In politics, nothing that looks like suc cess should be taken for granted. Hard work is the watchword. There must be hard work to the very end. Then the shouting will be all right;

ANYBODA who undertakes to violate the election laws this year, and gets caughtand the chances are that it will be ex tremely difficult to escape detection-will be dealt with securely. The laws are mores tringent now than ever-

THE miners of this region are directly interested in the Republican policy of Protection. Every ton of forty-cent bituminous coal that comes into the United States from Nova Scotia displaces so much authracite coal, every displaced ton of anthracite coal goes to the stock yards, and when the yards are full the operators leave the coal in the mines and that leaves the miners out in the cold.

Lair every working man in this district go to the polls next Tuesday and cast his ballot for the election of his friend, Hon. John J. Coyle, of Mahanoy City, the Republican candidate for Senator. Mr. Coyle fought repeatedly during the last session of the Legislature for the interests of the warking people in this section of the state and the least they can do is to endorse his cause for labor by voting for him at the polls next Tuesday.

Is the campaign of 1882 the Democratic centures on all sides declared that an era of nnexampled prosperity would set in if the Democratic party were put in power. They assured the farmers, the planters, the producers, of all classes, the wageearners and every one clas, that the country would revel in plenty, and the whole people would feast upon fat things, if Mr. Cleveland were elected and the Democrats gained control of Congress. These were delightful promises, and a majority of the voters who went to the polls decided to try the experiment. They sent Mr. Cleveland to the White House and they committed Congress to Demoeratic hands. In 1892, before the election. a greater number of people were employed in the United States at good wages than over before. All the mills, the mines, the furnaces and the workshops were busy, and the country was in a better condition from a business point of view than at any previous time in its history. During the two years since the handing over the Republican candidates and handing over the Republic to the Democrass, the United States has been steadily going down hill at a rapid pace. The people were fooled in 1892. They will result in a sure cure for lame back. For sale by Gruhler Bros. voters made the disastrons blunder of defuse to be tooled again. They now see that their only hope of better times lies in restoring the Republican party to power, and to begin with the Congress-

Physicians Could Do No More-Relie Found at Last-A Modern Miracle,

From the (Hackettstown, N. J.,) Republican, Reports from time to time reached the Republican of the remarkable cure of Mrs. Jacob Shields, the wife of our leadng coal merchant, who had been suffering from a complication of diseases that nearly resulted in her death. In order to verify these statements, one of our re-porters called upon Mrs. Shields and found that the reports in no way represented the great service that had been endered her by Dr. David Kennedy's

Favorite Remedy,

The particulars of the case, are these I was taken sick," said Mrs. Shields, "with typhoid fever, and was deligious for three weeks. When I recovered I inffered untold agony with my back and right limb. They felt as though they would burst. At the same time I suffered dreadfully with my kidneys. Blood would pass from me most of the time. My mother was with me, and a friend of her's called and told her of the sickness they had passed through at her home, and that Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy had been used by them, and she felt sure I would find great benefit from "A bottle was purchased, and I hadn't taken but a few doses before it began to relieve me, and in a few days some small sharp, white stones passed from me. That evening the doctor called, and I told him that I had stopped his medicine, for he had told Mr. Shields the last time he called that he did not know what more to do for me. Some time before this I was taken to the hospital, and then brought home, as was supposed, to die! Dr David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy was taken just in time. I do thank God from the bottom of my heart that he ever sont that lady here to tell me of Favorite Remedy, otherwise death would have been my doom. Since I have recovered, ever so many have told me that it was a miracle I ever got well, I sertainly cannot say enough in praise of Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy.

Many persous are using it upon my ecommendation, and it is doing them good. I will cheerfully answer any mestions," said Mrs. Shields, "in regard to my illness, feeling that others who may be suffering will be benefited by sing Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy." No tribute to the efficacy of Dr. David

Kennedy's Favorite Remedy could be greater than these words of Mrs. Shields', who voluntarily tells the story of her remarkable recovery, and that this mediine should be used by persons suffering rom diseases for which it is prepared.

Favorite Remedy ranks with the medial profession, as the most perfect of all blood and nerve medicines. It will cure all diseases of the skin, liver and kidneys, and the weaknesses peculiar to females, and affords great protection from attacks that originate in change of life. It cures scrofula, salt rheum, rheumatism, dys-pepsia, all kidney, bladder and urinary liseases, gravel diabetes and Bright's Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy

Official Report of the Passing Away of Russia's Ruter-Princess Alix to Beturn to Darmstadt, to Remain During the Period of Mourning.

