IN SENATE AND HOUSE

Several Public Building Bills Passed by the Lower Body.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—The house, operating under a special order yesterday, passed seven public building bills, the largest authorizing the construction of a public pullding at Chicago, to cost $4,000, 000. Among the others were for buildings at Cumberland, Md., and Pottsville, Pa. The appropriation clause in each bill was stricken out, and the appropriations must be made in future sundry civil bills. The The success of the Chicago building bill was due largely to the delegation headed by Postmaster Hesing, which came here to the bill's interest, supplemented by the the active and intelligent efforts of the Illinois congressional delegation. Mr. Boutelle was prevented from gaining consideration for his Hawalian resolution.
"I nope," Mr. Boutelle said to the house after the privilege had been refused him, "that the blood which rests on the thresh-old of the White House will not be spattered on the lintels of the house of representatives.

The senate again gave its attention to the Hawaiian question. Mr. Lodge added one more to the large number of Hawaiian resolutions. It was less critical than those posseding it, congratulating the administration on souting a ship to Honolulu, fav oring americation and opposing any Brit-ish occupation of Hawaiian soil. In a sharp debate Mr. Gray upheld the policy of the administration, and Mr. Frye gave notice that he would keep his Hawalian question to the front until disposed of The rest of the day was devoted mainly to the appropriation bills. It was determined to close the debate and take a vote on the long pending Nicarangua canal bill next Friday.
