Evening Herald.

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 28, 1895.

Tax country is asking nothing of the present Congress but the passage of the appropriation bills.

As a Presidential possibility, ex-Gov. Pattison is in a state of complete and everlasting wiped-outness.

The whisky trust assets exceed $38,000,000 and were evidently not accumulated by trusting anybody for whisky.

There were a good many more aspirants for the Mexican mission than for the next Democratic Presidential nomination.

Hill's speeches in defense of the Administration would be more effective if the country had better reason to credit their sincerity.

Cleveland can have a special session of Congress if he wants it, of course, but the country is not hankering for a thing of that kind.

The present Congress will disappear with the unenviable notoriety of having talked more and done less than any other that ever existed.

The United States marshals in Oklahoma are after Bill Doolin, and there is likely to be a dueling bill to pay if they catch up with him.

PHILADELPHIA continues to occupy the first place in the list of big Republican cities, which is to say that she is politically a larger St. Louis.

The next time there is a bond contract to be made, the President would do well to have his former law partner retained on the side of the government.

The time for making income tax returns has been extended to April 15, but this will not lessen the output of profanity by which they are attended.

KOLI is again threatening to set up a dual government in Alabama, but the probability is that such talk on his part is intended only for advertising purposes.

The way Congress pushes the appropriation bills these days and neglects everything else furnishes the gratifying assurance that there will be no extra session.

The Democrats are hardly to be blamed for opposing the construction of a cable to Hawaii, as the news from that country has not generally been of any advantage to their party.

The bill to make the lowest rate of pension $4 per month ought to be passed. Where there is a pensionable disability of any kind, the claimant is certainly entitled to at least that amount.

The contest over the Tennessee Governorship proceeds slowly, but with ample assurance that the Democrats are determined to count out the man who received a majority of the votes.

Russia is increasing her forces on the Chinese frontier. The Bear is evidently preparing to grab anything in the Celestial territorial line he can find any shadow of excuse to lay his paws on.

JERRY SIMPSON is going to deliver a series of lectures during the summer to make clear the principles and purposes of the Populist party. Evidently Jerry considers himself a great deal bigger man than a party named Hercules.

If any proper sense of the fitness of things governs the making of the new bonds, those securities will bear handsomely engraved portraits of Grover Cleveland and John G. Carlisle as a token to the two eminent persons who engineered a financial scheme by which the government has to pay a higher rate of interest on borrowed money than a private citizen is charged in the same market.

What the Farmer is Up To.

There is one thing the farmer is dead bent on, Hon. Benjamin F. Clayton, president of the Farmers' National congress, tells us in 'The North American Review.' That one object is the bettering of his condition financially.

Live stock, implements and other farm property amount to nearly $18,500,000,000 apart from the land itself. Including the value of the land, agriculture represents 66 per cent of the entire wealth of the nation.

The Farmers' congress does not consider that agriculturists are at all adequately represented in congress. 'The heart of the great agricultural region—Indiana, Illinois and Iowa—has no farmer in either branch of congress.'

The great mistake the farmer makes is in not going to the primaries, Mr. Clayton says.

A Cable to Honolulu. The Review of Reviews has this to say about an ocean telegraph to connect the United States with Hawaii:

Long before the plan of a cable line from Canada across the Pacific was ever thought of there had been much discussion of a line connecting the Sandwich Islands with California. The United States government has made extensive surveys and soundings in order to discover the best route.

France is wise enough to take plenty of time for her great exposition of 1900. It will be on the site of the one held in 1889, but will take in more ground. France's first move in the matter was to offer large prizes to architects for designing suitable buildings.

It is a pleasant sign of prosperity these hard times to learn that the Match trust has increased its capital and that its dividends are immense. Of course the public that buys its matches has nothing to say one way or the other and has not a thought given to it in the midst of this magnificent piling up of dividends.

It was blackmail money that was the matter with the police department of New York city. It is automatic telephone stock that is the matter with the councilmen of Philadelphia. A considerable amount of it disappeared in their direction, and now it seems to be calling holla.

The difference between the Japanese and Chinese is the difference between honest government and corrupt government.

A CABINET VACANCY.

Postmaster General Bissell Tenders His Resignation.

IN HARMONY WITH THE PRESIDENT

The Reasons for His Retirement Wholly Personal—The Retiring Official and the President Talk of Their Cordial Relations. Congressman Wilson May Succeed Him.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—Postmaster General Wilson S. Bissell late yesterday afternoon placed his resignation as a member of the cabinet in the hands of President Cleveland, to be accepted upon the appointment of his successor.

