

Tired, Weak, Nervous Could Not Sleep.

Prof. L. D. Edwards, of Preston, Idaho, says: "I was all run down, weak, nervous and irritable through overwork. I suffered from brain fatigue, mental depression, etc. I became so weak and nervous that I could not sleep. I would arise tired, discouraged and blue. I began taking and now everything is changed. I sleep soundly, I feel bright, active and ambitious. I can do more in one day now than I used to do in a week. For this great good I give Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine the sole credit. It cures."

Dr. Miles' Nervine

Dr. Miles' Nervine is sold on a positive guarantee that the first bottle will benefit. All druggists sell it at $1.00 per bottle, or it will be sent, prepaid, on receipt of price by the Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.

Gilmore's Aromatic Wine

A tonic for ladies. If you are suffering from weakness, and feel exhausted and nervous; are getting thin and all run down, Gilmore's Aromatic Wine will bring roses to your cheeks and restore you to flesh and plumpness. Mothers, use it for your daughters. It is the best regulator and corrector for all ailments peculiar to womanhood. It promotes digestion, enriches the blood and gives lasting strength. Sold by A. W. WASLEY, 106 N. Main St., Shenandoah, Pa.

HUMPHREYS' VETERINARY SPECIFICS

For Horses, Cattle, Sheep, Dogs, Hogs, AND POULTRY. 500 Page Book on Treatment of Animals and Chart Sent Free. Cures: Fevers, Congestions, Inflammation, A. A. S. Spinal Meningitis, Milk Fever, E. E. Strains, Lameness, Rheumatism, C. C. Distemper, Nasal Discharges, D. D. -Bots or Grubs, Worms, E. E. -Coughs, Hiccups, Flatulencies, F. F. -Colic or Grips, Bellyache, G. G. -Miscellaneous Hemorrhages, H. H. -Urinary and Kidney Diseases, I. I. -Eruptive Diseases, Mange, J. J. -Diseases of Digestion, Paralysis. Single Bottle over 50 doses, .60 Stable Cases, with Specifics, Manual, Veterinary Cure Oil and Medicator, $7.00 Jar Veterinary Cure Oil, 1.00

HUMPHREYS' HOMEOPATHIC SPECIFIC No. 28

In less than 30 days. The only essential remedy for Nervous Debility, Vital Weakness, etc. Frigidity, from overwork or other cause. $1 per vial, or 5 vials and large vial powder, for $5. Sold by Druggists, or sent prepaid on receipt of price. HUMPHREYS' MED. CO., 111 & 113 William St., New York.

T. M. REILLY'S

CENTRALIA'S POPULAR HOTEL

Where you can always get a glass of Cool Beer and Refreshing Wines. Whiskey, etc. Don't forget the place.

T. M. REILLY'S, Locust Avenue, CENTRALIA, PA.

HARTMAN STEEL PICKET FENCE

HOTEL KAIER

CHAS. BURCHILL, Prop. North Main St., MAHANAY CITY.

Largest and finest hotel in the region. Finest accommodations. Handsome fixtures. Pool and Billiard Rooms Attached.

When in POTTSVILLE, Stop at

PHIL. WOLL'S HOTEL

200 North Centre Street. Meals at all hours. Ladies' dining room attached. Finest wines, Honors, cigars.

A BIG COMBINATION.

To Materially Advance the Price of Bessemer Iron Ore.

ROCKEFELLER INTERESTS BARRED.

The Owners of the Vermillion, Norre and Colby Groups of Mines, Who Control Three-fourths of the Iron Ore Output, Banded Together.

DULUTH, Minn., Jan. 11.—The details of what is to be one of the biggest combinations in raw materials in the United States are now under consideration. The probabilities are that within a few weeks the combination will be effected so that there shall be no competition, and so that reasonably good prices shall be obtained for three-quarters of the Bessemer iron ore mined in this country.

