SINGELY skulked.

Vote with the winning party next Tuesday. This is a Republican year, and don't you forget it.

The News must have several editors with differing political views. Where does the News stand, politically?

The Chronicle has stirred up a hornet's nest on the bread question, but the Journal has the popular side of it.

Let the Judges of Election watch the tax receipts sharp. There has been too much voting in the past on tax receipts upon which the ink has hardly dried.

Those who intend to vote on age should start right by voting for the Republican party, the party of progress and reform. Vote right at the start, and you will always be right.

It is gratifying that during this campaign there has been little or no personal mud-slinging. The Herald has been free in this respect, and we have seen little in other newspapers.

There is already considerable shaping for offices in the event of Republican success, but it would be better in accordance with good judgment to drop that kind of business until after the election. Catch the rabbit before you stew it.

The campaign is closing rapidly. Less than a week remains to complete the battle. Now is the time the people should do the most thinking, and they should keep it up until the polls close on November 6th.

Why didn't the Democratic candidate for Governor keep up with the announcements and appear before the miners of this district? His explanation of how he proposed to sell coal in Philadelphia for $3 a ton and yet pay miners living wages would have been quite interesting.

That old, staunch Republican morning paper, the Miners' Journal, of Pottsville, is forging to the front again. Its pages show a thriving advertising patronage and the demand for the paper shows a great increase in circulation. The new management is handling the paper well.

There are not many who are opposed to John J. Coyle. In fact, there are only a few, and their motive is as plain as day. These men have nothing under the sun against Mr. Coyle. They have no right to have, for he has been their friend always. Mr. Coyle is an example of the manner in which these men show their gratitude to their friends and supporters.

John J. Coyle worked as hard for these men as you have worked, or are working. He has spent his time and money for their benefit. He has been their faithful friend and adherent to this day. Never did they ask a favor of him that he did not hurry to grant, and this is their gratitude, to try to destroy not only their friend, but the party that dishonored itself when it honored them. What can you hope from the promises of men with so little sense of obligation, and so little of honor? They are willing to ruin not only the friend who has stood by them many times to his own injury, but to ruin the party to whom they owe all that they are—the party that makes it possible for them to butter both sides of their bread to-day. Do you think these men will keep their promises to you or use you any better than they do their friend John J. Coyle, or their party?

Arrested for Embezzlement.
PERKY, O. L., Oct. 31.—Hon. H. G. Stow, art. one of the most prominent attorneys in Oklahoma territory was arrested here on a warrant sworn out in Sabathia county, Kan., charging him with embezzling $6,007 in 1893. Stewart's friends immediately swore out a writ of habeas corpus, and it seems now as though the Kansas authorities will be unable to get him out of the territory.

Jacksonville Bricklayers on Strike.
JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Oct. 31.—All the union bricklayers in the city are on strike for $3 per day for nine hours' work. They have been working ten hours at private homes. Contractors on a number of prominent buildings are not disturbed, being sanguine that they can fill their places without difficulty.

His Stewardship Questioned.
PITTSBURG, Oct. 31.—A bill in equity was filed in the United States circuit court yesterday by Mrs. Annie Hinds, of Richmond, Va., against the Rev. Thomas Chapman, of Pittsburgh. The plaintiff states that she is the widow of William Hinds, who died in January, 1883, leaving a widow and six children. The personal estate of the deceased amounted to $119,877.60. It is charged that Chapman has received from this principal more than $30,000, and has made more than $6,000 on one transaction alone, yet he tenders to the plaintiff 300 shares of Westinghouse stock and two worthless mortgages. Chapman is charged with collecting large sums and making investments for Mrs. Hinds for which he has never rendered any account.

A Murderous French Society.
DENVER, Colo., Oct. 31.—The autopsy in the case of Marie Contassiot, the French woman who was found apparently strangled to death early Sunday morning, leaves her death still a mystery. It is said there is a secret society on Market street known as "The Macporeaux," composed of Frenchmen, who bring women from France, they agreeing to pay a percentage to the society. It is also said the members have banded themselves under the high sounding name of "Les Chevaliers d'Amour." The police believe this organization is responsible for the death of both Leon Tappier and Marie Contassiot.

