Evening Herald.

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 23, 1894.

DEMOCRATS HAVEN'T felt the recent cold snap. They got thoroughly numbed two weeks ago.

It is absurd for Democratic journals to argue that the recent elections had nothing to do with the tariff, and that the people did not by their votes condemn the new tariff bill. When that measure was pending, some of these journals declared with great emphasis and solemnity that the passage of that bill with the income tax included would overthrow the Democratic party in every Northern state, and events have proved that the prediction was perfectly accurate. To claim at this late day that the verdict had no such meaning or force is to give a tone of banter, trifling and irresponsibility to their previous utterances. Certain Free Trade leaders offer a much weaker explanation because it is partially true. The people were indeed disgusted about the action of Congress on the tariff, these Democrats admit, but only because the party broke all its pledges and was not true to its platform, and deliberately sold out Democratic principles for support in certain districts or shares in a sugar speculation. There can be no doubt that this feeling influenced the action of many Democrats. In states like Missouri, where the Democrats are nearly all infected with the rank Free Trade theories, and are as indehoned and mossbacked in their devotion to ancient plantation notions as if they still owned slaves and dreading the explosive influence of free manufacturing laborers among them, the Democrats are abandoned from within as Mr. States, where manufactures abound. It is reasonable to assume that the same feeling of disgust, because the party had not only failed to abolish Protection but had actually sold itself to the stock gamblers and the Trusts, had power with many Democrats in other states. Yet it is known to everybody that a great many other Democrats in every state expressed their disgust with the new tariff for a different reason—because it prostrated their industries.

There is a deep-rooted belief on the part of average people that the cost of administering charity is too great. "It takes a dollar to get ten cents to the heathen," said a prominent church member recently in explanation of his refusal to contribute to foreign missions. Many persons feel pretty much the same way about all religious and philanthropic enterprises that call for contributions for their support. They do not allege any dishonesty on the part of the managers; they may even be in hearty sympathy with the objects of the societies that ask for their money. But they believe that the way in which they are conducted is unbusinesslike, that too many assistants, secretaries and clerks are employed, and that in some cases there is no proper provision for auditing the accounts. That such an impression is prevalent will be admitted even by those who regard it as erroneous and unjust. Now it is unnecessary to say that this distrust has little foundation in fact, so far as the great religious and charitable organizations are concerned. They are managed by competent business men of standing and integrity; and, as a rule, they do all that it is possible to do with the funds at their disposal. This is especially true of the missionary and philanthropic organizations of the churches, both Catholic and Protestant. Whatever may have been the case in the past, they are now managed with wisdom, discretion and economy; and from what we know of the various foreign missionary societies, we are sure that the remark of the layman quoted above does them a grave injustice. Nevertheless, leakages that might be avoided, and even serious acts of mismanagement, are apt to occur in the most deserving societies. When this happens in the case of any society, the best service that its friends and supporters can render it is to expose such acts of apparent mismanagement so that they may be remedied. Such criticism coming from a friend will have an influence that no attack from without could have.

LAWYER HOWE ON HAND.

He Appears in Philadelphia to Answer to Conspiracy Charges.

HIS CONNECTION WITH THE CASE.

He Claims That He Acted in a strictly Legal Manner and in Good Faith—Out on Bail—He Refuses to Talk About Holmes, the Chief Conspirator.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 23.—Young Lawyer Howe, charged with complicity in the Holmes-Pitzel insurance swindle, arrived here yesterday. He had accompanied Lawyer McDonald as far east from St. Louis as Harrisburg, and there he switched off and went down the Northern Central road to Washington. He reached this city shortly after noon. Lawyer McDonald secured A. S. L. Shields to act as counsel for the accused lawyer, and subsequently he was admitted to bail in the sum of $2,000. Howe does not lose over the 22 years of age McDonald says he is.

To a number of reporters Howe told what he thought proper about his connection with the mystery. He said:

"This woman, Mrs. Pitzel, came to me and employed me as her attorney to look after this insurance claim. I took hold of the matter, and, first of all, I think I notified the agent of the Fidelity company in St. Louis, and he, I believe, entered into communication with the company here. I wrote to the chief of police in Philadelphia, and I think also to the company or the coroner. It is my belief I wrote to the coroner first. I heard from him, and I also heard from Chief of Police Linden.

"The first letter received from the coroner stated that the body was here and that it must be identified. The writer said that it was the body of B. F. Perry, and unless other identification was given the body would bear that name and be buried as such. I asked the widow how that was, and she said her husband had been going under the assumed name of Perry on account of some trouble he had had. I told her that would have to be made clear before she could get the money.

