A SICK CITIZEN'S ESCAPE.

In Trying to Check His Ailment He Almost Sacrificed His Life in Taking a Dose of Arsenic.

One of our prominent townsmen who as been on the sick list for some time almost succeeded in putting an end to his Illness at the expense of his life the other day. It was not a case of attempted suicide, or a case of taking a dose from the wrong bottle this time, but was due to the enlarged judgment of a friend. The physician in attendance had instructed the patient to take ten drops of an arsenical preparation and the friend estimated that the ten drops were equal to a teaspoonful. The patient took the dose and nothing was thought of the matter until the doctor learned of it. There was quite a shaking of limbs when the medi-cal man said to the patient, "Well, that you are not a dead man by this time i nly due to an overdose. I cannot ac count for your existence in any other way. You have taken a teaspoonful of arsenic and may consider yourself lucky." The doctor's prescription will be followed to the letter hereafter.

The story of the above lident was told in one of the hotels last night and was followed by one told by a dentist, who says the men of his profession always dread fine weather. They can always tell when a storm is coming without consulting either a barometer or the weather forecasts. Their patients are the best barometers in the world. The teeth are pecullarly affected by damp weather, particularly baditeeth. When people begin flocking to the dentists with toothache and pains in the jaw the tooth-puller knows a spell of bad weather is coming. A good bit of it is neuralgia, but it is a sure sign. The rush of business keeps up until the stormy weather sets in, and when business falls off the dentists know the storm is abating, and fine weather will soon follow When toothache patients are few and far between you can rest assured that a sea son of pleasant weather is at hand.

The recent newspaper talk over the Titman-Harrington real estate deal has given property in this town quite a boom but the owners must not allow their heads to be turned. One man who was standing out for a bid of $15,000 for his place now wants $17,000. The number of people in this town who have $15,000 to invest in real estate can easily be ounted and there are not the number who have $20,000 or $30,000 to invest so the people disposed to sell their holdings must not run too high, lest they may be subjected to disappointment and take a big drop. The price paid for one property cannot always be considered in fixing the value of another, because there may be a score of peculiar circumstances in connecion with one sale that would not enter another. Real estate has been booming in this town for the past two or three years, yet Mr. Harington only received for his property just what he was offered about six years ago. This seems strange, but it is a fact, nevertheless It seems more remarkable since Mr. Titman has within the past forty-eight hours received an offer of $30,000 for the prop erty, a temptation of a profit of $3,000 for the time taken in making two trips to gagement. It is hoped the next time Cliff-Scranton. Here is where the force of cir. cumstances comes in. In Mr. Harington's the hardiness to risk a second visit, he hands the property stood at $27,000 for six will have in tow a better star and comyears and in spite of a boom during the past two years it did not move, but it now. Barastorming doesn't take here. jumped $3,000 inside of two days after it got into Mr. Titman's hands.

REUNION OF P. O. S. OF A.

It Was Participated in by Many Camps of the Order.

MANY PATRIOTIC SPEECHES

Egan's New Hall Was Crowded Last Evening to Listen to Addresses Upon Popular Themes.

Main streets, was crowded last evening with members of the Patriotic Order zation in Schuylkill District No. 5, over which District President W. S. Britton, of Girardville, has supervision. That official appears to have infused new life into the organization, and at the end of his term of office he will give a good ac-count of his stewardship, if last night's gathering may be considered a criterion.

Frackville and Ashland, and to say that all appeared to enjoy themselves is putting it mildly, because the meeting give us bristled over with enthusiasm in the est at noble work in which the members of the order have enlisted. District President Britton was chair man of the meeting, and he performed the duties of that position in an efficient manner. After a few preliminary remarks by the chairman, the opening ode was sung, and H. E. Dengler was called uppn for the address of welcome. His remarks were brief but to the point, and proved him to be an impromtu speaker of no mean ability.

Councilman A. B. Lamb followed with a recital upon his popular theme, digging the "filthy lucre," at the conclusion o which he was heartily applauded. State Vice President S. L. Brown, of town, re sponded to the subject, "What has the order done !" The speaker portrayed in a pleasing manner how the members of the order in 1861 responded almost to a man to the call for volunteers to defend the nation, leaving but two camps in existence in this state; the practical work that has been done in behalf of the publie schools; the inculcation of a patriotic spirit into the minds of the young members, and the advantages of membership from a fraternal and beneficial stand point. Refreshments were served at the onclusion of this address.

I. B. Abrams, of Girardville, favored the audience with a comical song, and in answer to a hearty enchore sang one that pleased the bachelor members. Later on in the evening he again responded to the demands of the audience.

The remarks by Prof. J. W. Cooper speaker held the strict attention of his America." Upon the subject of emigration he said the order was opposed to in discriminate admission, but welcomed with opened arms those people of foreign countries who come to our shores with the purpose of becoming citizens both in name and deed. He said that the mere fact of a man being born on our soil does not necessarily prove that he is a true Son of-America, no more than if he were borne in some other clime. A true Son of Amerca must be a citizen in all that the term ton gets around this way, should he have implies. At the conclusion of this address refreshments and cigars were served. James R Lewis gave a recitation in his usual style, when the exercises closed with a general debate upon topics pertaining to the objects of the organization, participated in by members from the different camps represented. The next reunion will be held at Girard ville. The date of the meeting has not yet been decided upon. For bargains in wall paper go to J. P. Carden, painter and paperhanger, 224 W. Centre street. He is selling out his en-tire stock at and below cost. Wall paper aung at lowest prices and in workman

THANKSGIVING DAY.

Union Services Will be Held in the Presbyterian Church.

The congregations of the several Protestant churches of town will observe Thanksgiving Day by holding union service in the Presbyterian church, corner of White and Oak streets, at 16 clock in the morning. It is expected the attendance will be very large. Rev. John Bath, pastor of the Primitive Methodist church, will preach the sermon and there will be a service of song by the united choirs. This will be an impressive feature. The offering at these services will be for the benefit of the Shenandoah Bible Society, which uses all the funds it receives for the distribution of bibles in Shenandoah. A grand Thanksgiving entertainment will be held in the Methodist Episcopal church at Wm. Penn to-morrow evening under the auspices of the Sanday school. The entertainments given by this school are always of a most enjoyable character. The musical part of the program will be especially pleasing. Candy ! Candy! Candy!!
