah club, tells a spicy story about the balance of the guarantee for which the attachment was issued. He says his club was entitled to $50, but Huston only paid $22 and promised to give the balance in the evening. When the time arrived Huston invited Smith to his boarding house to get the money. While Smith was waiting for the cash Huston slipped out the back door of the house and he "never came back."

Huston, on the other hand, claims an offset. He says the Shenandoah management intended him against loss for playing Sunday base ball at Shenandoah; that the Harrisburg club was prosecuted at Pottsville and compelled to pay about $68 as fines and costs for playing a Sunday game in Shenandoah and Smith's club should stand the loss.

Mr. Smith denies Huston's statement on this score.

The money attached by Smith is still in the hands of the Pottsville management and will be held until the matter can be decided by legal process. It is quite likely that the Pottsvilles will come in and claim all the gate receipts on the ground that the Harrisburgs had not earned a share of the receipts and therefore there was nothing which Smith could attach.

The side issues to championship series have multiplied to such an extent and grown so unsavory that public interest in the games has dropped considerably.

The great production of the new edition of "She Couldn't Marry Three" will be one of the greatest events of the season.

MAHANOY CITY.

MAHANOY CITY, Sept. 28.

Mr. Thomson, of Morea, drove to town last evening.

Our foot ball team will play the Shenandoah team on Saturday.

"Fablo Romani" will be produced at Kaler's opera house this evening.

T. J. Joyce's Daily American will positively appear on Saturday, October 6th.

Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Brown returned home last evening from a visit to Philadelphia.

John Fisher, of East Centre street, who had been working in New York, returned home last evening, to stay.

There were three runaways here yesterday, the horses being owned by Thomas Evans, Mr. Brendour and Dr. Weber. No serious damage was sustained in any of the cases.

No trace can be found of Mr. Pierson, of Gilberton, who left his wife and three children about three weeks ago. Why he left is unknown. He was an agent for the Prudential Insurance Company.

Mrs. Bridgeman, R. C. M., teaches violin (specialty) cello and piano. Corner of Jardin and Lloyd streets. 9-24-1W

Her Wit Gave Her a Seat. One day last week a large Irishwoman got into a Sixth avenue car, and the car being full, she was obliged to stand. She rode for many blocks quite patiently, first resting herself on one foot and then on the other. Still no one got out.

With a face that Harry could have given fifty dollars for, she exclaimed, "Well, ain't none of yees going home, or be yees all going to ride into the next country?"

"No, we are all going to see Lillian Kennedy in 'She Couldn't Marry Three.'"

Give Them Your Orders.

Hooks & Brown, the North Main street stationery store, are the authorized town agents of the EVENING HERALD and all orders left in their care will be promptly attended to. The HERALD is also on sale at all the other leading stationery stores in the town.

STREET WHISPERINGS.

Odds and Ends Gleaned By Reporters on the Streets.

A number of our people have taken a notion of Sunday evening open air sacred concerts and are urging Prof. Zeitz to induce one of the bands with which he is connected to respond. The Professor hesitates, because he has heard some of the musicians who have responded heretofore say that the concerts are not appreciated. This is no doubt a mistaken impression. Open air concerts have always been very popular here and there is no better way in which the bands can make themselves popular with the people than by giving them. The season is rather late for the concerts, but judging from the demand now being made most people feel that there is yet time for a few concerts before the rough weather sets in.

Residents of South White and East Oak streets are complaining of the large number of pigs which are allowed to roam about the streets. It is bad enough to be tormented by their continual grunts and be obliged to dodge in all directions to avoid being tripped by the animals when walking along the streets, the people say, but when the pigs begin to make pens of the porches and roots up the curbs it is time to ask the Chief Burgess and High Constable why they were elected!

A tall, well-dressed and dignified-looking man walked into one of the hotels in town yesterday and with pen and ink drew upon the register nine perpendicular lines, thusly:

"Excuse me, sir," interrupted the hotel clerk, "but that is not a drawing book. It is reserved for the names of guests."

"Don't be alarmed, my good fellow," rejoined the stranger, as he marked five horizontal and a dot to make words already made, "this is the way I make my signature."

H H H I L L L

Two women who have been making the vicinity of the Lehigh Valley depot and the red bridge a rendezvous had better dissolve partnership and mend their ways, or there will be one or two arrests made. Complainants against the couple have become so numerous that the authorities have been appealed to. One or two prominent men of town may be pulled into the affair if the warning is not heeded.

During the limited engagement of the Lillian Kennedy Company, prices will be 25, 35, 50 and 75 cents.

Thanks, Awfully.

We are in receipt of a 19-line local, headed "News for the HERALD," and signed, "A Looker On." It is true that in dull times contributions are very acceptable to newspaper men, especially when they treat on such live topics as improvements to the town, but it is a pretty sick business man who, even when times are dull, can get the news man to take hold of the tared end of a stick. The business man referred to is shrewd and calculating, but he can still learn something from other business men in town, and one of the lessons is that it pays to improve intelligently. It may be of great benefit to the public to know that so-and-so added to the "credit of the town" by bringing into existence "beautiful store rooms" and that one of them is for rent, would make nice quarters and has a dwelling attached; but we think those most interested should seek the proper channels for giving such information to the people and not play false with the poor printer.

If the aforesaid merchant can buy a ham, a pound of tea, or a box of soap for a message on a postal card he is at liberty to do so, and at that rate all citizens are able to build many more "beautiful store rooms," but when he wants a 19-line advertisement in the columns of this paper he can only get it by walking up to our cashier; and should he be in ignorance of that gentleman's whereabouts we will most cheerfully direct him at any time. Every man should know how to run his own business, and that is why we object to being bought with a one-cent postal card.

McElhenny will have snapper, clam and oyster soup this evening.

Artistic Dressmaker.

Bertha L. Dolph, artistic dressmaker, pupil of Madame Crittenden, of Philadelphia, announces that she will open a dressmaking establishment at 11 North West street, Shenandoah. Two years' experience in cutting and fitting. Terms reasonable. 9-24-1W

Over one hundred colored electrical lights will be used in the great garden scene.

Arm Broken.

William, the 13-year-old son of Lewis Hopkins, of South West street, fell under a wagon last evening and both bones of his left forearm were fractured by one of the wheels. Just how the boy met with the accident no one seems to know. Dr. John Pierce Roberts attended the boy.

September Blanket Sale. To buyers of blankets during this month we will offer the following special gains: Five hundred pairs in all, to go at 55 cents, 75 cents and $1 per pair.
