

Tired, Weak, Nervous Could Not Sleep.

Prof. L. D. Edwards, of Preston, Idaho, says: "I was all run down, weak, nervous and irritable through overwork. I suffered from brain fa-tigue, mental depression, etc. I be-came so weak and nervous that I could not sleep. I would arise tired, discouraged and blue. I began taking

Dr. Miles' Nervine and now everything is changed. I sleep soundly, I feel bright, active and ambitious. I can do more in one day now than I used to do in a week. For this great good I give Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine the sole credit.

It Cures." Dr. Milles' Nervine is sold on a positive summanies that the first bottle will benefit. All druggists sell it at $1,6 hottles for $5, or it will be sent, preprint, on receipt of price by the Dr. Milles heatcair Co., Eikhart, Ind.

Jones' Sons, reveal the facts that she has been in pressing need of money, for which some one was pushing her within the last six weeks. Heragents had loaned out $1,300, but she suddenly de-chied to call her loans. It was not found easy to transfer them, and Miss Ging be-came quite impatient for the money, say-ing she only needed it for thirty days.

Ing size only booled it for thirty days. Finally the partor was arranged, and she drew out about $\xi_{1,000}$. The head waiter in Barge's restaurant tells of Miss Ging and Haywafd meeting there as late as Saturday, on which occa-sion Miss Ging showed nearly $\xi_{2,000}$ in bank bills. ank bills.

It has been ascertained, too, that Miss It has been ascertained, too, that Miss Glug had nearly completed her arrange-ments for opening a large millinery estab-lishment on Nicolas avenue, and had opened negotiations with the agent of a store property to that end. This would explain her need for ready money, as she was anxious to purchase stock and open for the bidder trade for the holiday trade

The wildest set of comparison of the proposition for the company for the stamped was probably in full operation, and the soldiers, not waiting for orders, less no time in placing a safe and reasons threatened danger. They quickly, and the soldiers are they quickly, and the soldiers are the soldiers and the soldiers are the soldiers. ble distance latween themselves and the threatened danger. They quickly shiel off to the right, and I felt it my duty at this "Impending crists" to keep as close to the heels of my fleeing comrades as the speed of my horse would permit.

As before, the animals came direct toward us, but our shoutings and hallooings turned them asids, and they shied off to us, but our shoutings and hallooings turned them axide, and they shed off to the left, entering the jows of a rough, their red pursuers wanted. The ravine was a sort of rift in the Bad Lands which predicatly led nowhers, but which we art crward discovered narrowed and closed in until it ended in a steep, impassable poet. et, with no outlet except by the original of entry. The Indians shouted to us as they rushed by, and, rather interested in the outcome, by, and, ranker interested in the outcome, as I suspected the nature of the ravine, I left the scregent with the detachment, and, taking the guide with me, followed swiftly on the heels of the flying Chayention Game and hunters soon disappeared in the twinings and intertwinings of the gorge, and as it was an exceedingly rocky and difficult trail we took our time and practically "made baste slowly." How the red men ahead of us ever got over the ground so quickly was an unsolved mystery. Narrower and narrower became the gorge, and at last we paused to listen. There was scarcely a sound in the air, but this intense stillness became suddenly broken by a series of rapid shots and wild yells, accompanied by a thundering, rum bling noise which was almost deafening. The tumult mpidly grew louder, and then, just in front of us, from out the depths of the canyon came the buffalo herd like the wind, directly toward us. Some were wind, directly toward us. Some were bleeding, many were wounded, and others were limping hadly. It never seemed po-able that living brutes could travel over such rough ground with such speed, but the difficulties of the trail never seemed to concern them in the least, for, as a matter of fact, the rear ones crowded the forward ones with such persistence and so rapidly that they had to move quickly or class be trampled under foot. After this thundercloud had passed, with feelings of great relief, we went on up the canyon to see how the Indians had fared. It proved to have been a disastrous incounter for the Cherennes, as many of them were limping and bleeding as hadly as the stampeded buffaloes. A survey of the free frontier circus ground discovered seven dead buffaloes, three wounded Indians-one of them quite seriously-and six ponies killed and maimed.-Chicago

Chief Clerk Unger, Under Orders from the District Attorney, Refused to Prepare a List of Such Cases-Byrnes May Go Bofore the Lexow Committee.

NEW YORK, Dor. 6 .- The taking of tes timining in the case of District Attorney Follows was resumed before Commissioner Lineau. Chief Cherk Unger, of the dis-tried attorney's office, declared that the statement that Charles L. Jachne's bond Matching that Charges Is Jachne's rough had been accepted for upwards of $10,000 by the district attorney is a gross error. The total amount of ball for which Jachne had pledged filmself, he said, was exactly $71,000. Chief Cherk Ungertestified that he could
