THE SHOW TO-MORROW NIGHT.

The great farce scene in the second act of "The Outcast" is one of the most thrilling, sensational and deeply dramatic on the stage, grand beyond description. "THE TORNADO."

One of the greatest scenes in "The Tornado," Lincoln J. Carter's second great scenic play, is the one in which six old tars are shown clinging to the yard-arm of a ship and shortening sail, while the mast sways from side to side with the roll of the vessel, vivid flashes of lightning illuminate the scene, and one is in constant fear of seeing a sailor either blown away or fall to the dock forty feet below. One forgets they are in a theatre, and for the instant all is reality. At Ferguson's theatre on Thursday evening, January 17th.

Seals Practically Extinct.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—The governor of Alaska, Mr. Skeesly, declared to the house committee on territories that the seals are practically extinct, and will be entirely exterminated within a short time. Last year the fur company, he said, could find but 12,000 furs for the market and no less than 30,000 pups have died because their mothers were killed by poachers. Poaching is largely carried on, he said, notwithstanding recent legislation. While the territory is prohibition by law it is not whiskey in practice.

Carlton Cornwell, foreman of the Gazette, Middletown, N. J., believes that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy should be in every home. He used it for a cold and it effected a speedy cure. He says: "It is indeed a grand remedy. I can recommend it to all. I have also seen it used for whooping cough, with the best results." 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by Gruhler Bros.

THE MISSING STATE TREASURER

A Meeting of His Doubtless Called for Action in Chicago.

CHICAGO, Jan. 14.—Ex-Governor Arthur C. McLeade has come from South Dakota on the supposition that the defaulting state treasurer, W. W. Taylor, may be in Chicago, and anxious to make a settlement. He is interested to the extent of a $50,000 bond in the location of Mr. Taylor, and to start action in the matter he called a meeting of the men who had guaranteed the treasurer's honesty. J. T. McCleskey, of New York, who was an equal indorser with the ex-governor, was the first to arrive, and several days will be spent in a conference over ways and means and an examination into the exact condition of affairs.

The men from the north state that the shortage is $750,000, which is $30,000 more than the bond. It is the opinion in Huron and Pierre that Taylor will produce $300,000 as soon as he is found. Most of the men on the Taylor bond have now been asked to the conference.

"It is a question now," said Mr. McLeade today, "whether Taylor is in this county or Europe. There is a division of opinion, but I am of the opinion that he is here and may try to make a settlement. He disposed of Evanston and Chicago real estate before he dropped from notice. This is taken both as a sign that he wanted all the ready money possible for his travels, and that he was getting his collateral into shape for a possible settlement. There is as yet no plan for action, but the indications are that a settlement is most desired. The state needs money at once."

It has been learned that the man arrested at Memphis, though named Taylor, is not the missing treasurer.

The Lexow Committee's Report.

ALBANY, Jan. 14.—Some light will be shed upon the attitude of the committee of seven, upon the Lexow committee and Republican majority towards each other in the legislature this week. Plainly speaking, it will, in a measure, be seen whether Mr. Platt or the New York reform committee intend to cross swords, or to combine in the reform movement. The great event of the week will be the presentation to the senate of the report of the Lexow committee, together with the accompanying bills for the reorganization of the police force of New York city, on Thursday, and after the matter is presented Mr. Lexow will ask for the adoption of his resolution to extend the power of his committee to the other city departments.

South Jersey's Oyster War.

BRIDGEPORT, N. J., Jan. 14.—The oyster war in Delaware bay and Maurice River coasts seems to have taken on a new phase, brought about by the fight against the riparian owners. The oyster laws are now regarded as being of no account, and the owners of grounds in Maurice River coasts are fearful that a raid will be made upon them, similar to that in the bay. Oystermen say that unless the lawmakers of New Jersey act speedily there is great danger of the largest planters becoming penniless, and the mammoth industry of south Jersey being badly injured.

BROOKLYN, Jan. 14.—At the meeting of the district assembly, K. of L., last night, it was definitely decided to strike. Slocum, of the latter line, agreed to accept the terms proposed by the men.

SUFFERING IN THE ORIENT.

Ferrible Distress Prevailing in the Arches of China and Japan.

TIENTSIN, Jan. 14.—The Manchian princes have taken the defense of the country into their own hands to prevent the intrigues of the Chinese officials. The central government is bewildered and helpless. Li Hung Chang, although he has been relieved of all his functions except the governor generalship of his province, still exercises indirect influence over the various officials.