There will be but three companies in the deal. These are the Minnesota Iron company, the giant of them all, with an expected output of 400,000 tons from its lower mine and 600,000 tons from its Chandler mine, both on the Vermillion range; the Norre, of the Gogebic, which put out this year nearly 1,000,000 tons; and the Colby group, also of the Gogebic range, which has been put into such shape that it can come well up toward the capacity of the Norre. These three companies will mine fully three-fourths of the Bessemer output of the country.

The expectation is that the sale of the ores of these companies will be made chiefly by one firm of Cleveland brokers, and the idea is to put the price for next season's delivery at about $3.50 per ton, instead of $2.50 to $3.00, the prevailing prices for the past season. The combination will even then be selling ore for less than the same quality ever sold, with one exception, in this country.

The reason that draws the big concern into this deal is said to be the opinion of the Rockefeller organization that it holds the long end in iron affairs. The other companies think this is a good time to remove this impression, and so no attention will be paid to Mesaba ores in the combination.

North Carolina Legislature.

RALEIGH, Jan. 11.—The legislature is getting ready for some effective but conservative work. Bills have been introduced in both houses to reduce the legal rate of interest from 8 to 6 per cent. The last legislature made some amendments to the charter of the state Farmers' Alliance by which the work of that organization was considerably weakened. Senator Norborne introduced a bill to repeal these amendments, and the bill passed its three readings. The senate will arrange to have its standing committees appointed by a special committee, and not by the president of the senate, as is customary. This is because the president, who is the lieutenant governor of the state, holds his office by Democratic suffrage.

Armor Plate for Russia.

BETHLEHEM, Pa., Jan. 11.—Lieutenant J. P. Meigs, the armor expert of the Bethlehem Iron company, has arrived here from Russia, having in his pocket the contract of the Russian government with his company for 1,500 tons of armor plate. The contract calls for non-hardened armor plate, which will be used on two warships which the czar's government is building. Twelve hundred tons will be of sixteen inch thickness and 300 tons of seven inches. The contract requires that 600 tons be delivered in St. Petersburg within seven months from the receipt of drawings and the balance in five months.

Reception to the Diplomatic Corps.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—The reception to the diplomatic corps, the first of the four evening receptions given by the president each year, was held last night at the White House. The corridors and rooms were decorated with banks of exquisite flowers, and the Marine band was in attendance. Nearly all the members of the various embassies and legations were present in their official uniforms and wearing their orders and decorations. The members of the cabinets, many senators and representatives and a number of army and navy officers also attended.

Mine Workers Aid Nebraska Sufferers.

WHEELING, W. Va., Jan. 11.—A train of twenty cars of coal will be sent from Fairmont, this state, to the Nebraska sufferers—a contribution from the miners employed in the vicinity of Fairmont. The coal will be donated by the mine owners, and the miners will give their labor in digging it and loading it on the cars. The Baltimore and Ohio railroad will haul the train free of cost as far as Chicago, where it will be taken by some other road to whatever destination is designated by the governor of Nebraska.

Wire Workers Locked Out.

SALEM, O., Jan. 11.—For refusing to accept a 30 per cent. reduction in wages the wire drawers of the Salem Wire Nail company were ordered by Superintendent Baschke to take their tools from the mill, and were locked out. The men insist upon the company keeping faith with them by paying their scale of wages, which they say was agreed upon. It is stated that the company will bring in new men to fill the places of the local men.

The Decrease of Immigration.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—Reports from immigration authorities at New York show that the whole number of immigrants arriving during December was 11,000. Of this number 196 were debarred entrance as paupers, and 93 as contract laborers, while 10 were admitted on bond. Of the whole number 3,498 were temporarily detained for more thorough inspection.

Vienna Under a Snowy Mantle.

VIENNA, Jan. 11.—A terrific snow storm has swept over Vienna, leaving the city almost isolated. Railway and vehicle traffic are reduced to a minimum. Over 3,500 men are at work clearing the streets. The supplies of vegetables, meat and milk have almost failed. There are seven feet of snow in the suburbs.

