HAZEL IS A HARD NUT.

He Tricks the Authorities by Breaking Out of Jail.

HOW HE ACCOMPLISHED IT

Tore Up the Flooring of the Cell, Crawled Between Window and Guards and Scaled a High Fence.

Louis Hazel, the young Lithuanian who had a hand in burglarizing Coffey's store on South Main street, yesterday morning, has added still another item to his record of desperate deeds by breaking out of the lockup last night. James Gaughan also made his escape. Hazel is still at large. Gaughan is at his home, having been furnished for him. The authorities are not troubling themselves about him, as he is of tender years and can be had when wanted, but a strict lookout will be kept for Hazel and a charge of jail breaking will be added to the list against him.

Hazel is seventeen years of age. Gaughan is thirteen. The latter was arrested for stealing a dollar from a storekeeper and was placed in the lockup to be held as a witness against an accomplice named Cullen.

The two were placed in the east cell of the lockup yesterday at noon, but later in the day, the cell being in a filthy condition, Constable Boland transferred the prisoners to the second cell from the west end of the corridor.

Young Gaughan says that the change had hardly been made when Hazel commenced prying at a small trap which is used when repairs are made to the cell closet. What Hazel worked with the boy does not know. In due time the trap was forced open and Hazel told Gaughan to follow him. Hazel descended into the opening and crawled under the flooring to an opening under the sink closet at the west end of the corridor. The latter opened the door and the prisoners access to the corridor. Hazel then took a small ladder which was used years ago in lighting the street lamps and climbed up to the east window. After squeezing himself through the eight-inch space between rods guarding the window and a hole in the window sash made by the breaking of a pane of glass Hazel found himself in the yard. He urged Gaughan to follow and assisted him to liberty. With the assistance of boxes and pieces of lumber the prisoners scaled the high fence and dropped into the adjoining yard. They then walked through an alley way to a door opening on Jardin street. A woman residing in the neighborhood says that between 7 and 8 o'clock she saw Hazel open the door gradually and after cautiously looking about for a moment or two he exclaimed in undertone, "Now we go." At the same instant he dashed around the corner into Oak street, followed by a small boy. They disappeared northward on Pear alley.

Gaughan went at once to the home of his parents. He does not know where Hazel went, or intended to go.

Shortly after eight o'clock Constable Boland went to the lockup to release Gaughan, as ball had been furnished for him. The escapes were then discovered.

The claim is for base balls furnished the Shenandoah club during the past season. It is expected that in the next inning Sheriff Wall will be in the box for the Portz team.

POTTSVILLE WON.

The Shenandoahs Defeated in Manager Smith's Benefit Game.

The Shenandoahs played a game of base ball at Pottsville yesterday for the benefit of Manager Smith, of the latter team, and lost after a contest of a somewhat indifferent character.

The famous John L. did not tangle in the game, as was expected, and disappointed a large crowd. Fox, of the Pottsvilles, and Paddy Quinn, the self-made umpire, played left and right fields respectively for the Shenandoahs.

The attendants paid more attention to presenting of gifts to their favorite players than they did to the game. Nyce, Ellis and Baldwin received presents. Manager Smith netted a good sum. The attendance was about 800. Score:

SCHUYLKILL AROUSED.

General Daniel H. Hastings Met Ovation at All Points.

THE PEOPLE ENTHUSIASTIC

A Grand Wind Up at the County Seat Last Night—Parade, Fireworks and Mass Meeting.

POTTSVILLE, Oct. 6.—General Daniel H. Hastings, the Republican candidate for Governor, completed his triumphal tour of Schuylkill county last night at one of the most enthusiastic Republican meetings ever held at this place. The town was ablaze with glory and the finger ends of the people seemed to tingle with enthusiasm. Large delegations from all sections of the county took part in the demonstration.

Upon arrival here the next Governor and his party were escorted to the Merchants' hotel, where they remained until seven o'clock. As the majestic figure of the candidate who is sweeping the state appeared the great throng of people filled the air with cheers and shouts of welcome. The Central Republican Club acted as escort to the General's party to the rooms of the Henry Clay League, where a reception was held for three-quarters of an hour. In the meantime the Grand Band, of Shenandoah, entertained the throng on the street with a series of selections which won hearty applause.