Charges Against Brutal Policemen.
NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—Superintendent Byrnes has been directed by the police commissioners to make charges against all those policemen connected with the assault on the striking cloakmakers at Rutgers square on Oct. 15. The commissioners issued this order in face of Inspector Williams' report to the effect that he had investigated the affair and found that the police had committed no assaults. At the time the alleged assaults were committed the strikers were forming a parade for which they had secured a permit.

Moody Duel with Axes.
WAYCROSS, Ga., Oct. 31.—News of a bloody duel, fought in Purcell county, has been received here. William Griffin and Leroy Moore are two farmers and neighbors with large families. The son of one and the daughter of the other have recently been keeping company. The fathers were mutually incensed over the matter. They met on Monday and entered upon a duel with axes, both sinking their weapons to the helves in each other's head, falling to the ground and dying together.

Twenty Years for a Murderer.
MT. HOLLY, N. J., Oct. 31.—Sidney Plummer, the murderer of Harry Richardson, a half grown colored boy, near Marlton, in May last, pleaded guilty of murder in the second degree, and was sentenced to twenty years at hard labor in state prison.

NUGGETS OF NEWS.
President Cleveland has appointed James P. Willet postmaster at Washington.
E. P. Talley, a popular editor of Ripley, Tenn., is under arrest for inciting a riot.
The German emperor appointed Prince Hohenlohe-Schillingburg, governor of Alsace-Lorraine.
Five members of the Cook gang of train robbers are under arrest at Wagoner, I. T. The leaders are still at large.
Chaunoy M. Dapow left New York today on a stumping tour. He will speak from the car platform all along the line until Saturday.
Harvey R. Parkman, employed by Lucas & Co., Philadelphia, paint manufacturers, was arrested in Washington, charged with stealing $1,800 from his employers.

There is no medicine so often needed in every home and so admirably adapted to the purposes for which it is intended, as Chamberlain's Pain Balm. Hardly a week passes but some member of the family has need of it. A toothache or headache may be cured by it. A touch of rheumatism or neuralgia quieted. The severe pain of a burn or scald promptly relieved and the sore healed in much less time than when medicine has to be sent for. A sprain may be promptly treated before inflammation sets in, which requires a cure in about one-third of the time otherwise required. Cuts and bruises should receive immediate treatment before the parts become swollen, which can only be done when Pain Balm is kept at hand. A sore throat may be cured before it becomes serious. A troublesome cough may be removed by applying it twice a day for a week or two. A lame back may be cured and several days of valuable time saved or a pain in the side or chest relieved without paying a doctor's bill. Procure a 60 cent bottle at once and you will never regret it. BLUE AND DISHEARTENED

And Not Without Very Good Cause.

It All Resulted From Weak Kidneys and a Tropic Liver.

The Vast Importance of Those Organs If You Want to Feel Well.

If your stomach, kidneys and liver don't do their work well, you will surely suffer. Inaction, or disease of those organs, clogs the whole system and makes bad blood and weak nerves. The complexion soon becomes pale or sallow, and dark lines appear under the eyes.

Other symptoms are sure to follow, such as bad taste in the mouth, gas in the stomach, loss of appetite, biliousness, constipation, sleeplessness, headache, palpitation, nervousness and exhaustion.

Every one of these conditions leads to serious disease if not checked. Mr. A. C. Hartwell, of Goldsboro, Vt., states:

"About four years ago, I was taken with a severe pain in my back and side, which arose from trouble with my liver and kidneys. I was also extremely nervous, being unable to sleep and get the needed rest.

"I could not work but part of the time, and when I did I was in pain all the time. This state of affairs lasted all winter. I consulted physicians, who said I had kidney and liver trouble, but I derived no particular benefit from them, and was a good deal discouraged about myself.

MR. A. C. HARTWELL.

"I kept hearing about Dr. Green's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, what wonderful cures it had made, and my friends continually advised me to use it. I had tried many medicines with no good results, but finally concluded to try this one.

"I commenced using it, and felt the good results from it immediately. After using the second bottle I was entirely cured of all my troubles, and have had no return of them. I can truly recommend Dr. Green's Nervura blood and nerve remedy as the best medicine I have ever used. It does all that is said of it."