Speedy Legislation in Kansas.

TOPEKA, Kan., Jan. 11.—The house broke the legislative record yesterday by passing the Cubbin anti-lottery bill. This is the quickest work ever done in a Kansas legislature, it being only the second day of this session.

The Weather Tomorrow.

For Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware, Virginia and the District of Columbia, rain; cooler; westerly winds. Slightly lower temperature is indicated for the middle and south Atlantic states and in the lake region.

LIFE WAS A BURDEN.

A Pain-racked Sufferer Tells An Interesting Story.

How He Was Tortured for Years And Finally Cured By Munyon's Remedy.

Charles Wark, of 14 N. Twenty-fourth St., Philadelphia, has been a constant sufferer from rheumatism for years. He was cured by the use of Munyon's Rheumatism Cure. This is his story:

"I was afflicted with rheumatism in the right shoulder and suffered the most excruciating agony. Sharp shooting pains darted through it so intense I could not sleep nights. Even the weight of the bed clothes was more than I could bear; neither could I lie on the right side or on my back. Life became a perfect burden to me. I could not raise my hand to my head, and when I attempted to put on my coat or any article of dress, the torture was enough to drive me wild. Many remedies were suggested and tried, but none did me the slightest good, and I began to despair of ever being able to obtain relief. Some time ago, however, I procured Munyon's Rheumatism Cure. It afforded me relief after the first few doses, and by the time the little 25 cent bottle was gone I was entirely free from pain. I have had no return of my old enemy, and I feel satisfied I am permanently cured. It seems so wonderful I can hardly realize it, and can only show my appreciation of the merits of the cure by recommending it to other sufferers."

Munyon's Rheumatism Cure is guaranteed to cure rheumatism in any part of the body. Acute or muscular rheumatism, then cured in from one to five days. It never fails to cure sharp, shooting pains in the arms, legs, sides, back or breast, or soreness in any part of the body in from one to three hours. It is guaranteed to promptly cure lameness, stiff and swollen joints, stiff back, and all pains in the hips and loins. Chronic rheumatism, sciatica, lumbago or pain in the back are speedily cured. Munyon's Homeopathic Home Remedy Company, of Philadelphia, put up specifics for nearly every disease, which are sold by all druggists, mostly for 25 cents a bottle.

Professional Cards.

M. S. KISTLER, M. D., PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON. Office—130 North Jardin street, Shenandoah.

M. M. BURKE, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, SHENANDOAH, PA. Office—Egan building, corner of Main and Centre streets, Shenandoah.

W. N. STEIN, M. D., PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON. Office—Room 2 Egan's New Building, corner Main and Centre streets, Shenandoah, Pa. Office Hours: 8 to 10 a. m.; 1 to 3 p. m.; 7 to 9 p. m. Night office—No. 220 West Oak street

D. WENDELL WEBER, Successor to DR. CHAS. T. PALMER, EYE AND EAR SURGEON, 301 Mahantongo Street, Pottsville, Penn.

Political Cards.

FOR SCHOOL DIRECTOR, Second Ward. BENJAMIN C. CHURCH. Subject to Republican rules.

FOR SCHOOL DIRECTOR, Third Ward. T. R. EDWARDS. Subject to Republican rules.

FOR SCHOOL DIRECTOR, Second Ward. JOHN J. PRICE. Subject to Republican rules.

FOR HIGH CONSTABLE. JAMES EMANUEL. Subject to the rules of the Republican party.

Your Stomach : : :

Cannot stand the same washing that your boots do, and the water you drink isn't even fit for that purpose. Use Lorenz Schmidt's Beer and Porter.

JAMES SHIELDS, Manager Shenandoah Branch.

Lauer's Lager and Pilsner Beers

Finest, Purest, Healthiest. Chris. Schmidt, Agt. 307 West Coal St., Shenandoah.

Dr. Theel 1317 Arch St. Philadelphia, Pa.

The Only Genuine Sperminol in America, Notwithstanding What Others Advertise.

