THE BLUE AND THE GRAY

Sensational Discussion in the Lower House of Congress.

THE FIGHT OVER A PENSION BILL.

A Proposition to Pension General McClernand Meets with Opposition from a Southern Member, Which Arouses the Ire of Representative Champ Clark.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—Practically the whole of yesterday's session of the senate was occupied in the discussion of Mr. Hill's amendment to the urgent deficiency bill designed to afford an opportunity to test the constitutionality of the income tax law. Mr. Hill delivered a long and carefully prepared speech in support of his amendment. Mr. Dubois (Idaho) followed in support of the appropriation to make the law operative, but soon drifted into a discussion of the silver question in which he said that no currency bill could pass that was not liberal towards silver. Mr. Quay (Pa.) supported Mr. Hill's amendment and said it would be the duty of the next Republican congress to repeal the law. Messrs. Sherman (O.) and Mitchell (Ore.) thought the appropriation should be made. Before adjournment Mr. Morgan (Ala.) raised and the chair sustained a point of order against the amendment, from which Mr. Hill appealed and action on this was laid over.

Yesterday was private bill day in the house, but only one bill was considered, a claim of the heirs of William Johnson, of Fayette county, Tenn., for $43,000 worth of stores confiscated during the war. On account of the opposition the bill was finally withdrawn. Nine bills were passed by unanimous consent. The most important was to amend the shipping act of Aug. 19, 1890, so as to eliminate some of the penal provisions of that act, which had proved unduly harsh in their application to seamen on board vessels engaged in the coastwise and nearby foreign trade. Another bill was passed to protect the salmon fisheries of Alaska.

The feature of the night session of the house was the debate which grew out of the attempt of Mr. Springer (Ill.) to pass a bill granting $100 per month to Major General John A. McClernand. Mr. Jones (Va.) insisted upon making the point of no quorum. Mr. Springer, in a heated speech, lectured those of his southern Democratic colleagues who constantly assumed an attitude of hostility toward the pensions of Union soldiers. He called attention to the fact that but thirteen Democrats had been returned to the house from the north. He warned them that if their course was persisted in none would be returned the succeeding congress.

Mr. Ponce (Col.) in an earnest speech appealed to Mr. Jones to withdraw his points and spoke of the well known, distinguished patriotic services of General McClernand when Mr. Vaughan (Ind.) threw a bombshell into the discussion by asking if the beneficiary of this bill was the same General John A. McClernand who was relieved from command before Vicksburg by General Grant, for an unsoldierly conduct, and of whom General Halleck said it was promulgated murder to place him in command. The attack on General McClernand came from an unexpected source and Mr. Marsh (Ill.) and others hastened to his defense. Mr. Marsh declared hotly that General McClernand had never been guilty of unsoldierly conduct and the history of the transaction would show that he had not been removed by General Grant for that reason.

"Did not General Grant remove him for causes which he deemed proper?" persisted Mr. Vaughn.

"I do not desire to impugn the character of General Grant," replied Mr. Marsh sharply, "but I desire to say that his action in this case was a mistake."

"What reason did General Grant assign?" interrupted Mr. Cox (Tenn.). "Was it not because he was too quick at Vicksburg?"

"I never heard it charged against Grant," replied Mr. Marsh, "that he criticized a soldier for going in too quick."

The discussion was prolonged for more than two hours, and was marked by several sensational scenes, one of which was the hissing of Mr. Jones when he said that the widow of General John A. Logan, who received a pension of $3,000 a year, was living in social luxury in this city and annually spent more than her pension money for flowers displayed by her at her social functions. Later on, when he proclaimed his pride in the Confederate cause, that had gone down in defeat, the Republicans in chorus shouted: "We have no doubt of it," but in the galleries many of the spectators applauded vigorously.

Mr. Springer was finally forced to withdraw the bill.

But even after the bill had been withdrawn Mr. Champ Clark (Mo.) got the floor, and in a characteristic speech scolded Mr. Jones characteristically, as he said, on behalf of his Democratic colleagues of the north. He began by saying that the Democratic party presented a dissolving view, and would soon be lost to sight, though to memory dear. He attributed much of the Democratic disaster last fall to the course of southern Democrats on the pension question and charged the defeat of at least fifty northern Democrats to the speeches of Mr. Jones. He then paid a magnificent tribute to McClernand. After appealing to Mr. Jones to allow this meritorious bill to go through he turned to him and said impressively that the Democrats of the north were sick and tired of having their southern party associates come to congress and stab their party in the back. "We are through with you," Mr. Clark concluded. After passing two bills the house at 10:30 adjourned.