"She showed me a number of letters she had received from this Perry, which seemed to prove reasonably enough that they were from her husband, inasmuch as they spoke of the children and of family matters. I then wrote to the widow and told her that I had to come. Then I believe I got a letter from the coroner saying we must give positive identification marks, something by which we could prove that the body was Pitzel's.

"I thereupon called the woman in and told her she must give what identification marks she could that would assist the company in bringing out the identity of her husband, and I read her the coroner's letter. She told me of these marks, and I sent the information to the coroner and received information from him that they were not sufficient. I told the widow then that we must come on here and identify the body, and she said the little girl could do that. I brought the little girl on here and the body was identified to the company's satisfaction and to mine.

"The company paid the money to me and I returned to St. Louis and got a receipt in full from my client, Mrs. Pitzel, for the amount of money, and I gave her a receipt for my fee. The latter was $2,500. That was the last I saw of her."

Mr. Howe was asked what he had to say about his connection with Holmes in the matter.

"I do not desire to say anything about that at this time," he replied, "nor about several other matters with which my name has been connected. Much will depend upon the manner of my treatment by President Fouse and the general nature of the proceedings here."

HOLMES' CHICAGO RECORD.

Swindled People Through the Sale of Patent Copier Agents.

CHICAGO, Nov. 23.—Yesterday it became known that Holmes was the head of what purported to be an incorporation called the A. B. C. Copier company, with headquarters at the Monon building, on Dearborn street. The copying machine which Holmes sold was not without merit, but the sale of territory to agents was the chief source of revenue.

Holmes would advertise throughout the country and obtain a correspondence with people all over the country. Then the victim would be persuaded to visit the city, and would be ushered into an office apparently rushed with business. Finally a proposition would be made for the disposal of some state or county, and a deal consummated. It is said that the state of Ohio sold for $2,000 cash, and that an office was established in Cincinnati.

Both of the Dakotas and a majority of the western states were disposed of. A branch was organized in New York and Holmes was paid $5,000 for the agency in that city. Some states were sold as many times as Holmes could find purchasers. Holmes had in his office two stenographers, one of whom talked closely with the description of Miss Dirkes, of Omaha, and the other was unquestionably Miss Williams.

Drank Poison by Mistake.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Nov. 23.—Mrs. Joseph Simler entered a drug store in Pittston, and during the absence of the clerk picked up a bottle which she thought contained stomach bitters. She drank of the contents and then went home. She was taken violently ill and died before a physician arrived. The bottle contained poison. It was so labeled, but the woman could not read.

The Weather.

Fair, followed by increasing cloudiness; slightly warmer; southerly winds.

CHARGED WITH MURDER.

Leading Citizens of Oklahoma in Jail on the Capital Charge.

GUTHRIE, O. T., Nov. 23.—William Gill, sheriff of Pottawatomie county; S. J. Scott, editor of the Tecumseh Herald; ex-Postmaster P. Armstrong; and Daniel Breatman, prominent men of Tecumseh, were lodged in the United States jail yesterday on a charge of murder in the first degree.

Three years ago Steve Tomman was shot and killed in the Kikapoo reservation by three deputy marshals, who claimed to have mistaken him for a horse thief they were chasing. Tomman's friends, aided by the government, however, believed differently. They have never ceased working on the case, and as a result George Howells, one of the deputies who did the shooting, was last week convicted of the murder. From evidence obtained from him and through other sources the United States grand jury has indicted the men brought in yesterday, if being charged they hired the deputies to shoot Tomman, who was an important witness in several cases pending against them.

Death of General Gibson.

TIFFIN, O., Nov. 23.—General Gibson died at 6 o'clock last evening, aged 72 years. General W. H. Gibson was at one time a prominent candidate for governor of Ohio, and he was mentioned for the office of commissioner of pensions in 1888. He was born in Ohio in 1822; raised as a farmer's boy, learned the trade of carpenter, and while working at the bench managed to go to school and to study law. He was admitted to the bar and practiced his profession until the breaking out of the civil war. He raised a regiment and went to the front as colonel, soon became a brigadier general, and at the end of the war was brevetted brigadier general. He has participated in twelve presidential campaigns as a campaign speaker for the Republicans.

Fighting for a Dead Man's Body.