This remedy is the surest cure ever known. Dr. Green's Nervura blood and nerve remedy is the discovery of Dr. Green, of 25 West 14th street, New York city, the most successful specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases. He can be consulted free, personally or by letter.

RUSSIA'S DYING EMPEROR.

Scenes of Sorrow as the Official Bulletins Are Distributed.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 31.—A bulletin from Livadia says that during yesterday the spitting of blood by the czar continued. The patient was sometimes aided with fits of shivering. His temperature was 100 degrees Fahrenheit, and his pulse irregular. The pulsations were weak. Respiration is difficult. His majesty can take little nourishment, and is becoming very weak. The oedema has considerably increased.

The emperor is conscious and able to converse with the doctors and his relatives. The czarina never leaves the sick room. His majesty suffers heroically, and makes no complaint. He sits in an arm chair in the best position to relieve the intense pain in his side. On Monday he tried to attend to state papers and letters, but was obliged to stop by violent fits of coughing which lasted some hours. The coughing was accompanied by intense pain, and then blood appeared in the phlegm. When the doctors went to his room at the usual time last night his majesty declined to receive them until 9 o'clock.

The town wears a mournful aspect. Touching scenes are witnessed in the streets. The people uncover and cross themselves before the places where the official bulletins are posted, and many of them shed tears. Copies of the bulletins are distributed by news agents, and when these agents appear on the streets the bulletins are snatched from their hands by the anxious people.

BOLD DAYLIGHT ROBBERY.

Jewelry Clerk Locked in a Vault and the Store Looted.

CHICAGO, Oct. 31.—A daring robbery was committed in the heart of the business center of the city in broad daylight. The amount of plunder secured is not exactly known, but was given as $6,000 in watches and other jewelry. Soon after 2 o'clock G. W. Brethauer, the senior member of the firm of Brethauer & Co., wholesale jewelers at Washington street, left the office, leaving his son in charge.

Young Brethauer was bending over a show case full of watches in the rear of the room when two men entered the door. One of them carried a revolver in his hand and the other was armed with a piece of lead pipe about two feet long. The jeweler was commanded to throw up his hands, which he was not slow in doing. The two men then ordered him into the vault, the door of which stood open. Brethauer demurred, and one of the men caught him by the throat, threw him into the vault and pushed the door shut. The thieves then proceeded to ransack the show cases and sweep the watches into a sack. The door of the safe stood open and the handful emptied the cash box, obtaining a considerable sum of money.

All this occupied only a few moments, and the men soon made their escape. The senior Brethauer returned about 5:30 and soon heard a sound of pounding in the vault. It was hastily opened and the man taken out nearly exhausted. So far no trace of the thieves has been obtained.

SUFFOCATED BY SMOKE.

Fatal Fire in a Crowded New York Tenement House.

SEVEN HUMAN LIVES SACRIFICED.

The Fire Came While Seven Families Were Asleep, and Those Who Escaped Were Awakened by the Shouts of People on the Street.

New York, Oct. 31.—Seven people were smothered to death by smoke in a tenement house fire at No. 216 West Thirty-second street early in the morning. The fire came suddenly and cut off all escape by the stairways. In the excitement everybody looked only to his or her own safety, and rushed down the fire escape.

The following perished in the building: George Friedman, aged 4 years; Levy Friedman, 24; Annie Appleblatt, 22; Lena Mitchell, 34; Mrs. Margaret Killian, 70; Jacob Killian, her son, 40; George Levy, Mrs. Killian's grandson, 22.

Lena Friedman, mother of the dead children, jumped from the third story window. She was badly crushed and mangled, and will die.

The house is a five-story brick tenement, the ground floor being occupied by a grocery and the upper stories being arranged with front and rear apartments. There were seven families in the house. The only means of exit for the people is by means of a stairway, narrow and dark, which runs directly up through the centre of the building.

The fire was discovered at 3 o'clock by passers-by. When a policeman came up the door of the tenement was open, and on the inside the fire glowed like a torch. He could see that the stairway was being rapidly burned away. Still there was not a sign of life from the people sleeping in the house.

To enter the house meant death. The only hope for those within was in arousing them by shouts, in which the policeman was aided by those who had been attracted by the fire.

