A SENSATIONAL SHORTAGE The American Missionary Society Victimized by Loose Financial Methods, NEW YORK, March 6 -There is a short age in the accounts of the American Missionary society, and the books of the or ganization have been found to be in suc-confused condition that the exports a work on them are not as yet in a position to make a detailed statement. The score tary of the society is Roy. "Hilam A. Newbold, of Mont Chair, and the treas-urer Henry A. Oakley, of New York city. The irregularithes extend only to a portion d the society's current receipts for some time, and do not impair the principal of ts resources or its trust funds.

Bishop Peterkin, of West Virginia, said: "The irregularities are such as warrant the removal of the secretary and treasurer from office. The society's expenditures are between $25,000 and $30,000 a year, and the money is paid out mostly in small sums, making the auditing of the accounts extremely difficult. The society has not been entirely crippled by these irregularities, but as they extend over five or six years it is impossible to make a detailed statement. I would not like to call it a defalcation, but I will say that hereafter the society would like to have its money handled in a different manuer

DESTRUCTIVE NATURAL GAS. It Demolishes a Big Building at Anderson, Ind., Causing $400,000 Less.

ANDERSON, Ind., March 6 -The most destructive natural gas explosion in the lifs tory of the Indiana gas belt occurred here yesterday. A $75,000 business block on the court house square was blown all over the centra' pars of the city. In the building were the When clothing stores, Prather' shoe story. Madley's drug store and a large number of business offices and balls of the upper theor. Fire followed the explosion, which was like an earthquake and the remains of the ruins began burn ing floreoly. The entire fire department was called out and prevented the fire from reaching the new court house. The loss on the buildings and contents is total, and will reach $400,000. The fronts of all business houses in the neighborhood of the explosion were demolished, paved streets ripped open and telephone cables torn down.

How the explosion occurred is a mys-tery, but its results are very much in evidence, as wreckage blocks that section of the city on which it took place. It shool everything in the corporate limits of An derson and says pieces of wood and glass office furniture and bricks flying in all di

Mrs. Martin says she was making up their folding bed in the lower front room and took the revol ver from under the pillow and placed i on the mantelpiece. Just as she did so she heard a shot, but did not know it was the one she was handling. Her husband rushed in from the back room to ask about it and they found it was their pistol, and also found the hole where the ball went through the wall. The police question the accuracy of the story of the shooting, though there is nothing to show anything but an accident.

BOARDED BY A WINE CASK.

A Strange Incident While Lying to 15 Storm Off Cape Horn.

City Physician Wheeler has two bottle of claret of uncertain age and still mo meertain flavor, which he delights fering to his friends, not because of the gives him a chance to tell again a story of the sea that is a little out of the ordinary. The claret is put in lime bettles, such as may be found aboard any long voyage essel, and while its most pronounced lavor is a cross between lime juice and alt water there is still a "smuck" in it and water there is said a smack in a last reminds one that it must have been at one time prime "stuff." Dr. Wheeler was presented with the bottles by Captain Dexter of the British ship Samaritan. which recently left this port in margo for Liverpool, and the captain told the fol-lowing story of how he came by them: "In the fall of 1893 we were bound from Liverpool to Shanghal in ballast and were searing the Horn when a big storm over took us. We have to and drifted alout 1,000 miles offshore. The storm was can of the worst I have ever experienced in 20 years of seafaring life, and one dark night, when hig sons were breaking over us, burly fellow from the forecastle can ft, knife in hand, and walked directly u a me. I thought for a minute that mutiny was aboard, and drawing my re-solver ordered him to stand back. But I seen saw he was terribly frightened, and, with chattering teeth, he told me that a frightful looking object was floundering "I went with him to see it, and, sure nough, whenever a wave struck us a huge black body, glowing in the phosphorescent ainze of the tropics, could be seen floun dering about on deck. I soon ascertained that it was lifeless and then proceeded to investigate. It proved to be nathing but s huge wine cask, every stave of which was incrusted with barnaeles, and it had aroluably been left on deck by a receding wave. Visions of dead bodies buried at an in casks loomed up before ma as ashed the trophy to the rigging to awalt laylight before investigating.

