AT KEITER'S.

MR. TORBERT'S SHOT GUN.

The Ex-Senator Takes Decisive Steps to Protect His Property.

There was some excitement in town last evening when a report was received that ex-Senator William L. Torbert had driven off his land at Davis' Run men employed in getting material to repair the breastwork of the Shenandoah water works and that the ex-senator had accomplished his purpose at the point of a shot gun.

When the report was first received it was accepted as a hoax, but Robert McAdam, who has charge of the repair work, subsequently confirmed the story. He said a large gang of Italians went to Mr. Torbert's place to get clay for use in the middle ditch and the ex-senator warned them off. The men withdrew, but sought another place, when Mr. Torbert again appeared. This time the ex-senator carried a shot gun on his arm and declared that if the men attempted to put a spadeful of soil in the ground he would fill them as full of buckshot as a chicken's crop is filled with corn in market time. The sight of the shot gun was sufficient for the Italians and they "dusted."

"The Senator took advantage of me," said Mr. McAdam humorously last night. "If he had brought a Winchester I wouldn't care so much, but the confounded buckshot scatters so you never know where it is going to strike."

Later in the evening Mr. McAdam's timekeeper, Mr. Cavanaugh, appeared before the Borough Council and repeated Mr. McAdam's story, adding that the work was being delayed considerably and, of course, the expense was running up against the borough's account. Mr. Cavanaugh also stated that, although he had blood in his eye, Mr. Torbert had intimated he would like to interview some members of Council. Mr. Cavanaugh thought a trace of the land from which it is desired to take the clay is not within the boundaries of the land condemned by the borough for the public water works and, therefore, Mr. Torbert has the upper hand in this little controversy.

A gentleman stated to a HERALD reporter last night that ex-Senator Torbert had not been treated right; that he allowed a large quantity of clay to be taken from his land for the public water works on an agreement that he would be paid for it, but he has never received a cent, and now he proposes to cut off the supply until he has some understanding as to payment.

BOWMANITES WIN.

A Famous Church Case Decided by the Supreme Court.

The Supreme Court of Pennsylvania met at Pittsburg yesterday and among the decisions handed down was one granting an injunction to Rev. A. Kreeker and others against Rev. Jones and others. The case arose over a dispute about church property growing out of the celebrated split in the Evangelical Association at the time Bishop Dole, Eber and Boy man were suspended from their offices. The court ruled that the last conference at Indianapolis was the legitimate ruling power of the church and that the Western Pennsylvania conference was an illegally constituted and rebellious body. The property in question is the Emmanuel Church at Reading. The decision practically gives the ownership of 210 churches in Pennsylvania to the Bowmanites.

McElhenry's ladies' dining rooms are the cosiest in town.

PERSONAL.

Rev. T. Maxwell Morrison has gone to Chester county to spend a few days with relatives.

Mrs. M. E. Gable, of Pittsburg, is visiting her sister, Miss Sue E. Fowler, of West Oak street.

Mrs. T. D. Davies and Mrs. C. T. Straughn spent the day with friends at St. Clair and Pottsville.

"Joe" Lambruskini, foreman on the Pottsville Journal, rode to town on his bicycle Sunday. He won several prizes in bicycle races this year.

Thomas E. Kelly, of town, lately of the pension department at Washington, and whose work there was finished last August, has gone to Hazleton to take charge of the branch of C. D. Kaler's Mahanoy City brewery. Mr. Kelly is a young man of considerable business ability and his employers will find in him one of their most active agents.

Special for One Week.

We offer to-day a full line of ready-made sheets, pillow cases and bolster cases at less than the price of the market alone. Sheets, bleached or unbleached, for 50 cents; pillow cases 15 cents; bolster cases 25 cents. All the best quality.

"She Couldn't Marry Three."

It sounds like a self-evident proposition that "She Couldn't Marry Three," but in the play of that name which Miss Lillian Kennedy brings to the theatre to-morrow evening it is shown what a lot of trouble may fall upon a girl because she can only marry one man at a time. This most charming little comedy, Miss Kennedy has created in this play a new type of maidenly sweetness. There is plenty of excitement in the play, especially in the final climax where the villain tries to tie the hero to the railroad track upon which an express train is approaching. A real passenger locomotive steams upon the stage in this scene and for realism the tableau has never been beaten. Of course Miss Kennedy's songs and dances add greatly to the brightness of the play.