NERVOUS DEBILITY AND THE RESULTS OF INDISCRETION

Special Diseases, Venereal Venas and Strictures (No Cutting) Permanently Cured in 4 to 10 Days.

BLOOD POISON

Primary or Secondary cured by entirely new harmless method. 4 years' European Hospital and 25 practical experience, as Certificates and Diplomas prove. Send five-cent stamp for book "THE TRUTH" the only True Medical Book available. It is a true friend to all sufferers and to those contemplating marriage. The most stubborn and dangerous cases relieved. Write or call and be saved. Hours, 9 to 5 p. m.; 1 to 3 p. m. and 7 to 9 p. m. 1317 Arch St., Philadelphia, Pa.

ANSY PILLS

ALL DRUGGISTS GUARD AND BUREAU SEND 4c. FOR "WOMAN'S SAFE" STUBBLE. WELCH SPECIFIC CO., PHILA., PA.

THE SENATE'S COURSE.

Governor Turney Makes a Formal Claim of Re-election.

REFUSED TO CANVASS THE VOTE.

Democrats Refuse to Allow the Result to be Declared Until Action is Taken on a Motion for Investigating Alleged Frauds at the Ballot Box.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Jan. 11.—A new move was made in the gubernatorial fight yesterday. When the senate met the petition of Governor Turney asking to be allowed to appear before the joint convention of the two houses "to contest the returns and to show that I was elected, and that H. Clay Evans was not," was read. This was in the nature of a surprise to many, the fact that such a petition was to be presented not being generally known. No action was taken on the petition.

There was but a short session of the house, the chief interest centering around the senate, where a lively debate was in progress all day. Upon Senator Butler's resolution to fix a day for the meeting of the joint convention to canvass and announce the vote for governor Senator Beine, Democrat, offered a substitute which postpones the convening of the joint convention until an examination into alleged frauds and irregularities shall have been made during this session of the legislature. The debate was opened by Senator Butler, and generally participated in by senators of both parties.

The Republican argument, outlined by Senator Butler, is that the constitution of the state provides that the returns sent by sheriffs to the speaker of the senate shall be openly canvassed and announced in the presence of the members of both houses in joint convention, and that no objection can be made against the correctness of the votes shown by the face of the returns. The Democratic senators contend that the face of the returns is only prima facie evidence, and the correctness of the returns can be ascertained and an investigation had if alleged frauds are proven; that all proper corrections must be made and then the canvass of the votes made and announced by the speaker of the senate.

The debate was along these lines and was quite animated at times and attracted a large audience, the house adjourning to attend. When the senate adjourned the debate had not ended and was resumed this morning. There is much activity shown by the leaders and managers of both sides.

Rumors have been afloat that from nine to thirteen Democratic legislators had promised to vote for the seating of Mr. Evans without an investigation and contest of the returns, and Democratic managers have been busily engaged in running these rumors down. They say there is no truth in them. Conference and meetings behind closed doors by both sides are going on, and there is much hustling being done by the steering committees.

Proposing a Tax on Beer.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—The ways and means committee of the house met at 10:30 this forenoon, on the call of Chairman Wilson. It is the first gathering of the committee in many months, and it is anticipated that important action may be taken in view of the depleted revenue of the treasury. Mr. Wilson called up the resolution introduced by Representative Pence, of Colorado, regarding a revenue to be made by the beer tax, and the probability is that it will be favorably reported. Mr. Wilson's bill for taking off the one-tenth of a cent differential on sugar from countries paying an export bounty is also being considered.

Train Robber Morganfield Objects.

CINCINNATI, Jan. 11.—Charles Morganfield, accused of the Aquia Creek express robbery, was brought before Judge Wilson yesterday. The prisoner objected to the court as being prejudiced, because the judge was the attorney of the Adams Express company and also an owner of its stock. The judge overruled the objection, stating that he never owned a dollar's worth of stock of that company, and had done no legal business for it for twelve years. A long hearing of witnesses to identify the prisoner followed. The hearing was unfinished.

