GAY LIFE BY THE SEA.

Pleasure-Seekers and Health-Hunters at Atlantic City.

(From a Special Correspondent.)

ATLANTIC CITY, March 1, 1895. The gloomful and depressive pessimist who persistently croaks of "hard times" and dolefully asseverates that the nation's prosperity has gone to the demotion ever lasting bow-wows, is shamed out of his dismal bewailings as soon he finds himself in the briny and brilliant atmosphere of this great seaside cosmopolis. The very air seems with caressing fingers to "kiss up the ravelled skein of care"; the swishing surf sings wondrously a restful song to the tired senses; the genial warmth of the earth nears sun stirs the sluggish blood to quicker pulsings; and the inspiring activities that pervade the place beget fresh impulses and enkindle new ambitions in the most mind-weary of mortals.

A stroll on the thronged boardwalk just now is an inspiration and a delight. This magnificent expanse, skirting the white-beaded edge of the horizon-reaching sea for four unbroken miles, is the daily rendezvous of beauty and fashion, as well as the daily resort of the invalid and valetudinarian. Here meet and mingle the cosmopolitan and the countryman, Beau Brummel and Farmer Hayesseed, the belle from vociferous Broadway and the bright-eyed maiden from the quiet Pennsylvania hills. With each recurring year the wholesome custom grows of resorting here for a winter residence or an early spring time vacation, and the propitious opening of the Lenten season now beginning augurs favorably.

The magnificent climatic advantages of Atlantic City render it easily the foremost of American health resorts. The balmy and invigorating air, laden with briny ozone and impregnated with the balsamic odors of the encircling pine forests, is distinctively curative in pulmonary, malarial and nervous disorders, being especially effective in the amelioration of la grippe. The diversity of recreations and amusements attract to it every shade of temperament and taste from the gravest to the gayest. More than a hundred hotels and boarding cottages have opened their doors to the entertainment of visitors at rates ranging from a dollar a day up to figures that would make a frugal millionaire dizzy.

The facilities for getting to and from this enchanting bit of Lotus Land are superb in their completeness and in every detail—for here we not the "Royal Route to the Sea," that magnificent branch of the Reading Railroad System, the fame of which extends from the eastern coast to the placid waters of the Sun Down Seas? Everybody who travels—and everybody travels nowadays—is familiar with the unique renown of the "flyers" that run on this celebrated line, and I cannot forbear quoting from the Atlantic City correspondent of the Philadelphia Evening Star this account of a remarkable quick run:—"The people reaching here on Saturday last on the 2 o'clock p. m. Reading train have it to say that they traveled the entire distance at a rate of a mile in less than a minute. By reason of the ice blockade in the Delaware the train left twenty-two minutes late, and yet including stops at Hammononton, Egg Harbor and Pleasantville it pulled up to the depot here only one and one-half minutes behind time. In other words, twenty and one-half minutes had been made up in less than fifty five and one-half miles, which distance, inclusive of the three stops, was covered in fifty-seven and one half minutes. Certainly five minutes at least were consumed in the slowing up, stopping and getting off again at three stations, so that the actual running time was more than a mile a minute. This is a remarkable record for the distance, and is probably the fastest rate of traveling ever accomplished across Jersey."

But the Star man is in error in setting this down as a "record breaker," the same fifty-five and one half miles having been covered at least once in fifty-two minutes. On the Reading's straight smooth track a speed of a mile a minute is not deemed notably rapid, and a mile in less than fifty seconds is no uncommon achievement. The elegant train equipment of the "Royal Reading Route," not less than the phenomenally quick time, attracts to it a very large preponderance of the travel, and I am informed that through tickets to Atlantic City are now sold almost everywhere along the lines of the Reading, and also on those of its connections, such as the B. & O., Lehigh Valley, New Jersey Central, Beech Creek, Fall Brook and other roads.

"Perhaps you would not think so, but a very large proportion of diseases in New York comes from carelessness about catching cold," says Dr. Syrus Edson. "It is such a simple thing and so common that very few people, unless it is a case of pneumonia, pay any attention to a cold. New York is one of the healthiest places on the Atlantic Coast and yet there are a great many cases of catarrh and consumption which have their origin in this neglect of the simplest precaution of every day life. The most sensible advice is, when you have one get rid of it as soon as possible—by all means do not neglect it." Dr. Edson does not tell you how to cure a cold but we will. Take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It will relieve the lungs, aid expectoration, open the secretions and soon effect a permanent cure. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by Grubler Bros.

A severe rheumatic pain in the left shoulder had troubled Mr. J. H. Loper, a well known druggist of Des Moines, Iowa, for over six months. At times the pain was so severe that he could not lift anything. With all he could do he could not get rid of it until he applied Chamberlain's Pain Balm. "I only made three applications of it," he says, "and have since been free from all pain." He now recommends it to persons similarly afflicted. It is for sale by Grubler Bros.

