SUICIDE IN A CHURCH.

A Young Woman Cuts Her Throat Is a Confectional Box.

NEW YORK, Feb. 2 - A few minutes be ore foolock last evening two women in he Church of the Epiphany, in Second avonue, this city, heard the sound of a body falling, followed by groans and gaups from a confessional bax in the southeast corner of the church. One of the women summound the assistant sexton, who hurried into the church, and on opening the confessional found lying in a heap, with blood flowing from her right wrist and throat, the almost lifeless body of a young woman. Twenty minutes later the wo-man was dead. With a razor she had al-most severed one of her hands, and her throat had been cut from ear to ear. There were no services going on at the time.

An examination of the woman was made, and in her clothing was found a pocketbook containing ten cents and a letter revealing her identity. On the en-velope was written, "1 am Catherine Mor rison, of 170 East One Hundred and Eighth street

At the address given in the letter it was learned that the woman had boarded for six years with George Powers, an express-man, and family. Mr. Powers took charge of the body Mr. Powers said Miss Morrison was a religions enthusiast, and of independent means. She was worth $40, 000, and was a friend of his wife from child

hood THE DEBS CONSPIRACY TRIAL

A Decision by Judge Grosscup Which May Lead to an Appeal.

CHICAGO, Feb. 2.-Judge Grosscup's rule to permit but one attorney to cross-ex-amine witnesses in the trial of Debs et al led to trouble, and should the verdict be against the defendants it will play a loading part in an appeal. There are eighteen defendants in court, represented in groups by six different attorneys. The line of de-fense between the officers of the union and the lesser defendants, the attorneys for the defense lusist, is well marked.

F. Geeting, who represents several ellents, besides appearing for two others in the absence of Attorney Boyd from the court, attempted to cross-examine a wit ness in the morning and the court endeav-ored to enforce the rule, but later releated In order to permit Mr. Geeting to ask his questions, because his witnesses were tes tifying directly against his clients. Lat in the afternoon Mr. Geeting desired to ask a question in cross-examination. The court declared that the witness had in no wise testified as to the participation of Mr. Geeting's clients in the acts named, and he would not allow more than one at torney for the defense to cross-examine. A wordy argument followed, but the court was inflexible and exception was taken.

Benefit Entertainment.

Scanlan and Durkin's Comedy Company will give a grand entertainment in Ferguson's theatre on March 4th, for the benefit of Samuel Thomas, an old soldier who has suffered injury to his eyes and is disabled from earning support for his family, now in need of help. Mr. Thomas has been a resident of Shenandoah for twenty seven years and is well known and respected. The benefit should be well patronized. An excellent specialty entertainment will be given. Among the features will be an exhibition by William Thomas, who will dance barefooted upon a mass of broken glass. This exhibition will alone be worth the price of admission. Tickets can be had at Mr. Thomas' resi dence, 216 Huckleberry alley, or Kirlin's drug store. Dabb has removed his galiery to Hoffman's old stand, West Centre street.

The Play.

A fair-sized audience witnessed the production of "A Barrel of Money" at Ferguson's theatre last night. As a whole the production was not a success. come parts of the play embrace novel features and are amusing, but others drag along to such an extent as to counteract the favorable effects. The paralytic role by Allen H. Bally was an interesting feature. J. Knox Gavin was very amuaing. The mill scene in the third act was heartily applauded. It was very completely staged.
