

The Lynchburg Bank Looting. LEXINGTON, Va., March 8.—Yesterday developed a surprise in connection with the recent robbery of the Bank of Lexington by C. M. Figgatt, the absconding cashier, who gutted the bank, securing about $100,000. It is now announced that the firm of Irvine & Co., composed of C. W. Irvine, a prominent hotel and business man, and C. M. Figgatt, ex-cashier of the bank, doing business in real estate in Buena Vista in boom days from 1890 until very recently, have charged against them as overdrafts the sum of $51,500, a sum they never had to their credit. The grand jury yesterday indicted C. W. Irvine for receiving money knowing the same to have been embezzled and stolen. He was bailed to appear at the May term of the county court. He declares his innocence.

Wanted to Lynch Young Crawford. ADEL, Ia., March 8.—A mob of masked and well armed farmers, mounted on blanketed horses, rode into town about 2 o'clock in the morning and demanded of Sheriff Payne that he give them his prisoner Crawford, one of the men who robbed the bank on Wednesday. The sheriff refused, and told the crowd that he would defend the prisoner with his life. After some parleying and a promise from the sheriff that he would not remove Crawford from the county the mob departed. Crawford has made an additional confession, to the effect that there was a plan to rob several banks.

Brutally Tortured by Robbers. WILKESBARRE, Pa., March 8.—Late at night five men disguised as whitecaps entered the house of Farmer George Wagner in Exeter township. They heated a fire shovel red hot and applied it to Wagner's feet, at the same time demanding all the money which he had in the house. The farmer told them it would be found in a bureau drawer. The thieves broke open the drawer and secured $217. A hired man named Johnson was knocked senseless by a blow from the butt of a revolver. Mrs. Wagner and her little daughter were prostrated by fright. The robbers left no clew behind them.

Fatal Quarrel Between Italians. LONG ISLAND CITY, March 8.—Tony Perry, 48 years old, of Atlantic avenue, East New York, was shot and killed by Nicolo Pier, 28 years old, of this city, during a quarrel. The shooting occurred in the round house of the Long Island railroad. The two men were members of a gang of Italians employed on the railroad. During the quarrel Pier was handed a revolver by one of his friends. He fired the instant the weapon was in his hands. The murderer and his accomplice fled.

Generous Landlord. We are informed of a case in which a storekeeper of town was given a month's rent by his landlord on account of the hard times that prevailed during the winter. More landlords like that one would make the business people think life is worth living.

At times the pain was so severe that he could not lift anything. With all he could do he could not get rid of it until he applied Chamberlain's Pain Balm. DAISY GARDNER'S S. IT.

How a Pretty Telegrapher Was Robbed on Her Prospective Husband. CHICAGO, March 8.—The breach of promise suit of Daisy Gardner, a telegraph operator, against John W. Stone, son of a wealthy board of trade operator, has developed a romantic story. Daisy Gardner is a very pretty girl, who takes stock quotations and the like in an office very near the board of trade, where young Stone is employed in his father's office. The young people met often, and finally became engaged. The wedding day was fixed, and the court bill, the guests arrived and the bride was ready, but the necessary groom did not come. The guests went home, and the next day, Miss Gardner declares, young Mr. Stone came to her with a peculiar explanation. His father, he said, had discovered the proposed wedding, remonstrated and finding the young man obstinate pushed him into a large office vault and kept him locked up until the wedding hour was safely passed. Miss Gardner could not see the joke, and has sued young Stone for $10,000 for breach of promise, in the hope, she says, that her former father-in-law apparent will have to foot the bill. Stone senior admitted in an interview that he had prevented the marriage, but emphatically denied that he had locked his son in a vault.

THE STRIKING MINERS.

Big Operators Determined to Resist the Demands of the Men. PITTSBURG, March 8.—Considerable uneasiness was caused among the operators yesterday by the Hackett Coal company, at Findleyville, controlled by Boyle Brothers, posting a notice that their mines will resume today at sixty-nine cents, the rate demanded by the men. William Floorstein's men, in the same region, ask a similar concession, but were emphatically refused. The Boyle Brothers were asked by the operators to rescind their notice under promise of having their orders filled from the mines at work for fifty-five cents, but they replied that it was their intention to conduct their own business. The men at Catsburg, on the Monongahela river, have returned to work, the company having conceded the scale. A prominent miners' official said last night he thought some of the retail operators would agree to pay the price, and get it on the market, but did not think big firms would agree to it. He thinks the strike at present ill advised, and said that the men should have waited until the middle of April. He regrets the action by the men. The latest estimate of strikers is 17,000, leaving those at work in the neighborhood of 2,000.

