A COUNTY SEAT LETTER

An Alarm Sounded For the Benefit of the Republicans.

MORE VIGOROUS ACTION!

Too Much Indifference Seems to Exist Among the Young Republicans of the County.

SPECIAL HERALD'S CORRESPONDENCE.

POTTSVILLE, Oct. 12.—I have been prompted to ask what the Republicans of this county are doing? It strikes me that there is an air of treachery in the ranks—that there is something wrong somewhere. Shortly after the county convention a hope for success seemed to find place in the breast of every man in the party, but where is that hope now? I must confess that I see very little of it.

We may as well look the facts square in the face now and prepare to meet the situation. And the first thing to consider is the cause for this feeling of suspicion and distrust which has supplanted the spirit of hopefulness which seemed so general about two months ago. It goes back for many years and is the result of the defeat of Republican candidates by Republican voters who sought to appease their jealousy. There are many wrecks on the wayside, and from these the cry for revenge comes.

If this were not so, why is it all of our young and able Republicans are not in the ranks and actively at work? They find themselves too busy elsewhere and, outside the election of the state ticket, they seem to have no interest in the campaign.

If the Republicans are to win in this county heroic measures must be adopted, and very soon, too. The party has some of the ablest young men in the state living in this county, and were they to get together and work earnestly there would be no reason to fear for the result of the campaign.

This sentiment was expressed the other day by one of the most prominent and influential politicians of the county and he suggested that a conference be called at once to ascertain, if possible, the cause of the indifference which has become so apparent of late, and at the same time take precaution against sell outs and the pernicious complimentary voting system. The county executive committee cannot be counted on to do this. There is not enough enthusiasm in its make up to elect even the tail end of the ticket, if its election was not fixed by law.

It isn't pleasant to some you address to be outspoken and truthful, but I consider that in this case sentiment and propriety should be discounted to some extent in order to awaken the Republicans to a realization of the danger confronting them.

The Democrats, evidently aware of the condition of affairs in the Republican ranks, are all smiles. Mr. Kelly is one of the most confident men on the Democratic ticket.

ELECTRIC RAILWAY AFFAIRS.
By next summer this city will have one of the best and most complete systems of electric railways in the state. By that time almost every town of any importance in the county will be connected with the city by electric railways, and the increased traveling facilities through all the outlying districts is bound to give the city a building boom it never before experienced. I would not be the least surprised if the next census should give us a population of 50,000. Every citizen in our city should enrol himself in the movement for a greater Pottsville, and those who stand in front of the wheels of progress ought to be run down. We have a few back number Councilmen who use the old saw, "We don't want to give anything away for nothing," and in nine cases out of ten they haven't got in sight even the 62 1/2 plot of ground which is man's heritage when he shakes off the mortal coil. The present electric railway fight will end, (and mark the prediction) in the humiliation of those who are embracing the present successful company. They will crawl and hide their heads. They will not earnest in their efforts to secure rights of way. Their scheme savors of a game of squeeze.

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS.
The meeting of the County Commissioners, their solicitors and prominent bridge builders from all parts of the state this week was a very successful event, and the deliberations will no doubt result in great benefit to those who took part in them as well as those who were represented. If the measures they contemplate introducing before the Legislature become laws the benefit the state will derive will be immeasurable. It is through such meetings that a thorough understanding of the wants and requirements of the people is obtained and from the information thus gleaned uniform laws can be better framed.

