CORONER'S INQUEST.

The Donovan and Saroko Cases Investigated Last Night.

VERDICTS OF THE JURY!

The Crew of the Train That Killed Saroko is Exonerated From Blame For the Death.

Deputy Coroner Manley and a jury composed of P. J. Monaghan, John Scanlan, James Devitt, Harry Reilly, Patrick Connors and J. H. Manley last night held inquests on the bodies of James Donovan, who was killed in the Shenandoah City colliery on Friday, and Andrew Saroko, who met his death on the Lehigh Valley railroad yesterday morning.

In the Donovan case the testimony was brief and the particulars adduced were substantially as reported by the HERALD Friday evening, that the piece of coal which killed the man had been pried about two hours before it fell and could not be dislodged. It fell without warning while Donovan was under it loading a buggy.

After a short deliberation the jury rendered a verdict finding that the deceased "came to his death by a fall of coal in a breast at the Shenandoah City colliery, and was accidental."

The jury then proceeded to consider the Saroko case and examined Edward Ford, Benjamin Waters and Zachariah Guldner, the conductor, engineer and fireman of the train that struck the man.

The most material evidence was that of the engineer, who testified that when the train was about sixty yards distant Saroko stood on the westbound track and was talking to a man who stood on the embankment. The train was approaching on the eastbound track. The whistle was blown and other precautions were taken by the engineer, but when the train was about six feet away the deceased stepped forward to the eastbound track and immediately in front of the engine. Almost at the same moment the man was struck and hurled down an embankment.

The jury concluded that "death was caused by being struck on the Lehigh Valley railroad by engine No. 341 drawing a passenger train, and was accidental."

Resolutions of Condolence.

WHEREAS, It has pleased God, in his infinite and divine wisdom, to remove by the hand of death Comrade Lewis Hopkins, a worthy member of the Post;

Resolved, That in the death of Comrade Lewis Hopkins the Post has lost an honorable and faithful member; a name has been stricken from our roll and added to the roll of the faithful, but our loss has been his eternal gain.

Resolved, That as a fitting tribute to his memory, the charter of the Post be draped in mourning for the space of thirty days; that these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of the Post and that a copy be sent to the family of the deceased comrade and published in the EVENING HERALD.

"The Limited Mail."

Elmer E. Vance's famous railroad comedy drama, "The Limited Mail," will appear at Ferguson's theatre on Wednesday evening, Oct. 24th, and it is safe to predict a house packed to the doors, for the reputation of this phenomenal success has preceded it. The play abounds in comedy and dramatic passages; is crowded with startling and thrilling scenes, and is a series of surprises from first to last—the story dealing with life on the railroads in the far west, in which many realistic and familiar scenes are depicted with a faithfulness recognizable by everybody. Pathos and humor, with just enough of sensation to give spice and variety to the unraveling of the plot—and this play, by the way, has a plot, and a good one at that. The company this season is spoken of by the press as the best one yet brought together by the management, and includes that bright little lady, "Beatrice," whose charming acting, artistic dancing and melodious singing, always charm her audience.

Surprise Party.

Miss Florence Schurz, of North Jardin street, celebrated her sixteenth anniversary yesterday and last night was tendered a surprise party at her home by her school companions and other friends. The young people present were May and Carrie Beddall, Crisvie Burkhardt, Annie Kethan, Carrie Levine, Cleo Lewis, Annie Shaeffer, Grace and Edna Schurz, Emma Davies, Rennie Schurz and Lester Yost.

THE PUBLIC WATER WORKS

Contract For the Boiler and Engine House Again Awarded.

NEW BIDS WERE PUT IN!

The Reason Why the Men Who First Got the Contract Threw It Up—Climatic Trip To-morrow.

The Borough Council is holding meetings with a frequency that disgusts and tires many of the members and has caused Clerk Cardin to threaten to strike for more wages. The meetings are averaging two a week and if the water works are not soon completed there will be a general kick against the time which is required to attend to the affairs in connection with them.

The meeting last night was a special one to reconsider the awarding of the contract for the erection of the boiler and engine house at the Brandonville reservoir. Messrs. Lingham & Morris were awarded the contract on a bid of $2,340, but threw it up because they discovered a mistake had been made in the estimated cost of material.