Rescued from a Living Tomb.

POTTSVILLE, Pa., Jan. 12.—Charles Dietzel was rescued from Richardson colliery after having spent fifty-four hours in a living tomb. His "buddy" August Bronner, was taken out of the mine dead several hours later. Both men were found side by side, one covered by a mass of coal and the other sitting in a space that left no room for him to move anything but his head. Dietzel was so weak he had to be handled like a helpless baby. His body is painfully bruised. The doctors attending him say he will live.

RHEUMATISM!

The Sure Cure is Dr. Greene's Nervura.

Weak Kidneys, Weak Nerves, and Poor Blood Always Accompany Rheumatism. They Can All Be Cured by Dr. Greene's Nervura Blood and Nerve Remedy.

NATHAN G. BATCHELDER.

"With rheumatism, some weak kidneys, weak nerve, poor blood. Weak kidneys mean death, because they lead to serious kidney diseases, which always kill. The symptoms are weak back, pain in the back, blotting, muddy water, tired and languid feeling, gas in the stomach, loss of appetite, coated tongue, bad taste in the mouth, headache, dimness of vision, dryness of skin and nervousness.

Just so surely as you have these symptoms, your kidneys are out of order, and you need the one sure cure, Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. Try a bottle and see how quickly those symptoms will vanish. It cures rheumatism, a most dangerous complaint for it leads to fatal heart disease. Mr. Nathan G. Batchelder, of Hardwick, Vt., writes:

"A year ago I was badly bloated, and it was said I was going to die with the dropsy. I commenced taking Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. At that time I was a slight to behold. My usual weight was 135 lbs., but I then weighed 185 lbs. from bloating. I also had rheumatism so that I could not get into a sleigh or wagon, and was bent over badly. My stomach was so bad that I could not digest my food, and it pained me a good deal. It had been in this condition for seven years before I began to take Dr. Greene's medicine, but since taking it I can eat as hearty a meal as any body. I have not been out for eight winters until this winter, but this winter I have been out constantly, and took care of my house and driven frequently. After I got out, many of my friends did not know me I was so changed and looked so well.

"For years I only ate one slice of bread in one day, and drank one or two cups of tea, which was all I could eat, and I sometimes suffered from that.

"I was about as bad a used up man as ever lived for a long time, and I expected to die any time; but thanks to Dr. Greene's wonderful medicine, I am greatly improved."

"Now all my blood is gone, and I am as well as that as ever. My rheumatism is practically gone, and my stomach is sound and digests my food perfectly, and I sleep soundly. The doctor who treated me did me no good, and he said I would not live six months. I was in such bad order. Other doctors said it was the most remarkable case they had ever known, and they were all wrong."

"I can recommend Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy as the best medicine I ever saw or heard of, and I will cheerfully answer any inquiries about my case, but for seven years I could not write my name I was so trembly."

Mr. H. R. Kimball, druggist, of Hardwick, says: "I knew of Mr. Nathan G. Batchelder's remarkable case, and the statement is true."

It cures quickly and permanently, rheumatism, neuralgia, kidney and liver disease, and makes good blood and strong nerves. Everybody, both physicians and the people, everywhere acknowledge Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy to be the greatest blood and nerve disease.

People who take it get well. Why waste time in trying uncertain and untried remedies, when here is a physician's prescription, a discovery made by the greatest living specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases, Dr. Greene, of 35 West 14th St., New York City. If you take this medicine you can consider yourself under Dr. Greene's direct professional care, and you can consult him or write to him about your case, freely and without charge. This is a guarantee that this remedy will cure, possessed by no other medicine in the world.

TAYLOR UNDER ARREST.

South Dakota's Missing Treasurer Captured in Memphis.

SAID TO HAVE BEEN TURNED LOOSE

This Statement, However, Is Doubtful in Tennessee, Memphis—Taylor Said to Have Made Nothing for Himself by the Mammoth Stead.

MEMPHIS, S. D., Jan. 12.—The Taylor defalcation still absorbs all interest at the capital. Ex-Governor Mellette came in on Thursday night. He is one of the heaviest bondsmen, and before the flight of Taylor was known even to the state officials he wired from Lafayette, Ind., that he would be here, and not to begin suit on the bond, as he would turn everything over to the state. As Lafayette is the home of Taylor's father, it was supposed that Mr. Mellette would have a proposition from the bondman for some sort of settlement.

