VOTE FOR COYLE.

Any voter in the Thirtieth Senatorial district who is desirous of sending to the State Senate a man who has the determination and courage to go before that body and make a fight for measures benefitting the masses cannot afford to withhold his vote this fall from Hon. John J. Coyle, of Mahanoy City, the Republican candidate. Any attempt here to show the people that Mr. Coyle is the workingman's friend would be superfluous. His career in the last Legislature is known to every voter in this district who follows public events. The records of the Legislature show that at all times when his voice, energy or vote was required in behalf of the working people, and especially those of the district he represented, it was never withheld, on the contrary it is conceded by all who gave any attention to his career in the House, that he was constantly seeking some source by which he could do some good for his constituents. If the working people ever had a candidate in whom they could rely they have one in Mr. Coyle, and to withhold their votes from him on next election day will be in gratitude.

DEMOCRATS the income tax in New York, defending it in Massachusetts and dodging or stalling it in other states as its gospel of expediency requires, the poor old Democracy is somewhat like the accommodating school teacher who, in applying for a position in a new district declared her willingness to teach that the world was "round or flat," just as local feeling demanded. "Moral principles be blown," said Artemus Ward—"I'm in the show business."

So far "tariff reform" has not commended itself to the people. The improvement in business, which began as soon as it was certain that no worse tariff would be passed, has indeed continued. Business in August represented what practical manufacturers and traders expected from the tariff proposed by the Democrats of the House and the Senate. Business in September and October shows what the same men expect from the tariff which was bought through the Senate by the Whiskey and Sugar trusts, and at their dictation modified to please various interests represented by Senators Murphy of New York, Smith of New Jersey, Brice of Ohio and Gorman of Maryland. It hurts less than was expected, and so business is better than it was in August. But it hurts so much that business is worse by 25 per cent than it was in 1893. These are the results so far of Democratic "reform." Genuine "reform" stands in no need of dishonesty to urge it. The Democrats assert that the shrinkage in domestic production must not be charged to the new tariff, because that shrinkage occurred before that tariff was enacted, but that the decline in prices of some imported products must be credited to that tariff, because it occurred in anticipation of that change. The honest man admits that one result as much as the other was produced by the attempt of business to adjust itself to new conditions, threatened or enacted. What has come to pass this year shows how far trades and industries have been obliged to alter production and wages and prices by reason of the new condition.

DR. W. H. MORSE.

Says His Endorsement of Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy Was Based Upon Actual Experience.

Newark, (N. J.) Evening News. "Most certainly," was the emphatic reply of Dr. Morse when asked by a "News" reporter if the words of commendation of Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, that recently appeared in the press, was veritable. "I studied medicine," he said "with Dr. A. N. Allen, for many years the leading practitioner of Massachusetts. Visiting him several years after, he related to me the case of a patient of his who had been cured of stone by solvents. Naturally I inquired into the matter, and he told me. In the town of Dalton, Mass., his patient lived, and that he had literally 'suffered many things of many physicians,' and they the best of the state. There had been a diversity of opinion as to his ailment, but the doctor had diagnosed chronic inflammation of the kidneys and his prognosis had been 'incurable.' I had known of this case—a mere wreck of a man, suffering and pessimistic. But now, greatly to my surprise, the doctor told me that he was actually cured. He had taken Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, and not only had grown stronger and better, but had passed several pieces of stone. The Remedy had promoted the passage of the calculi and had acted as solvent. I saw this man a few days later looking well, feeling finely and speaking in the highest terms of the Remedy. I was led to examine it chemically, and to test it therapeutically. My deductions have been such as to corroborate the clinical experience of many other medical men, that Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy will do that which is claimed for it; and I consider it a great discovery." The great value of Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy lies in the fact that it dissolves the excess of uric acid in the blood. Many of the ailments people suffer from—for instance, rheumatism, neuralgia, nervousness, dyspepsia, kidney, liver and urinary troubles, and the sickness peculiar to woman, come from this cause. Favorite Remedy dissolves this acid, expels it from the system, thus curing the disease. In cases of scrofula, diabetes and Bright's disease, it cures where all other treatments have failed.

THE DYING MONARCH.

Russian Diplomats Admit That the Czar's End Is Near.

PRINCESS ALIX HURRYING AHEAD

Fears That the Czarowitz's Finances May Not Reach Livadia in Time for the Dying Ruler to Witness the Marriage of His Successor.

LONDON, Oct. 29.—The last red tape cord that is most always drawn around the truth by diplomacy was broken today when M. Deshay, the Russian ambassador to Great Britain, admitted to the representative of the Associated Press that telegrams that had been received at the embassy preclude any hope that the sufferer of Yalta would ever again rise from his bed. Baron Mohrenheim, Russian ambassador to France, yesterday furnished the Paris Figaro with the same unwelcome news. If this is not sufficient the flight of court officials, the forced and hurried journeys of members of the Russian imperial family across Europe, the alarm of the various courts, and the prayers offered up in churches are irrefutable testimony that the czar is dying.

