

PENCIL POINTS.

Local News Gleanings Condensed for Hasty Perusal.

Many slippery sidewalks. Lent comes late this year.

How are your resolutions? Advertise your sales in the HERALD.

The next holiday Washington's Birthday.

Shooting squirrels and rabbits is now unlawful.

Have you made any mistakes in writing it '94?

The new year moves along just like the old one did.

To-morrow a week Gov. Hastings will be inaugurated.

We fear that newly turned leaf has spots on it already.

Coasting and skating parties are enjoying themselves these days.

The Governor's message is only 21,000 words long, but that's long enough.

The fellow who predicted this would be an open winter has gone out of business.

The man who complains about the cold forgets that we need ice for next summer.

Take care you don't fall on the slippery sidewalks and break your New Year resolutions.

The phonograph is something like the dude in that although it has no brains it talks freely.

Heavy Snow Slides in Pennsylvania.

RENOVO, Pa., Jan. 7.—Snow slides covering five miles, a few miles west of Loch Haven, on the Philadelphia and Erie railroad, blocked traffic yesterday.

A freight train was suddenly submerged by an avalanche of dry, sticky snow, which poured down the mountain side between Ritchie and Hyner like wheat from an elevator.

The train was covered almost its entire length. Crews from the east and west to the number of several hundred came to the rescue, and worked the train through the snow slides for a distance of five miles.

The mail train ran the gauntlet and scraped the white wall, which pressed threateningly against the windows, almost crushing them. The train was in imminent danger of being engulfed or hurled down the bank into the river.

A Moonshiner Captured.

HAZLETON, Pa., Jan. 7.—George Hess, a moonshiner, was captured and brought to this city by Chief of Police J. D. Hampton and United States Marshal John W. Walker, of Pittsburg.

Hess has been conducting an illicit distillery in the mountains for a year or more, and the federal authorities have made exhaustive efforts to locate the still and capture the culprit.

A detective made love to Miss Amanda Shive, whom he felt knew something of the distillery, and having gained her confidence he learned that Hess was the leader of the gang. The still, however, has not been found.

A Georgia Domestic Tragedy.

SAVANNAH, Ga., Jan. 5.—In a fit of jealousy George Jordan, a negro, who has borne an excellent reputation, shot and killed his 10-year-old son, shot his wife in the forehead and through the neck, shot his 3-year-old daughter in the chin and back of the head, and then shot himself twice in the breast.

His wounds are fatal, and it is believed his wife will die. The little girl has a chance to recover, but it is probable that the entire family of four will be wiped out as a result of the day's bold work on the part of the father.

Jordan was perfectly sober. His only explanation is that he wanted to die, and thought it best to take his family with him.

Bloody Battle with Moonshiners.

LITTLE ROCK, Jan. 5.—A battle between a posse of revenue officers and a gang of moonshiners occurred in Van Buren county. The officers discovered the still hidden in the mountain gorge. It was running full blast, five or six men being at work on it.

The moonshiners made a fight, and for a while bullets flew in every direction. Putnam, the leader of the moonshiners, was shot through the head and fell to the ground dead. His nephew, a boy of 17 years, was mortally wounded. Two moonshiners were captured.

Schmitzberger With Escape Prosecution.

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—James Captain Max F. Schmitzberger, who confessed before the Lexow committee, will face Justice Ingraham on Monday morning in answer to the indictment for bribery found against him. A person directly interested in the case has been assured that it would be unnecessary for Captain Schmitzberger's counsel to be present on Monday.

This is supposed to mean that the promise of immunity from prosecution, given before he made his confession to the Lexow committee, will be observed.

Killed by an Electric Wire.

CAMDEN, N. J., Jan. 7.—Henry Shaeffer, 28 years old, of this city, while crossing Market street at Tenth street last night was struck and instantly killed by a fallen telephone wire, which was in contact with an electric light wire. His face was frightfully burned before the wire was removed by a trolley motorman with rubber gloves.

Killed by Playing Bad Music.

HAZLETON, Pa., Jan. 7.—Joseph Washkovitch died at the hospital yesterday from a broken skull. Last Friday he played the concertina at a Hungarian dance, and because his music was unsatisfactory John Lapka struck him on the head with a beer bottle. The murderer fled, and is still in hiding.

Bandits Destroy a Town.

ARDMORE, I. T., Jan. 7.—The little town of Nebo, twenty miles northeast of here, has been visited by three men who robbed the stores of Tucker & Walker and Roger Brothers, broke open the safe and fired the buildings. The town is in ashes. The sheriff has struck the trail of the robbers.

Charged with the Matson Murder.

TOPERA, Kan., Jan. 7.—The police arrested Samuel Milton and wife, colored, on a charge of complicity in the murder of Mrs. A. D. Matson. The police decline to make public the evidence against the parties. Six persons have thus far been arrested for the Matson murder.

