A COUNTY SEAT LETTER.

Something More on the Present Republican Situation.

INDIFFERENCE NOW EXISTS

Some People Who Are Not as Active in the Campaign as They Should be For the Party's Welfare.

Special HERALD correspondence.

POTTSVILLE, Oct. 15.—My letter in the HERALD of the 13th inst. seems to have stirred up a hornet's nest in some circles among the Republicans, and in others I find many Republicans who unqualifiedly endorse my sentiments and who consider what I suggested the proper thing to be done under existing circumstances. My object in writing as I did was to stiffen the backbones of some who I know are among the most loyal Republicans in the county, and none have viewed the indifference among them with more pain than I have.

The time which must elapse before the election is very short, but a great deal of good work can be done and victory snatched from the jaws of defeat. Let the men who are holding back be seen and given to understand that they should come out and show their colors; that it is essential to rescue the government from the hands of the present wreckers and their foreign allies. No American can afford to let this opportunity slip, as it means much for the next Presidency. The claim of the indifferent ones that they have as much right to bolt the ticket now as some men now running had years ago when they bolted and fought superior men on the ticket, is an argument which is not worthy of consideration. It is the welfare of the party and the people that should be looked to. The hatchet should be buried, and buried deep. Too much time has been wasted in slamming doors in the faces of those who have not been inclined to think as others. There should have been a fair and open understanding with the leaders of the different factions two months ago. If this had been done I would not have felt inclined to express the sentiments I did in my last letter.

Let me say one thing. If there is one faction of the Republican party in this county which thinks it can get along without the assistance of any others, let that hopeful faction sit down and think awhile. Think over the experiences of the past and find the lesson. Then let them think over the situation of to-day. Where are Whitehouse, Leach, Koch, Seltzer and other brilliant lights of the party? No one disputes their shrewdness as politicians or their ability to help win a campaign, but where are they to-day? Where have they been thus far in the campaign?

I say again that danger lurks in the air. The men who are sulking must be seen and urged to fall in line with the procession. More than this, they must be urged with diplomacy, not threatened or bulldozed. You can take any one of the men I have mentioned and find that his following is worth hundreds of votes. Keep your eyes open for votes in the Republican party. Every vote you get among the Democratic voters is a vote gained, but don't build on the promises of such votes. They are fickle.

The democratic greatest-show-on-earth, with Free Trade Slingerly, has opened on its second week of touring, but will not pitch its tents in Shenandoah until the week after next. On Tuesday, October 30th, the great adviser of tariff jugglers will give day receptions at this place, Tamaqua, Mahanoy City and Shamokin, and on the night of the same day meetings will be held in Reading, Pottsville and Shenandoah. The date has been fixed as close as possible to election day in pursuance of a desperate effort to carry the voters by storm. Mr. Slingerly will not attempt to speak for himself. He has already conceded Hastings' election by a big majority. His aggregation of talent is on the road only to save as many Congressmen as possible. The party travels on a special train.

Business is very dull here at present. The courts are closed and the visitors from Shenandoah and other points north of the mountain are very few. Shenandoah is a great help to this place; even the news paper men complain of times being slow when the courts close. The Shenandoah cases put lots of grit into their mill.

In a copy of the Sunday News I picked up this morning I noticed that the editor expresses some anxiety as to how the letter carriers will vote at the coming election, since they are all Republicans. I suppose he has special reference to the Shenandoah force, but he doesn't say so. I am not acquainted with the force of your town, but I venture I can tell how they will vote; but I wouldn't undertake to say what Editor Doyle will do, although I have known him for years.

Lecture To-night.
Too much praise cannot be given the Rev. Anna Shaw as a lecturer and minister. Her sermon at the Methodist church last Sunday morning was pronounced by many to be the finest ever delivered in this city. As a lecturer she is without a peer.—The Barbourville, (Ky.) News. Miss Shaw will lecture in the Methodist church to-night.

PERSONAL.

Fred. Drinker went to Pottsville this morning.

Mrs. O. B. Williams visited friends here yesterday.

Mrs. William Kriek returned from Sunbury on Saturday.

P. J. Ferguson returned from Geneva, N. Y., this morning.

Frank Snyder, of Mahanoy City, was a guest of town friends.

M. H. Kehler and Frank Schmidt went on a hunting expedition to-day.

Mrs. O. A. Keim spent to-day visiting friends at the county seat.

Capt. K. C. Wagner, of Girardville, paid a visit to town this morning.

William Reeves, of North White street, rejoices over the arrival of a young son.

Dr. John W. Erwin and wife returned last evening from St. Paul, Minn., where they attended the wedding of Dr. Erwin's brother.

Griffith D. Jones, of Slattington, looked up business interests here on Saturday.

Mr. Jones is largely interested in slate quarries at his home.