Taylor and Woodward Escape Again.

CAPE TOWN, Jan. 11.—Frank Taylor, alias Frank Taylor, at one time the leader of the notorious Johnny Irving gang of New York, and William Carroll Woodward, alias the Hon. Lionel Musgrave, who were arrested some time ago in London charged with participating in a fight with outlaws, and who subsequently forfeited their bail and were arrested in this colony, have escaped from the custody of the police and are supposed to have gone to Kimberly.

Continuing the Lexow Committee.

ALBANY, Jan. 11.—Senator Lexow has introduced a resolution directing that the special senate committee which has been investigating the New York police department be empowered to investigate the other New York city departments on request of the mayor. The resolution was tabled till Tuesday next, when the report of the police investigation will be submitted.

Not Compulsory Arbitration.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—In a letter to Chairman McGann, of the house committee on labor, Carroll D. Wright calls attention to popular errors regarding the Wright-Kernan arbitration bill. The bill, he declares, does not provide for compulsory arbitration, and does not hold labor organizations responsible for the acts of individuals.

Expelled from Church for Dancing.

WASHINGTON, Mo., Jan. 11.—The church of Washington, the center of western Missouri church conferences, has declared war upon all who dance, and have commenced wooing their congregations of such unworthies. The action is creating much feeling, and members are withdrawing from the different bodies.

California's Governor Inaugurated.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Jan. 11.—J. H. Budd was inaugurated governor of California in the presence of a large assemblage, his plurality having been settled by the legislature yesterday as 1,201. Lieutenant Governor Millard, who is ill at his home in Los Angeles, was sworn in by telephone from the assembly chamber.

Urging Decreased Production.

JACKSON, Miss., Jan. 11.—The convention of cotton growers adopted an address to planters urging decreased production of 25 to 50 per cent. the next year, and declaring overproduction the cause of low prices.

WITH READING IN BETWEEN.

I bought the finest book today A plain on the train. C. S. thirty cent's - I but you'll say It's worth it twice again.

The things an things it tells about. From diamonds down to dye. With pictures of 'em printed out And how and where to buy.

The greatest interest in lot Of new inventions—well, I guess what it hasn't got Or what it doesn't tell!

No, 'tain't no "shoppin' guide," 'cause it Has readin' in between. I kinder think it's called a Bi-Brary magazine!

—Madeline S. Bridges in Ladies' Home Journal.

WHY OUR GIRLS MARRY ABROAD.

Is It to Seek Relief From the Restless Aspirations of Their Countrymen?

