... It Does Not Pay

To buy, sell or use inferior goods. While the prices of straight, honest goods may sometimes seem high, poor goods at low prices are never cheap. We aim to sell good goods at prices as low as are consistent with good quality and honest weight and measure. A trial of some of our leading articles will prove the truth of this. In the COFFEE line we claim that our choice Plain Roasted Coffee at 80c is cheaper, quality considered, than any package coffee at a lower price. It is a combination of the best grades only, carefully roasted and blended, so as to produce a strong, rich, fine flavored drink. Our Roasted Java is the best Old Government Java. Our 50c Blended Tea is a mixture of fine teas only, not a single cheap inferior tea in it. Our 60 cent Black Tea is a choice article. Our Ceylon, English Breakfast and Japan Teas at 50c are good teas and worth the money. Can sell you a fair quality tea at 25c a pound.

Our Creamery Butter is the finest in the market. Our Mince Meat is the best we can buy. Our Lard is guaranteed pure. Our New Orleans Baking Molasses is the best new crop, open kettle goods. Not a mixture of cheaper kinds of molasses. Our Table Syrups at 8, 10 and 12c we believe to be straight sugar goods.

THE BOARD OF HEALTH.

Proceedings at the Regular Meeting Last Evening.

POVERTY AND NEGLECT!

The Family of William Horricks Found in a Horrifying Condition—Poverty and Filth in Full Sway.

The Board of Health held a regular semi-monthly meeting last night. The secretary reported that fifteen deaths occurred since the last meeting. There are one case of measles and one case of scarletina in the town. There are no cases of typhoid fever. There were 35 burial permits issued during November.

Health Officer Miles stated that Benjamin Susan, the cheese manufacturer, refused to pay the five dollar annual license fee imposed. The Board will proceed to enforce its collection.

The Health Officer also reported a case at 602 West Apple alley. He said the family was existing in filth and vermin and that the wife, Mrs. William Horrick, was not a proper person to have charge of a family. He said the condition of the place was a disgrace to the town. The children are covered with filth and vermin and scarcely half clad. The officer said the case was an extraordinary one and should be remedied. The report was so strong, that the Board decided to visit the place in a body to-day.

In accordance with the resolution the Board made the visit this morning and fully verified all the Health Officer reported, at the same time, condemning the condition in which the Grant, Fowler and O'Hearn properties in the same neighborhood are kept.

Mrs. Horrick's house was certainly in a deplorable condition and the family exists more like beasts than human beings. In the three rooms on the first floor the only pieces of furniture found were a dilapidated cupboard, a table and a range. Boxes served as chairs. On the second floor was found the head and footboard of a bedstead. There was not a mattress in the house. The woman said the family ate and slept in the kitchen. They sleep on the floor, not having even a piece of oilcloth upon which to lie. Four dogs and three pigs share the apartment with the family the husband having declared, the wife alleges, that where he stays the dogs must stay. The family consists of the husband and wife and four children, ranging from four to twelve years of age. The woman says her husband earns two dollars a day at the Keeley Run colliery. The only clothing the mother and children have is that upon their backs, and it is filthy. It is quite apparent that the woman is not of sane mind. She appears wholly indifferent to the condition of affairs. She told the Board that the dress and apron she wore was all she had to wear, with striking indifference, and when reference was made to the deplorable condition of the children she simply looked at them and smiled.

The Board will have a physician examine the woman's mental condition and make arrangements to have her and the children removed to the Almshouse. When this is done the Almshouse authorities will be called upon to prosecute the husband and compel him to provide for the children.

THE ALMSHOUSE AFFAIR.

Complications Arising From It Are on the Increase.

The last twenty-four hours have brought no additional developments in connection with the Almshouse disclosures, although the complications arising from side issues are on the increase. It is now announced that Hon. Samuel A. Loech, the bald-headed statesman from Schuylkill Haven, has his war patent on and is about to sue Congressman-elect Brumm for libel. Loech claims that Brumm has assailed his character in alleging that he received money to affect the appointment of people to positions in the Almshouse under the new board of Poor Directors. Justice McGinness, of Frankville, is also accredited with the statement that Marion Lizzie O'Brien has told him that the affidavit she made in favor of Seward Hartman at St. Clair was false. Lizzie is certainly a candidate for a long term of imprisonment if all that is said about her is true. With the dawn of each day it becomes more apparent that the whole affair is built upon a very shallow foundation and is based upon political biliousness.

Are you aware that W. V. Otto's fruit cake is the best in town? 27 South Main street.

Rev. John H. Bath, the pastor, will preach in the morning, Rev. William Powick in the afternoon, and Rev. T. M. Bateman, of Girardville, in the evening.

The show windows of many of the stores present a very attractive appearance. The approach of the Christmas holidays have instilled into the merchants a desire to get the eyes of the public on articles suitable for presents and other holiday uses. Now is the season of the year for the window dressers to get in their work.

Goodman & Bros., the West Centre street commission merchants, have won the title of orange kings of Schuylkill county. They will handle this season at least sixty thousand of the delicious Florida product.

Frank H. Waite, the genial and enterprising manager of the Ashland opera house, was in town yesterday posting the people on the production of the "Princess Bonnie" at his opera house on the 22nd inst. Ashland should feel proud that she has a man like Mr. Waite in charge of her theatrical affairs. He keeps the opera house in first class condition, runs it on a thorough business basis, books no chestnuts, and is ever reaching out for companies and plays that not only attract, but also give the patrons of the theatre an evening of enjoyment worth the price of admission asked. Mr. Waite understands the theatrical business.

Whitelock, the boot and shoe dealer, keeps up with the times in his efforts to draw the holiday trade and announces that he will present customers with a box of nicely assorted candy. Whitelock evidently believes in keeping the teeth in good humor as well as the feet.

The School Board has advertised for proposals from builders for the erection of the school building to be located at the northwest corner of Jardin and Cherry streets. The plans and specifications arranged by the architect warrant the presumption that the building will be as near a model school building as any to be found in the county.

Max Schmidt, the North Main street dry goods dealer, has tired of humoring the gas meter and is making arrangements to put an electric light plant in his building. If Mr. Schmidt adopts the plan he will also be able to supply his own steam heat.

The only place in town to purchase your Christmas confectionery is at W. V. Otto's, 27 South Main street.

The Pavalock Case. Peter Ollawins, Sophia, his wife, and Tiley, his brother, were before Justice Williams, last night, charged with having committed an atrocious assault upon Frank Pavalock. The wife and brother said they took no part in the attack. Dr. Hochlerner swore that the victim must have been struck on the head with some blunt instrument and that he was in a very critical condition. The accused were put under $300 bail to await the result of the injuries and appear for further hearing should Pavalock recover sufficiently to appear against them.
