HORRORS OF ARMENIA.

Refugees from the Stricken Villages Arrive at Athens.

FIRST REPORTS FULLY CONFIRMED.

Men Who Were Eye Witnesses of the Monstrous Atrocities Committed by Turkish Soldiers Reveal Their Terrible Experiences to a Newspaper Man.

ATHENS, Greece, Dec. 4.—The Associated Press representative yesterday met twenty Armenian refugees who arrived here from Armenia after a journey full of hardships and suffering...

For about eighteen months, the refugees say, the province of Sassoun has been surrounded by Turkish troops, and nobody has been allowed to enter it or to leave. About four months ago the Turkish authorities learned that the inhabitants of Vartemiss, a village outside the frontier of Sassoun...

One of the refugees, a man named Khadjji, states that his uncle and aunt were among the killed, the latter being previous to being put to death. An Armenian priest named Kotovian was killed for refusing to celebrate Turkish rites in his church at Vartemiss.

Solo, the bey of Intzoun, a Kurd, with a detachment of Kurdish cavalry, went with the Turkish soldiers to the village of Samsal and forcibly took the Armenian priest from his church after disgusting defiling the sacred vessels and the priest's hands.

Further atrocities were committed by the Turks at the village of Kellehuzen, where down this place was surrounded by soldiers, and while the inhabitants were still asleep it was set on fire.

At Kellehuzen the soldiers killed the Armenian priest, Margos, who, with twenty other inmates of a house, was burned to death, the soldiers preventing anybody from escaping from the burning dwelling.

The number of villages devastated in this manner is said to be over thirty-two.

The Hunt-Beats.

The ground was a grassy plain on the other side of the Beirut river, intersected by little water courses and studded with groves of pine trees, some full grown and tall and others making a thick underwood or scrub, in which the jackals, which we came to hunt, were hidden.

I think I never saw so animated a scene—the wild Algerine horse and their wilder riders, in scarlet tunics, red morocco jack-boots and white burnouses floating on the wind, the whole relieved against the bright green pine groves and purple mountains or the bright gold of the sand bank.

OATES VERSUS KOLB.

The Populist Claimant Talks Very Aggressively.

GOVERNOR OATES IS DETERMINED.

If Kolb Carries Out His Threat to Send Messages to the Legislature, Signing Himself Governor, He Will Meet with Determined and Vigorous Opposition.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Dec. 4.—The gubernatorial feud has not altogether quieted, and there are still possibilities of trouble ahead if the declarations of Governor Oates and Captain Kolb, the claimant to the office, are carried into effect.

In an authorized interview Captain Kolb said: "I shall stay here with my cabinet and continue to be the rightful governor of Alabama. I shall issue messages to the legislature; shall recommend legislation and call upon the legislature to pass a contest law, and if they do not I will convene an extra session after they have departed."

"I have twice been elected governor, and I believe that the people who elected me will insist upon it if it has to be obtained by revolution. There were 300,000 of my friends in the city Saturday, who would have fought at my command. I advised against bloodshed, because I first wish to exhaust every peaceable means to gain the desired end."

Speaking of his opponent Governor Oates said: "As long as he contents himself with merely calling himself governor I will humor him and pay no attention to him, but if he attempts to establish a dual government, to send messages to the legislature signing himself governor, and interfering in public affairs I will not stop to it."

"In my first message to the legislature I shall recommend the passage of a contest law, for which there is such a demand by the Kolbites, and I think it will be passed. It cannot in the very nature of things be a retroactive law, however, to go back and investigate Kolb's election, because the session of the legislature is limited by the constitution to fifty days, and it will have adjourned before the investigation could be made."

Mr. Manning, a Populist member of the legislature, declared that the Kolbs will exhaust all peaceful means, and then, if necessary, resort to revolution to secure control of the state government.

A Bill to Suppress Kolb. MONTGOMERY, Ala., Dec. 4.—A bill was introduced in the house by Representative Knight, of Hale, which is intended to put a stop to Kolb's performances and prevent all possible danger of a dual government.

Honors to Wilson's Successor. TRENTON, Dec. 4.—Hon. Alston G. Dayton, who was expected to resign his fall over William L. Wilson, author of the present tariff law, was the guest of the Republican club at a reception here last night.

Reversed a Verdict of Not Guilty. NEW HAVEN, Dec. 4.—In the case of the state against Lee, accused of murder, the Connecticut supreme court has, for the first time in the state's history, reversed a jury verdict of "not guilty" and ordered a new trial.

Locked in and Burned to Death. MANSFIELD, Que., Dec. 4.—Joe Mitchell's house burned on Sunday, and two boys, aged 4 and 5 years, perished. Mrs. Mitchell left the children locked in the house while she called on a neighbor.

Murdered by a Fellow Convict. JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Dec. 4.—Two convicts, John Brady and Jules Rosenyer, fought in the state prison here and Brady killed Rosenyer, beating him to death with a bucket.

Glass Works Resume. BRIDGEPORT, N. J., Dec. 4.—The East Lake Glass works went on blast yesterday with union blowers. This factory is the only hollowware factory in this city employing union workmen.

Muscular Rheumatism

Sciatica and the Piles Adds to the Sufferer's Misery

Four Bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla Effects a Wonderful Cure.

"C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass." "Gentlemen: As a result of the memorable blizzard of March, 1894, I contracted muscular rheumatism; at that time I was engaged on a job of steamfitting in Plainfield, N. J., and it was necessary for me to wade through the snow to the building, a new residence, in which we were working."

For sixteen months afterwards I was laid up with muscular rheumatism and sciatica. I then joined my son-in-law in Denver, Col., where I was engaged in steamfitting and engineering, and where I commenced to take Hood's Sarsaparilla for my rheumatism. It cured me not only of the rheumatism and sciatica, but also of outward piles, from which for thirty-three years I had suffered.

A Thousand Deaths.

Previous to going to Denver I visited the University of Pennsylvania to be operated upon. The doctor pronounced my ease elongation of the bowels and the worst he ever saw. He refused to perform an operation, saying that after having suffered so many years it was not worth while that I should die that late day from the effects of the knife, and die I would if he used it.

No Man Can Conceive what I suffered for thirty-three years.

I tried all sorts of remedies and treatments, often without the slightest relief. Four bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla cured me, relieved, but not cured, both the piles and rheumatism. The only trace of rheumatism which I feel now is a little stiffness when the weather changes, and as I will be 70 years old in August that is but incidental to my age. This is a simple statement of facts, and I am, C. I. Hood & Co., 250 West Fortia Street, Philadelphia, Pa.