This is not true. He comes simply as an individual and is unable to throw any direct light upon the situation. He gives some information, however, which has changed the theory on which the people here have been proceeding—namely, that Taylor has been collecting every cent of available cash in order to pinch the state and force a compromise. The ex-governor has had some intimate business relations with Taylor, and on Thursday last went to Chicago to meet him and straighten them. Taylor had left the day before, and although Mellette searched for him for two days he could get no trace of him. He then went to Lafayette and discovered that Taylor was short; that his friends were unable to help him out, and that the default was inevitable.

Mellette was in Chicago on Dec. 12 and met Taylor there. The latter was apparently in conference with a number of his friends and bondsmen, and with Leppelman, whose bank at Gettysburg failed three months ago, and through that really dragged Taylor down to his ruin. The governor knew Mr. Taylor intimately and trusted him thoroughly. He states that Taylor told him a short time ago the history of the bank at Gettysburg, and the way in which he was caught. During the panic of eighteen months ago the bank got into close quarters, and appealed to Taylor for help. After consulting with various bankers he loaned $40,000 of the state's money, all agreeing that to let the bank fail at that time would endanger every bank in the state, and would probably bring ruin on all the people. As he had helped out several other institutions he soon found, however, that the condition of the institution was much worse than he had suspected, and having placed so great a sum there he sent money after his till he had sunk $100,000. Then came his other losses, amounting to fully half as much, and he was unable to borrow or sell. A great amount of property came into his possession from this bank—real estate, merchandise, stock, cattle and other articles—and he made strenuous efforts to sell. In this he failed and for a time his friends helped him out. They reached their limit, however, and he was thrown on his own resources. He could not get money from the east and was caught.

Mellette has no knowledge or suspicion of his whereabouts. It is known that Taylor, a few days ago, put all of his property out of his hands, and even conveyed some trust funds, which will seriously embarrass some of his friends. Investigation seems to show that the bonds are of small value, except one.

It is understood that Taylor's father, who was supposed to be wealthy, cannot be collected from.

TAYLOR NOT ALONE TO BLAME.

It Was Known at the State House That Taylor's Accounts Were Mixed.

SIOUX CITY, Ia., Jan. 12.—R. S. Miller, United States district attorney for the district of South Dakota, in an interview concerning ex-State Treasurer Taylor's shortage said:

"I have learned that Taylor has very little, if any of the money taken from the state by him. He was interested largely in banking, and had friends who were in speculative enterprises and he loaned to them with the expectation that when the time came to repay it they would be able to make the loans good to him. This they were unable to do and the money has gone where it will never be recovered and where it will never do Taylor any good. If the matter is sifted to the bottom, and I am of the opinion that it will be, there will be some surprises in South Dakota."

"Taylor is not the only man in blame in the affair, either. It was known in state house circles as long as a year or two ago that his accounts were not what they should be, and there was a determination to make first to nominate him, and then to secure the renomination of a man friendly to him in order to cover his tracks. This failed, and of course the shortage came out. The state officers who accepted the bond furnished by Taylor are also to blame. It is a fact that but little can be realized on it. Men were permitted to qualify on the bond for thousands of dollars who were not worth a cent over and above their debts. I can name a dozen men on the bond from whom a cent cannot be recovered. There are some on the bond who are good and who will have to settle, but it will ruin them to do it."

Taylor Arrested in Memphis.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Jan. 12.—William Walter Taylor, the absconding South Dakota treasurer, was under arrest here on Thursday and yesterday, but late last evening, according to Chief of Police Davis, he was released. The letters on the prisoner's person from Pierre, Chicago and New York leave no room for doubt, says Chief Davis, that he is the man wanted, but as no replies were received from the telegrams sent to those cities, Taylor was turned loose. Chief Davis was loath to speak of it, but says Taylor is under surveillance, and will be re-arrested if warranted. The opinion prevails that Taylor is still in custody and will be produced when wanted.

Senator McPherson's Currency Bill.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—Senator McPherson, of New Jersey, proposed a bill in the senate yesterday which represents the eastern view on the currency question. It provides for the issue of 3 per cent. bonds for the purpose of carrying into effect the resumption act of 1875, the bonds to be payable at the pleasure of the government after five years. Another section provides for the coinage of the silver coinage for the amount of $55,000,000 to be paid for public expenses as needed, but nothing in the bill shall change the law relating to treasury notes now outstanding.

The Deficit in the Treasury.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—A treasury statement issued shows that the expenditures so far this month exceed the receipts by $3,313,743, which makes the deficiency for the fiscal year to date $3,778,204. Of the total receipts so far this month $7,257,444 was from customs, $3,017,947 from internal revenue, and $669,111 from miscellaneous sources. The total receipts since June 30 are $170,374,760, and the disbursements $204,051,908.