FORTUNE IN HER OLD AGE

Widow of a Wealthy Chicagoan Discovered After Many Years.

CHICAGO, March 1.—A discovery has been made by Attorney Boyle, of Georgetown, D. C., which will affect large financial interests. Mr. Boyle has discovered in Maryland the aged woman who was the first wife of the late John McCaffery, of this city, an eccentric millionaire. This means that one-third of the personal property of the estate will immediately pass to her, besides giving her a claim on the real estate. The Maryland woman is now in the eighties.

The most extraordinary feature of this new phase of the McCaffery matter is that the discovery that the first wife of the dead millionaire is alive will cloud the title to millions of dollars worth of Chicago property, most of it situated in that part of the city known as the town of Lake. After reaching prosperity in Chicago McCaffery, in common with other rich men, made a practice of investing his surplus money in the purchase of tax titles. In every one of these deeds McCaffery signed his name as a batchelor or the deed was joined in by one or two women, whom he is supposed to have married at different times in Chicago, and who were universally recognized by him in all his business transactions as his wives.

The discovery at the present time that the original Mrs. McCaffery is not dead of course gives her the dower interest, not only in the present real estate belonging to the McCaffery estate, but in every foot of land that was sold by McCaffery in Chicago and in all the titles which McCaffery gave in restoring property on which taxes had been paid by him after default by the real owners.

When John McCaffery died, a year or so ago, considerable astonishment was caused by the fact that in his will he admitted the existence of three separate families of children. In this will, to whom he was married in Maryland more than half a century ago. McCaffery's will provided that if necessary five years should be devoted to hunting up his descendants by his first wife. These children became separated from their mother at the time McCaffery left her and came west. All these years the mother has lived in ignorance of the whereabouts of her children, but there is no question as to her identity.

New Jersey Red Men.

TRENTON, March 1.—The forty-fourth annual sitting of the state council of Red Men was held in this city yesterday. The report of Chief of Records Daniel M. Stevens, of Camden, shows 171 tribes in the state, with a total membership of 17,000 and assets amounting to $264,853. The following officers were elected: Great prophet, Charles Brown of Paulsboro; great sachem, William J. Forsythe of Jersey City; great son-in-law, J. A. Russell of Washington; great junior sachem, David B. Peterson of Camden; representatives to great council of the United States, Charles Brown of Paulsboro, Fred Wahl, Frank P. Jackson and D. C. Venno of Camden, and A. A. Cunningham of Paterson.

Russia's Riotous Students.

ST. PETERSBURG, March 1.—There were fresh disturbances among the students on Tuesday and on Wednesday, when they held meetings to protest against the trial by the police authorities of the students who were arrested on Feb. 21. The students claim that the prisoners should be tried by the ordinary tribunal. The behavior of the students at these meetings was so demonstrative that the police interfered. It transpires that two students were killed during the disturbances, Feb. 21, and that a professor was wounded while trying to mediate between the students and the police.

To Force the Issue in New York.

NEW YORK, March 1.—The electrical contractors met and decided to bring the strike situation to a crisis. President Strong said the contractors had hired 165 non-union men, and many more had applied for work. The strikers insist that the employment of non-union men would intensify the trouble and precipitate a general strike, which would call out every branch of the building trades. Arbitration is urged by the strikers.

Robbed His Benefactors.

READING, Pa., March 1.—A well dressed man, claiming to be a clergyman, was entertained by Samuel Baucher, residing on Schuylkill avenue. The stranger made so good an impression that he was given the best room in the house. Several hours after his departure Mrs. Baucher made the startling discovery that the house had been robbed of jewelry valued at several hundred dollars, and a considerable sum of money.

Terrible Railroad Wreck in Mexico.

CITY OF MEXICO, March 1.—An excursion train coming into the city on the Interoceanic railroad met with an accident yesterday afternoon. While rounding a curve on the side of a mountain five coaches jumped the track and went down the canyon. Forty-two people were killed and thirty or more seriously injured. The accident occurred about forty kilometers from this city.

Tillman and the Presidency.

NEW YORK, March 1.—Senator-elect Benjamin Tillman, of South Carolina, Governor Evans and D. B. Johnson, president of the Rockhill Normal and Industrial school, of the same state, were here yesterday. Incidentally President Johnson stated that Mr. Tillman was receiving hundreds of letters urging him to run for the presidency in 1896. "On the Democratic ticket," he was asked. "Oh, no," said Mr. Johnson. "A new party is inevitable, and it will be built on the ruins of the two dominant parties. Thousands are looking to Senator Tillman to be the ticket of the new party in 1896. He is the coming man, in my judgment."