The parade started at 7:35. General Hastings and the other visiting candidates, with escorts, occupied carriages. The organizations in line were the Third Brigade Band, Central Republican Club, Grand Band and the Shenandoah Republican Club, Pottsville Club, Pinegrove Cornet Band, Pinegrove Club, Tower City Club, Frackville Band and Club, Minersville Band and Club and the Middle ward Republican Club. A pyrotechnic display along the route of parade was magnificent.

The parade ended at Centre Hall, where a mass meeting was held. It was opened by W. J. White, Esq., and D. C. Henning, Esq., who made chairman. A rattling speech by the presiding officer was followed by the introduction of and a splendid address by General Hastings. General James W. Latta, candidate for Secretary of Internal Affairs; Hon. George B. Orady, of Huntington; Col. William A. Stone and Hon. T. J. Stewart were the other speakers.

The tour which Gen. Hastings and his party ended here last night was one of the most remarkable in the history of Schuylkill county. It included visits to Port Clinton, Mahanoy City, Shenandoah, Wm. Penn, Girardville, Ashland, Mahanoy Plains, Frackville and St. Clair, the party arriving here at 6 p. m. At every point visited the party was enthusiastically received and close observers who accompanied the visitors say they believe a Republican tidal wave will submerge the county next November.

The visiting party comprised Gen. Danl. H. Hastings, Gen. Latta, Senator Orady, of Huntington; Congressman W. A. Stone, of Allegheny City; Solicitor Charles H. Warwick, of Philadelphia; Hon. Geo. Huff, candidate for Congressman-at-Large; Hon. Thomas J. Stewart, H. H. Carr, Philadelphia Record; George McCann, Philadelphia Press; Charles E. Dorworth, Philadelphia Inquirer; Adam Quandon, D. S. Semple, of the State Central Committee, stenographer.

Shoup was a Smasher. Frank Hepp got full of bug juice and caught hold of the wrong end of a punching match last night. He then started for home, but got into a neighbor's house and commenced manufacturing the furniture into kindling wood. Of course the neighbor objected and Shoup was escorted to the lockup by a police man. After spending the night there he was taken before Justice Williams and given a hearing. Shoup is now in the lockup figuring on the cost of furniture and waiting for his friends to bail him out.

THE COFFEE BURGLARY.

Two More of the Thieves Taken into Custody.

Constable Thomas Boland is vigorously pushing his search for the accomplices of Hazel in the robbery of Coffee's store, on South Main street, and has captured two. Last night he arrested John Schrader and this morning he arrested Thomas Cannon. He also recovered some clothing, shoes and neckties to-day. Schrader, at first protested his innocence, but subsequently caved in and told a damaging story against Hazel and Cannon. The latter claimed to be innocent and stuck to it, although the property recovered to day was traced to him.

Cannon is said by the police to be the shrewdest crook in the town. He spent several years in a reformatory and has been in trouble repeatedly since he left the institution, but his shrewdness has kept him from behind the bars. Recently he was before the court at Pottsville on a charge of passing Confederate money, but got off.

Mrs. Coffee says that an examination of the stock in her store shows that the burglars took over $200 worth of goods. A large amount of jewelry was taken and none of it has been recovered.

Troublesome Springs. The Borough Council held another meeting last night to consult with Engineer Womelsdorf and Contractor McAdam on the best means to get rid of a spring which is causing trouble in the construction of the Fowler's Run reservoir. Messrs. Womelsdorf and McAdam favored the digging of a trench above the north bank of the reservoir to cut off the spring, but Councilman Gable had a plan of his own which Council adopted. A brick wall two feet high and nine inches thick will be built along the bottom of the reservoir. This wall is supposed to act as a dam. The wall will be placed a few inches from the reservoir, which will be covered by the cement concrete of the reservoir. A two-inch iron pipe and elbow will then connect with the perforated pipe and carry all the accumulating spring water across the cemented bottom of the reservoir to the tail pipe at the south side of the reservoir. Mr. Womelsdorf told a reporter to-day that he did not think the plan would work, but as it had been ordered by Council it would be carried out.