The statements which have been made that a disagreement between the president and Mr. Bissell caused the resignation were known by almost all in official circles to be without the slightest foundation, and therefore the usual interest and gossip which usually attaches to the retirement of a member of a cabinet were entirely lacking in this case, as it was considered by all that only the personal desire of Mr. Bissell to resume his lucrative law practice actuated him in taking the step which he did.

An Associated Press reporter called on the postmaster general, and in reply to queries Mr. Bissell said:

'I have placed my resignation in the hands of the president. The reason for so doing is that my professional work at home demands my attention, and I feel that I cannot longer remain away from it. The business of the department is in good condition and its transfer to my successor can be made without affecting the public service. I have found my work agreeable although at times quite onerous. I confess I leave it with regret, because I have become deeply interested in it and had a desire to accomplish something more in the development of the postal service than I have found possible in these two years of effort.'

'I deeply regret, also, that I am thus compelled to sever official relations with the president and his cabinet, which have been most satisfactory and cordial throughout.'

'Perhaps, without impropriety, I may now say that all rumors of disagreement between the president and any of his cabinet have been without foundation. I doubt if ever there was a more harmonious cabinet than the present one, and its members are a unit in support of the president on every public question.'

Everywhere we heard sincere expressions of regret at Mr. Bissell's retirement. At the White House the president said: 'It surely is not necessary for me to say that I shall release Mr. Bissell with the utmost regret. All of his associates in the administration will feel that they have lost a colleague who in all respects was a valuable factor in their executive labors, as well as a companion to whom they have become greatly attached. I am not taken by surprise, for I have known for some time that it was inevitable, because Mr. Bissell's reasons for his action were of a personal nature and were inexorable.'

Though in the departmental and congressional circles the air was filled with the names of possible candidates to succeed Mr. Bissell, from states ranging from the Atlantic to the Pacific, and to Florida in the south, still the feeling was uppermost among most of the men in official life that the president would reward in some way the untiring devotion of Congressman William L. Wilson, of West Virginia. And it can be stated that, unless the president changes his mind, Mr. Wilson's name will go to the senate as the successor of Mr. Bissell, and it is more than probable that he will be honored by an immediate confirmation on the part of the senate, as was Senator Ransom, a few days since, when he was appointed minister to Mexico.

Perhaps no member of Mr. Cleveland's cabinet has been a more trusted adviser of the president than Mr. Bissell. The president learned his worth as a man of thorough business capacity and administrative ability when they were associated as members of the same law firm in Buffalo. The fast friendship which was then formed remained while Mr. Cleveland successively stepped from the office of mayor of Buffalo to the White House, and when he became president for the second time it was from his personal desire that Mr. Bissell accepted a place in his cabinet.

For Alleged Complicity with Taylor. PIERRE, S. D., Feb. 28.—The city has been thrown into a fever of excitement by the arrest of Charles T. McCoy for complicity in the defalcation of State Treasurer W. W. Taylor. Attorney General Crawford swore out the warrant on information furnished by the legislative investigating committee. Conspiracy is also charged against John S. McChesney, of New York, and Daniel K. Fenny and Charles H. Wells, of Chicago, and civil suits will be begun against them.

SHE TELLS ALL.

The Whole Truth About the Matter Come Out.

All the Details Exactly as They Happened

And a More Remarkable Thing Never Was Known.

When a woman once makes up her mind to tell the whole truth about a matter, she does so with all her heart, and gives, without reservation or hesitation, all the facts just as they occurred. It is so with Mrs. C. E. Hudson, who resides in Brunswick, Me., from whose lips fell as interesting a story of extraordinary facts, as a newspaper writer ever gleaned for the reading public.

'Last year I was in such a condition that I could not walk or use my hands at all. My husband was obliged to lead me from the bed to the table, and almost carry me, I was so bad off.'

'I was taken with the grippe in the form of muscular rheumatism. It took me in the right leg first, and the pain was awful. It was about two years ago that I was taken, and I suffered all the time up to last fall, when I began the use of Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy.'

'I had tried many other kinds of medicines, but steadily grew worse. Last fall I commenced with Nervura. My bones were growing out of shape, and I could not so much as ring out a handkerchief, or stir up a mess of bread, or use my hands at all.'

'I took twelve bottles in all. After using the first five bottles I began to gain, and now I can do my usual work. I am so grateful that I have recommended it to many persons and shall continue to do so. It seems almost a miracle to my neighbors and myself, that from being so terribly afflicted as I was last fall, I should be as well a woman to-day, a space of only six months.'

