A VERY WEAK DEFENSE

Harry Hayward Proves a Poor Witness for His Cause, .

NO POINTS MADE FOR HIMSELF.

While in the Forenoon He Was Perfectly at Ease and Quick to Answer, in the Afternoon He Made a Rad Impression Upon All in the Court Room

MINNEAPOLIS, Feb. 29.-W. W. Hay rard, father of the defendant, was called to the stand again yesterday. The state asked several questions with reference to onversations held with Elder Stewart, out objections were entered and sustained. William Yale, a gunsmith, was then placed on the stand, and the revolver and box of cartridges produced.

Blixt testified that the bullet was a 38 aliber long, and the cartridge in evidence as the one which killed Miss. Ging was a 38 short. Witness confessed that he did not know of the effect of bullets on a skull. In the absence of other experts Mr. Erwin called Harry Hayward, the defendant, to the stand. After the usual prelim inary questions Mr. Erwin said:

'Mr. Blixt and Adry Hayward have both testified against you. Have they tes-tified truthfully!' "They have not." "Has the testimony of Adry been true or false!" "Almost wholly false." Questions relative to trouble between the brothers were objected to and sustained.

Hayward testified that Adry had seen Miss Ging. They were in a buggy to gether one night with another young Indy

Another row occurred between Judge Smith and Mr. Erwin over the admission of certain testimony.

Hayward then proceeded to tell of his relations with Miss Ging. He denied that any improper relations existed between them. His attentions were those that exist between any young man and women He admitted playing faro and roulette in almost every city of any size in the coun try. Miss Ging had given him money with which to gamble. He tried to dissuade her from gambling, but she persisted in mak ing him take her money to play. Letters were read bearing out this statement.

Harry described the various winnings and losings he had made for Miss Ging. While in Chicago he had lost $1,530. He explained the telegrams he had sent from Chicago at length.

Nervous, contradictory, uncertain, gar rulous, rambling and explanatory. These words explain the aspect of Harry Hay ward on the stand in the afternoon. In the morning, when he was answering preliminary questions in regard to his life. his gambling habits, etc., he was concise perfectly at ease, quick to answer and made an ideal witness. In the afternoon, when his attorney began to lead him into the details of the circumstances attending the tragedy he went "up in the air," as a rseman would say, and made a bad im

In fact, Hayward made such a poor job of telling his own story that the court suggested that it would be better to get on with the evidence, and not to explain motives and beliefs so much.

As a whole, from the testimony given by the witness, he has not made any points for himself, and his appearance has told against him. According to his story his gambling deals at Chicago with Miss Ging as a partner were in the early part of the year, and finally in August he refused to use her money for that purpose. The witness tried to carry the impression to the jury that he suspected that she was pursuing her gambling with others, but it was only by inuendo. One queer point was that while Harry insisted that he never loaned Miss Ging the $2,500, but only gave it to her to keep for him until he demanded it, her note to him refers to it as a

One feature was when he took the long letter written to Miss Ging by him, in which he wanted her to let him have In the original there app some very light pencil marks. He tried to explain that he did not know they were there when he wrote, and finally said it did not make any difference anyway, for the meaning was the same whether the pencil words were used or the words in ink. If he had made the marks he thought they would have been in ink.

The most interesting part of his evidence to the audience was when he came to that part of his testimony which brought to the day of the murder. He was more halt-ing, more uncertain than ever at this Harry swore that the night of the murder he arrived at the Ozark at 6:40 o'clock. Then he told of doing an incred thle number of things before 7:22, the time he came out from supper and went to his

ROSEBERY'S VICTORY.

England's Premier Sustained in the House of Commons

BY A VERY DECIDED MAJORITY.

A Dangerous Situation Precipitated by an Effort to Precipitate Debate Upon the Import Duties Decided Upon by the LONDON, Feb. 22 .- Lord Rosebery's ad ministration has passed successfully through a storm which its opponent hoped would overwhelm it and while many of its friends believed would require the most skillful scamanship to weather Despite the predictions of the Conservative papers and the more or less badly disguise: fears of the Liberal organs the government came out of the contest with flying colors and a majority that surprised even those who would at no time admit that there was a chance of defeat.

The question that precipitated the dang rous situation was a motion, made by Sit Henry James, formerly attornery general in Mr. Gladstone's cabinet, but who abaudoned the Liberal party on the bringing forward of the Irish home rule scheme By standing order No. 15 of the house of commons a member may arise to move the adjournment of the house for the purpose of discussing a matter of urgent public importance. Taking advantage of this order, Sir Henry yesterday moved the ad-journment of the house in order to call attenion to the import duties on cotton re-cently decided upon by the government of India. It is claimed by many of the manufacturers of Manchester and other cotton centers in Lancashire that the imposition of these duties had a most serious effect on their business, and they desire the imperial government to intervene to secure their

The cotton interest is strongly repre sented in the house, and when the notice of the motion was given it was conjectured by not only many Conservative papers, but by some of the staunch Liberal organs, that the government, which was bound to oppose the desired change, would be over thrown by the Laneashire party in combination with Conservatives and Liberals interested in the cotton trade. The Par-nellites, too, were expected to cast their votes against the government.

But the result did not bear out the hopes or fears of the political parties for, by a majority of 165, the Rosebery ministry triumphantly repelled the attacks of its assallants. This result was in a measure due to the attitude of the Right Hon George J. Goschen, who, though a Liberal Unionist, dealt with the question in a spirit of great fairness toward the govern-ment. He suggested the holding of a conference in order to remedy the d India, for which purpose the cotton import duty and the excise duty on cotton in India were laid.

When the division came to be known on the motion it was found that a large num-ber of Conservatives and Liberal Union ists, and also several members represent-ing Lancashire districts, went into the government lobby. Included among those who voted against the government was the Right Hon. Joseph Chamberlain, who, it is stated, was responsible for the pushing of the motion. Baron de Roths-child and several other Liberal Unionists abstained from voting.

MURDERED FOR MONEY.

A Maryland Merchant Beaten to Death by a Negro for $100.

ELLICOTT CITY, Md., Feb. 22.-Daniel F. Shea, a well known merchant of this town was found brutally murdered in his store on Main street Wednesday night. Rob-bery was evidently the principal motive that led to the crime. On Wednesday the store of the murdered man had remained closed, and it was concluded that he had gone to Baltimore on business. Late at light, however, Chief of Police Vansant occeded to make an investigation. He reed open a window of the second story

When he descended to the lower floor the first object that met his gaze was the stiff form of the dead man lying in a poor of blood, while everything in the r howed signs of a murderer's work. Over such eye were two deep gashes, and in the forehead there was another, all of which reached the brain.

The money drawer, containing only a few papers, which were smeared with blood from the fingers of the murderer while emptying the drawer of its contents, was left upon the counter. Near the back door in the second story of the house a tin pan of bloody water was found, in which the assassin evidently washed his hands

Jacob Henson, a young colored man em ployed around the store of Mr. Shea, confesses that he committed the crime, says that he beat Mr. Shea with an Iron bar, and then robbed him of $100.

Row at a Chicago Mayoralty Convention CHICAGO, Feb. 22 -A free for all fight took place yesterday at the Republican convention at Central Music hall. The trouble arose during the discussion of cre-dentials. One of the delegates assaulted another and immediately a general row followed. The delegates armed them selves with canes and chairs and pounded each other energetically and indiscriminately. The battle lasted for a quarter of an hour, resulting in many bad bruises and badly battered hats. Police interference stopped the row. George B. Swift was nominated for mayor.