Arthur D. Shaw, of Mt. Carmel, who has been confined to the home of his sister, Mrs. E. L. Doherty, of North Emurick street, with an attack of typhoid fever, has recovered sufficiently to be able to come down stairs.

Harry Bernard, acting manager of "After the Ball," one of the funniest farce comedies on the road, and which will be produced at Ferguson's theatre to-night, paid the HERALD a visit to-day.

Mrs. Stanawicz's Assailant.

An account was given yesterday of Mrs. Martha Stanawicz rushing into Justice Toomey's office with blood streaming from wounds on her head and of Constable Giblin's inability to find the man who beat her. Last night Giblin took up the search again and arrested William Pakis, who was the man charged with having committed the assault, but upon being given a hearing Pakis proved his innocence.

William Malawitzki, a boarder in Pakis' house, was then arrested. He pleaded innocence, but subsequently said he struck the woman with a club when she struck him with a poker. The fight was in the dark and that accounted for the woman's uncertainty as to who her assailant was. It also transpired that Malawitzki had attempted to shoot the woman's husband and he was put under $5000 bail for trial at court. It appears that the fracas was the result of an old grudge.

Another Treat.

Miss Host McKelheny received a number of fine turtles to-day and invites the public to a free service of turtle soup at his cafe on Saturday evening, next.

Mr. Drinker Retires.

Mr. Fred. Drinker, who moved to this place several months ago from Bloomsburg, will to-morrow move back to the latter place. Mr. Drinker came here with the intention of embarking in the newspaper business, but after carefully taking in all points of the local business compass decided to confine himself to the job printing business and has since conducted an establishment of that kind on West Centre street, but the results have not been as satisfactory as he wished, and he feels he can do better at his old home.

Mr. Drinker has made an exemplary citizen during his stay here and takes with him the wishes of many people that he may prosper in Bloomsburg.

Birthday Surprise.

There was a very pleasant gathering last evening at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Moses, on West Centre street, in honor of the tenth anniversary of their daughter, Miss Minnie Games and other amusements made the evening pass very pleasantly and at 8:30 the guests partook of a splendid supper prepared by the hostess. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Max Supowitz and family, Mr. and Mrs. M. Rabinowitz, Mr. and Mrs. Martin, Louis Finberg and Ellis Supowitz.

Some Are Indifferent.

It is an open secret that some of the Borough Councilmen have tired of the public water works and have declared that they do not care whether the people vote for the proposed increase of debt to complete the works, or vote it down. The parties referred to have also stated that if the increase is carried the borough will be in a position to buy out the plant of the old company, and if it is voted down the new works can easily be sold to the company.

Child Buried.

The infant son of Martin and Julia Fahy, of East Centre street, was buried yesterday. The child was born Sunday morning and died in the evening.

THE CHURCH DIFFICULTY.

The Local Evangelicals Determinedly Denounce the Esherites.

WILL PROBABLY BUILD!

A Proposition to Try and Purchase the Building From the Esherites Carried After a Warm Debate.

The congregation of the Evangelical church held a business meeting last night and took decisive action on its separation from the Evangelical Association, which is controlled by the Bowmanites and Esherites. Hereafter the congregation will be known as the United Evangelical church of Shenandoah. Justice C. W. Dengler was chairman of the meeting and K. Stocker the secretary.

Mr. Dengler spoke feelingly on the situation. He said that he had been a member of the church for twenty years and looked upon it as his home. He was pained to think that at this late day he was obliged to leave the church and relinquish all claim to it.

John L. Hassler spoke and reviewed the recent proceedings at Reading. He was in favor of holding the keys of the church until the congregation received legal notice to quit possession.

M. L. Kemmerer and O. S. Kehler also reviewed the proceedings at Reading. They said that if the Esherites sent a pastor here the congregation would be obliged to accept him, or vacate the church, and it made no difference if there was not an Esherite in the town, the church must be surrendered.

Mr. Kehler said he did not propose to go to law over the matter. That nothing but delay would be gained and the money which would be required for a law suit could be turned into a fund to build a new church. He was in favor of quitting the premises upon legal notice.

J. H. Kester said he had been a member of the church for twelve years and he didn't feel disposed to vacate until he was obliged to go.

David Faust was called upon as one of the Trustees of the church, but he said he had nothing to say. Somebody then suggested that an offer be made to purchase the church from the Esherites, but Mrs. T. J. James arose and made a vigorous protest. She said the church had already been paid for twice by the congregation's savings from its hard earnings and she was opposed to buying it again, especially from the Esherites, who are not residents of the town and have no followers here.

Mr. Stocker said he felt like Mrs. James. He didn't like the idea of buying the church again and putting the money into the pockets of the Esherites.

Mr. Hassler moved that a committee of seven be appointed to seek a site for a new church and that the same committee be authorized to solicit subscriptions for a building fund and appoint ladies of the congregation to help them. The motion was carried.