'For a year and a half I did not get over one and one half hours sleep each night, but after taking the Nervura I began to sleep and after I had gained one hour's sleep more than I had before, I was greatly rejoiced.'

'My husband has paid out hundreds of dollars for my cure, in each kind of medicine I could name, but nothing helped me until I took Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. A wonderful story this, and yet every statement is absolutely true. No person ever suffered more than Mrs. Hudson, and no more wonderful cure was ever effected than this marvelous cure by Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. If this medicine will cure such a terrible and extraordinary case, it will surely cure anything and everything in the line of rheumatism or neuralgia. How anyone can read about this remarkable cure and not give Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy an immediate trial is beyond the comprehension of the writer. In the face of such strong evidence of its curative powers, sufferers who will not at least give it a trial, deserve to continue to suffer. Particularly should it be taken now, as such diseases always yield more quickly and are cured more readily in the spring.'

Another reason why this grand medicine can be taken with the utmost confidence, is the fact that its discoverer is our most successful physician in curing nervous and chronic diseases, Dr. Greene, of 35 West 14th St., New York City, who can be consulted free of charge by all who choose to write him or call upon him.

To Punish Indiana Whitecaps. MUNCIE, Ind., Feb. 28.—Judge Behrmer has issued warrants for the arrest of Arthur Schroy, Walter Berry, Elmer Bates and Rolley Wright. This is the outcome of a sensational whitecap attack Tuesday night at Granville, a small city ten miles northeast, upon Mrs. Amanda Hamilton, a widow, aged 35 years, her mother, Mrs. Eliza Graham, aged 65 years and feeble, and her two sons, Warren and Clay Hamilton.

Was Lincoln's Law Partner. KANSAS CITY, Feb. 28.—General Mason Brayman, aged 81 years, ex-governor of Idaho, the oldest Mason in the United States and former associate in legal practice with Abraham Lincoln, died here yesterday of Bright's disease. The funeral services were held today, and the body will be taken to Ripon, Wis., to be interred by the side of the deceased's wife.

To Impound a District Court Judge. TRENTON, Feb. 28.—The house yesterday voted to impound Patrick W. Connelly, a Bayonne district court judge, for falsifying his docket and for committing an aggravated assault upon Lawyer Dewitt Van Huskirk. The resolution favoring the impeachment was passed by a vote of 48 to 2. The senate concurred in the action of the house.

To Resume Work on the Hennepin Canal. PRINCETON, Ill., Feb. 28.—As a result of the thaw work will be resumed at once on the eastern end of the Hennepin canal, giving employment to nearly 2,000 men. Work on the lock excavations and foundations will be resumed next week, and it is expected that the first six locks will be completed early in July.

Fleeing From Hot Springs. ST. LOUIS, Feb. 28.—Trains from the south yesterday brought fully 500 badly frightened passengers from Hot Springs, Ark., who left that popular resort in a hurry to escape the smallpox. They declare that the disease is epidemic, and that neighboring towns have established a rigid quarantine.

PENNSYLVANIA LEGISLATURE.

Spectator Disgusted with the Disorderly Actions of Legislators.

HARRISBURG, Feb. 28.—The order of business in the house yesterday was bills on second reading. The entire morning session was taken up in consideration of the measure providing relief and employment for the poor of the commonwealth. It provides for the erection of poorhouses in counties not now operating under a special poor law by directors of the poor, who shall receive $5 a day. Strong objection was made to the bill by the members from the rural districts on the ground that if it became a law it would compel counties not having poorhouses to either build such institutions or send their poor to counties having poorhouses.

Numberless amendments were offered by the opponents of the measure in the hope of killing it, but they were promptly voted down. During the debate Mr. Devlin, of Philadelphia, took the chair, and while he presided, the house was a veritable bear garden. The members cheered and waived their handkerchiefs, to the astonishment and disgust of the spectators, many of whom were ladies.

The house went wild when Mr. Spangler, of Cumberland, arose to speak on the Lytle amendment that the act shall not apply to counties having poorhouses. Every word he uttered was greeted with cheers and clappings of hands. For five minutes pandemonium reigned, while the speaker pro tem, pounded vigorously for order. When order was finally restored Mr. Spangler said the Cumberland county poorhouse and prison were overcrowded, and that the people had to take care of the poor on the outside of those institutions as well as the paupers of other counties. The Lytle amendment was finally defeated.

Mr. Nickoll, of Philadelphia, offered an amendment to the constitution abolishing spring elections.

The senate resolution extending the time of the committee to investigate the state hospitals at Wernersville and Norristown from March 1 to April 1 was concurred in.

