WORK OF THE GRIM REAPER.

Death of Henry Woods, a Well Known Miner.

WAS QUITE UNEXPECTED.

The Injury Was Not Considered Serious. Inflammation Caused the Victim's Death After Intense Suffering.

Few men were better known among the mine workers of this part of the coal region than Henry Woods and the announcement of his death will be a surprise to many.

Mr. Woods was forty-four years of age. He was born in Pontypool, Wales, and came to this country about twenty six years ago.

A large family is left to mourn his death. It consists of a wife and six children, the oldest child being about sixteen years of age.

BUSINESS CIRCLES DULL!

The Boom Looked For After the Full Time of November Failed to Materialize—Complaints on All Sides.

It was expected that the pay distributed by the Philadelphia & Reading Coal & Iron Company on Saturday would give business circles in the town a boom, but that result did not materialize.

The streets were thronged with people during the early part of Saturday night before the rain fell, but the stores failed to attract them.

The police and constables also anticipated a big rush of business on account of the full pay, but they, too, were disappointed.

The accepted explanation for the outcome is that the times have been so hard the full two-week pay was but a drop in the bucket to most people and the outlook for the last month of the year is so gloomy they are enforcing economy.

The young man walked up and down the platform until the train bound for Pottsville arrived, when he picked up his trunk and put it in the baggage car.