The charge is criminally libelling Frank B. Noyes, of Washington, treasurer of The Evening Star, and one of the board of directors and of the executive committee of the Associated Press. The indictment will be submitted to a United States commissioner who, satisfying himself of the formal regularity of the indictment, will issue a criminal warrant for the arrest of Messrs Dana and Laffan.

Firemen Run Down by a Train.

DETROIT, March 8.—While a hook and ladder truck was returning from a fire it was run into by a freight train on the D. G. H. and M. road. The following men were probably fatally injured: Driver Anthony Korte, Steersman Christian Goebel and Lieutenant Charles L. Chase. The time of one of the hook and ladder forks entered Korte's head, penetrating the brain. The truck was thrown about 150 feet and wrecked. The horses were badly mutilated.

BIG OCEAN STEAMER AGROUND.

Stuck on a Bar Near the Entrance to New York Harbor. NEW YORK, March 8.—The North German Lloyd steamship Havel, Captain Jungst, went ashore on the north side of Gedney's channel while entering the harbor. Most of the passengers were asleep, and no excitement prevailed. The engines were at once reversed at full speed, but failed to move the vessel. When the tide began to fall the Havel listed heavily to starboard. Eight tugs were soon alongside the steamer, in readiness to assist in floating her at high water. There were 155 cabin and 271 steerage passengers on the Havel. The steamboat George Starr and another sidewheel steamer took off some of the passengers during the afternoon. At 4:30 p. m., when it was high water, the tugs repeatedly pulled on the steamer, but their united efforts, with the assistance of the steamer's engines, did not succeed in getting her off. At 6 p. m. a dispatch was received from Sandy Hook saying that the position of the vessel was unchanged, and that the tugs were leaving her. The Havel is the newest boat in the North German Lloyd service, having been built in 1890 by the Vulcan Shipbuilding company in Stettin, Germany. She is 422 feet long by 49.6 feet beam, and 35 feet depth of hold. She registers 3,770 tons net and 6,983 tons gross. Her engines develop 13,000 horse power and give her a speed of twenty-one knots an hour.

Among the saloon passengers on the Havel are twelve officers of the Japanese army, who have been ordered to leave for duty by their government. They have been studying the tactics of the German army in Germany for some time past. They will start at once for Japan via San Francisco.

PENNSYLVANIA LEGISLATURE.

The House to Hold Three Night Sessions Each Week. HARRISBURG, March 8.—A new senatorial apportionment bill was introduced in the house yesterday by Chairman Culbertson, of the legislative apportionment committee. It makes no material change in the senatorial districts in eastern Pennsylvania, but many radical changes are made in the districts in the western end of the state. A resolution was reported from the rules committee, and adopted, for three sessions on Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays, and that the order of business be third reading on Tuesday nights and second reading on Wednesday and Thursday nights. The resolution goes into effect next Tuesday. This is six weeks earlier than the house began night sessions two years ago. Mr. Fow made a vigorous attack upon the bill to establish a free public employment office in each of the congressional districts and in cities, under the direction of the bureau of industrial statistics. The bill passed second reading. The bill abolishing the office of jury commissioner and providing that juries shall be selected by county commissioners was defeated. The bill for the erection of workhouses in counties with a population of 70,000 or more, on recommendation of the grand jury, passed second reading. The session of the senate was very meagerly attended, and as a consequence legislation requiring a majority vote of the body to pass it was almost entirely avoided. The only bill passed finally was an amendment to the law relating to the registration of births and deaths. The governor sent in the nomination of Gorman D. Spear, of Uniontown, to be superintendent of the Cumberland national road, lying in Fayette and Somerset counties. No action was taken on the nomination because of the small attendance. The senate adjourned until Monday evening.