Why does the American girl marry the Briton? Has she any adequate justification? Do you suppose it pays her, and can such a choice on her part be defended on large grounds as promotive of the greatest good of the greatest number? Is it a fact, as has been flippantly suggested, that she moves to England to get country life because we have no good roads here yet, or, on the contrary, can it be demonstrated that our roads are better than those of the British? Has she any adequate justification? Do you suppose it pays her, and can such a choice on her part be defended on large grounds as promotive of the greatest good of the greatest number? Is it a fact, as has been flippantly suggested, that she moves to England to get country life because we have no good roads here yet, or, on the contrary, can it be demonstrated that our roads are better than those of the British? Has she any adequate justification? Do you suppose it pays her, and can such a choice on her part be defended on large grounds as promotive of the greatest good of the greatest number? Is it a fact, as has been flippantly suggested, that she moves to England to get country life because we have no good roads here yet, or, on the contrary, can it be demonstrated that our roads are better than those of the British? Has she any adequate justification? Do you suppose it pays her, and can such a choice on her part be defended on large grounds as promotive of the greatest good of the greatest number? Is it a fact, as has been flippantly suggested, that she moves to England to get country life because we have no good roads here yet, or, on the contrary, can it be demonstrated that our roads are better than those of the British? Has she any adequate justification? Do you suppose it pays her, and can such a choice on her part be defended on large grounds as promotive of the greatest good of the greatest number? Is it a fact, as has been flippantly suggested, that she moves to England to get country life because we have no good roads here yet, or, on the contrary, can it be demonstrated that our roads are better than those of the British? Has she any adequate justification? Do you suppose it pays her, and can such a choice on her part be defended on large grounds as promotive of the greatest good of the greatest number? Is it a fact, as has been flippantly suggested, that she moves to England to get country life because we have no good roads here yet, or, on the contrary, can it be demonstrated that our roads are better than those of the British? Has she any adequate justification? Do you suppose it pays her, and can such a choice on her part be defended on large grounds as promotive of the greatest good of the greatest number? Is it a fact, as has been flippantly suggested, that she moves to England to get country life because we have no good roads here yet, or, on the contrary, can it be demonstrated that our roads are better than those of the British? Has she any adequate justification? Do you suppose it pays her, and can such a choice on her part be defended on large grounds as promotive of the greatest good of the greatest number? Is it a fact, as has been flippantly suggested, that she moves to England to get country life because we have no good roads here yet, or, on the contrary, can it be demonstrated that our roads are better than those of the British? Has she any adequate justification? Do you suppose it pays her, and can such a choice on her part be defended on large grounds as promotive of the greatest good of the greatest number? Is it a fact, as has been flippantly suggested, that she moves to England to get country life because we have no good roads here yet, or, on the contrary, can it be demonstrated that our roads are better than those of the British? Has she any adequate justification? Do you suppose it pays her, and can such a choice on her part be defended on large grounds as promotive of the greatest good of the greatest number? Is it a fact, as has been flippantly suggested, that she moves to England to get country life because we have no good roads here yet, or, on the contrary, can it be demonstrated that our roads are better than those of the British? Has she any adequate justification? Do you suppose it pays her, and can such a choice on her part be defended on large grounds as promotive of the greatest good of the greatest number? Is it a fact, as has been flippantly suggested, that she moves to England to get country life because we have no good roads here yet, or, on the contrary, can it be demonstrated that our roads are better than those of the British? Has she any adequate justification? Do you suppose it pays her, and can such a choice on her part be defended on large grounds as promotive of the greatest good of the greatest number? Is it a fact, as has been flippantly suggested, that she moves to England to get country life because we have no good roads here yet, or, on the contrary, can it be demonstrated that our roads are better than those of the British? Has she any adequate justification? Do you suppose it pays her, and can such a choice on her part be defended on large grounds as promotive of the greatest good of the greatest number? Is it a fact, as has been flippantly suggested, that she moves to England to get country life because we have no good roads here yet, or, on the contrary, can it be demonstrated that our roads are better than those of the British? Has she any adequate justification? Do you suppose it pays her, and can such a choice on her part be defended on large grounds as promotive of the greatest good of the greatest number? Is it a fact, as has been flippantly suggested, that she moves to England to get country life because we have no good roads here yet, or, on the contrary, can it be demonstrated that our roads are better than those of the British? Has she any adequate justification? Do you suppose it pays her, and can such a choice on her part be defended