THE PEOPLE ARE FOR PROTECTION

OLD SCHUYLKILL FALLS INTO LINE, AND SENDS CHARLES N. BRUMM TO CONGRESS AGAIN.

SHENANDOAH IN THE REPUBLICAN COLUMN.

The Largest Town in the County Gives Every Candidate on the Republican Ticket a Majority—Coyle Goes to the State Senate and Joe Wyatt Will Take His Seat in the Legislature—Scott the Next Sheriff and Neri Dietrich Poor Director.

GEN. DANIEL H. HASTINGS.

The country is redeemed. Schuylkill county has placed herself in the ranks of Protectionists. Her people have declared in unmistakable terms that protection to American industries is not a fraud, a robbery or unconstitutional.

The people of this region will see to it, through their next Congressman, Hon. Charles N. Brumm, that Nova Scotia coal will not strangle the American miner.

Long before the returns were received from the majority of the wards of town last night the Democrats, who had hired a hall and made arrangements to receive returns by telegraph, put up the shutters, extinguished the lights in the hall, wrapped themselves in their free trade overcoats, and disconsolately wended their respective ways homeward. And they never said a word!

To-day they are in the deepest kind of despair and feel the shattering of their hopes as keenly as any they have felt for years. They are dumfounded by the result and the tumbling over of Reilly, King and Higgins appears to them as but a dream. These three candidates were looked upon as cock-sure winners, and how it happened that not one of them succeeded in reaching the goal seems inexplicable by any method of calculation or reasoning, by the defeated party. Yet there is no mystery about it. The Democratic party defied the intelligence of the voters of the Anthracite region by selecting as its standard bearer a man who struck a deadly blow at the mainstay of the region by voting for free coal at the last session of Congress, and the voters turned when stepped upon, and voted the standard bearer and his cohorts from the field with one stroke of reprehension that will be felt by the Democratic party, of this county at least, as long as it has a breath of life.

While the Republicans figured upon victory in Shenandoah they were not wholly prepared for the many surprises the elections show. The Democratic confidence in the plans they had made to roll up tremendous majorities in the First and Fifth wards made the Republicans cautious on predictions.

Considering the stupendous efforts the Democrats resorted to in behalf of Reilly for Congress the victory of Brumm is a glorious and marvellous one. Every man of any local influence holding a government position at Washington was called into the town and ordered to proceed with whip and spur to make the fight of their lives to defeat Schuylkill's champion of protection, and the emsaries responded with commendable promptness, energy and pluck, but they could not steal the brains of the voter.

There are no local returns more gratifying to the Republicans than those from the Third ward. In this ward many of the most influential and prominent Democrats of the district and firmest supporters of Hon. James B. Reilly reside, and it was expected they could push Hon. Chas. N. Brumm hard, but directly to the contrary they only succeeded in putting renewed vigor into the thinking voters of that ward, and Mr. Brumm ran away ahead of the state ticket.

The result of the Coyle fight in this ward was also a surprise. Some Republicans fought him openly as hard as they ever fought a candidate, but the able representative from Mahanoy City found strength in working people who appreciated his work in their behalf in the last Legislature, and held on to a majority which came in good use when the borough totals were computed. There were many predictions yesterday that Coyle would not get a majority in this ward.

A third surprise in connection with the returns of the Third ward was the result of the Scott-Higgins fight. Mr. Higgins' home is not 300 feet from the polls and his direct and indirect family relations within the ward are legion. The Republicans conceded that he would get a big complimentary vote, but the returns showed that he made practically no gain. There was excellent work on the part of the Republicans of this ward on the fight for Sheriff and no man feels more elated over the result than Constable Thomas Tosh.

And just see how that old Democratic Gibraltar, the Fifth ward, went? Hastings, Brumm, Wyatt, Dietrich and Richards given majorities, and the majorities given King and Higgins were comparatively insignificant. The campaign of education was not wasted on the Fifth ward.

The returns on the vote to increase the borough debt for public water works show that in the First and Fifth wards the vote was unanimously in favor of the increase. The returns made by the Fourth ward on the measure needs some explanation. When the time arrived to count the vote the board decided to consider only the votes cast by the official ballot. The separate ballots cast were placed in an envelope and sealed for the purpose of having them presented to the County Commissioners and District Attorney this morning with a request as to whether they should be counted and, if so, how? The point raised seems to be that the board was only appointed to count the official ballots.

You are Welcome, Heartily Welcome, Gramachree, Welcome, Everyone.

Let by-gones be by-gones. Election is over. Forget the many little differences occasioned by the election. All join hands and be merry at McElhenny's cafe this evening. He will have prepared an elegant sour kraut lunch for you and invites you to visit him and eat it. He will be pleased to see every body there to-night.

Both Legs Broken.

Nicholas Franz, of West Huckleberry alley, met with a distressing accident while at work in the Kohlnoor colliery last night. While he was working in a gangway a quantity of coal fell upon him, breaking his left leg, just above the ankle, and his right thigh. He was sent to the Miners' hospital this morning.