When the storm cleared away, I tap-ped the cask, and by means of a long iron red ascertained that there was nothing but liquor in it. I draw off some of the suff and tried it on two Portuguese sall ors aboard. They prenounced it prime, to we all took a taste. After that I drow of all the wine and stared it in these lime attles, the only thing I had handy. ask I placed in the British museum at hanghal, for it was a real curiosity. The bances are that cask of claret was thrown overboard from some wreck, and it must ave floated about in midocean for three or four years at least before it came aboard of us. Barnacles do not form on floating f us. wood in less time than that, and the cash was so covered with them that not a bit of the wood was visible."-Portland Orgonian.

Cause For Embarrassment.

One of the things that she believes in-and a very good belief it is, many husbands will say-is that the woman who is at the head of the house should do her own marketing. She dropped in at her butcher's in the afternoon, when she was on her way to a matinee at the opera, and gave an order. Another of her principles is to pay spot each for everything she buys and to run no accounts, but on this day she had forgotten her pocketbook.

"I did not ask them to charge it to me," she said. 'I did not want them to do that. I explained that I had forgotten my pocketbook, and that they were to send the purchase to my house, and on the next day when I came again I would pay them.

"And, would you believe," she said, opening her eyes, "that they refused? And I said to them, 'Very well, then, send it around, collect, and I shall not come here to buy anything more." "

So far so good, but-"And do you know," she said, with the most innocent smile in the world, "that I went there the very next day and have been going there ever since b erneran 16's

I could not take even the lightest food without suffering. I was influenced to try your Sarsaparilla (DANA'S). I began to feel better with its use ; and now, after six months, I feel I am CURED. The Demoscratic leaders in the contest two years Brazil at New York. and a half ago bunkoed a nation. American history affords no parallel for the Presidential campaign of 1892. When Grover Cleveland was nominated for the third time the prosperity of this country had weached the highest point known since the foundation of the Republic. Business was on a sound basis. Industries were expanding. Our infinite national resources were being developed at an unexampled rate. American factories from cocean to ocean were increasing their facilities, multiplying their output and confarging the number of their employes. American workingmen were receiving the firest wages ever paid to labor in any clutified country. The standard of living was advancing with the growth in indusstrial wealth. The nation's revenues were abundant. Its credit was unquestioned. Abroad the American flag was held in honor. At home Republican protection and patriotic government had culminated is a magnificent era of peace and progress. Mr. Cleveland and a Congress Democratic in both branches were triumphantly elected and in due course installed in Washington. Then the work of disillusion. the procession of disaster, began. There its no need to describe its events. They are written in inextinguishable characters on the minds and hearts of the American moople. The swift shrinkage in values; das banksuptcy of business concerns; the maralysis of industry; the closing of factories; the universal wage reductions; the impoverishment of the people; the dransformation of a great nation's onward march into disordered and destructive re streat; the shame cast upon the American stag by Cleveland's infamous Hawaiian policy; the overthrow of protection and the enactment of a scandalous tariff law which orippled wast American Interests, imposed the detestable Income tax upon American citizens, and compelled the Government to run into debt at the rate of a hundred millions a year to pay its meconsary expenses-all these are painstully familiar to every American voter.

A Scotsman's Humor.

A notable instance of Mark Tapleyism not to say heroism, was supplied recently at the Royal infirmary. The case was in that of an iron worker who had met with a frightful accident. As a result of an explosion in a furnace a piece of redhot iron four inches in length imbedded itself in the man's eye and cheek, necessitating the removal of the dreadfully burned eye ball. This done, the question arose amon those present at the operation as to nature of the metal extracted, when th patient himself, with extraordinary nerve asked to be allowed to handle the sub stance, and pronouncing it to be cast iron quaintly added, "Better send it back to the works, or they'll be having me up for stealing!"-Glasgow News.