on large grounds as promotive of the greatest good of the greatest number? Is it a fact, as has been flippantly suggested, that she moves to England to get country life because we have no good roads here yet, or, on the contrary, can it be demonstrated that our roads are better than those of the British? Has she any adequate justification? Do you suppose it pays her, and can such a choice on her part be defended on large grounds as promotive of the greatest good of the greatest number? Is it a fact, as has been flippantly suggested, that she moves to England to get country life because we have no good roads here yet, or, on the contrary, can it be demonstrated that our roads are better than those of the British? Has she any adequate justification? Do you suppose it pays her, and can such a choice on her part be defended on large grounds as promotive of the greatest good of the greatest number? Is it a fact, as has been flippantly suggested, that she moves to England to get country life because we have no good roads here yet, or, on the contrary, can it be demonstrated that our roads are better than those of the British? Has she any adequate justification? Do you suppose it pays her, and can such a choice on her part be defended on large grounds as promotive of the greatest good of the greatest number? Is it a fact, as has been flippantly suggested, that she moves to England to get country life because we have no good roads here yet, or, on the contrary, can it be demonstrated that our roads are better than those of the British? Has she any adequate justification? Do you suppose it pays her, and can such a choice on her part be defended on large grounds as promotive of the greatest good of the greatest number? Is it a fact, as has been flippantly suggested, that she moves to England to get country life because we have no good roads here yet, or, on the contrary, can it be demonstrated that our roads are better than those of the British? Has she any adequate justification? Do you suppose it pays her, and can such a choice on her part be defended on large grounds as promotive of the greatest good of the greatest number? Is it a fact, as has been flippantly suggested, that she moves to England to get country life because we have no good roads here yet, or, on the contrary, can it be demonstrated that our roads are better than those of the British? Has she any adequate justification? Do you suppose it pays her, and can such a choice on her part be defended on large grounds as promotive of the greatest good of the greatest number? Is it a fact, as has been flippantly suggested, that she moves to England to get country life because we have no good roads here yet, or, on the contrary, can it be demonstrated that our roads are better than those of the British? Has she any adequate justification? Do you suppose it pays her, and can such a choice on her part be defended on large grounds as promotive of the greatest good of the greatest number? Is it a fact, as has been flippantly suggested, that she moves to England to get country life because we have no good roads here yet, or, on the contrary, can it be demonstrated that our roads are better than those of the British? Has she any adequate justification? Do you suppose it pays her, and can such a choice on her part be defended on large grounds as promotive of the greatest good of the greatest number? Is it a fact, as has been flippantly suggested, that she moves to England to get country life because we have no good roads here yet, or, on the contrary, can it be demonstrated that our roads are better than those of the British? Has she any adequate justification? Do you suppose it pays her, and can such a choice on her part be defended on large grounds as promotive of the greatest good of the greatest number? Is it a fact, as has been flippantly suggested, that she moves to England to get country life because we have no good roads here yet, or, on the contrary, can it be demonstrated that our roads are better than those of the British? Has she any adequate justification? Do you suppose it pays her, and can such a choice on her part be defended on large grounds as promotive of the greatest good of the greatest number? Is it a fact, as has been flippantly suggested, that she moves to England to get country life because we have no good roads here yet, or, on the contrary, can it be demonstrated that our roads are better than those of the British? Has she any adequate justification? Do you suppose it pays her, and can such a choice on her part be defended on large grounds as promotive of the greatest good of the greatest number? Is it a fact, as has been flippantly suggested, that she moves to England to get country life because we have no good roads here yet, or, on the contrary, can it be demonstrated that our roads are better than those of the British? Has she any adequate justification? Do you suppose it pays her, and can such a choice on her part be defended on large grounds as promotive of the greatest good of the greatest number? Is it a fact, as has been flippantly suggested, that she moves to England to get country life because we have no good roads here yet, or, on the contrary, can it be demonstrated that our roads are better than those of the British? Has she any adequate justification? Do you suppose it pays her, and can such a choice on her part be defended on large grounds as promotive of the greatest good of the greatest number? Is it a fact, as has been flippantly suggested, that she moves to England to get country life because we have no good roads here yet, or, on the contrary, can it be demonstrated that our roads are better than those of the British? Has she any adequate justification? Do you suppose it pays her, and can such a choice on her part be defended on large grounds as promotive of the greatest good of the greatest number? Is it a fact, as has been flippantly suggested, that she moves to England to