St. Petersuciss, Nov. 2 .- The following is the text of the manifesto issued by Czn. icolas II and published in The Officia

Messenger:

"We hereby announce to all our faithful subjects that God, in his inscrutable providence, has seen fit to assign a limit to the precious life of our dearly loved imperial father. His grievous sufferings yielding neither to medical skill nor the beneficent climate of the Crimea, he died at Livadia on the 29th of October (Nov. 1, surrounded by his family and in the arms of the exarting and ourselves. Our grief is not to be ma and ourselves. Our grief is not to be expressed by words, but that grief every Russian heart will understand, and we believe there is no soot throughout the vast Russian empire in which hot tears will not flow for the emperor thus prematurely called away.

"In this sad and solemn hour in which we ascend our ancestrial throne of the Russian empire and exardem of Peland and the grand duchy of Finland, indisso lubly linked with it, we, however, remem ber the legacy left to us by our lamented father and imbaed with it, we, in the pres-ence of the most high, take a most sacred yow to make our sole aim the peaceful de-velopment of the power and the giory of our beloved Russia and the happiness of

"While we offer before the throne of the Almighty Ruler our heartfelt praise for the unstained soul of the departed, we ommand our subjects to take the oath of allegiance to ourselves and our successor, the Grand Duke Alexandiayitch, who will bear the title of crown prince and czaro witz until it shall piesse God to blest our pproaching union with the Princess Alix Hesse-Darmstadt with the birth of a

LONDON, Nov. 3.—The Daily News pub lishes a dispatch from its correspondent at Berlin saying that Czar Nicolas himself telegraphed the news of the death of his father to Emperor William and the Dan ish royal family. The correspondent addi-that the German socialist papers give open vent to their hatred of the late czar. The Volks Zeitung says it is needless to shed a tear for the deceased representative of a dying despotism. The anti-Jewish Stantsburger Zeitung insinuates that the exac may not have died a natural death and that Jows possibly had a hand in the matter. The papers generally are friendly to Czar Nicolas. ontrary to the expressed wish of his physicians, the czar slept the last few nights of his life alone in his room, "I will not be disturbed," he answered to their personsions. In the adjoining apartmen the exarina slept, and next to this the phy sicians and nurses watched. "How well I have slept," he repeatedly said in the morning to the czarina.

Up to the time his illness took its last fatal turn the czar dressed himself with out assistance. This greatly fatigued him but he listened to no warning words, say ing that he used to do it, and therefore must do so. After dressing at 9 o'clock he was lifted into his invalid's chair, in which he remained regularly until 11 o'clock at

The correspondent of The Daily News at Livadia telegraphs: "I have received from the imperial court the following report of the egar's last hours:

Czar Alexander's death was a pious and devout Christian one. He died as only a true man can die, and as in life, was inspired by faith, love and devotion. Somethys ago the czar already felt the approach of death, and prepared himself to die a a faithful Christian, but without eglecting the affairs of the government. During his last night he was sleepless.

Thursday morning he said to the empress;
"I feel that my life is drawing to an end.
He composed, my mind is made up." Then he ordered his family to assemble round him and asked his confessor to adadnister the secrament. He took it with plous de-votion, repeating the prayer distinctly in a loud, clear voice. He was string in an arm chair, and did not for a moment lose arm chair, and did not for a moment lose consciousness. After the liturgy the exar-sent for Father Ivan and prayed with him for half an hour. Later he asked Father Ivan to come again and repeated with him the prayers for the dying, and received ex-treme unction. Father Ivan remained present until his majesty died. The correspondent of The Daily News at St. Petersburg telegraphs that though the Russians have not the same way of show-ing mourning as the western nations, it is evident that the death of the can has made a greater and deeper impression than might have been expected. The streets are crowded with a multitude of people, most of whom are clad in black, who in whispering tones discuss events. The theaters and schools are closed. The church's are crowded with people who wish to next for the soul of the dead exar. From other towns reports are received bearing testimony to the spirit of deep mourning that prevails.

It is understood that the body of the exar will be consecrated at Moscow and then conveyed to St. Petersburg, where it will lie in state four days.

The Russian court will mourn for six mouths. Princess Allx, the betrethed of the Czar Nicolas, will for the present re-turn to Darmstadt with her brother, the Grand Duke of Hosse, as the marriage cannot take place during the period of mourning.

According to advices from Livadia the czarina's health, though unfaverable, causes no apprelansion. Everything is prepared here and in Moscow to suppress possible disturbances.