The suggestion that an offer be made for the old church was again revived. A lengthy discussion followed and it waxed warm when one of the members insisted that if there were any Esherites in the congregation they should declare themselves. The member was warned against becoming personal and it was finally decided that the committee of seven have power to see if the old church can be purchased at a reasonable figure; if not, a new church will be built.

The committee of seven is composed of Messrs. John L. Hassler, M. L. Kemmerer, George W. Beddall, O. S. Kehler, C. W. Gessler, R. Stocker and J. H. Kester.

Justice Dengler announced that $500 was pledged in his office one day last week for a church fund.

A PASTOR ASSIGNED.

The Esherites Have Decided Upon Rev. Lichtenwalner's Successor.

The following communication, received at the HERALD office this afternoon, will explain itself:

"ALLENTOWN, Pa., Oct. 15, 1894.
"DEAR EDITOR:—Be so kind and publish in your esteemed paper that Rev. J. S. Newhart has been appointed pastor of the church of the Evangelical Association at your place by Bishop S. C. Hoey, fogel and B. F. Bohner, Presiding Elder of the Reading district. You will oblige me very much by so doing.
"Fraternally yours,
"B. F. BOHNER."

Removed to Pottsville.

Councilman John F. Finney to-day removed his family and household goods to Pottsville and intends to become a permanent resident of that place.

During Mr. Finney's residence here he proved an active and enterprising citizen and made many friends in all circles who regret his departure. Pottsville is to be congratulated on having him added to her citizens.

Special Council Meeting.

A special meeting of the Borough Council has been called for this evening, to discuss matters pertaining to the public water works.

AMUSEMENTS.

"AFTER THE BALL."

This is what the Sunbury Daily has to say of "After the Ball" which appears at Ferguson's theatre this evening: "It is almost invariably the case that when a good show comes to Sunbury it is not very well patronized and Friday night was no exception to this rule. An impression prevailed in this place that "After the Ball" was a burlesque and this perhaps kept a number of people away. "After the Ball" is a light comedy, full of wit and humor from start to finish with nothing objectionable in it. Emmet Corrigan, the leading actor, is one of the best seen in Sunbury for a long time and is certainly one of the best comedians on the stage. His support was superb and all who seen the play will surely go to see "After the Ball" if it ever comes to Sunbury again. It is brimful of humor and the audience did not get their faces straightened until the play was over."

"THE LIMITED MAIL."

Since "The Limited Mail" has made such a phenomenal success, no less than ten companies have been organized or have adopted locomotives, cars or similar effects, but the people appear to readily "get on to" the fact that Elmer E. Vance's play is the Simon pure—the "original Jacobs" so to speak, and while several of them are side tracked and ready for the scrap pile, Manager Vance is continually adding new features to the drama, and accumulating a larger bank account. At Ferguson's theatre on Wednesday evening, Oct. 24th.

Farwell Surprise.

Mrs. James Kerns, who left for Providence, R. I., to-day, was most agreeably surprised at her residence, on West Cherry street, last evening, by the appearance of a number of her friends and neighbors, among them many members of the Presbyterian church, of which she was a member from the time of first becoming a resident of this place, nineteen years ago. The visitors took possession of the house and for several hours mirth prevailed. A pleasant episode of the evening was the presentation to Mrs. Kerns of a handsome silver tea service from Holderman's jewelry establishment. Mrs. Kerns was deeply affected when the token of esteem was presented.

Rev. Shaw To-night.

Rev. Anna Shaw made a ringing speech on "God's Women." Her speech was received with the wildest enthusiasm; with cheers and the waving of handkerchiefs from the ladies, who were too moved to remain quietly in their seats. Miss Shaw not responding by leaving her chair, a clear voice in the audience started the doxology, and the cheers were drowned in song.—The Woman's Tribune, Washington, D. C. Rev. Anna Shaw will lecture in the Methodist church to-night.

The Republican Rally.

The Republican parade and mass meeting here will take place next Thursday evening, instead of on Wednesday, as previously announced. The meeting will be addressed by Hon. W. T. Davies, of Bradford county; Hon. John J. Coyle, of Mahanoy City; Hon. Elias Davis, of Broad Mountain; and Hon. John T. Shoener, Orwigshurg. All citizens, regardless of party affiliation, are invited to attend the meeting and hear the important questions of the hour discussed and explained.

Only a Shell.

The "French" dressmaker who skipped out of the town about a week ago was a sharper. A search for assets was begun yesterday in the shanty he used as a shop and it was found he had left nothing but a shell. What appeared to be a sewing machine to those who looked through the windows turned up as a mere frame and cover, the dressmaker having taken the mechanism with him.

Supper To-night.

The annual supper of the English Baptist church will be held in Robinson's opera house to-night. The suppers given by this congregation are always of a most enjoyable character and this one should not be missed.
