AFFAIRS OF THE BOROUGH.

Interest in the Approaching Election is Being Aroused.

SEEKING THE FAT PLUMS

Democrats Working Hard to Control the Borough Council to Make the Water Works Appointments.

Considerable spirit is being injected into public affairs of the borough by the approach of the spring election, and from now until the close of election day events of unusual interest may be looked for. The contest over the election of Councilmen in the respective wards is being enlivened by the claims of candidates for the Councilmanic appointment of superintendent of public water works, and in at least two of the wards the Democrats seem to bend all their energies to the promotion of the claims of their respective favorites. As predicted by the HERALD when the public water works movement was first put on foot, appointments to positions on the works are becoming the bones of contention in the spring election. This spring we find three Democrats—Timothy Mills, Oscar Betteridge and James Bell in the field, and the most important issue in the campaign to them and their friends quite naturally is the election of a Democratic majority in Council that will appoint a Democratic superintendent of the public water works.

Another issue is the appointment of an engineer of the works. The man now in charge is one who was placed there by recommendation of the Jeanesville company that put in the pumping plant. He was formerly employed on the Mahanoy City works and on account of his experience was retained to keep the pumps and engines in working order until the weather breaks in the Spring. How far this man's experience will be considered after that time remains to be seen. There are a number of men pulling political wires to fill his shoes, and there is little doubt that he will have a successor after the new Borough Council meets and organizes. It is pretty well understood that a superintendent and engineer of the works will be elected at the same time that the supervisor, town clerk and police are selected. This will make the organization more than usually interesting this spring.

The present Council is desirous of winding up all the water works affairs that it can before the new Council takes the reins of the government in hand. The water committee met last night and considered disputed bills rendered by contractors who performed work on the public water works, and will present them with their recommendations at a special meeting of the Borough Council to be held this evening. The meeting promises to be a lively one. It is said the differences of opinion on some bills are so wide that there is no hope of a compromise. Should the predictions be fulfilled a number of suits may be looked for.

Cars Still Stopped.
The Schenylkill Traction Company is not running its cars through town yet. Chief Burgess Burns is enforcing the Borough Council's order relative to the cleaning of the tracks and carting away of the snow, and until the order is fully complied with no cars will be allowed to run to the Main street terminus. The Burgess had a conference with Manager Ash and in pursuance of an agreement made by the latter gentleman a flat car and gang of men were sent to town yesterday and commenced loading and hauling away the snow that had been shoveled from the Coal street track. Yesterday the cars were run to the west end of Coal street and travelers were obliged to walk to and from that point. The Lakeside Electric Railway Company's cars are running as far as the corner of Centre and White streets, but will probably run to the Main street terminus to-night. This company loaded the snow from the streets on to a big truck sleigh and hauled it away. The fall of snow early this morning did not interfere in anyway with the operation of the lines.

Local Licenses Granted.
The court at Pottsville yesterday granted the following licenses to Shenandoah applicants: First ward, John Slatery, Adam Nahlke, Vicent Vanle and Adam P. Tabor; Third ward, George Karlitzky and John J. Delaney; Fourth ward, Bridget Finnegan and George Rettick; Fifth ward, Ellen Welch, George Nangunas and William Degiaus.

McALLISTER'S ESCAPE.

A Train Struck His Wagon—Thrown, But Uninjured.

Thomas McAllister, a teamster residing on West Centre street, had a narrow escape from death this morning. As he was driving over the crossing of the Philadelphia & Reading railroad near the lime kiln, at about half past seven o'clock, an east-bound passenger train struck his wagon with great force. McAllister was thrown from the seat of the wagon head first into a snow bank twenty feet distant, but escaped injury. He was dazed for a few moments. The wagon was smashed into pieces the size of kindling wood. The horse also escaped injury. When the train struck the wagon it released the animal, which ran away and was not caught until it reached Turkey Run.

The Special Ladies' Ticket.

