THE ELECTION NEXT SPRING.

Opponents of the Democrats May Retain Their Title.

"CITIZENS" STILL WANTED.

Many Republican Voters Think It More Advisable to Sail Into the Battle Under the Old Name.

There is considerable discussion as to the wisdom of abolishing the Citizens ticket for the approaching spring election and putting a straight Republican ticket in the field, and it is not improbable that at its meeting on the 15th inst. the Standing Committee will reconsider the action it took at its last meeting, so far as the name of the ticket is concerned.

For several years past there has been a howl on the part of the Republican voters of the borough against the imposition practiced at their primaries by Democrats who took a hand in the meetings for no other reason than to serve personal ends, or to bring about the weakest nomination possible, so that the Democrats would have less trouble to defeat them. With each recurring year the cry for a straight Republican system has increased and last Spring it was so formidable that many thought that in instructing the Standing Committee to adopt the Crawford county system the primaries had also instructed a change of the name from "Citizens" to "Republican." This, it appears from investigation, was an error.

The resolution by which one of the primaries decided upon the adoption of the Crawford county system has been resurrected. It bears the signatures of one hundred and seven voters of the ward in which the primary was held and set forth: "We therefore recommend that the city committee of the Citizens party abolish the present confere system of making nominations, and substitute therefor a regular system of balloting for candidates at the primaries, under which the nominees of the borough, as well as the ward tickets, shall be chosen by popular vote."

It will be seen that no reference was made to a change of the party name, and this having been established, together with the apparent weight of sentiment in favor of retaining the name "Citizens," there is reason to believe that the Standing Committee will rescind its action in changing the name and have the old one restored.

The name of the party can in no way interfere with the operation of the new system, so that there can be no objection to the re-adoption of the old name on that score.

You will never find Brennan's cigars in dive saloons. They are for fine trade only—hotels, cafes and drug stores.

Building Plans.

C. E. Titman has decided upon the improvements to the East Centre street property he recently purchased from Richard Harington. He will not build a theatre because he has not sufficient room, and he will not convert any part of the building into a lodge or ball room on account of the trouble required to look after such places. The frame building at the Market street end of the property will be torn down and in its place and on the lot immediately adjoining on Centre street he will erect a substantial brick building that will have store rooms on the ground floor and offices and gentlemen's lodging apartments in the upper stories. The latter apartments will be fitted up with all modern conveniences and will be intended for gentlemen who do not like hotels or boardinghouses.

Zollner's Rage.

William Zollner, a desperate character of this town, who is serving a term of two years in the Pottsville jail for the part he took in robbing the house of Danie Brennan, on West Coal street, attacked Warden Dunkelberger at the prison on Monday night. Zollner became enraged because another prisoner had been placed in his cell and an attempt was made to handcuff him. He fastened his teeth in Dunkelberger's forearm and his hold was only broken after much difficulty.

Glover's Hill Shots.

EDITOR HERALD:—I read in last night's HERALD that there is but few marksmen in the vicinity of Glover's Hill. It is my opinion that there is as good marksmen on Glover's Hill as there is in any part of Shenandoah, especially where the HERALD is. It is not the marksmen's business to go around on the Sabbath day looking for vicious dogs with a shotgun or a revolver, and that was the only time it was seen around Glover's Hill, or you bet the worst marksman would have shot it, let alone the best.

Week of Prayer.

A week of prayer was opened in the Presbyterian church, corner of White and Oak streets, last evening. There will be preaching service every evening during the week except Saturday. The meetings will be opened at 7:30 each evening with a service of song lasting fifteen minutes. Everybody welcome.

IMPROVEMENTS COMPLETED.

Transformation Made at the Shenandoah Beef Company's Place.

T. G. Mayberry, manager of the Shenandoah Beef Company, can boast of having the finest and most modern equipped stables in this county at his establishment corner of Bowers and Centre streets. A score or more of carpenters, painters and other workmen spent several days in overhauling the old stables at the north end of the company's building and the result of their labors is pleasing to behold. The first, or ground floor, has received a flooring of asphalt which is graded so as to carry all drainings to a sewer trap fixed in the centre. This place will be used as a place of storage for the wagons and a hot and cold apparatus is at hand to wash the vehicles. Easy inclines for horses to travel lead from the wagon shed to the second floor, which is fitted with three elegant stalls having the latest improved feed chutes and cast iron pans connected with gutters to carry off all drainings. The horses rest on slated floorings covering the stalls. The general flooring of the stall room is calked and tarred as the deck of a ship and is perfectly water tight. At the end of the three stalls is an apartment that can be used either as a box stall or feed room. The attic above the second floor will be used as a storage place for hay and feed, which will be fed to the horses by means of the chutes leading to the stalls below. The stable is fitted with harness hooks and all the latest modern improvements for places in which it is calculated horses shall be kept clean, comfortable and healthy. The entire building is illuminated by electricity. The improvements to the building have not been limited to the stables. The ice chamber connected with the main building has been relined and enlarged. It formerly held but ninety tons of ice, but now has capacity for 135 tons. The exterior of the entire building has also been improved by a coating of attractive paint. As soon as the weather permits the Centre and Bowers street pavements of the property will receive a substantial coating of asphalt. All these improvements show that the Shenandoah Beef Company is prosperous and that its meats continue gaining popularity with the people.

