Recommend Inspection. WASHINGTON, Nov. R.—Secretary: Mor-ton, of the department of agriculture, is giving carnesi attention to the question of the inspection of foods & ported and im-ported into the United States, and as a result may suggest some very radical steps in his next report. While the matter is one to which he has already devoted no little consideration, the recent action of Germany in prohibiting the reception of American cattle and dressed body into her ports has brought the system, or lack of system, to the from as a vital question. Secretary Morton thinks the principle of requiring inspection of foods and drinks is the United States and Germany, France and other countries are in some respects disadvantageous to American interests. The principal importations from those countries to America, wine, brandles and beer, come in without any assurance to the buyers that they are obtaining pure ar-ticles, free from adulteration, beyond the representation of the firms from which there are purchased.

they are purchased. In suchking of the matter Secretary Morton said: 'I may decided to recommend in my next report that an inspection of these im-ports be provided for. There should be a microscopical inspection at the ports of microscopical inspection at the ports of all forms of microscopic distances of microscopic distances of the presence of the

In this connection the secretary called attention to a report made to the depart-ment of state some years ago by Consul George Roosevelt, at Bordeaux, upon the adulteration of Bordeaux wines, in which, after citing several methods of adultera-tion and coloring which had come under his observation, the consul gave it as his new sugar schedule which displeases them, but the government officials, in talking of the matter, accept the assurances of the German ambassulor that the prohibition is based solely on sanitary grounds. They could find no cause for complaint if the United States should decide to enforce a stelot inspection of their wises for sani-tary reasons, and such a policy might prove an effective method of rotaliation, one which would lead formany to em-clude that American meat was wholesome.

Imprisoned in a Hollow Log.

Pryrsauma, Nov. 3.- The wife of John Jack, a miner at Millbrook, Moreer county, disappoared last Monday. A searching party was organized, and last evening the woman was found in a hollow log so tightly embedded that the log had to be split before she could be removed. She was split before sike could be removed. She was unconscious. Her clothing was almost en-tirely torn from her body, and her face and neck were cut and bruised. The chances for recovery are doubtful. She

NEW YORK, Nov. B .- The long looked for witness from whom the general pub-lic expected the most scientifical disclo-tives in connection with the recent pulles tive in connortion with the recent police exposures was the star attraction of yes-terday's session of the Lexow continuities. Mrs. Mathilda Herroman is rather a large woman, with not an unkindly expression, rather masculine features, black hair and smappy black eyes. She was a very will-ing witness with two exceptions (in the rases of Policeman Councy and an un-known control), and securid deforming known captain), and scenied determined to tell all she knew.

By her evidence three new police cap talms-Hangbey, Brogan and Ryan-wer added to the list of alleged blackmallers and also several wardinen. Lawyer Price was also named as a go between, but the most interesting statement made by the witness was the rain of her niece, whom she had been trying to save from a disrep-utable life. The girl was led astray by her own mother, who was the proprietress of a disorderly house. Mrs. Herreman said she made several attempts to save the girl through the polles, and even implicated a polley justice (Judge Hogan) who helped to shield a pollee captain by refusing to not in the matter. The woman told she had been blod by Wardman Reynolds, acting under Capitain Haughey, she paying 125 a month at first, and afterward $100 a month. The wit-ness said she had paid almost every police-man on the post. She called her payingata presents. When Mr. Goff said to her:

presents. When Mr, foolf said to herry "Now, there is a cartain polloe capitaln you wish to protect?" she answered frankly, "Yes, siz." Mr, Goff tribed to have the wirness mention the name of the capitaln who she was endeavoring to shield. "'I won't do it if you kill me," said the wit-ness

Mrs. Horretunn declared she had paid the Mrs. Horreuna declared she had pain the police, police court hawyers and prison keepers $25,000, and that today she had not $100. She also deshared under each that the police rule it a purse of $1,700 to send for away in order to prevent line appear-mental the investigation. The day's ession as a whole was not really of sensitional features, but was not, in way of correlation evidence

The committee already brought to light trest Commissioner Andrews was on and at an early hour and domanded to hand at an early four and domining to be sworn. In to moke a dralad to the charges make by Mrs. Tominson on Thursday that he had received $500 to secure a license for a disreputable hotel. He was not sworn, but his denial was read.

Justice Hogan Indignant.

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—Police Justice Ho-gan threatens that when the grand jury convenes he will go before it and demand the indictment of Mrs. Mathilda Herremmn for willful perjury. The woman's alloged offense was in testimony which do gave before the Lexow committee that Justice Hogan had improperly interfered in the matter of a warrant which had been procursed at her instance for the arrest of her sister, a step taken, as alleged, to save the daughter of the latter from entering upon a life of shame. Justice Hogan says the woman's story is utterly false so far as he is concerned.