For to-night and Friday evening the Seymour-Stratton Company have arranged a new feature for ladies, a special inducement in the way of tickets. They have distributed to the ladies of the town tickets which, on being presented at Kirlin's drug store before 7 p. m., will entitle them to the best reserved seat for 15 cents. The tickets cannot be exchanged at the theatre, so in order to secure a seat for this unusual low figure go to the drug store early. Bear in mind these tickets are good only to-night and Friday evening. To-night the company will present the laughable comedy, "Our Stratagists," and on Friday evening the great and ever popular piece, "The Two Orphans," in which Miss Seymour has few if any superiors as Louise, the blind girl, and Mr. Stratton has given time and thought to Jaques and the chameleon. The orchestra will have special music for the production.

A nice present—a box of Brennan's Havana cigars. $1.35 per box.

Obituary.

The three-year-old son of Joseph Rudinski, of South Jardin street, died yesterday.

Mrs. Loftus, an old and highly respected resident of town, died at her home on South White street this morning.

Mrs. Sarah Boyer, wife of Daniel M. Boyer, died at Reading yesterday. The deceased was well known here and is kindly remembered for her goodness of heart. Her husband was formerly proprietor of the Exchange Hotel, corner of Centre and Jardin streets, in this town. She is survived by her husband, four sons and three daughters, John L., of Chalfant, William E., of Philadelphia; Daniel, Charles and Miss Annie, of Reading; Mrs. Kate Yoder, of Manheim, and Mrs. Quinby, of Delaware county.

"The Dazzler."

"The Dazzler" opened the third regular season of the Opera House last evening, attracting a large audience. The light and airy skit has been considerably improved since last season, the newly introduced features being very amusing and the specialties of a high order. The introduced ballads and choruses were all good, and it is evident that "The Dazzler" is in for another successful season.—Lowell, (Mass.) Times. At Ferguson's theatre on Tuesday evening, February 10.

I. O. O. F. Notice.

The members of John W. Stokes Lodge No. 515, I. O. O. F., will meet in Egan's lodge room, corner of Main and Centre streets, on Thursday, 14th inst., at one o'clock p. m., for the purpose of attending the funeral of our late brother, Charles Lehe, which will take place from his residence on West Cherry street, at 2 o'clock p. m. All members of the order are invited to participate. By order of ARTHUR WHARMSELEY, N. G. Attest—J. S. WILLIAMS, Sec'y. 2t

Borough Council Meets To-night.
A special meeting of the Borough Council will be held this evening for the purpose of considering finally all bills in connection with the public water works. The several contractors have been requested to be present, as well as Engineer Womelsdorf. It is understood that these bills will be disposed of finally at to-night's session, in order to close up the business of the present year.

Citizens Party, Attention.

The Standing Committee of the Citizens party will meet the candidates in the rooms of the Shenandoah Republican League, to-morrow (Thursday) evening, at 7:30 o'clock, to select watchers and transact other important business bearing upon the spring election.

AN APPEAL FOR THE NEEDY.

A Mite From a Few May Prove a Blessing to Many—The Motor Men Need Protection.

Warmer weather may be looked for soon, but that is no reason why efforts for the relief of the poor should end. It has been said more than once already, but cannot be too often repeated, that most sickness will follow this excessive Constitution weakened by insufficient food and clothing will give way to a trial to which they are put. They have the aid of the generous small sum of money may enable a mother to save a child, or enable her to obtain such comforts as she needs to continue her work for the support of her little ones. Certainly no mother worthy of the name should be compelled to see her children shiver for want of clothing or hear them sob for bread. Lend a hand. Do it quickly.

The post office officials announce that the new rates for foreign postage and registry has gone into effect. The rate on letters to all parts of the world except Canada and Mexico is now five cents per ounce. The rate to Canada and Mexico remains the same as domestic rates. Postal cards to all parts of the world cost two cents. The fee for registering a letter is now eight cents instead of ten as heretofore. Printed matter sent to foreign countries costs one cent per ounce.

Wishing for a half holiday early last week the scholars in one of the schools at Ringtown took advantage of the teacher's absence from the room and opened all the windows and packed the thermometer in a pall of ice. When the teacher returned to the room everything was in order, but the scholars complained of the bitterly cold weather. Glancing at the thermometer, which had frozen down to 15 degrees above zero, the teacher immediately dismissed the pupils for the day.

