SEVENTEEN ARE MISSING

And One Dead as the Result of the Delaven House Fire.

ALL UNDOUBTEDLY PERISHED.

Employes of the Hotel Who Escaped Declare That There Was No Way of Escape for the Servants on the Fifth Story of the Structure.

ALBANY, Jan. 1.—The horrors of the Delaven House fire increase as the hours go by, and where yesterday morning nine persons were reported missing, the list today is increased to seventeen. The full list of missing is as follows: Mrs. Francis Hill, housekeeper, from Chicago; Nora Sullivan, chambermaid; Mary Sullivan, chambermaid, sister of Nora; Mary Carey, chambermaid, from Saratoga; Annie Dailey, employed in cleaning departments; Bridget Fitzgibbons, employed in pantry; Amelia Tomazzia, chambermaid; Simon Mieres, coffee man; Rozanta Storney, chambermaid; Ellen Dillon, laundress; Agnes Wilson, chambermaid, from Buffalo; Rae Young, employed in the linen department, from Buffalo; Kate Crowley, chambermaid; Tom Cannon, hall man; Fernando Belletti, fireman; Ricardo Telesfoni, worked in kitchen; an unknown Italian, worked in kitchen. Mrs. Fookes, of Dayton, O., the bride of a few days, died at the hospital.

About twenty girls were sleeping in the attic, which was on the Steuben street side of the house, and the only exit was a narrow stairway leading to the third floor hallway, from which there were three stairways by which to escape. The most reliable information that could be obtained was given by an employe of the house named Kate Monahan, who knew all of the girls well, and had, up to this time, been unable to find twelve of them, whom she is positive are dead. Besides these she asserts that four men are also in the ruins.

Miss Monaaan says she escaped through the basement, and that at that time the girls, she believes, were lost in the attic. When she reached the last stairway the six lower steps were burned, and she had to jump the remaining distance. If the girls were in the attic then it seems impossible for them to have escaped.

A Norman, one of the waiters, says he was overcome by the smoke, which was so dense as to blind him and make it impossible to breathe. He fell unconscious and lay upon the floor some time. The guests came rushing out, and some one stumbled over him and fell heavily. This aroused him enough so that he got up and reached a window where he could get fresh air. He escaped from the building none the worse for his experience.

Norman said that many of the servants must have perished in this way. He says they were apprised of the fire in time to save themselves, but that they ran around to arouse the guests, and in doing this they were overcome by smoke. Norman was on the fourth floor of the hotel. The servants had their rooms on the fifth floor, and he thinks that those who were above him were cut off from all escape.

It is asserted by the hotel people that the help were apprised of the fire in time to save themselves, but that they ran around to arouse the guests, and in doing this were overcome by smoke.

Platt Criticizes Parkhurst.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Jan. 1.—Ex-United States Senator Thomas C. Platt, of New York, who is here visiting relatives, in an interview discussed the Rev. Dr. Parkhurst and his methods without reserve. "I opposed Dr. Parkhurst," said he, "because I did not think his methods practical, and because I looked upon his schemes as being visionary. His idea of a one headed police force is simply absurd, and would put in the hands of the man at the head of that department a power that he might use to the great disadvantage of the force. His intentions are sincere, but they are visionary, and therefore of no use. He has done a great deal of good, of course, but I believe his head is swollen by the flattery of the New York newspapers." Mr. Platt does not believe that Mayor Strong will accept the resignation of Superintendent Byrnes.

Suspicions of Murder.

NEW YORK, Jan. 1.—Whether or no Harry W. Tilden, of Greensboro, N. C., has met with foul play, is suggested by the arrest of Max Mechela, who is suspected of being a steamboat crook. Mechela was arrested last Wednesday and in the Essex Market police court yesterday afternoon he was remanded till tomorrow in order to afford the police an opportunity to obtain evidence against him. When Mechela was arrested seven trunks and valises containing property of the aggregate value of $500 were found in his apartments, in addition to some mining stock (face value $45,000). It is supposed that these bonds are owned by Harry W. Tilden, who left Greensboro, N. C., eight months ago, and has not since been heard from.

A Big Firm Charged with Fraud.

NEW YORK, Jan. 1.—Attachments aggregating $20,000 have been filed against J. Lichtenstein & Sons, dry goods and millinery dealers at West Twenty-third and Grand streets, who went into liquidation last week. Application is pending for attachments to the amount of $40,000. The attachments were granted on the ground, as alleged, that the firm had disposed of their property with the intent to defraud their creditors. The allegations of fraud also involve the firm of Ehrich Brothers, who took possession of the Lichtensteins' stock.

Canadian Cattle Also Excluded.