WILL LOCATE HERE.
A Brokerage Office to be Opened in the Egan Building.
The statement that the gentleman who has been here the past few days with a view to opening a brokerage office had abandoned the project was misleading. Mr. E. H. Cooper, of Philadelphia, the gentleman referred to, gives assurance that such an office will be opened here within a few days, in fact quarters have already been leased in the new Egan building, corner of Main and Centre streets, and they will be furnished on a scale to compare favorably with similar places of business in the large cities. The report that the project had been abandoned arose from a rumor that Mr. Cooper had found that the methods of previous brokerage offices in this town had been so unsatisfactory there was little hope for the establishment of a new office. This has served to encourage Mr. Cooper, rather than discourage him. Had he intended to come here and victimize the people his stay would have been very brief and the dissatisfaction over previous experiences would have been sufficient notice to him. Mr. Cooper comes here as representative of a reliable firm and the experiences of the past have no bearing whatever upon him. He represents the firm of Hodgen & Co., of Philadelphia, brokers of high reputation and unquestionable methods in that line of business. They have established and are now conducting prosperous branches in Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington, Pottsville and other places. It may also be stated that Mr. Cooper is by no means a stranger in Schuylkill county. He has traveled through it for years as a commercial man and enjoys the acquaintance and confidence of many of its most prominent and substantial business people.

ATTRACTIVE DISPLAY.
Whitelock & Co.'s Unique Method of Dressing Show Windows.
The most conspicuous point in town at present is the store of Whitelock & Co., in the new Egan building, at the southeast corner of Main and Centre streets. This firm's long experience in the boot and shoe business has taught it that to sell goods the attention of the people must be attracted to the stock, and the most effective means for doing that is to place attractive advertisements in the local newspapers and give attention to the dressing of show windows. In the latter the firm spares neither expense nor trouble, as a glance at the windows will show. They are draped in orange and white, with autumnal leaves as trimmings, and in the midst of the drapery are tastefully arranged samples of the stock the firm handles, ranging from the cheapest to the most fancy and costly of footwear. There is a supply for all classes and a guarantee is given with every article sent from the store. The windows present a striking appearance in the daytime, but at night, when the numerous electric lights are at work, the effect is dazzling. People gather about the windows by the score to enjoy the sight. Whitelock & Co. are evidently here to stay and if enterprise can they will soon build up a big business here and rank with the leaders of the county in their line. They make a feature of selling the best shoes at the lowest prices.

Ankle Crushed.
At about twelve o'clock last night Anthony McMeniman, aged 22 years, and residing at the corner of Line and West streets, attempted to board the empire freight train, but slipped and fell. His right leg was thrown over the rail and the wheels crushed it at the ankle. The victim was alone at the time of the accident and as the crew failed to see him he remained beside the track until found at an early hour this morning. He was conscious, but very weak from loss of blood. After receiving temporary treatment he was removed to the Miners' Hospital.

COUNCIL IN SESSION.

The Storage Reservoir Gives the Councilmen Some Trouble.

SPRINGS CAUSE TROUBLE!

They Pour Through a Breastwork and Destroy the Pudding and Concrete. Plans to Remedy the Evil.

A special meeting of the Borough Council was hurriedly called last night to consider the condition of the storage reservoir of the public water works at Fowler's Run. As stated in yesterday's HERALD the recent heavy rains started the springs north of the reservoir with such violence that they threaten to destroy the concrete and other work which has been done, and in fact they have already caused some damage. Ten squares of concrete must be replaced. The streams from the springs actually pour into the reservoir and much of the puddling on the north embankment has been washed away.

The difficulty is that no one can tell just where the sources of the springs are and, therefore, it is impossible to say just what is required to cut them off and what the expense will be, although it is believed that the plan adopted by Council last night will serve the purpose.

Supervising Engineer and Contractor McAdam recommended at the last meeting of Council that a ditch be dug north of and parallel with the north embankment of the reservoir to drain the springs, but at that time the Councilmen thought a plan suggested by Councilman Gable would be equally effective and cost less. Mr. Gable's plan was to put a perforated pipe and brick wall at the bottom of the embankment and drain the accumulating spring water by pipe to the feed pipe at the south side of the reservoir.

Last night all the Councilmen in attendance at the meeting agreed that the trench suggested by the engineer and contractor was indispensable. Accordingly it was decided that the contractor be authorized to dig a trench 12 feet deep, and ten feet wide at the top and extending the full length of the reservoir, the trench to be located 25 feet north of the embankment, so that the latter may not be disturbed by any blasting that may be required. The water committee is not to expend more than $700 on the work without consulting Council.