Suddenly to the noise of the flames as they burned away the stairway there was added an awful cry. One of the tenants in the upper part of the house had been aroused and stood at the window on the fifth floor. It was Mrs. Eberwein, the janitress, who lived on that floor. In a minute there was not a window in the front of the house that did not contain the wild and frightened faces of some man, woman or child, each of them appealing for aid.

In the absence of the firemen, who had not yet arrived, the spectators were powerless to assist those in the building further than to remind them of the fire escapes. By these first one woman and then others of the tenants to the number of twenty reached the ground, descending in the midst of flame and smoke, before the ladder trucks arrived.

The Friedman children and two boarders, Annie Appleblatt and Lena Mitchell, slept in an inner apartment on the third floor. The fire had not reached them, but the smoke had filled the room, and at least three of the occupants had suffocated without having awakened to their peril. George and Levy Friedman and Lena Mitchell were still in bed when found, and the peculiar expression of their faces showed they had no knowledge of the death that came to them so suddenly. Annie Appleblatt was lying dead on the floor. Her face was black. She had her dress and shoes on. Evidently she had been aroused and had stopped to don her clothing, and had died before she finished her task.

On the fourth floor were found the remaining victims of the fire. Mrs. Killian and her son were dead in bed, while the grandson was on the floor, half way to the rear window.

The fire was extinguished soon after the hose was turned on, and though the work of rescue was prosecuted with zeal from the instant the firemen arrived on the scene they were too late. The property damage will not exceed $2,000.

Tried to Kill the Family.

LA PERE, Mich., Oct. 31.—At 3 o'clock in the morning an unknown man entered the residence of Fred Skinner, at Columbiaville, and attempted to murder the occupants. The murderer used a blacksmith's hammer. Mrs. Skinner was mutilated almost beyond recognition, and will die. Mrs. Lucretia Standley, Mrs. Skinner's mother, was struck twice on the head, and is perhaps fatally injured. Mr. Skinner warded off the attack on himself with a pillow, and the assailant made his escape. The sheriff is in pursuit.

Death of Dr. Peterson.

ASBURY PARK, Oct. 31.—Dr. Robert E. Peterson, who had been here during the summer, died yesterday from apoplexy. He was 84 years old. Dr. Peterson was at one time connected with the late George W. Childs in the publishing business under the firm name of Peterson, Childs & Co. He studied medicine when about 30 years of age, and graduated with high honors, but did not practice. Nine years ago Dr. Peterson was stricken with paralysis, which left him an invalid. His only daughter is Mrs. George W. Childs.

Once a Millionaire, Died a Pauper.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 31.—A. J. Holmes, twenty years ago one of San Francisco's millionaires, died recently at the San Francisco almshouse and narrowly escaped burial in the potter's field. Holmes was the original locator and owner of the North Belle and Holmes mines, near Candelaria, Esmeralda county, Nevada, and for several years one of the leading social and financial lights of San Francisco. He spent money with a lavish hand and it soon went from him.

Carried Off the Safe and Blew It Up.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 31.—Two or three negroes robbed a disreputable resort on Pine street. They entered a room where two women were asleep, seized a 400 pound iron safe, which contained diamonds valued at $2,500 and $150 in currency, and carried it down stairs, through the house, and into the coal shed. Here they blew it open, secured the contents and escaped.

The Search for Knowledge.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—The annual report of Dr. W. T. Harris, commissioner of education, says that 23 per cent of the population attend school during some period of the year. The average period of attendance in the year, however, is only eighty-nine days for each pupil.

Financed by African Pilots.

GIBRALTAR, Oct. 31.—The Italian bark Soudais, Captain Hecita, from Philadelphia on Sept. 31 for Naples, has been boarded by pirates off Morro Negro, Africa, who plundered the vessel and escaped with 1,000 boxes of merchandise.

To Perfect Health and Strength After Four Years Suffering.

"C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass."

"Gentlemen—I think Hood's Sarsaparilla is the greatest discovery yet made, and it fulfills even more than you claim for it. My wife has been sick for the past four years. For three years she was so bad that she was unable to do any of her housework. We had good physicians, but she did not recover her health. She was suffering from Bright's disease and Lameness in the Back.

Her tongue was covered with blisters; had no appetite, and was very weak and low with general debility. I insisted on her taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, and she has been improving ever since. She has taken five bottles, and is so well