In the senate bills passed finally: To authorize school directors or controllers to establish out of the public school treasury free kindergartens for children under 6 years of age; to authorize the erection of suitable buildings in which to hold elections, store road machinery and transact township business.

A short recess was taken to be occupied in ceremonies incident to the presentation of a magnificent silver service to ex-Lieutenant Governor Watres by his senatorial friends. The chamber was crowded to its utmost capacity, among those present being many state officials and their wives, including Mrs. Hastings. Senator McCarell delivered the presentation speech, to which the recipient of the gift responded most feelingly.

New Laws for New Jersey.

TRENTON, Feb. 28.—The house yesterday passed the bill requiring appropriate exercises in the public schools on the days preceding Washington's Birthday, Decoration Day, Fourth of July and Thanksgiving Day. Also the bill prohibiting the display of any other than the American flag upon state, county or municipal buildings. This bill had been receded from the governor for amendment. The senate passed Senator Rogers' bill providing for the formation of a separate colored company of the National Guard in Jersey City, Newark, Camden and Trenton.

Decoyed and Baited by Thieves.

CINCINNATI, Feb. 28.—W. F. Allen, a contractor, of Jones' Postoffice, McDowell county, W. Va., was found in Lodge alley at 3 o'clock in the morning, with his skull fractured. He was taken to the city hospital in a dying condition. Detectives were at once put on the case, and it was discovered that a gang of negro thugs and robbers had a rendezvous in two dingy rooms at 51 Lodge alley. Allen had been decoyed to this place and assaulted, robbed and thrown into the alley. Harry Howard and Harry Curtis, two of the thugs, are under arrest.

Gathering in Election Crooks.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Feb. 28.—Arrests of persons indicted for election frauds are being made slowly. Twelve of the men, however, have voluntarily surrendered themselves and five were arrested yesterday. The bond in each case, which was $1,500, was immediately furnished. The officers appear unable to locate others, but say all against whom indictments have been returned, and who are in the city, will be arrested before night.

Refused to Arbitrate.

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—The state board of arbitration tried to settle the strike of the electrical workers here yesterday, but failed. James Strong, president of the Electrical Contractors' association, appeared before the board, but would not yield an inch. He said the men must return to work at once before the contractor would treat with them at all and that under no consideration would the eight hour rule be granted.

Fugitive Murderer Arrested.

HAZLETON, Pa., Feb. 28.—James Scharvo was arrested here last evening, charged with killing an Italian girl on Lackawanna avenue, Scranton, over a year ago. At the time it was thought that the girl's injuries were not serious, and Scharvo was released under bail. The girl died shortly afterwards and her slayer escaped. A reward of $1,000 was offered for his capture.

Ex-Chief Justice Brigham Dead.

SALEM, Mass., Feb. 28.—Lincoln Flagg Brigham, ex-chief justice of the superior court, died at his home here yesterday, aged 65. In 1851 he was appointed district attorney for the southern district of Massachusetts. During Governor Banks' administration he was appointed on the superior bench, and was made chief justice of the superior court in 1869.

An Illinois Deadlock.

GALVA, Ill., Feb. 28.—The Tenth district Republican convention seems to be in a hopeless deadlock. Eight hundred and forty-five ballots have been taken, the result being the same as on the first ballot: Prince, 33; McKinney, 18; Gest, 50; Ramsey, 23; Hammond, 10.

Delaware's Election Contest.

DOVER, Del., Feb. 28.—The senate yesterday afternoon ordered Sergeant-at-Arms Thomas to bring the sheriff of Sussex and the ballot boxes to Dover for the purpose of a recount in the contested election case of Senators Pierce and Moore.

The Weather.

For eastern Pennsylvania and New Jersey, rain; southwest winds. For the District of Columbia, Delaware and Virginia, rain; west to southwest winds. The temperature has risen or remained nearly stationary in all districts.

Forecast for 1895

For Shenandoah and Vicinity.

Fair trade winds, with increasing velocity in all branches of business, followed by frequent showers of Dollars into the coffers of the HERALD advertisers.

Do You Want To be in the Shower of Dollars

Everybody in Shenandoah looks to the columns of

The ... Herald

For an advertisement of anything worth bringing to the notice of the public. They rarely waste time over other papers. Do you see the point?

..The Moral..

Is that if you have any inducement to hold out to the 17,000 residents and the throngs of strangers constantly visiting the largest town in Schuylkill you should use the columns of the HERALD.

Not only does it guarantee the widest publicity, but its rates are proportionately low.