It is believed that a trench twelve feet deep will cut off the streams, but if it does not and the condition of affairs warrant it Council will decide to make the trench deeper. This does not do away with Mr. Gable's plan, which will also be carried out, as the perforated pipe and the brick are at hand.

Mr. McAdam is quoted as saying that if the present attempts to cut off the streams fail it may cost $10,000 to make the north embankment perfectly secure against the troublesome trains.

PENCIL POINTS.

Local News Gleanings Collected for Hasty Perusal.

Roller skating will not be one of the features of this winter's amusements.

The split in the Evangelical church will result in the erection of a new church in town.
Shenandoah is a good market for Michigan celery. A splendid article comes from that state.
"Stockholders" of the base ball club should pay their bills and cease playing the baby act.
The tea party given by Mrs. Charles E. Smith, on East Oak street, last evening, was a success.
The buildings at the electric railway bridge crossing are being painted and otherwise improved.
A good, healthy lecture and entertainment course would pay a party of active and enterprising men in town this winter.
That bridge across the Lehigh Valley railroad, on East Oak street, has resulted in making property in that section more valuable.
Soon the "wheels of fortune" will be plentiful in town. Will the authorities shut their eyes to the violation of gambling laws this winter?
Too much money is thrown away on fakirs every pay-day. The same articles bought from them can be had at any of the stores in town at less prices.
If you are a merchant and want to do a good business, advertise. Whatever statements you make, back them up. Don't try to fool purchasers; if you do, they will not buy from you the second time.

THE BOARD OF HEALTH.
Proceedings at a Meeting of the Body Last Night.
The members of the Board of Health who were in attendance at the regular meeting held last evening were Messrs. McHale, Miles, Broughall and Spaulding, the latter gentleman presiding.
The epidemic committee reported that one case of typhoid fever exists in the town. Thirteen deaths have been reported since the last meeting and forty-four for the month of September. Fifty-one burial permits were issued during the latter period.
A written complaint of a citizen submitted by the Health Officer against a property owned by J. J. Franey, at 30 West Coal street, was referred to the committee on nuisances.
The Health Officer reported that the filthy condition of the lockup had been brought to his attention and he had the place cleaned.
Owing to the continued absence of Mr. Malone the president appointed Mr. Hais to fill that gentleman's place on the nuisance committee.
Mr. Dougherty called the attention of the Board to the bad condition of the basement in the Borough building and the matter was referred to the sanitary committee.

Rev. Anna Shaw.
Rev. Anna H. Shaw gave to an appreciative audience in Normal Hall one of the finest lectures we have ever heard. In view of the fact that Col. Bain, Mrs. Livermore and other lecturers of first rank have appeared on our platform, no higher commendation is needed.—Edinboro, (Pa.) Independent. Rev. Anna Shaw will give a lecture in the Methodist church on Tuesday, Oct. 16th.

Company Inspection.
The members of Columbia H. & S. F. E. Co., No. 2, in full uniform, including helmets and belts, were inspected yesterday afternoon by Foreman Adam Stauffenberg and Assistant Alfred Evans. The inspectors expressed themselves well satisfied with the appearance of the members and congratulated them over a well-spread board.

Republicans at Ringtown.
A Republican rally was held at Ringtown last night and was attended by several of our townsmen. Among the speakers were John H. Landis, Esq., of Lancaster; County Chairman Burd Payne, T. H. B. Lyon, Esq., of Mahanoy City; Hon. John T. Shoener, of Orwigsburg, and F. C. Reese, of town.

Mr. Ash's Bereavement.
Superintendent E. W. Ash, of the Schuylkill Traction Company, has gone to Lehigh to attend the funeral of a favorite sister, who died at that place on Thursday.