Throughout the day and evening a rain of telegrams has fallen in this city. Compiled and sifted these show the following facts: M. Benckendorff, the Russian court chamberlain, has countermanded every order that has been issued in connection with the proposed visit of the czar to Corfu. Many officials have started for Livadia. Princess Alix, the czarowitz's betrothed, will arrive at Yalta, where the czar is sojourning, on Monday. She will be preceded by a few hours by Grand Duke Vladimir. The Grand Duke Alexis arrived in Paris yesterday morning and left last night on the Oriental express, which is due at Yalta on Tuesday.

Around the palace at Yalta there was yesterday placed a triple cordon of police and soldiers in order that no access could be had to the palace from without and that nothing from within could escape to the world unless it first passed through the crucible of censorship. So grave are the issues depending upon the czar's life that even the people of Russia are obliged to be satisfied with curt official bulletins so meager as to suggest in every carefully chosen word the theory of the end.

This is the ravine by the horses, to which the London stock market furnished a prompt echo. Russian securities declined from weakness, but it seems that the markets everywhere were checked later by heavy purchases which it is reported were made on account of the Russian treasury in order to prevent a panic. Thus the uneasy feeling among financiers found its foil.

Dispatches received from St. Petersburg report that the city wears its usual aspect, except that crowds of people are in every street grouped about the places where the bulletins are posted. Last night the theaters were open as usual, but the audiences were oppressed by a sense of calamity. In Russia this is entirely natural.

A bulletin issued at Livadia at 10 o'clock last night says that the czar passed Thursday night almost without sleep. His majesty rose yesterday morning as usual. His general weakness and the action of his heart are unchanged. The oedema of the feet which previously appeared has increased. His general condition is unchanged. This bulletin is signed by the five doctors in attendance upon his majesty.

The churches throughout Russia are holding special services for the recovery of his majesty. In the Cathedral of St. Isaac, in St. Petersburg, the highest officials to the Monks joined in solemn petitions to God to save the czar.

In the Russian church in Paris services were also held, and were attended by Grand Duke Michael Nicolaevitch, the staff of the Russian embassy, President Casimir Perrier, Prince Murat Drogny and a number of other notabilities. Further news from Livadia is anxiously awaited. All kinds of conflicting rumors are afloat. It is impossible to learn anything in official quarters beyond the bulletins. Several Russian journals have hurriedly sent special correspondents to Livadia. Grave fears are expressed that Princess Alix will arrive at Yalta too late to allow her marriage to the czarowitz taking place before the czar's death.

What certainly is a remarkable feature of the present crisis is the sympathy developed within the past twenty-four hours in London for the czar, the man and the sufferer. In the clubs, omnibuses, trains, everywhere where people come together, there is hardly any subject discussed but that of the czar's illness. The kindness of English sympathy has been deepened by the news that a nerve specialist has been called to the side of the czarina, sister of the Princess of Wales, who is herself threatened by the strain of nursing the dying emperor.

Cowardly Striking Miners.

ASHLAND, Ky., Oct. 29.—The danger point is considered safely passed in Carter county. No shots have been fired by strikers since yesterday noon, when the sheriff gave chase with a large posse and completely routed them, capturing several culprits. The men are not members of the mine workers' order, but blacklisted fellows, and adds to the claim of the mine workers' leaders that the fight is none of theirs. The most outrageous action of the trouble was when the home of Mrs. John Walters was attacked and some thirty shots fired through the windows. The reason assigned for this is that she told that her husband was returning at her request from the Hoeking valley of Ohio to resume work at Straight Creek.

Crushed to Death in a Landslide.

TRAPUTO, Mexico, Oct. 29.—F. G. Warren, a young civil engineer of Chicago, has arrived here more dead than alive from a journey across the Sierra Madre mountains. Along the coast of Colima he fell in with James West and George H. Crenshaw, both of Philadelphia, who proposed a trip across the mountains to the City of Mexico. Ten days ago they were caught in a landslide, and West and Crenshaw were killed.

A Verdict for $20,000 Damages.

SALEM, N. J., Oct. 29.—The case of the heirs of Dr. M. J. Paulding against the West Jersey Railroad company for damages caused by the death of Dr. Paulding, who was killed by a train at Woodstown last summer, was concluded by the jury bringing in a verdict for $20,000 damages.

Another Victim of the Militians.

WASHINGTON, C. H., O., Oct. 29.—Theodore Ammerman, wounded during the riot Wednesday night, is dead, making a total up to this hour of five killed.