OTTAWA, Kan., Nov. 23.—Charles and Henry Lathrop, Ottawa business men, who were out for a time, struck the wrong house, kicking at the door of Mr. Sherman. Charles was shot dead and Henry seriously wounded by young Ben Sherman. The coroner gave the corpse to Undertaker Sessions, which so enraged an opposition undertaker that he stabbed Sessions. Sessions wound in serious. Mrs. Lathrop wanted Undertakers Miller & Chalmers to direct the funeral, but Clark & Sessions having gotten possession from Dr. Ewing the coroner refused to give the body up. Hence the second tragedy.

The Men Excluded.

CLEVELAND, Nov. 23.—The executive committee of the Women's Christian Temperance union held a post-convention meeting yesterday lasting until far into the evening. The most important matter that came up was a resolution to admit men to full membership in the young ladies' branch. The decision reached was that such a change was inexpedient, inasmuch as when the proper time arrived the Women's Christian Temperance union itself should admit men to membership and eliminate the word "women's" from its name in case anything of the kind was deemed expedient.

The Steamer Korean Safe.

ST. JOHNS, N. F., Nov. 23.—The Allan line steamer Korean, Captain Math, which arrived here yesterday from Glasgow and Liverpool, was reported to have been foundered. The decks were repeatedly swept from stem to stern and everything movable was swept aboard. It was impossible to keep the engines going, and for three days the steamer lay helpless in the trough of the sea. In spite of the severity of the weather all on board are well, and beyond the damage on deck the steamer appears to be in a sound condition.

Suing an Investment Company.

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 23.—Suits for conspiracy have been entered by Mattie Greenwald against Richard H. Mitchell, of Pittsburgh, against the Fidelity Building Loan and Investment company, of Washington. The plaintiff charges that she was induced to deposit money with the association under a promise that after two years she would receive her capital with interest at 6 per cent and accrued dividends. The two years expired last week, but when she presented her claim she was told that the association would pay but fifty cents on the dollar.

Our New Treaty with Japan.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—There is good reason to believe that Secretary Gresham and Minister Kurino yesterday afternoon added the finishing touches to the new treaty between the United States and Japan, and that the document now awaits only the ratification of the senate and of the Japanese government, the latter being almost beyond question. The new treaty abolishes after about five years the system of consular court jurisdiction which has been so obnoxious to Japan, and also treats of commerce and trade relations.

A Leper in Paterson.

PATERSON, N. J., Nov. 23.—A case of leprosy was reported to the health department last evening. Jim Wing, the owner of a laundry at 18 Hamburg avenue, is the victim. Wing has been here for six years. The first indication of the disease became apparent on the back of Wing's hands, and the symptoms spread over his entire body. The Chinaman in the laundry said that Wing had gone to New York. Wing is believed to be hiding in this city. The health authorities are looking for him.

A Lost Opportunity.

The Earl of Ross, a mechanical engineer of no mean order, entered the engine room of a large manufactory and gazed curiously at the working of the machinery. Suddenly he was seen to shake his head, pull his watch out and to look first at the engine and then at his timepiece. The engineer's attention had been attracted by this somewhat odd behavior of the stranger, and he apostrophized him in a rude and aggressive manner with a "Well, what's up now? What is it you've got to find fault with anyhow?"

"Oh," replied Lord Ross, "it's all the same to me. I've got no fault to find. I'm just waiting till the boiler explodes."

"The boiler exploded? Why, you are crazy, man!" exclaimed the engineer angrily, preparing to turn the peer out as a dangerous crank.

"Well," retorted the earl, "if you work ten minutes longer with that loose screw there, the boiler will certainly explode."

The engineer, gazing in the direction indicated by Lord Ross, paled and jumped to stop the engine.

"Why the devil didn't you say so sooner?" he burst out.

"Why should I? I have never yet had the opportunity of seeing a boiler explode."—San Francisco Argonaut.

THE ARMENIAN ATROCITIES.

First Reports Fully Confirmed—Over Two Thousand Christians Massacred.

BOSTON, Nov. 23.—M. H. Cushman, secretary of the United Friends of Armenia, has received a letter from a friend dated South, west of Bithynia, Oct. 3, which he gives an account of the massacres of his fellow countrymen and women, which in details corroborates the account published to the Associated Press. He states that thousands have been huddled to pieces, and that in one instance seven men were covered with kerosene and set on fire. On another occasion twenty women, with their children, were in a church with a priest, on their knees imploring the commandant to have mercy on them. Because they refused to renounce the Christian religion and return to Mohammedanism they were killed. It is known that 2,000 Armenians were massacred.