Argentine to Purchase War Material.

BUENOS AYRES, Jan. 7.—A commission composed of General Buzo, Admiral Soler and other officers will start for Europe on Friday for the purpose of purchasing war material.

An Italian Ambassador Recalled.

ROME, Jan. 7.—Signor Rossman, the Italian ambassador to France, has been recalled. Count Gallina, first secretary of the embassy, will act as chargé d'affaires.

Carlton Cornwell, foreman of the Chamberlain's Cough Remedy should be in every home. He used it for a cold and it effected a speedy cure. He says: "It is indeed a grand remedy. I can recommend it to all. I have also seen it used for whooping cough, with the best results."

There is good reason for the popularity of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Dr. J. C. Buzard, of West Monterey, Clarion Co., Pa., says: "It has cured people that our physicians could do nothing for. We persuaded them to try a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and they now recommend it with the rest of us."

THE DELAWARE SENATORSHIP.

The Contest Between Higgins and Addicks for the Coveted Honor.

WILMINGTON, Del., Jan. 7.—Interest in the senatorial contest was revived by the return of J. Edward Addicks from his last visit to Sussex county. Mr. Addicks, in company with Representative Charles L. Moore, his most active lieutenant in the house of representatives, and Dr. Caleb H. Layton, of Georgetown, spent Saturday night at the house of Representative George H. Townsend, of Baltimore hundred, at Frankford. Representative Townsend is one of the Sussex members of the ANTHONY HIGGINS, J. EDWARD ADDICKS, legislators credited with leanings in the direction of Senator Higgins. What result, if any, attended the misadventure visit of Messrs. Addicks, Moore and Layton has not developed.

The senatorial contest will be actively renewed when the general assembly reconvenes at Dover this afternoon. It is given out that a caucus may be sprung tonight. The caucus may not be held at all. There are rumors that the Addicks men will refuse to go into caucus if it should be made apparent that a majority of the members are likely to vote for Senator Higgins. On the other hand, there are good grounds for believing that at least five Higgins members would refuse to go into caucus if they believed there was a reasonable probability of Addicks' nomination.

Sunk by Collision, Four Drowned.

BOSTON, Jan. 7.—Pilot boat No. 3, the D. J. Lawler, of this city, was sunk by the schooner Horace B. Parker, of Gloucester, off Minots ledge and four of the crew of the pilot boat perished. Rudolph Harrison, the steward of the Lawler, was the only one who escaped. The pilot boat was cut almost in two by the force of the collision, and sunk immediately. The Parker was badly damaged. The crew of the Parker made every effort to save the men on the Lawler, but the schooner was covered with ice, and before her boats could be cleared all of the sailors in the water were drowned. It is probable that they went down at once, as all but Laurine were asleep in the cabin at the time.

Strikers Charged with Incendiarism.

DUBOIS, Pa., Jan. 7.—The large general store of Bell & Lewis, at this place, was burned to the first story yesterday, and the stock of merchandise was totally ruined by water. The loss will reach $75,000. The store was known as the "Company's Store," and is generally thought to have been owned by Bell, Lewis & Yates, the coal operators, whose miners are out on strike, and it is the prevailing belief that the fire was incendiary in its origin. The miners say they believe the company is trying to disrupt their union, and that they will fight until starvation again compels them to submit.

Feeding the Hungry at St. John's.

ST. JOHN'S, N. F., Jan. 7.—A number of citizens have combined to bring about the holding of a patriotic convention composed of the clergy, magistrates and traders of the principal towns to devise ways and means for extricating the colony from the present position and for relieving the poverty which is so general. The crew of the warship Tourmaline fed 300 hungry people yesterday. Necessity for generosity of this character is becoming daily more apparent, and the establishment of a food depot is contemplated.

Braddock Strikers Return to Work.

BRADDOCK, Pa., Jan. 7.—Most of the striking Hungarians at the Edgar Thomson blast furnaces returned to work on Saturday, and the rest are rushing back for their old places. They will receive $1.45 for twelve hours. Notices were posted in all departments of the Edgar Thomson steel plant Saturday by Manager James Gayley, stating that the steel department would resume in full on Tuesday morning, and 4,000 men will return to work.

Sanitized a Governor's Requisition.

CINCINNATI, Jan. 7.—Rev. A. A. Hampton, the noted preacher, who has been held here on a requisition from the governor of Kentucky as a fugitive from justice for shooting a man who accused him of theft, was given his freedom by Judge Buchwalter. The court decided that the papers in the case were defective and that the prisoner's life would be jeopardized in case he should be taken back to Kentucky.

BREAK IN THE WEATHER.

The Thawing Helped to Make the Pavements Clean.

