TOWNSHIP SCHOOL WAR

Teachers Dispute the Authority of One of Their Number.

THE SALARIES STOPPED!

It is Charged That a Scheme is on Foot to Build Extra Pay for a School Board Favorite.

War has been declared between the School Board of West Mahanoy township, the principal of the schools and several of the teachers, and has led to a law suit by the latter to recover salaries due. The trouble arises over the disputed authority of one of the teachers to act as superintendent of the schools in that district.

It seems that the teachers are provided with blank forms upon which they are expected to make their monthly reports. According to an arrangement with the board, Prof. Gallagher, the principal of the Lost Creek schools, was authorized to visit all the schools in the township and receive these reports.

Several of the teachers in the Brownsville school claim the blanks are addressed to the School Board of the township and following the address, they sent the reports direct to that body, not recognizing Prof. Gallagher as supervising principal, or superintendent. Prof. Gallagher felt slighted and complained to the board, whereupon that body decided to withhold the pay of all teachers who failed to hand over their reports to the principal.

Among the teachers affected by this action was J. Claude Brown. Last night he came to Shenandoah and instituted suit before Justice Dangler to recover the salary which is withheld from him. The case will be heard at ten o'clock to-morrow morning and it is expected the hearing will be a very interesting one.

The teachers who have taken the stand against the principal practically claim that Prof. Gallagher is enjoying what some people call a plumber's cinch, and that the monthly trips to gather up the reports is simply a color duty indulged in to show that the principal earns $150 extra annually. It is also claimed that the School Board has no power to create a superintendency; that County Superintendent Welas has direct supervision of all township schools in the county, and any authority given by the School Board to Prof. Gallagher to assume the superintendency is illegal. Prof. Gallagher, the teachers say, may supervise the school at Lost Creek, but cannot interfere with any other school in the district.

Kidnapped Kulp.

"Farmer" Kulp, the recently elected Republican Congressman from Northumberland county, is missing. Mr. Kulp and Wellington Bertelett, superintendent for the P. & R. R., with headquarters at Reading, are warm old-time friends. Mr. Bertelett was so well pleased over Kulp's election that on Wednesday he hired the Germania Band of Reading and took it to Shamokin by special car. The "Farmer" was serenaded uproariously all day and when the band started for the train he accompanied it. He has not been seen since. His Shamokin friends are not worried. They say he is probably recuperating in Reading from the exhaustion attending the labors of the campaign. Mr. Kulp will be the youngest man in the next Congress.

PERSONAL.

John R. Lelsnering, of Hazleton, spent this morning in town.

Mrs. Oscar Betteridge, of West Centre street, has given birth to a son.

J. J. Kelley, of South Main street, is confined to his bed by an illness that resembles his gripple.

T. J. Broughall and William Swindt spent this morning rabbit hunting in the vicinity of Fowler's Run.

Willie, young son of William J. Evans, of South Jardin street, is suffering from a severe attack of pneumonia.

B. C. Church has been persuaded to become a candidate for School Director on the Republican ticket for next spring's election in the Second ward. Mr. Church is a most estimable man and would make a valuable and conscientious member of the School Board.

A Gigantic Oyster.

Mende Peters struck a prize while opening oysters at McElhenny's cafe this morning. It was a gigantic oyster. The circumference of the shell measured 15 1/2 inches and the meat measured on the half shell 8 1/2 inches long and 8 1/2 inches wide. The oyster was a perfect beauty, fat and of fine proportion. Mr. McElhenny has it on exhibition.

Notice to Dealers.

I offer for sale, cheap, the general fixtures of a grocery store, including refrigerator, safe, broom-holder, desk, scales, lamps, stove, etc. 11-9-24 P. COFFEY.

Retires from Business.

William T. Schoppe, the East Centre street grocer, is retiring from business, having sold his store to-day to Philip Coffee. It is understood Mr. Schoppe is going on the road for a wholesale house.

A PATHETIC CASE.

Husband Mangled in the Mines, Wife on the Ocean.

Anthony Buchinski, a Pole, residing on Chestnut street, was carried to the Lehigh Valley depot on a feather bed this morning and placed on a train for Ashland, and from that place was hauled in an ambulance to the Miners' hospital at Pottsville.

While Buchinski lay on a couch in the hospital his wife and two children are on a steamship bound from Europe to this country. It is their intention to join the husband and father here by next Saturday. They are ignorant of the accident which has befallen their beloved one. When he was at work in a breast of the Maple Hill colliery yesterday a large piece of coal fell without warning and crushed him under its great weight. Other men working in the place hastened to the rescue with picks, bars and shovels and succeeded in rescuing the man alive, but terribly mangled. Three of his ribs on the left side were crushed and the back, legs and arms were terribly lacerated. It is thought the injuries may prove fatal. The victim is thirty years of age. The situation of the wife and children will be a sad one when they get here.

Mrs. Bridgeman, R. C. M., teaches violin (specialty) cello and piano. Corners of Jardin and Lloyd streets. 9-3-17

MANGLED BODY FOUND.

Picked Up on the Lehigh Valley Railroad Near Delano.

