Recently there was a very happy com-plement of passengers going from Balti-more to Reston with Captain Howes of the Merchants and Minors line. The captain, by the way, is one of the last men that ever troil a quarter feek to make a trip with. Among the passengers was Nick Young of Inseball fame. This and the fact that Captain Howes is an ardent admirer of the game gave rise to a great deal of inseball talk, which was board by who takes all large when was bound by who takes to every person on board and makes lorself generally disagreeable. Sunday afternism she wanted to have a prayer meeting and went about arranging for a locker and a choir. Coming up be bind two young new, she asked them is

CURING A SORE THROAT.

A Remedy That Acted Promptly and Was

A good story is fold in Stageland of a Berlin prima donna who lived in the time of Frederick the Great. Whenever snything or anybody displeased her, she had a habit of suddenly becoming to hearse to sing. One day no opera in her repartery was to be performed, and the king was expected to be present.

At the appointed hour the manager came forward, and appounded that, owing to a sore throat, Mile. So and so was unatic to appear. The people were preparing to leave the lones, but the king rose and commanded thom to keep their seats. A few moments afterward an officer and four dragoons entered the capricious lady

'Mademoiselle," said the officer, "the king inquires after your health."

"The king is very good," she said. "I have a sere threat."
"His majority is aware of the fact and has charged me to take you to the military hospital to be outed."

Mademolaelle turned very pale, suggested that they were jesting, but was told that Prasslan officers never indulged in such a thing. Soon she found herself in a cough with fater men.

A Defaulting Boarder Walks Into the Law's Chriches.

Samuel Ostrick, a peddler of spectacles, left town a few days ago, leaving at the Ferguson House in unpaid beard bill amounting to seven dollars, an empty. satchel and a number of empty speciacle resolution adopted in January, 1894, rela-

This morning County Detective Amour was instructed to trace Ostrick and bring him back to town. The man was supposed to be at Mt. Carmel or Shamokin. Amour was at the Lebigh Valley depot this morn ing awaiting the arrival of the belated train to take him to Shamokin when a small boy walked up to him and said "There's a man down the reliroad that wants his baggage. Here's the check, "The boy had mistaken Amour for the baggagemaster. The circumstances struck the detective as singular and after question ing the boy the officer started down the railroad. As Amour approached Cherry street he saw a man run. Amour fol lowed. The chase was out Cherry street to Jardin and down the latter street, over "the rocks" to the Pennsylvania ralicos station, where the fugility was overtaken and identified as Ostrick, the missing spectacle peddler. Ostrick had left Shamokir early this morning. He left the train at the junction near the "Pennsy" depot and walked to the depot, where he purchase a ticket for Washington, D. C. He then sent a boy to the Lehigh Valley depot for the satchel that had been left on the train-He avoided the Lehigh Valley depot as he expected a watch was being kept for him. Had the west bound train been on time Amour would have had a fruitless trip to Shamokin and the peddier would have made his trip to Washington unmolested.

Ostrick was taken before Justice Williams and pleaded guilty, but said he had no money. The agent at the "Pennsy" depot redeemed the Washington ticket and with the proceeds the prisoner paid the board bill and costs, whereupon he was discharged.

Ostrick sported himself with different girlsfduring his first visit to town. He says that one of them robbed him of his pocketbook and that was the reason why be left the board bill unpaid.