Under instructions of Council new bids were asked for and they were opened last night. The Shenandoah Feed and Lumber Company bid $2,600 and got the contract. Jesse H. Davis bid $2,825 and Burns and Schoppe $3,900.

Contractor William McAdams presented a bond in the sum of $5,000 as a guarantee that the work Mr. McAdams is doing at the storage reservoir will be satisfactory and the bond was approved. The Safe Deposit Bank of Pottsville is the surety on the bond.

Mr. McAdams at the same time stated that the repairs to the breastwork of the Davis' Run reservoir had been completed and to-morrow the Councilmen will proceed to the place in carriages and inspect the work. Mr. McAdams' bill of $8,000 for work done on the reservoirs during the past month was paid.

Turtle Soup at McElheny's.

Mine Host McElheny will to night serve another of his excellent free lunches at his cafe. This time turtle soup will be served. The public is cordially invited to partake of the spread. There will be abundance for all.

Is There a Nigger in It?

There is considerable rather unpleasant comment concerning recent developments in connection with the public water works. There is an ominous smoldering which will begin to blaze before many days pass. One thing which is subjected to severe comment is the action of the Borough Council in hiring two men at $2 per day to paint the steel pipe connecting the storage reservoir at Fowler's Run with the pumping station at Brandonville. It is claimed that the work is of a most ordinary character and that $1.50 a day for each man would have been reasonable wages. Another thing which was commented upon to some extent on the streets to-day was the contract to erect the boiler and engine house. The excuse given by the parties who threw up the contract seems plausible. They say they depended for prices upon the statement of a man from whom they intended to purchase materials and were misled, therefore they could not do the work at the price they bid, but what gives spirit to the comments is that these people did not put in a second bid and left the field open to the lumber company, and the work will cost just $350 more. It is alleged with some force that all the people who put in bids for the work originally are connected directly or indirectly with the company that now has the contract, and that the calling for bids is more a matter of farcical form than anything else. It is not alleged that there is anything crooked in the business. The matter is discussed from a point of view that the borough is not getting some of the work on the water works as cheap as it ought to when it asks for bids, and that the splitting up of forces to contend with outside bidders who might come in is not exactly a plan which benefits the taxpayer.

THE DISCIPLINE.

Latitude of the Escher-Bowmanite Clergy Powers.

EDITOR HERALD:—In a recent interview with a reporter of your paper Rev. Newhart, of Pottsville, said the present adherents of Bishop Dubs could remain in or be reinstated to the Evangelical Association upon submitting to the discipline. Now will you favor many readers of your paper by publishing the following extracts which concisely set forth what this discipline is:

"The Board of Bishops, composed of all the bishops qualified to act as such, shall have power to determine, by a majority vote of the entire board, all disputed questions of our Church law, especially as to the interpretation of Discipline, and such interpretation shall thereafter be binding upon all preachers and members of our Church in the intervals of General Conference." Escher-Bowman Disc. p. 75.

"Under our Discipline every preacher in charge is bound to enforce its provisions within his own charge. The Discipline specifies discipline as cause for expulsion. Every pastor is bound to watch over his people as a shepherd over his flock. He is not a mere judicial officer, who can take no official note of offences, save when others bring the matter to his attention, but it is the plain disciplinary duty of the preacher in-charge, having reliable information of any person guilty of such conduct, to erase the name of such person from the roll of membership, unless he resumes, with due sincerity, his allegiance to the Church, its doctrines and its constituted authorities within a reasonable period. Such conduct does itself constitute a secession from the Church, and every one thus reported on the roll of membership shall be considered as having irregularly withdrawn from the Church, due notice whereof shall be given by public announcement at the usual place of public worship. Should any person thus marked apply to the preacher in charge for readmission, his restoration shall be left to the discretion of the preacher in charge."

—Indianapolis Conf. Jour. p. 127.

These sections give to Bishops and preachers absolute power over the members of the Church. Their discretion is the only authority to be consulted. J. J. Escher sought this power for more than a score of years. To this ambition of his and the political methods used by him the disruption in the Evangelical Association is due. This is the issue.