Knights of Labor Legislation.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 23.—Knights of Labor had a busy session yesterday. Resolutions were adopted that each local assembly shall make a maximum scale of wages above the regular scale adopted by the National Trades assembly; that the legislatures of the various states be urged to enact laws providing for the creation of state labor bureaus; that all tradesmen shall affiliate with organizations of their own trade; that in labor parades no flags except the national colors shall be carried. A resolution making representatives to the general assembly eligible as officers was defeated.

The French Representative Insulted.

MADEIRA, Nov. 23.—Mail advices that have reached here from Madagascar show that the arrival at Antananarivo of M. de Myre de Vilers, the special envoy to present the demands of France to the Malagasy government, was marked by the outbreak of robberies and incendiary fires. The government made no effort to repress the disorder. The agents of the firm of Rebut & Sarrante, on the west coast of Madagascar, have been murdered by natives with assegais and their stores sacked. One of the victims was a Frenchman and the other a native of the Island of Mauritius.

Sicily's Earthquake Victims.

ROME, Nov. 23.—Signor Galli, the royal commissioner appointed to visit the districts affected by the earthquakes, reports that in Reggio he found only twenty houses that had entirely escaped damage. The interiors of whole rows of houses in a space of 300 yards long were completely wrecked. Crowds of homeless women and children are wandering about their ruined dwellings, wringing their hands and weeping bitterly. The persons injured by falling ceilings and otherwise are being attended to in the open square.

Body Snatchers Held for Trial.

LINCOLN, Neb., Nov. 23.—The Cotner University medical Professors J. W. Ward and D. S. Moshan, A. S. Ross, D. H. Roberts, B. J. Alexander, J. A. Burford and J. E. Walker, arrested Wednesday night on a charge of body snatching, were arraigned yesterday before County Judge Lausby. Chancellor Dungan was added to the list yesterday. The party asked for a continuance, and the case was set for the 30th inst., and they were released on bonds of $500 each.

Steamboat War at Baltimore.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 23.—The opposition to the Baltimore, Chesapeake and Atlantic started by the Widespread Steamboat company, promises to develop into a steamboat war that will be carried on until a decided victory is won. Trappe Landing will be one of the wharves where the fight will be waged. The fight is owing to the Widespread company entering the territory of two lines consolidated into the other company.

A New Jersey Postoffice Robbed.

BEVERLY, N. J., Nov. 23.—The post-office and general store of Thomas Craig, at Buttsville, was entered by burglars during the night. The safe was blown open and several hundred dollars in money and goods were taken. A watchman who heard the explosion was overpowered by the thieves and bound. The watchman was released by some people when they visited the postoffice. No trace can be found of the burglars.

Oklahoma Wants Statehood.

GUTHRIE, O. T., Nov. 23.—A call has been issued by the chairman of the Democratic territorial executive committee for a statehood convention to be held Nov. 28 at El Reno. Democrats, Republicans and Populists are bending their energies towards gaining this point, and the present outlaws and deprecations and the favorable report of the Dawes commission will be put forward as two most formidable arguments.

Chancellor Allison's Murderer Dead.

NASHVILLE, Nov. 23.—George K. Whitworth died yesterday, having lived eight days after the tragedy in which he played so important a part. He sent two pistol balls through his body after he had assassinated Chancellor Allison, and his wounds were so severe it was thought death would ensue almost immediately, but he proved remarkably tenacious of life.

Charged with Malpractice.

DENVER, Nov. 23.—Dr. Rudolph G. Price, charged with criminal malpractice, who was believed to have fled, surrendered himself in court yesterday, and was locked up in default of $20,000 bail. His bondsman, S. F. Short, was held in $2,000 to answer a charge of giving a straw bond.

Desirable Immigrants.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 23.—Among the immigrants from the steamship Dresden from Bremen was a family of four persons who had a fortune of $120,000. The head of the family is a Hungarian named Huber Beck. They are from Buda Pesth, and bound for North Dakota.

HEART DISEASE!

Fluttering, No Appetite, Could Not Sleep, Wind on Stomach.

"For a long time I had a terrible pain at my heart, which fluttered almost incessantly. I had no appetite and could not sleep. I would be compelled to sit up in bed and belch gas from my stomach until I thought that every minute would be my last. There was a feeling of oppression about my heart, and I was afraid to draw a full breath. I could not sweep a room without resting. My husband induced me to try