get country life because we have no good roads here yet, or, on the contrary, can it be demonstrated that our roads are better than those of the British? Has she any adequate justification? Do you suppose it pays her, and can such a choice on her part be defended on large grounds as promotive of the greatest good of the greatest number? Is it a fact, as has been flippantly suggested, that she moves to England to get country life because we have no good roads here yet, or, on the contrary, can it be demonstrated that our roads are better than those of the British? Has she any adequate justification? Do you suppose it pays her, and can such a choice on her part be defended on large grounds as promotive of the greatest good of the greatest number? Is it a fact, as has been flippantly suggested, that she moves to England to get country life because we have no good roads here yet, or, on the contrary, can it be demonstrated that our roads are better than those of the British? Has she any adequate justification? Do you suppose it pays her, and can such a choice on her part be defended on large grounds as promotive of the greatest good of the greatest number? Is it a fact, as has been flippantly suggested, that she moves to England to get country life because we have no good roads here yet, or, on the contrary, can it be demonstrated that our roads are better than those of the British? Has she any adequate justification? Do you suppose it pays her, and can such a choice on her part be defended on large grounds as promotive of the greatest good of the greatest number? Is it a fact, as has been flippantly suggested, that she moves to England to get country life because we have no good roads here yet, or, on the contrary, can it be demonstrated that our roads are better than those of the British? Has she any adequate justification? Do you suppose it pays her, and can such a choice on her part be defended on large grounds as promotive of the greatest good of the greatest number? Is it a fact, as has been flippantly suggested, that she moves to England to get country life because we have no good roads here yet, or, on the contrary, can it be demonstrated that our roads are better than those of the British? Has she any adequate justification? Do you suppose it pays her, and can such a choice on her part be defended on large grounds as promotive of the greatest good of the greatest number? Is it a fact, as has been flippantly suggested, that she moves to England to get country life because we have no good roads here yet, or, on the contrary, can it be demonstrated that our roads are better than those of the British? Has she any adequate justification? Do you suppose it pays her, and can such a choice on her part be defended on large grounds as promotive of the greatest good of the greatest number? Is it a fact, as has been flippantly suggested, that she moves to England to get country life because we have no good roads here yet, or, on the contrary, can it be demonstrated that our roads are better than those of the British? Has she any adequate justification? Do you suppose it pays her, and can such a choice on her part be defended on large grounds as promotive of the greatest good of the greatest number? Is it a fact, as has been flippantly suggested, that she moves to England to get country life because we have no good roads here yet, or, on the contrary, can it be demonstrated that our roads are better than those of the British? Has she any adequate justification? Do you suppose it pays her, and can such a choice on her part be defended on large grounds as promotive of the greatest good of the greatest number? Is it a fact, as has been flippantly suggested, that she moves to England to get country life because we have no good roads here yet, or, on the contrary, can it be demonstrated that our roads are better than those of the British? Has she any adequate justification? Do you suppose it pays her, and can such a choice on her part be defended on large grounds as promotive of the greatest good of the greatest number? Is it a fact, as has been flippantly suggested, that she moves to England to get country life because we have no good roads here yet, or, on the contrary, can it be demonstrated that our roads are better than those of the British? Has she any adequate justification? Do you suppose it pays her, and can such a choice on her part be defended on large grounds as promotive of the greatest good of the greatest number? Is it a fact, as has been flippantly suggested, that she moves to England to get country life because we have no good roads here yet, or, on the contrary, can it be demonstrated that our roads are better than those of the British? Has she any adequate justification? Do you suppose it pays her, and can such a choice on her part be defended on large grounds as promotive of the greatest good of the greatest number? Is it a fact, as has been flippantly suggested, that she moves to England to get country life because we have no good roads here yet, or, on the contrary, can it be demonstrated that our roads are better than those of the British? Has she any adequate justification? Do you suppose it pays her, and can such a choice on her part be defended on large grounds as promotive of the greatest good of the greatest number? Is it a fact, as has been flippantly suggested, that she moves to England to get country life because we have no good roads here yet, or, on the contrary, can it be demonstrated that our roads are better than those of the British? Has she any adequate justification? Do you suppose it pays her, and can such a choice on her part be defended on large grounds as promotive of the greatest good of the greatest number? Is it a fact, as has been flippantly suggested, that she moves to England to get country life because we have no good roads here yet, or, on the contrary, can it be demonstrated that our roads are better than those of the British?