The audience rise to their feet, with excitement, at the appearance of the lightning express in "She Couldn't Marry Three."

"D. J. D." Asleep.

The last issue of the Sunday News published a lengthy editorial announcing that "Pittsburg is making great preparations for the national encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic, which will be held in that city next month." The editor of that paper should pull himself together and wake up. The encampment closed two weeks ago.

Borough Council Fixes the Second Special Election.

THE BOROUGH'S FINANCES.

Its Total Liabilities and Resources and the Net Indebtedness After Computing Revenues for the Year.

The Borough Council held a special meeting last night to take action on the proposed special election to raise funds for the completion of the public water works and hear the report of the finance committee, which spent ten days in delving into the accounts of the borough to get at the amount of assets and liabilities. The Councilmen present were Messrs. McQuire, Kane, Meluskey, McElhenry, Stout, Lamb, Straughn, Kerns, Gaffigan, Dougherty, Hand, James and Gallagher.

Mr. Lamb acted as spokesman for the finance committee and presented several sheets of figures taken from the accounts of the borough to show its net indebtedness. These figures show that the gross indebtedness is $125,077.51, which includes the water bonds on the market. The gross assets, including the license money and other revenues applicable within one year to the payment of obligations, are $84,549.03, leaving the net indebtedness $40,528.48.

Borough Solicitor Pomeroy also presented a report showing that the judgment received against the borough, including costs and interest to date, amount to $4,715.41. This item the committee included in its estimate of liabilities.

Upon the suggestion of President McGuire the water committee presented a figure on how much money would be required to complete the water works. Some members thought $30,000 would be sufficient, others considered $40,000 nearer the mark, and others wanted $50,000. The supporters of the latter proposition argued that it would be better to ask for enough with a chance of a surplus than to ask for too little and run the risk of another election.

The water committee finally completed its figuring and after allowing margins on unfinished work and about $3,000 for contingencies reported that about $48,000 would be needed.

On motion of Mr. Gaffigan, seconded by Mr. Kerns, Council decided to ask the people for an increase of $50,000.

Mr. Pomeroy then presented a resolution authorizing an election for the increase of the borough debt, to be held on the day of the general election in November, next, and the resolution was adopted. Council also decided to publish the material necessary to make the election legal once a week for four weeks in the EVENING HERALD, Sunday News and News Budget.

PENCIL POINTS.

Local News: Gleanings Condensed for Hasty Perusal.

The Jewish New Year closes to-night at 6 o'clock.

All the P. & R. collieries will be idle on Thursday.

Don't forget the Soldiers' Monument Association picnic on October 4th.

The School Board will hold a regular monthly meeting to-morrow night.

A regular meeting of the Borough Council will be held on Thursday evening.

Every business man in the town should be represented in the business men's demonstration.

All the Israelites had their places of business closed yesterday. Those of the Reformed faith re-opened their places to-day.

Birthday Party.

A very pleasant time was spent last evening at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Dabb, on South White street, the occasion being the celebration of the twentieth anniversary of their daughter, Miss Minnie. Among the young folks who took part in the pastimes of the evening were Misses Carrie Kendrick, Emily and Carrie Haskey, Jennie Kennelly, Maggie McDonald, Maud Pooler and Mable Lauterstein; and Messrs. George Parish, Adrain Kennelly, Edward and Enoch Pooler, Bennie Lauterstein and Willie Dabb.

Books and Papers Wanted.

The "V's" of town have taken up the suggestion that reading matter be furnished by the public for the inmates of the almshouse at Schuylkill Haven and have already sent large bundles of papers and other reading matter to the institution. The "V's" will receive and forward any story papers or magazines which the public may contribute. The officials of the institution have written that all such contributions will be thankfully received. Contributions of reading matter for the Polish inmates will also be received.

Prize Peaches.

We had the pleasure to-day of seeing and sampling some of the finest peaches ever raised here or brought to the town. They came from the garden of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Bodea, and although exceedingly large were prime in quality. They averaged 9 1/2 inches in circumference. The tree from which the peaches were taken was raised from a peach stone planted many years ago by Mrs. Bodea's mother, Mrs. Crawshaw.

Hastings at Pottsville.

Gen. Daniel H. Hastings, the Republican candidate for Governor, and Gen. J. W. Latta, candidate on the same ticket for Secretary of Internal Affairs, will visit Pottsville next Friday evening. They will arrive there at 8:30 p. m. and will be tendered a royal reception. It will be Gen. Hastings' only visit to Schuylkill county during the present campaign.

