TWO NOTED CRIMINALS.

Wanted in London for Complicity in Many Crimes.

ONE UNDER ARREST IN AFRICA. The Men Were Awaiting Trial for Murderous Assault, and Jumped Their Hall.

LONDON, Jan. 2.—It is reported that Frank Tarbo, alias Frank Taylor, who, together with William Carroll Woodward, alias Hon. Lionel Musgrave, were arrested here charged with participating in a fight with cut-throats at No. 18 Ulster place, Regents Park, and who afterwards jumped his bail, has been arrested at Cape Town.

Subsequent to the disappearance of Tarbo and Woodward, who also jumped his bail, the police learned that both men were notorious American criminals, and that the outland fight had its origin in a dispute over the spoils of a robbery.

Lying near Cockburn were two cut-throats, Tarbo and Woodward, the occupants of the house, were placed under arrest. They declared that Saville and Cockburn had been wounded in a fight following a drinking bout, and that the cut-throats had been used by them (the prisoners) in self defense.

Then the police discovered, aided by the New York police, that their quondam prisoners were international criminals who were badly wanted. The man Saville turned out to be the younger son of one of the wealthiest dukes, whom Tarbo and Woodward had robbed by means of cards of about $300,000.

Tarbo was at one time a leader of the notorious Johnnie Irving gang, in New York. The London police have been indefatigable in their efforts to locate the pair, and it is thought that they have been successful as far as Tarbo is concerned.

Woodward is wanted to answer for an additional offense committed just as he and his pal were about to quit the country. A man to whom they owed money in some way learned that they had gone to Gravesend. He followed, met them, and demanded the payment of the debt.

Woodward hit him on the head with some sort of a weapon, and nearly killed him. Miss Willard Encourages Strikers. Haverhill, Mass., Jan. 2.—The demonstration of the strikers of this city last night was by far the largest of its kind ever held here.

FUTILITY OF STRIKES.

Discussed by Pennsylvania's Retiring Governor.

THE LOSSES TO THE WORKINGMEN. Governor Pattison Declares They Sacrificed $1,399,423.75 in Fifty-three Strikes—In Twenty-seven Strikes Last Year Only Three Were Won by the Strikers.

HARRISBURG, Jan. 2.—The legislature convened in biennial session at noon yesterday. After the oath of office had been administered to the members of both houses, and other preliminaries had been gone through with, recesses were taken until 3 p. m. In the senate C. Wesley Thomas, of Philadelphia, was chosen president pro tem, and E. W. Smiley, of Venango, was elected chief clerk.

The senate and house reassembled at 3 o'clock, and listened to the reading of the message of retiring Governor Pattison. The governor makes a number of recommendations looking to legislative reform. He says, among other things: "Nothing could more vividly illustrate the unprofitableness of labor strikes and the resulting disadvantages to those who direct them than the statistics of the department of Internal Affairs, according to which the loss in wages in 1903 in Pennsylvania incurred by the striking employes in fifty-three strikes was $1,399,423.75, while the loss of the employers was estimated at $131,650.

The riot of Jan. 27 in Mansfield, Allegheny county, resulting in the burning and destruction of property and loss of at least one life, was largely due to the impulses of a population alien to our laws and language to destroy life and property. Like influence inspired the spirit of destructiveness which permeated the strike of the coke workers in the Conneville region. Non-English speaking miners were conspicuous, too, in the June (1894) strike in Jefferson county, to check which two regiments and a troop of cavalry and the National Guard were called out.

The governor urges the abolition of "plunk me" stores for miners, and the enactment of legislation looking to the placing of additional safeguards around the hazardous work of coal miners. With reference to railroad discrimination the governor says: "More stringent and positive legislation is needed to enforce the anti-discrimination laws. The constitutional inhibition of free passes is practically a dead letter, because appropriate legislation has not been enacted to enforce it."
