

ENGINE BURNED.

A Wreck on the Reading Railroad on the Outskirts of the Town.

Between 11 and 12 o'clock this morning four engines drawing one passenger coach met with an accident at the Cambridge colliery siding. The first engine struck and broke a frog and was forced on to the siding. The second engine remained on the main track and being forced on by the two engines following it upset the tank of the first engine. At the same time the third engine was forced into and wrecked the tank of the second engine. In the midst of the confusion the jacket of the first engine caught fire. The crew ripped off the jacket and with water taken from the tanks of the engines put out the fire. Preparations were then made for the return to Mahanoy Plane. The first engine and tank were left a wreck on the siding and the second engine and car were taken back to Mahanoy Plane by the other two engines. Dr. Stock Hammond, the Misses Cornett and Miss Whitelock were passengers on the car. They seized the first opportunity to get out of town and try to reach their homes in Reading by Sunday. How they fared after leaving here has not been learned.

Sleighting Party Stranded.

John Weeks, Hiram Spade, Benjamin Richards and Peter Beck left here on Thursday last for a sleighing trip to Hazleton and return. The blizzard caught them and they are now involuntary guests at one of the Hazleton hotels. Telephone messages were received from them to day.

TWO DESPERADOES LESS.

Jim French and "Slaughter Kid" Killed While Trying to Rob.

CLAREMONT, Pa., Feb. 8.—Wednesday night Jim French and "Slaughter Kid," of the Cook gang, undertook to rob the general merchandise store of W. B. Patton, at Catonsville, about twelve miles south of here. The bandits were recognized as they rode into town. They dismounted before Patton's store, when a Texas cowboy from within opened fire upon them, instantly killing "Slaughter Kid" with his second shot. He fired a third shot at Jim French, but missed. Having no more cartridges he secured his revolver. French entered the store and accused the cowboy of killing his partner in crime, but the cowboy protested that he had no gun, hence he was not the one, whereupon French turned and shot Mr. Irvin, chief clerk of the store, through the body. Irvin drew a revolver and returned the fire, shooting French through the body and through the right eye. French managed to reach his horse, and rode to a house a short distance away.

Town officers and a crowd assembled to capture the dying bandit, who, hearing their approach, raised up and looked out of the window and at that instant received a load of buckshot in the face, almost tearing his head off. Mr. Irvin's death is expected hourly, as the Winchester ball ploughed through his body from side to side, just below the waist. He exhibited great courage in returning the fire after receiving his own death wound. The death of these two outlaws entirely wipes out the Cook gang, with the exception of Bill Doolin.

ADRIFF ON LAKE MICHIGAN.

Nine Men Have Probably Frozen to Death in Open Yawl Boats.

MILWAUKEE, Feb. 8.—Somewhere out on the lake nine men are supposed to be adrift in two yawl boats that left the north point pumping station last night. The first yawl boat is manned by four men, who came in from the crib in the afternoon for supplies and started back with provisions at 5 o'clock. It is supposed this boat failed to reach the crib, and that it drifted out toward midlake with its occupants. At 7 p. m. a second yawl boat, manned by five volunteers, went out to the crib in answer to distress signals. This boat also has not been heard from again, and it is supposed that it also failed to reach the crib and of the intake tunnel.

The two boat Foley went in search of the two yawl boats and their occupants, but has not returned to this port. The men in the yawls have probably frozen to death, because the thermometer was 20 below zero on the lake, and some of them were suitably dressed. The names of the men are mostly as could be learned, are: Allen, "Gee," Barack, James Cadin, John Dally, — Bazy, Jeremiah Fallon, "Slim" Welsh and two unknown men.

Wild Beasts Made Desperate.

LETTERS ROCK, Feb. 8.—The coldest weather ever known in the state of Arkansas in the month of February was felt here yesterday, the thermometer registering 22 below zero. In the country wild beasts have been made desperate, and many tales of adventure are reaching this city. Near Donville in Tall county, while Mrs. Baker was at the cowpen milking a big bear entered her house and made off with her 1-year-old child. Mrs. Baker gave chase with a dog and recovered the child, who had been severely bitten. J. W. Ballard, a Green county farmer, had a lively tussle with a hungry panther while en route home, accompanied by his 15-year-old son. After a severe encounter he succeeded in killing the animal, but received several gashes from the panther's teeth.

TOPICS OF THE TIMES.

Pertinent Paragraphs From the Reporters' Pens and Pencils.

There is hardly any device of a dishonest character and that is intended to promote dishonesty that is not practiced nowadays, and housekeepers—women, we mean—are very frequently victimized by them. There are certain classes of peripatetic dealers and so-called artisans who should be sedulously avoided—in a word, not permitted to put foot inside private houses. Among them are those who repair broken furniture. Observation and experience have satisfied us, first, that in a majority of cases they are simply bootlegs; that the work they do is generally done in the most bungling manner, and that they should not be permitted to enter private residences. We feel it a duty to caution housekeepers against another class of peripatetic artists. We mean locksmiths; of whom, of late years, quite a number have made their appearance in the town. They should be avoided; first, because they are not, as a general thing, competent for the performance of the work they undertake to perform; and, second, it is far from being a safe thing to have them inspect, and if they see proper take impressions in wax of front door or back door keys, to be used, if they so conclude, in getting into the houses. There are good workmen in the town, whose services can be had at any time, and whose work can always be relied upon, and who have a reputation for honesty and charges that fully warrant their employment.

The complaint made to the Borough Council that great trouble is being caused by people allowing their hydrants to run at all hours should not pass unheeded. Property owners should take action in this matter and use some influence with thoughtless and negligent tenants, as increased bills of damages against the borough must surely, sooner or later, result in increased taxation against the owners of property.