The crew of the Lehigh Valley passenger train that left here east-bound at 7:38 o'clock this morning made a chasty discovery on the railroad between Delano and Lofty. About three hundred yards ahead of his train Engineer Ben Waters saw the body of a man lying in a heap on the track. He applied the breaks and stopped the train a few yards from the body. Baggage-master Henry Correll ran ahead and turned the body over. It was frozen stiff and had to be rolled to bring the face to view. The head was terribly crushed and the body had evidently been on the track several hours. It was picked up and placed on the train. At Hazleton the body was placed in the freight station to await identification. Nothing was found by which the body could be identified. The body was evidently that of a Pole, or a Hungarian, and was dressed in a miner's suit. In one of the pockets the crew of the train found two dollars. It is supposed the man tried to jump on a coal train some time last night and was killed without being observed by any of the crew.

McElhenny's Friday Evening Invitation.

Mr. McElhenny is certainly striving hard to please the public, and is deserving of the many flattering compliments paid him. To-night he will serve a free lunch consisting of oysters on toast and invites everybody around and partake of it. To-morrow night hot sausage and sour-kraut.

NO TRACE OF GOFF.

The Embezzlement May Amount to More Than Reported.

Notwithstanding the Singer Manufacturing Company has taken prompt steps to run him down, no trace of John W. Goff, the company's escaped defaulting Tamaqua agent, has been secured. But the failure to make a re-capture does not seem to worry the representatives of the company to any great extent. They say that all hopes of getting back the money Goff embezzled are gone, as he has nothing with which to make restitution, and that in the event of another arrest the balance of the proceedings will be a mere matter of form attending a prosecution and conviction before the court at Pottsville. The company is confident that Goff will turn up some day and it will not go to any great expense to run him down. The amount Goff embezzled was reported as being $24, but it is believed a checking of lists will greatly increase that figure. The amount given is confessed.

C. D. Fricke has received a new lot of rugs. All kinds. Cheap for cash. 11-9-24

A COUNTY SEAT LETTER

Our Special Correspondent on the Recent Election.

ADVICE TO THE VICTORS!

By Good Government the Republicans Can Win the Confidence of the People and Hold the County.

Special Herald Correspondence.

POTTSVILLE, Nov. 9.—The election campaign that closed last Tuesday was one, on the whole, to which the candidates of both sides may point with pride. It was the cleanest within my recollection. The almost total absence of indulgence in personalities made it creditable and both the successful and defeated candidates are deserving of commendation for the good judgment they displayed.

I am told that less money was spent this year than during any campaign for years past, and it has been intimated that but few of the candidates paid their assessments in full. I doubt that this is correct, but I haven't the slightest doubt that some of the candidates hesitated about putting up the "ready John." During my political career I have always found some candidates who did not feel disposed to pay his assessment in the absence of a guarantee of an election; but in almost every case these candidates have been brought face to face with the cashier's desk after being convinced that no guarantee of an election went with a nomination, outside of the bulldozed Southern states election districts; and in a few years I believe that guarantees will be up at a premium even down there.

There was considerable betting talk this year, but the actual betting was not as brisk as the campaign warranted. That was not a discreditable feature of the campaign, however, but rather very creditable. Gambling is not creditable in any sphere.

As I predicted in one of my recent letters Pottsville gave the Republican ticket one of her old-time majorities. I was not led into making the prediction by any wild-cat notion, but by seeing the host of old-timers falling into line. Some men who had not voted for years went to the polls last Tuesday. And now that we get there let us stay. It strikes me that the hatchet is pretty deeply buried and that by judicious management the Republican party will be able to keep the Democratic tiger pretty well at bay in the future.

The last campaign has shown pretty conclusively that with the Republican party united Schuylkill county can be kept within the ranks of that party. It is only when the Republicans are divided that the county gives Democratic majorities, and it is for that reason that the Democrats are constantly trying to create strife among their opponents. Schuylkill is Republican on defined issues. It is true that the Democrats have carried it repeatedly during recent years, as well as way back in the sixties and seventies, but the successes during the last named periods were only brought about by gross frauds, especially in the townships. By these frauds the Democrats gradually secured control of all the county offices and patronage and these they used as bulwarks for their political fields. The Republicans now have control of the county offices and patronage and if they are judicious they can so thoroughly entrench themselves as to retain control of the political situation indefinitely. By this it is not intended to insinuate that the Republicans shall follow the course of their Democratic predecessors by using the advantage referred to in a boodle sense. I mean that by giving good, clean administration and make wise and efficient appointments in the distribution of patronage they will win the confidence of the people, and that will be of great service to them in future campaigns.

Keep It Up.

While the general result of Tuesday's election was mainly due to an upheaval in the ranks of the people, there was sufficient in it to demonstrate the value and effect of good organization, especially in the local political field. The good work should be continued and it is hoped the Shenandoah Republican League will remain in harness and settle down at once for effective work. If it does the Republican party will be heard from to good effect in the Spring election.

Wyatt Serenaded.

After the close of its practice last night the Grant Band marched up Main street and serenaded Joseph Wyatt, the Republican Representative-elect. The band rendered a number of fine selections in front of the victor's hostelry and were then invited inside where they partook of the personal hospitality of the "Genial Joe."

Visit From Brumm.

Arrangements are being made to hold the first regular business meeting of the Shenandoah Republican League some evening next week. Hon. Chas. N. Brumm has accepted an invitation to visit the club and give a talk on practical politics.

Railroaders Paid.

The Lehigh Valley Railroad Company's pay car from Easton visited this region to-day and paid all the employees on the Mahanoy division.
