

THE WRECKED CHICORA

No Hope That the Vessel Has Escaped Destruction.

TWENTY-TWO LIVES WERE LOST.

There Were Four Deck Hands on Board Instead of Eight, as Previously Stated. Portions of the Cabin Found by Searchers for the Wreck.

BENTON HARBOR, Mich., Jan. 25.—Three saddened communities have entirely given up the hope of recovering the Chicora as lost with all on board. Telegrams announcing the finding of wreckage near Benton Harbor have been constantly coming since Wednesday noon, but the blow that crushed all hopes was received last evening. It announced that the searching party had found a portion of the Chicora's passenger gangway, curtains and other pieces of her main deck and bulkheads, also parts of drawing rooms 27 and 28, and a large part of the boat's baggage room. The number of lives lost is twenty-two, there being only four deck hands.

Captain Ed Stines was about 54 years of age, and had been in the employ of the Graham & Morton Transportation company for seventeen years. He had sailed the Chicora since she first came out. He leaves a widow, his only child, Benjamin, being second mate of the Chicora. Cornelius D. Simons, first mate, had been with the Graham & Morton company for twenty-one years. He was 40 years of age, and leaves a widow and child. Robert McClure, first engineer, had been with the company two years. He was 50 years old, and leaves a widow and five children in Detroit.

James R. Clark, clerk of the Chicora, had for years been quite prominent in Republican political circles in this state, and for four years held the office of United States marshal. He was about 55 years of age, and leaves a widow and daughter, and other members of the crew were steady and reliable men, and mostly old employees. The Chicora was equipped with the strongest engines of any boat on the lakes, was rated at twenty miles an hour and licensed to carry 1,200 passengers in summer. She was built three years ago expressly for winter service, with six inch outer plank covering and with triple compartments each independent of one another. She was 300 tons burden, 220 feet long, 35 feet beam, 10 feet over all, and cost the company $105,000. There was no insurance.

Hayward Criticizes the Newspapers. MINNEAPOLIS, Jan. 25.—With the adjournment of court last evening eight jurors had been secured to try the case of the state against Harry Hayward. The jury as a body is an exceptionally intelligent one. Hayward keeps up his spirits wonderfully. He takes the papers regularly and reads the accounts of the trial closely. He said today: "Some newspaper reports seem to be after me for some reason, and are not willing to wait for the trial to be held. I realize that appearances against me, but I don't see why the papers cannot be at least fair in the matter."

Daring Highway Robbery in Charleston. CHARLESTON, S. C., Jan. 25.—A highway robbery which is the sensation of the day was committed on King street about 7 o'clock Wednesday night, when it was crowded with pedestrians. W. G. Mazick, treasurer of the South Carolina and Georgia Railway company, and Jacob Willman, an employe, were bearing a bag of money containing $700 to the railway office when they were attacked by two robbers, who fired a pistol at them, seized the bag of money and escaped down a side street. The thieves have not been captured nor the money recovered.

Beat Her Mother to Death. NEW YORK, Jan. 25.—Mrs. Maggie Gill was arraigned in Jefferson market police court and confessed to the murder of her mother. She was held without bail. On the last Saturday night Mrs. Gill and her mother, Mrs. Ellen Morrison, quarreled, which led to a fight. Mrs. Gill admits that she beat her mother over the head and body, and that she died on last Tuesday as a result of the beating. Mrs. Gill went bitterly in court when she entered her plea, and was so weak that she had to be supported by an officer when she was removed to the Tombs.

A Non Murdered on a Train. FONTAINEBLEAU, Jan. 25.—Much excitement was caused by the murder of a man on a train coming from Paris. The train was running along as usual, when suddenly a man in one of the coaches drew a revolver and began firing at the first passenger. One of the bullets struck the man, inflicting a wound that soon proved mortal. Three other passengers were wounded before the chambers of the revolver were empty. The man was arrested. The only explanation of his action is that he is insane.

Committed Murder for Seven Dollars. DANVILLE, Va., Jan. 25.—William Robertson, the young white man who was hanged at noon today in the jail at Rocky Mountain for murder, made a confession. He says he shot and killed Harry Barbour for the purpose of robbing him, and that he secured only $7.25. He said his real name was William Ball, and that his mother lives in Kentucky.