There are murmurings that trouble is expected in the spring from the reservoir of the public water works at Fowler's Run, but to what extent no one will venture to predict, and contemporaneously with the murmurings a New York paper publishes the following, which is of general interest: "Reservoirs that won't hold water are among the notable productions of the United States, characteristic of its climate and territory as flags are of Smyrna and truffles of Dordogne and bora of Boston. Brooklyn's new and costly receptacle leaks like a lobster pot, and the contractor is suing the city for consequential damages. Philadelphia is in like case; so is Pittsburg. Wherever there is a reservoir there is a shrewd contractor and a shrewd gang of politicians behind him. In easy political times the job goes through, giving rise to other jobs for repair and reconstruction which breed their successors forever, but there is occasionally trouble and inquiry and investigation, compelling the contractor to take his case into court. It must be said, however, that he generally wins in the long run, not because his case is a good one, but because the public interests are not always vigilantly protected, while private ones always have a persistent and unsleeping force behind them. There ought to be a way of getting good, sound reservoirs as there is of getting substantial work of other sorts, but it seems not yet to have been discovered." The quotation does not apply in whole to the public water works of this place, but it is germane to the extent that the people of this place may have the consolation of knowing, if in the future the borough should find that its works has cost $200,000, or more, that in almost every town or city, where such works are constructed by the municipality, the cost is always double and sometimes treble the amount of the original estimate, and that the governing body of a municipality that engages in the construction of the plant under the impression that it knows just what it is doing learns only after costly and sleepless experience that it really knew nothing. The Shenandoah lesson is not ripe yet.

Almost Lost.

Representative Joseph Wyatt, by a big expenditure of patience and frequent change of cars, succeeded in getting from Harrisburg last night as far as the south end of Main street. He then attempted to complete the journey to his home by foot, but dropped into a snow drift so deep that even his hat was not left in sight. Had it not been that a belated traveler discovered Joe by almost walking on top of him, this district would have needed a substitute at Harrisburg.

TO FIGHT AGAINST VICE.

It Takes Strong Nerves and Clear Brain These Days.

The Rev. I. P. Quimby, of the Broadway Church, Boston, Says it is His Duty to Recommend Paine's Celery Compound. It Makes People Well.

REV. I. P. QUIMBY.

Clergymen to-day need big hearts and sound nerves to accomplish all the good they intend. It isn't merely the fact of preaching once a week that makes the life of the minister of to-day so wearing on nerves and brain. Their every-day labor is a round of exacting duties that tax heavily their nervous strength. The modern minister must keep up his enthusiasm, his hopefulness and his genuine love of his work. He must feel strongly, think deeply and have confidence in his labor and in himself. But all this taxes heart and brain to their utmost. It calls for a tremendous outlay of nervous energy seven days in the week and 365 every year. Many clergymen break down utterly under the nervous strain.

Rev. I. P. Quimby, the well-known Boston preacher, has been saved from nervous prostration.

In a publication of his Sunday school he has recently published the following open letter: BOSTON, Nov. 20, 1894.

Never in my life have I commended any proprietary medicine, but I would be derelict in duty if I failed to let the public know what a great boon to humanity I believe Paine's celery compound to be. With a family of seven, I have not paid a dollar for a doctor in ten years, and I owe it to the fact that I always keep Paine's celery compound on hand, and when any of us are "out of sorts," administer it.

Both wife and I, in our arduous church work, are often, by anxiety and overwork, reduced to the verge of nervous prostration, and as often, by the use of Paine's celery compound, restored to our wonted energy of mind and vigor of body.

Our sons, who are young pharmacists, tell us they sell more of Paine's celery compound than any two proprietary medicines, not excepting the sarsaparilla. Yours for Paine's celery compound, REV. I. P. QUIMBY.

Pastor Broadway Church, Boston, Mass. When the nervous strength has become from any cause impoverished, Paine's celery compound succeeds as nothing else has ever done.

From a state of depression, exhaustion and lifelessness the nerves grow strong, active, and perfectly nourished by means of Paine's celery compound, the great modern nerve and blood remedy that makes people well. And with the strengthening and regulating of the nerves the disorders that depend on the faulty nutrition of these tissues disappear. Such are rheumatism, neuralgia, heart weakness, headaches, low spirits, lack of strength, and that general poor health that is so impossible to define.

Sound nerves, healthy blood and an all round, vigorous constitution of the body is the invariable effect of taking Paine's celery compound. This great modern restorative corrects derangement of the nervous system, and averts prostration when protracted strain has reduced it to an exhausted, poorly fed, devitalized condition. Try it.

The employees of the Wm. Penn colliery were to have been paid to-day, but the storm also necessitated a postponement until Monday at this place.

Pay days of the P. & R. C. & I. Co. in the St. Nicholas and Gilberton districts have been postponed until next week. The days have not been fixed.

Ten days loss of time on account of sickness and a doctor bill to pay, is anything but pleasant for a man of a family to contemplate, whether he is a laborer, mechanic, merchant or publisher. Jas. O. Jones, publisher of the Leader, Mexico, Texas, was sick in bed for ten days with the grip during its prevalence a year or two ago. Later in the season he had a second attack. He says: "In the latter case I used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy with considerable success. I think, only being in bed a little over two days. The second attack I am satisfied would have been equally as bad as the first but for the use of this remedy." It should be borne in mind that the grip is much the same as a very severe cold and requires precisely the same treatment. When you wish to cure a cold quickly and effectually give this remedy a trial. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by Gruhier Bros.