Chinese who have arrived from Manchuria bring ghastly reports of the desolation of the country between the Yalu river and the Liao Ho, evoking the worst horrors of the Taiping rebellion. Not a house is standing. Everything has been burned and whole populations have perished. Only scattered groups of frost-bitten corpses are seen, miserably those of entire families. No other food nor fuel is procurable. Stragglers from the Chinese army who have taken refuge in the hills have become savages, lost to all human feeling. The sufferings of the wounded are terrible. The movements of both the Chinese and Japanese troops are hindered by the failure of supplies from the terrified populations. The prospect of an extension of such scenes appals even the stolid Chinese.

A correspondent describes the intense distress that the Japanese army is laboring under in the province of Shinking, China, which is very sparsely populated. There are no trees in the province, and the rivers are said to be almost empty of water. The army of over 30,000 men, the correspondent says, is almost on the point of death from hunger, thirst and cold, as there is no wood to cook their rice with or water to drink. Many have been frozen to death from their inability to face the cold with an insufficiency of food and clothing.

To add to the sensation it is said that a woman was the real cause of the tragedy.

Fatalities in Snow.

ROME, Jan. 11.—Messopio, a town in a valley in the province of Palermo, Sicily, had a narrow escape from destruction. A huge mass of rock which overlung the rear of the town became loosened from its fastenings and crashed down, but most fortunately did no extensive damage. The inhabitants, however, were panic stricken and fled from their homes, thinking there would perhaps be another fall of rock. At Montagneto, in the province of Avellino, four houses collapsed from the weight of snow upon them, and three persons were killed. A cave on Mount Garfano, province of Castellan, collapsed and crushed to death ten shepherds who had sought refuge in it.

Allegations Not Sustained.

ALBANY, Jan. 14.—The following statement has been made public from the executive chamber: Early in December last Governor Morton selected Mr. George W. Turner as an aid de camp on his military staff with the title of colonel. In the latter part of that month certain statements, emanating from Chicago, were published concerning Mr. Turner's communications with members of the city council of that city. Mr. Turner thereupon requested the governor to withhold his commission until the proofs of the facts concerning such allegations should be formally submitted. The governor has again requested Colonel Turner to accept the commission, announcing that the allegations are not sustained.

Denouncing Arizona's Governor.

PHOENIX, Ariz., Jan. 14.—Attorney General Henry Hanson last evening sent his resignation to Governor Hughes in a letter denouncing the governor as one who, for his own ends, has been disrupting the Democratic party, and affirming that if he had the interest of Arizona and the Democratic party at heart he would at once tender his resignation to the president. He charges the governor with malfeasance in office, and refuses on that account to continue longer as his legal adviser. The resignation was accepted, and T. D. Satterwhite, of Tucson, appointed in his place.

HELENA, Mont., Jan. 14.—A decree of divorce has been granted to Mrs. Mabel Conrad, daughter of Mrs. Barsualy, whom Dr. Theodor Graves was convicted of murdering at Denver, from John Howard Conrad. Charges of a most outrageous nature were made against each of them by Mr. and Mrs. Conrad, when the husband began suit a year ago. To avoid further scandal this suit was dropped, and Mrs. Conrad began another alleging abandonment. In granting her a decree Judge Hook awarded her the custody of her three children.

HOMESTEADERS UNORGANIZED.

There is to be an Adjourned Meeting to Discuss the Matter.

HOMESTEAD, Pa., Jan. 14.—At the meeting of the steel workers yesterday the newspaper men were requested to write down, which they did very promptly. A man named Thomas Graham then arose and in a boisterous manner demanded that Hugh O'Donnell withdraw, as he was also a newspaper man. All were anxious to have him remain, and Mr. Graham was promptly squelched. Mr. O'Donnell took the stand and made a twenty minutes speech, in which he deplored the action in expelling the correspondents. President M. M. Garland, of the Amalgamated Association, explained the benefits of the organization, and told the men that he was willing to organize them then, in a week or in a year. They had signed the scale, and he did not want them to break it. It would be well, however, to organize. A motion was made to organize immediately, but it was finally decided to postpone any action until next Sunday. The sentiment was very evidently in favor of an organization.

Pathetic Tragedy in New York.

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—Martin Rodecker, aged 45 years, who lived with his family at 424 East Eighty-sixth street, died from a pistol shot wound in the forehead yesterday afternoon, and the police do not know whether he committed suicide or whether he was killed by a member of the Hossback family, of 290 East Eighty-seventh street, to whom he went to collect money. Rodecker met his death in the Hossback home. Alexander Hossback, aged 54 years, his wife, Annie, 53 years old, and his son, George, aged 20, were locked up on suspicion of having committed the deed, while Catherine Knapp, a boarder, was held as a witness. Hossback owed Rodecker $10, but declined to pay. Rodecker had been in dire straits for some time past. His family were hungry, and his face was pinched from privation.