Shating Records Broken. RFD BANK, N. J., Jan. 25.—Johnson, Mosher and Davidson broke some world records yesterday skating with the wind. They were as follows: Davidson, 20 yards standing start, 16 1/2 sec.; Johnson, 20 yards standing start, one fourth mile, 15 1/2 sec.; Mosher, flying start, 220 yards, 15 1/2 sec. These are not official records.

Governor Marvill's Staff. WILMINGTON, Del., Jan. 25.—Governor Marvill made the following appointments to his staff: Nathaniel R. Hunsicker, de camp; J. N. Robinson, judge advocate general; Austin Harrington, all of whom are from this city, will have the rank of colonel.

Madame Patti's Arrives. VIENNA, Jan. 25.—Madame Patti, the celebrated when leaving a concert, and has since kept to her. Her performance with pharyngeal vocalizations at Leipzig, which have been cancelled.

LIFE WAS A BURDEN

A Pain-racked Sufferer Tells An Interesting Story.

How He Was Tortured For Years And Finally Cured By Munyon's Remedy.

Charles Wark, of 14 N. Twen y-fourth Philadelphia, has been a constant sufferer from rheumatism for years. He was cured by the use of Munyon's Rheumatism Cure. This is his story: "I was afflicted with rheumatism in the right shoulder and suffered the most excruciating agony. Sharp shooting pains darted through it so intense I could not sleep nights. Even the weight of the bed clothes was more than I could bear; neither could I lie on the right side or on my back. Life became a perfect burden to me. I could not raise my hand to my head, and when I attempted to put on my coat or any article of dress, the torture was enough to drive me wild. Many remedies were suggested and tried, but none did me the slightest good, and I began to despair of ever being able to obtain relief. Some time ago, however, I procured Munyon's Rheumatism Cure. It afforded me relief after the first few doses, and by the time the little 25 cent bottle was gone I was entirely free from pain. I have had no return of my old enemy, and I feel satisfied I am permanently cured. It seems so wonderful I can hardly realize it, and can only show my appreciation of the merits of this cure by recommending it to other sufferers."

Munyon's Rheumatism Cure is guaranteed to cure rheumatism in any part of the body. Acute or muscular rheumatism cured in from one to five days. It never fails to cure sharp, shooting pains in the arms, legs, sides, back or breast, or soreness in any part of the body in from one to three hours. It is guaranteed to promptly cure lameness, stiff and swollen joints, stiff back, and all pains in the hips and loins. Chronic rheumatism, sciatica, lumbago or pain in the back are speedily cured. Munyon's Homeopathic Home Remedy Company, of Philadelphia, put up specific for nearly every disease, which are sold by all druggists, mostly for 25 cents a bottle.

DO NOT VERSUS DOESN'T.

Grammatical Oddities That Grate Upon the Ears of Educated Readers. The subject of pronunciation has been up for discussion for a good deal of late. The following regarding "do" and "doesn't" should be of interest, coming from the best authority. Don't is like dropping the final g of the present participle, a vulgarism of popular culture. Thackeray and Anthony Trollope constantly place it, along with ain't for "am not," or "is not," in the mouths of their highly bred characters. The late prince consort, used it. I recollect—quoting from memory from his "Life," by Sir T. Martin—that, speaking of the Princess Beatrice as an infant, the prince wrote, "She doesn't like it."

Other corruptions are, or were, "em for "them," "havynt for "haven't," "chavynt for "chariot," "yallow for "yellow," "tossed for "tossed," "Lunnon for "London," "Roome for "Rome," "gold for "gold," "oblogge for "oblong," "the first Duke of Wellington, as I have been told, always said oblogge. It certainly does grate upon the ear to hear don't used for "doesn't," and yet we find it used in the "Pleekwick Papers." In the song which Mr. Wardle sings on Christmas eve at the Manor farm, Dingley Dolt:

And love that's too strong—why, it don't last long, As many have found to their pain.

In East London they say "you don't ought," and "the chin't ought," which, though true, is slightly ungrammatical.

A Defect in the Hands. A good story is told of an English lawyer who, having succeeded in making a brilliant of every farmer in his county, having grown rich at their expense, and then established a valid claim to their own attention, commented to sit for his portrait, which was taken in the courtroom of the county town. The picture was duly painted by a London artist, and previously in being hung was submitted to a private view. Most unaccountably, to be sure, was the general verdict. But one old chap regarding the canvas critically, dissenting from the prevailing opinion as follows: "That be so, what like his face, but it ain't the man. This man has got his hand in his own pocket, y'know. Now, I have known him for five and thirty years, and all that time he's had his hand in some body else's pocket. This chap ain't him." —Green Bag.

