In view of the position, which certain newspapers have taken on vital questions affecting the interests of the coal miners, the warm endorsement of Gen. Hastings as a coal operator by Secretary McBryde, of the United Mine Workers, is apropo. The record of Gen. Hastings in his relations with miners was not made to order for this compalien. It began long before be was known in politics at all, much less s candidate for Governor. As far back as 1882, when 52 of them were arrested in the Clearfield region under the conspiracy laws, he was their voluntary counsel, get ting bail for them, and pleading their case without pay. When he went into the coal business in earnest in 1887, and bought the mines at Stirling, where there was a company store, he had it sold out at anotion and closed up, saying that if there wasn't a decent profit in coal mining without running a "pluck me" store he would go back to practicing law. > What the business and industrial nterests of the United States demand is stable conditions. The menuce of tariff amashing has cost the people many millions of dollars. Grover Cleveland's free trade message of 1897 was the beginning of a seven years' war upon protection, which has been a hindrance to the expansion of industry and the extension of business in countless lines. There was a luli in the warfare after the defeat of Cleve land, and the country prospered marvelously under the McKinley law from 1890 antil the Democratic triumph in the fall of 1892. Following close on Cleveland's second inauguration came the hard times.

auses the Death of an Engineer and Fatal Injuries to a Fireman at Manmer, O .- Five Killed in a Freight Wreck Near Woodstock, 11/8.

Totano, O., Oct. 1 .- Train No. 42 on the Wabash railroad was wrecked yes-terday at Manurce, a small town twelve miles south of this city. The accident was the result of a well laid plan to ditch the entire train. Happily the heavy Pullmans kept on the track, and the mail mans kept on the track, and the mail and baggage cars, although badly wrecked, did not contain many victims.

F. N. Smith, the engineer, of Toledo, was killed. Fatally injured: Fireman A. H. Day of Toledo. Slightly injured: Charles Holland of Toledo, mail clerk, scalp wound; W. F. Provost of Toledo, mail clerk, slightly out and bruised; J. W. Kreamer of Diskow, Ind., mail clerk, badly scratched on legs on body.

The wreck was planned by whoever con-ceived the plot to occur at the first of a long siding just beyond the Maumee station. The read at the lower part of the switch target had been moved, and the switch was partily thrown. The tar-get indicated a clear track, and Engineer Smith was probably not aware of the situation many minutes before his engine was bumping along on the ties. As soon as the engine struck the switch, it leaped into the air, fell toward the ditch and turned completely over. The trucks of the mail cars followed the engine, but the cars themselves went in an opposite rection. Under them were found later the dead body of Engineer Smith and Fireman Day, the latter suffering from a fracture of the skull, which will prove

At the time of the accident the train was running at the regular speed, and it is considered a miracle that more lives were not lost. The postal cars were torn entirely from the trucks and were lying