A DANGEROUS CRANK.

He Shoots at a Bank Cashier for Refusing Him a Thousand Dollars.

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—A crank entered the Clinton Place bank in Astor Place and demanded $1,000 from Paying Teller Hind. The teller told the crank to wait. As Hind turned away the crank fired a revolver point blank at him, and a bullet flew by Hind's head, burying itself in the adjoining woodwork. The crank was seized and turned over to the police. The officials of the bank some days ago received notice through the mails from the crank that he would call to collect $1,000.

The first of these letters was received last Tuesday. In fact, the prisoner had delivered it in person. He walked in and left it at the window without saying a word. The letter was in part as follows:

"This certifies that I shall call upon you, the cashier of the Astor Place bank, tomorrow and will present a note for $1,000 and demand from you or who shall be at the window of the cashier, and shall force them under penalty of being shot dead instantly, without a moment's delay, to hand me the money. I do not want to kill no man without first giving him a warning, then if he does not heed the warning, then his life shall pay the consequences." He signed himself Charles Freeman.

The man did not call on Wednesday, but sent a postal saying he would call the next day. Meantime a detective was on duty at the bank. On Thursday came another postal, announcing a day's postponement. Yesterday he presented this draft: "Astor Place bank after date promise to pay to the order of God Almighty the sum of $1,000 when presented by Charles Freeman. Penalty if not forfeited—death."

On the back of the draft the following inscription was written: "Notice—The draft of $1,000 will be all that I will claim from one bank."

"Notice—I am authorized by God to draw upon all banks to whatever amount I see fit, and the penalty to refuse me means that I have a right to shoot the person dead that refuses, and by the power of God no man can stay my hand."

This draft, along with the letters, was taken with the prisoner to the Jefferson Market police court. When questioned by Judge Voorhis as to his conduct he answered:

"I acted under the instructions of my God."
"How did you receive your instructions?"
"My instructions were inspirations, and came from God through my heart."

"Do you think you are sane?" asked Judge Voorhis.

"I think my mind is superior to any in this room," he answered. He was taken to Bellevue for examination.

GENERAL BOOTH IN NEW YORK.

The Leader of the Salvation Army Enthusiastically Welcomed.

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—General William Booth, the founder and international commander-in-chief of the Salvation Army, arrived in this city last night from Canada. The precise date of his arrival had been made known only to a very small circle of intimate friends, and there was therefore no demonstration. Today, however, a jubilee congress was begun in his honor.

On Monday next a monster reception will be given in Union Square. There will be 100 staff officers, 1,000 other officers and 3,000 delegates present from all parts of the country. A great procession will be then formed and march to Music Hall, Fifty seventh street and Seventh avenue, where a formal welcome will be given to the general.

General Booth has just completed a triumphal tour of Canada and starts from New York for all the leading cities of the United States. He believes that the tour means a hundred thousand recruits to the Salvation Army during the coming six months. Commander Booth is accompanied on his tour by his sons, Commanders Herbert Booth, of Toronto; Ballington Booth, of New York, and his private secretary, Staff Captain Malan.

3 Tramps Lynch a Companion.

ELMIRA, N. Y., Oct. 29.—Ten tramps became engaged in a quarrel at South Waverly, Pa. Nine of them took the tenth, strung him up against a wall, and shot him through the head, killing him. The tramps, who are believed to be foreigners, escaped. One stranger was arrested. He refuses to give his name, but says he was an eye witness to the shooting and can identify the person who fired.

No Spirit in Great Britain's Cabinet.

LONDON, Oct. 29.—The Press Association is officially informed, in view of the erroneous and sensational stories circulated in regard to a disagreement of a serious nature between Lord Rosebery and the Earl of Kimberley, the secretary of state for foreign affairs, that there is absolutely no truth in these stories. This information came direct from the foreign office.

Received Royal Sanction.

LONDON, Oct. 29.—The Gazette prints an order in council by the queen, dated Oct. 15, consenting to the marriage of Prince Adolphus of Teck, eldest son of the Duke and Duchess of Teck and brother of the Duke of York, to Lady Margaret Grosvenor, the youngest daughter of the Duke of Westminster, probably the wealthiest nobleman in England.

Morton's Coachman Must Go Back.

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—Judge Leombs, in the United States circuit court, rendered a decision in the case of John James Howard, Levi P. Morton's coachman. The judge dismissed the writ of habeas corpus and ordered Howard to be taken back to Ellis Island. He will be sent back to Europe.

Obold's Sureties Must Pay.

READING, Pa., Oct. 29.—In the case of the sureties of ex City Treasurer John Obold, who refused to pay the amount of his delinquency, nearly $17,000, the jury returned a verdict against them for $10,000.