Flower Mission Report.

The report of the Shenandoah flower mission for the month of September is as follows: The distributions made were 40 bouquets, 7 baskets of fruit and 3 glasses of jelly. Paid $1 for rent and made 11 visits. Donations received, $1. Collections for the month, 70 cents.

BASE BALL.

Whisperings of Closing Scenes on the Schuylkill Diamond.

The Pottsvilles will disband to-night. The Bottoms defeated the Pottsvilles yesterday by a score of 8 to 5.

Mark Baldwin has signed to play with the Philadelphia team next season.

Stivetta will forewear beans to-day. Next season he will be a Quaker.

Shenandoah and Pottsville will play at the Trotting park on Thursday afternoon. The Pottsville players will divide their share of the receipts.

Paddy Fox, the Pottsville favorite, received a cold which from his friends yesterday and Mrs. Fox was presented with the Journal gold watch.

The Shenandoahs and Pottsvilles will meet for the last time this season at Pottsville on Friday next, when they will play for Manager Smith's benefit.

The Pottsville season has been a remarkably successful one. When the players will be pleased to-night they will have their salaries paid in full and the management will have a respectable surplus.

McElhenry will have snapper, clam and oyster soup this evening.

CENTRALIA.

CENTRALIA, Oct. 2.

Peter Shaugnessy attended a funeral at Andover on Saturday.

Miss Maggie Laughlin, our popular milliner, went to Philadelphia on a business trip yesterday.

Joseph P. Morrison, one of our popular tonorial artists, has moved his shop to J. Curry's building, on Locust avenue.

Misses Bridget Taigher and Mary E. Murry, two of our young belles, yesterday went to Philadelphia, where they will reside.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael J. Moran last evening returned from Philadelphia, where they passed a few pleasant days on their wedding tour.

M. McCoy, one of our popular young men, visited Shenandoah on Sunday and was heard to say, "Shenandoah is the finest town I ever had the pleasure of visiting."

Charles McBrerthy, the genial manager of our popular foot ball team, accompanied by William Ryan, passed Sunday evening pleasantly with the fair ones of Shenandoah.

Our town sent a large delegation to Shenandoah to witness the game of base ball on Sunday. Among them were Messrs. James J. Gilliam, J. J. Reddy, M. H. Cuff, John Rooney, Dennis Whalen, Andrew Rooney, Patrick Devine, Ross Kelly, Bernard and Charles McBrerthy, Joseph Brown, John O'Donnell, Anthony Conway, Charles Schaum and William Ryan.

The dancing school held here on Friday evening by Prof. Ryan's orchestra was a success. From the appearance of the night we are going to have a first-class school this season and those who enjoy this pastime should thank the orchestra for the grand opportunity offered them and attend the school. The same orchestra will open a school at Mr. Flynn's home at Mt. Carmel, next Saturday evening.

The Centralia foot ball team will hold a grand ball on Hollow Run, October 31st, in the Odd Fellows' hall. The team is composed of popular young fellows and they are all well acquainted with the management of such affairs. Arrangements necessary to the success of the affair have been completed and all who wish to pass an enjoyable evening should attend and help the boys along. They will give an excellent opportunity to witness some exciting sport in town before the end of the school year and the least our townsperson can do is to assist them in the coming event. Don't forget the date, October 31st.

Messrs. John Cain, M. H. Cuff, Wm. Johnston and Thomas Madden have presented their office chair, E. J. Flynn, with a beautiful set of furniture. The presentation was made at Mr. Flynn's home on Park street, Saturday evening, and was in honor of the gentleman's admission to the bar last week. The presentation was made by Mr. Johnston and was accompanied by a very appropriate speech, in which Mr. Johnston reviewed his companion's life from boyhood, told how by hard and constant study the position he sought had at last been gained. Messrs. Cuff, Cain and Madden then delivered short addresses, after which Mr. Flynn took the floor and responded ably. Mr. Flynn is a popular young man. He has taught school in Conyngham township for a number of years and is at present engaged in that occupation. At the examination previous to his admission to the bar he passed with high honors and promises to be one of our best lawyers. After the presentation the visitors became the guests of the family and were royally entertained.

During the limited engagement of the Lillian Kennedy Company, popular prices. Gallery, 25 cents; reserved seats, 35 and 50 cents.

W. C. No. 112, Attention!