A Lesson in Spelling. She (at the desk)—Dear, please tell me how to spell costume. I'm writing to mother about my lovely new gown. He—Well, are you ready? She—Yes. He—C-c-c, oost. She—Yes. He—T-to, to. She—Well? He—M-e, m-e—65, as yet unpaid. She—You're a wretch!—Frank Harrison's Magazine.

Just Like Him. "Oh, Clara, see this deliciously ugly Japanese girl Arthur gave me for a birth day present!" "Oh, isn't it exactly horrid! Just like him!"

THE PITTSBURGH PLAN

For Relieving the Existing Financial Distress.

A BANKER'S PANACEA FOR BANKS.

The Plan Provides for the Issue by the Secretary of the Treasury of Bonds Redeemable in Five Years and Payable in Twenty Years.

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 25.—The "Pittsburgh plan" concerning the currency question was unanimously adopted yesterday by the Clearing House association at its annual meeting, and a committee of three appointed to submit the scheme to Senators Camden and Quay and Congressmen Dalzell and Stone to urge its adoption by congress. The proposition was made by J. M. Willcox, president of the Second National bank, and met the unanimous approval of the association after a lengthy discussion of its merits.

The essential provisions of the plan are the following amendments to the national banking act: Permit national banks to issue notes of an amount not exceeding their paid up capital stock, but require each bank before issuing notes to deposit with the United States treasurer United States bonds of an amount, upon which they may receive notes up to the par value of said bonds. Impose a tax of one-fourth of 1 per cent. per annum, payable semi-annually, upon the average amount of notes in circulation, to defray the expenses of the comptroller's office.

Repeal the provisions of the reorganization and extension act of July 12, 1892, imposing limitations upon the reduction and increase of national banks' circulation. Authorize the secretary of the treasury to offer for sale, from time to time, at not less than par, 2 1/2 per cent. 50 year bonds (redeemable in five years and payable in twenty years, in denominations from $50 to $10,000, to be paid for in gold, legal tenders or United States treasury notes, to an amount which, with the gold in the treasury, will be sufficient to retire all outstanding legal tenders and treasury notes, such notes to be cancelled as fast as new circulation is issued to the banks. Permit national banks to issue national bank notes as part to their legal reserve. The other provisions of the present national bank act to remain unchanged.

The Treasures of a Big Paper Company. CHICAGO, Jan. 25.—Furor over a project against the Columbia Straw Paper company were begun in the United States circuit court yesterday. The Northern Trust company filed a bill and asked for the appointment of a receiver. Similar foreclosure proceedings have been begun in nine different states in which the company has mills. Inability to meet interest payments on $1,000,000 in bonds is set up by the bill as the reason for the proceeding. The company was organized in January, 1891, with a capital stock of $4,000,000 and the incorporation was taken under the laws of New Jersey. Most of the paper mills in the central states were absorbed by the new company, and a promising business was transacted for some months. To the public of 1892 is ascribed the first trouble of the corporation.

Maudie Branscombe in Trouble. LOVING, Jan. 25.—Maudie Branscombe, the actress, who a dozen years ago was well known throughout the United States, more on account of the fine photographs which were taken of herself, than because of her artistic ability, was at Bow street police court yesterday afternoon in support of a summons which she had previously taken out against Alexander Hamilton Gunn, described as a "company promoter." Miss Branscombe charged Mr. Gunn with using threats towards her, and it has been stated that he has gone so far as to beat her. She said that her legal association with Mr. Gunn had existed for four years. Gunn's defense was that the charges were an attempt to blackmail him. He was bound over in $1,000 to keep the peace for twelve months.

The Weather. For eastern Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Delaware, fair; variable light, variable winds. For the District of Columbia and Maryland, rain tonight; variable, variable winds, becoming northeast. For Virginia and North Carolina, fair in eastern portion; warmer; winds becoming easterly. Increasing cloudiness and rain or snow is indicated for the Ohio and Mississippi valleys, and will probably extend to New England, the lake regions, and the middle Atlantic coast tomorrow.

STOCK AND PRODUCE MARKETS. Closing Quotations of the New York and Philadelphia Exchanges.

New York, Jan. 25.—This has been a rather dull day on the stock exchange, only 125,574 shares of stock being traded in. At the opening speculation was firm, then came a slight reaction, followed by a quick recovery, after which the market became stagnant. The market, however, closed quiet and strong.