THREE LIVES LOST.

Running Pillars in the Richardson Colliery Cause Disaster.

SADDLING THE COSTS.

A Grand Jury Lesson Given to Prosecutors.

HOW THEY GET TO COURT.

When the Accused Waive a Hearing the Justices Have no Alternative But to Send the Cases to Court.

The Grand Jury now in session at Pottsville seems to be composed of the kind of timber the people have been seeking for some time—the kind of men who realize the great injustice of dismissing complaints in petty suits and putting the costs on the taxpayers, while thick-headed people who invoke the aid of the law to vent their spleen go their way peacefully, satisfied with putting those who they prosecuted to the trouble of attending court. Yesterday seven cases of that kind, all from Shenandoah, too, were ignored by the Grand Jury, and in each case the costs were put on the prosecutor. This may have the effect of making some of the habitual and vindictive litigants think before they launch suits in the future.

A Justice of town said to-day, "The Justices cannot be held responsible for returning these petty cases to court. The prosecutors come before us and tell stories that form excellent grounds for suits. We issue warrants and when the accused appear they almost invariably waive a hearing and we have no alternative, but must put them under ball."

A case in point came up yesterday before Justice Toomey when Mike Stock prosecuted Mike Sharot for perjury. Stock was prosecuted before Justice Cardin for creating a disturbance in Sharot's house. The prosecutor alleged that Stock was put out of his house, but returned and attempted to stab Sharot. This case was settled. In the perjury case yesterday Stock swore and presented witnesses who swore that the man did not return to the house after he left it and that no knife was exposed at any time that night. Sharot was asked what he had to say in his own behalf and replied that he would neither deny nor affirm the charge, but go to court and tell his story there. He was put under ball.

COMPLAINTS OF CITIZENS.

Corner Loungers and a Mislaid Letter Box Cause Trouble.

The attention of the police is called to the Farmer's hotel corner, Main and Coal streets, which is almost continually occupied by young men who insult passersby. The other evening a gentleman from Mahanoy City had his hat ruined by snow balls thrown by this crowd and when he protested he was jeered and otherwise insulted. One of the policemen visited the corner and, of course, saw no disturbance, but he had hardly turned his back when the crowd resumed its tactics and carried them out with a high hand. This evil can only be abated by the police dispersing the crowd and allowing no loafing about the hotel.

SHOULD BE CHANGED.

The letter box at the corner of Cherry and Gilbert streets is causing considerable annoyance. It is so located as to be an obstruction to people who must pass over the pavement. A little girl was so badly injured by striking her head against it that she had to be carried to her home, and on another occasion an old lady who collided with the box was thrown to the pavement with such force as to almost cause the fracture of an arm.

Temporary Quarters.

Dr. J. C. Church has opened a temporary office at No. 115 South White street. Office hours, 7 to 9 a. m. and 1 to 3 p. m. 1w

Fell in Himself.

Ellis Supowitz, the South Main street clothier, went to New York city last Saturday to attend the wedding of a friend and while there became engaged to Miss Sophie Jacobs, an accomplished young lady of the great metropolis, who made many friends during a recent visit to town. The wedding will take place in New York city on March 17th, next. Mr. Supowitz returned last evening.

The Minstrels.

Dockstader's Minstrels was a disappointment at Ferguson's theatre last evening. Stripped of Frank White's drollery the entertainment would have been very flat. Lew Dockstader failed to live up to his reputation and spoiled his funny stories in many instances by spinning them wrong end foremost. The dancing of "Young Sastus" was well applauded.

Popular Winter Resort.

The Lakeside Hotel is the most popular resort for sleighing parties in Schuylkill county. The accommodations are the very best. The magnificent and well heated dancing pavilion is always open.

"The Outcast."

The romantic drama, "The Outcast," presented at the opera house last night, was a complete success. Its story is told with simplicity and directness, its scenes are carried on amid such picturesque surroundings as never fail to gratefully impress the eye, and bits of comedy of a kind that invariably appeals to a popular assemblage, alternate with pathos that stirs with unflinching swiftness the emotions of the throng. Harold Holmes wins the sympathy of his spectators at once, and in the third act rouses them to unwonted excitement by his meeting with his enemy and his simple bravery and determination. —Atlanta Constitution. Will be produced at Ferguson's theatre, Tuesday, Jan. 15th.