Of all employed men of whom we have knowledge there are none who have a harder time of it than the motormen on the trolley cars. They are so exposed to wind, snow and rain that scarcely any portion of their bodies is protected, and when moving against wind and storm as they have been compelled to do during the late intensely inclement weather, the wonder is that some of them did not perish. Notwithstanding this terrible exposure they are compelled to keep a constant sharp lookout for obstacles in their way, for passengers who desire to get aboard the car, for persons who are in danger of being run over, for wagons and other vehicles ahead of them on the tracks, and in addition pay attention to the conductor's signals for stopping and starting. It is a cold, comfortless calling, laden with heavy responsibility, and naturally has the sympathy of all kind-hearted people, in fact of everybody. Their narrow quarters should be vestibuled.

Sleighers say the sleighing was never finer. It is difficult to understand how it could well be any better. Those who love that kind of outdoor recreation—and nearly all young people, especially the ladies, do—have had fine opportunities for indulgence. The piercing temperature has thus far not appeared to have deterred any who had sleighs and horses, or offers of rides, from braving the frigid elements.

The plumber at this particular juncture has plenty of employment. The frost has played havoc with scores of water pipes, and from the frozen condition presented by the roof spouts there is a harvest of employment on hand and in prospect for them. It is thus again demonstrated that there is no such thing as an unmitigated evil, and that what is one man's poison is another man's meat.

The intensely cold weather has had very serious effects upon the oyster business. While there is not a famine of bivalves, they have become so scarce that unless there is a speedy change in the temperature, prices will have to be materially advanced.

Dabb has removed his gallery to Hoffmann's old stand, West Centre street.

A Musical.

Invitations have been issued for a musical to be held at the Ferguson House to-morrow night, under the auspices of the Ladies' Singing Club and under the direction of Prof. F. Zeltz. The ladies who will take part are: Mrs. Bordner and Misses Vost, Blerman, Jacoby and Reese, sopranos; Misses Wasley and Price, mezzo sopranos; Misses Wasley, Brown, Folmer and Llewellyn and Mrs. H. A. Acker, altos; Mrs. A. T. Jones, pianist.

Rappahannocks.

Starting from to-day, arrangements have been made to have steamed oysters at the Scheiff House. Nothing but Rappahannock River oysters. The best in the market. 2-12-1t

POLITICAL POINTS.

Election next Tuesday.
This is not a Democratic year.
The Democrats are on the run.
There are no sulkers in the Citizens ranks.
Vote early and often—for the Citizens candidates.
Make it a point to see that your neighbor votes next Tuesday.
The Citizens were born to rule, while the Democrats are to be ruled.
The Citizens candidates in the Second ward are confident of success.
Chief Burgess Burns is sadly in need of a Citizens Council at his back.
The people are not saying much, but they are doing some tall thinking.
Weigh well the qualifications of each candidate before casting your vote.
The enthusiasm of the Democrats can be confined to the dimensions of a thumb.
A man's business qualifications should be his best recommendation for election.
There is a good bit of the green goods method about the Democratic campaign.
A man who neglects his own business is hardly a fit subject to legislate for the people.

Shenandoah needs progressive men in both the School Board and Borough Council.
In the language of Grover Cleveland, "a condition, and not a theory," confronts the local Democracy.
The official ballot for Shenandoah will contain but three columns, the smallest ballot in the county.

The Citizens party was never more firmly united, and the little dissensions in the past have disappeared.
At least one Democratic candidate in the First ward is fearful of defeat. He is making a house-to-house canvass.

Turkey Run will give a good account of itself on Tuesday, the statesman from that hailwick to the contrary notwithstanding.

Each voter of the Citizens party should constitute himself a committee of one to see that every vote is deposited on Tuesday.

The Citizens Standing Committee will meet in the Republican League rooms to-morrow evening for the purpose of consulting with the candidates of that party.
Said a prominent Democrat yesterday: "I have become disgusted with the class of men nominated by my party for the past two or three years, and shall vote to give the managers a rebuke this time."

Died.

LEHE—On the 11th inst., at Shenandoah, Pa., Charles Lehe, aged 60 years. Funeral will take place on Thursday, 14th inst., at 2 p. m., from the family residence, corner of Cherry and Gilbert streets. Services in the German Lutheran church. Interment in the Odd Fellows' cemetery. Relatives and friends respectfully invited to attend. 2-12-2t
