ONLY sixty years ago Roman Catholics were subjected in England to all kinds of civic restrictions and political disabilities, Papists being debarred by reason of their faith from holding any important government, military or judicial office. Yet to day we find a fervent follower of the Church of Rome seated on the historic woolsnek as Lord Chanceler of the Realm and Keeper of the Queen's Conscience, while the High Court of Justice is now engaged injdevising measures for placing Catholic priests in the same privileged position as lawyers and counsel, with regard to communications which they have received under the seal of confession.

It is not surprising to learn that the women of Massachusetta turned out in full force recently to listen to an address leaders with a view to similgitening of from Senator Roar. It would rather be surprising had they not done so. American women have as much, if not more, at a district in this city and Breedlyn. Sen etn women have as much, if not more, at stake in the present political situation and had the currectle aid of Senator Faulkner, chalman of the Democratic than men. It is, the women who feel more acutely than the men what it is to have the head of the house, the wage earner, the head of the house, the wage enrner, units on single congressional candidates out of a job and bringing home to or 20 in each district. STAND BY YOUR FRIENDS.

The easiest and quickest method by which the working people can jeopardize their own interests is to neglect their friends. The oppressor of the working classes know this and, therefore, when there is a political campaign in which a champion of labor appears as a candidate, the first step is to frame some plausible line of attack which will make the can didate appear a hypocrite. This is the kind of an attack which has been made upon Hon. John J. Coyle, the Republican andidate for Senator in this district. An attempt is made to show that Mr. Covle favored the corporations by his course in connection with the Road bill. Mr. Coyle has explained his position in connection with that measure at length and it would seem that his statement is plain and clear enough for any intelligent mind. Mr. Coyle denies the Imputation and those who may have any doubt as to his state ment should refer to the gentleman's record while he was in the last session of the Legislature. By so doing they will find that he fought hard for a bill to protect the telegraphers and with the same vigor tried his best for the adoption of a resolution to have an investigation made of the mining operations in the Anthracite region with a view to bettering the condition of the miners and laborers and having laws to that effect passed. These facts should be remembered by the workingmen of this region on election day, and if they do so John J. Coyle will be the next Senator from this district.

Does This Mean You, Reader ? Are You Not boing More Than You Ought?

Oh, the millions of tired out, hardworking men and women! Our stores shops, factories and homes, all have them. They are weakening their systems, ruining their nerves, and laying a foundation for early decay and death That pervous, weak, and tired feeling at aight is a warning of what is coming.

If you feel this way, look out! You vill break down just as surely as you ion't do something to get strong. Read the terrible experience of D. D. Bulkley, Esq., one of the most popular men of Moretown, Vt. :

"Within the last year I have found myself in a fearfully debilitated and depressed condition from overwork. I was n such a terrible state I could not sleep nights, and was so weak and nervous that the least exertion would completely uu-

MR. D. D. BULKLEY.

"I consulted many physicians, but they did me no good. I also took all kinds of medicines, but without benefit.

"Finally I was induced to try Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, and I can truly say that in a short time it had done me great good, more than all the other medicines together. Its action on my system was wonderful. I can now sleep well, my nerves are strong and I feel well.

"I owe my cure entirely to that most wonderful medicine, Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. I recommend every sick and suffering person to use it. I know it will cure them."

As a great physician once said, "If these poor sufferers would only be induced to take Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy they would soon be well and strong." Some people are hard to be convinced, but even the most unbelleving now realize that this wonderful medicine cures.

THE PROGRAM OF EXERCISES.

Orntorical Tributes to "Little Mac" by Generals Franklin and Smith, Governor Pattison, Major Vente and Others-A Grand Military and Civic Procession

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 24.—After repeated and disappointing delays the imposing squestrian statue of General George B McClellan, "the hero of Antietam," invelled in Philadelphia today.

Major Veals, chairman of the executive committee of the association, called the assumbly to order promptly at 1:30 o'clock, and introduced General William Farrar and introduced teneral William Farral Smith, president of the association, who presided. This was followed by a prayer by Rev. Dr. Henry C. McClook, paster of Tabermade Presbyterian shurch After the prayer General Smith made an address which was followed by the unveil-ing. As the cloth which enveloped the monument was removed Battery A. N. G. P., fired a salute of seventsen guns, and the First Regiment band played selections. The vested choir of St. Mark's P.E. church then sang an original ode.

The orator of the occasion, General Will iam B. Franklin, of Hartford, Conn., was then introduced by the presiding officer and paid a heartfelt tribute to General McClellan. He was followed by Governor Robert E. Pattison, treasurer of the association, with an address, after which Major Vonle made the address of presen tation to the city on behalf of the associa-tion, and Mayor Stuart that of acceptance on behalf of the city.

A procession followed the unveiling, which was participated in by United States marines and sallors and regiments of the Pennsylvania and New Jersey National Pennsylvania and New Jersey National Guards. The guardsmen were followed by the various G. A. R. posts, and the vet-erans were followed by the Girard College and other cadet corps, while the rear col-umn was formed of the various veteran regimental associations, under command of Colonel Sellers. Colonel Richard S. Edwards was chief marshal of the proces-sion.

Ex-Vice President Levi P. Morton, the Republican candidate for governor of New York, attended the exercises, together with Governor R. J. Reynolds, of Delaware; Governor Werts, of New Jersey: Governor McCorkle, of West Virginia, and Governor Fishback, of Arkansas.
The parade formed at Broad street and Susquebanna avenue and marched down Broad street as far as Tasker street, with a review at the place of the exercises. A marching salute was given to the review-ing officer. south of the McClellan statue.

The bronze statue, which was cast in a dozon pieces, weighing altogether about four tons, is the design of Honry J. Ellicott, of Washington, and represents "Little Mac" as he appeared at Antietam checking the advance of Lee. Horse and rider are about one and a half times life size and are of United States statuary beaus. The heavy which is modeled after. bronze. The horse, which is modeled after the charger General McClellan rode at Antietam, is represented as pausing upon the crest of a hill with head and ears erect and mouth and nostrils dilated, as if scent ing the smoke of battle. On his back sits the stern, grim, thoughtful soldier, with his army cap over his eyes and his cool, calm pose in striking contrast with the nervous, excited pose of the noble animal

The pedestal, which is of granite, is said to be one of the most ornate and beautiful pedestals in the country. Its broad base is embellished with graceful wreaths of bronze. From the surface of the pavement to the top of the general's cap is about twenty feet, and the effect is artistic and imposing. The statue stands at the north-west corner of the city hall plaza.

The Belenguered Portuguese. LOUBERZO MARGUEZ, Oct. 24. — The chamber of commerce has sent a cable message to the Portuguese government saying that the state of affairs existing here is unbearable, that business is rained and that an epidemic is threatened. Port ugal is therefore mixed to accept the offer of the Transvaal government made on Oct 14, but not then accepted, to send a force of Boers to relieve the town from the hordes of Katlirs who have been besigning it for some time.