The rain and fall in the temperature has had a beneficial effect for pavement travelers. The hard-caked snow and ice that made walking so dangerous the past few days has been converted into slush and most of it has been drained into the gutters. The shovel and broom brigades can do good work now at an expense of very little exertion. They have made charges in many parts of town and nice, clean pavements mark the work. The rain that fell Saturday night and early yesterday morning was quickly converted into ice by the low temperature and made the pavements very dangerous for pedestrians. Falls were numerous, but no serious results were reported. The electric railways were considerably embarrassed yesterday morning. The ice accumulated on the trolley wires and clogged the trolley wheels, and the wires had to be cleaned by running the cars full speed for short distances and then run them back and making another spurt forward. Each spurt stripped the ice from the wire for a distance of about twenty or thirty feet. It was slow and tedious work. The Lakeside road got in full operation by noon yesterday. The Schuykill Traction Company got to the corner of Main and Centre streets last night.

Late Literary News.

An old-fashioned sea story full of interest and adventure, with a strong love motive, is begun by W. Clark Russell in the January Cosmopolitan. "Ouida" succeeds Fronde, Gosse, Lang, and other distinguished writers with an instalment of the "Great Passions of History" series, which has been appearing in the Cosmopolitan. A discussion is aroused by Mr. Edward Bok's article on "The Young Man and the Church," which will consume tons of ink before it is settled. Just preceding the famous Charcot's death he prepared an article for The Cosmopolitan on Pasteur, to be published after Pasteur's death. But Charcot had died first, and so with the consent of Charcot's executors, the article is given now. The present "Theatrical Season in New York" is critically considered by Mr. James S. Metcalf, editor of Life, and there are stories by Tourge, Hollis, and the famous French writer, Francois Coppee.

Lynfwy Dead.

Thomas L. Morgan (Lynfwy), one of the best known Welshmen of the anthracite region, and a former resident of Shenandoah, died at Scranton on Friday of general debility, aged 65 years. He was a man of strong literary attainments and was well known in Welsh literary circles. He was also an antiquarian and an authority on Welsh lore and on the old castles and Welsh nobility from its earliest history. He was a native of Maesteg, Wales, and emigrated to the United States thirty years ago, and for years carried on a successful merchant tailoring business. He brought up a large family, all of whom are worthy citizens, including Tallie Morgan, the well-known prohibition orator, and William Morgan, the leader of the Forest City choir, that took a prize at the eisteddfod at Scranton in September. Deceased was secretary of the National Eisteddfod of Wales in 1892.

Lexow Wants More Investigating.

ALBANY, Jan. 7.—In the state senate this week Senator Lexow will introduce a resolution extending the time of the investigation of the Lexow committee, and giving it further powers, but allowing it to make a preliminary report. Mr. Conkling, in the assembly, is likely to interfere with such an investigation by introducing a bill empowering the mayor of New York to appoint a municipal committee of his own to go into an investigation of every city department.

Two Miners Crushed to Death.

HAZLETON, Pa., Jan. 7.—John Gillespie, a miner, and Michael Mohantak, his laborer, were killed in No. 1 slope at the Beaver Meadow colliery of the Cross Creek Coal company. Gillespie had prepared a blast and was examining the chamber preparatory to setting it off. Suddenly there was an immense fall of coal and rock, completely filling the breast and covering the unfortunate men beneath many tons of debris.

A Family Drowned Beneath Ice.

PARKESTOWN, W. Va., Jan. 7.—Charles Drossel, of Gilmer, accompanied by his wife and one child, attempted to cross the Little Kanawha on the ice above West Fork in a two horse wagon. When about midway the team and wagon went through an air hole under the ice. All three were drowned.

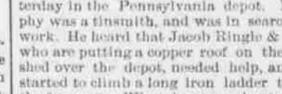

Fatal Skating Accident.

LANCASTER, Pa., Jan. 7.—Walter Frank Harnish, of West Willow, aged 24 years, was skating on the Conestoga creek at Lancaster, he tripped on his skate strap and fell, striking the back of his head on the ice. A blood vessel of the brain was burst, and his injuries are probably fatal.

Killed While Seeking Work.

JESSEY CITY, Jan. 5.—Frank Murphy, aged 37, was almost instantly killed yesterday in the Pennsylvania depot. Murphy was a tinsmith, and was in search of work. He heard that Jacob Ringle & Son, who are putting a copper roof on the big shed over the depot, needed help, and he started to climb a long iron ladder to see the foreman. When he was about forty feet up he lost his footing and threw out his hands to save himself. In so doing he grasped a live electric wire. He held on to the wire with both hands for several moments and then fell to the ground. He was dead when the employees, attracted by his cries, reached his side. The man's hands were still smoking and the flesh was burned away clean to the bone. Murphy leaves a widow and several children in destitute circumstances.