OTTAWA, Ont., Jan. 1.—The department of agriculture has ascertained that the term "America" in Germany's decree prohibiting the entry of live cattle from America also includes Canada. The government has therefore asked the Imperial authorities to make overtures to the German government to have Canada dissociated in interpretation with the term American, since the minister of agriculture reports Texas fever unknown in Canada.

Thrown from a Sleigh and Killed.

CARLISLE, Pa., Jan. 1.—While Thomas Anderson and wife, of New Kingston, were returning from church in a sleigh some fast drivers frightened their horse, causing him to run away. Mrs. Anderson was thrown from the sleigh and killed, her neck being broken.

Twenty-five Sailors Probably Drowned.

HAMBURG, Jan. 1.—It is regarded as certain that the collier Napoli and the fishing steamer Nordsee foundered during the recent gale. There were twenty-five persons on both vessels, and there is hardly a doubt that all of them were drowned.

THE DEMAND OF A JUDGE.

Insists Upon a Pledge That Will Prevent a Lynching.

WILL NOT SURRENDER A PRISONER

Until the Governor of Kentucky Gives His Guarantee That the Man Will Receive a Fair Trial—He Had Given Up Two Men Who Were Lynched.

CINCINNATI, Jan. 1.—Judge Buchwalter refused to surrender Rev. A. H. Hampton, alias Alexander Jackson, a colored minister, to Deputy Sheriff W. W. Perrin, of Lebanon, Ky., until he had assurance of Governor Brown and of the sheriff of Green county, Ky., that the man would be protected from any mob. Rev. Hampton was formerly a teacher at Whitewood, Ky., and had some words with J. C. Durham, a farmer, in June, 1893, because the pupils were stealing the latter's fruit. Hampton shot Durham, but not fatally, and fled.

Deputy Sheriff Perrin, a relative of Durham, arrested Hampton while preaching at Avondale. Hampton said he was indicted after Durham had recovered, but was willing to go back if assured a fair trial. He had received letters from prominent people there warning him his life was not safe. A colored man and a colored boy had been lynched there, one for murder and the other for criminal assault, and he would be strung up by a mob if taken back by Deputy Sheriff Perrin.

"I have sent two colored men back lately," said Judge Buchwalter, "one to Georgia and one to Kentucky. Although the offense of the latter, an Italian peddler, was only shooting at somebody, he was taken by a mob out of the Burlington jail and hung to a tree. I determined then I would never send another prisoner south unless I had assurance he would be protected from a mob and given a fair trial. I must have a letter from Governor Brown and the sheriff of your county to that effect."

Hampton was taken back to jail until the further order of the court. Deputy Sheriff Perrin returned, and said he expected to be back with the letters required by Judge Buchwalter.

Quarantined Passengers Released.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 1.—After being detained fourteen days at the Quarantine station at Chester the 365 steerage passengers of the steamship Southwark were released yesterday. They were at once brought to this city. Here they were given hot lunch provided by the company, and after an examination of luggage by the customs officials arrangements were made to send the arrivals to their respective destinations. About 250 left the city, many for New York, and others for various points in the west. The detention was for the period required for the development of smallpox germs, and as no cases developed all danger is considered over.

Death of Bishop Knickerbacher.

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 1.—The Right Rev. David Buell Knickerbacher, D. D., Episcopal bishop of the diocese of Indiana, died last evening of pneumonia. He was born at Schaghticoke, Rennssalaer county, New York, on Feb. 24, 1833, and was the youngest son of Harmon Knickerbacher, widely known as "Prince Knickerbacher." After serving as a missionary in Minneapolis when that city was a hamlet with a population of about 200, Dr. Knickerbacher was, in 1877, elected missionary bishop of Arizona and New Mexico, which election he declined. He was elected third bishop of Indiana in June, 1883.

Cardinal Gibbons Not Going to Rome.

BALTIMORE, Jan. 1.—The announcement was made some time ago that Cardinal Gibbons had been summoned to Rome, and that he contemplated a visit to the pope in the near future. It is announced from a most reliable source that as there was no special reason for the cardinal going to Rome he has given up all idea of going abroad. If the cardinal should go to Rome at all it will be at some remote period as yet undecided.

The Weather.

For eastern Pennsylvania and New Jersey, fair; variable winds. For District of Columbia and Delaware, fair; northerly winds, becoming southerly. Generally fair weather is indicated for all districts. The temperature will rise slightly in the Ohio valley, and remain nearly stationary in the other districts.

STOCK AND PRODUCE MARKETS.

Closing Quotations of the New York and Philadelphia Exchanges.

NEW YORK, Dec. 31.—The last day of the year 1894 was about the dullest of any full business day of the entire month. The total sales barely exceeded 50,000 shares and St. Paul, with sales of 8,500 shares to its credit, was the most active of the whole list. There were periods of extreme stagnation during the day, and at no time was there any animation. Closing bids:
