Effort to be Made to Collect Payment on an Old Judgment From the Borough.

OLD IDEAS ARE DISPELLED.

TRYING TO GET HOLD OF THE LICENSE MONEY BEFORE THE COUNCIL CAN APPROPRIATE IT.

The Borough is to Show at the Next Term of Court Why it Shall Not Pay the Claim-The Uses of License Money.

An effort is being made to enforce collection of one of the judgments which have been entered up against the borough of Shenandoah in recent years. The case that is being pushed is one in which Mrs. Ann Haley secured judgment against the borough for damages sustained in falling upon a pavement. The impression has prevailed among most people of the town, and especially among the Councilmen, that a judgment against the borough was worth about as much as one against an insolvent debtor ; that if the borough officials did not wish to pay the judgment they could appropri ate all money deposited in and coming to the treasury for street work and other purposes and leave the judgment creditor without a chance to attach any funds By this method, the Councilmen who nursed the belief said payment on the judgments could be put off for an indefinite time, or at least until such time as the borough had no other use for its money

This illusion held full sway with many antil several months ago, wh-n Judge Pershing stated from the bench that Borough Councils had no power to ap propriate funds not actually in hand; i. e. that money due the borough would have to be actually deposited in the borough treasury before the Borough Council could appropriate it for any purpose.

It is on this ruling that the Haley cas s now being pushed. Mrs. Haley's counsel yesterday secured from the court an alias mandate for the borough to show cause why her claim should not be paid and the mandate is returnable to the next term of court. The borough has not yet received its proportion of the license money for this year, and it is supposed the object of the counsel in the Haley case is to get hold of part of this money before it gets into the borough treasury and can be appropriated.

The claim made by some that the license money cannot be used for any money can only be used for this purpos does not apply to boroughs.

THIS AND THAT. Subjects Discussed From Many Standpoints in a Concise Manner. In Michigan the people get up corn-beef hash sociables, and they appear to be popular. Here in the East much and milk festivals, held by the church people were just as popular at one time, but now one seldom hears of them. Chicken and waffles have superseded the latter.

Tamaqua, in some respects, is retro rading. In glancing over the papers published in that town, I notice that the members of the Borough Council have come to the conclusion that it's no one' business what they do as the law-makers of Tamaqua, and have accordingly resolved to exclude representatives of newspapers from their meetings. The penell nusbers will have to depend upor Dame Rumor for what information they may desire, and if the information is not correct as obtained from this source, the Councilmen themselves will be to blame. Reporters, as a rule, will secure the news at all hazards, and that being so the better plan would be to allow them admission to the meetings. Then there need be no eccasion for misrepres-ntation. The probabilities are that the reporters have criticised the action of the Councilmenomething the narrow-minded individual letests-hence the action of the Council men in excluding the newspaper represen tatives. Men who are fearful of just criticism, should never be chosen as public officials or law-makers. Instead of awakening from its Rip Van Winkle steep, Tamaqua appears to have taken another pap.

As a justification of their course, the Councilmen have decided to pay a fixed sum to one of the papers for publishing the proceedings, the latter to be furnished by the Town Clerk. This means, in a few words, that if there is anything crooked in the action of the members on any particular legislation, it will be sup pressed.

One thing, however, can be said to the predit of this progressive (?) body of men. and that is they refuse to permit the erection of water troughs in front of hotels or other places. What a rural picture it would have presented to see norses and other cattle standing in front of the Columbia, United States, Beard's and other hotels slacking their thirst !

In the expenditure of the people's money, this particular body of Council men appear to be most too liberal. To vote the High Constable $5 00 per mont , in lieu of the fees attached to that office will soon bankrupt the treasury. It will also likely cause a scramble among the people for the office when it next become vacant. Shenandoah and Mahanoy City can well afford to pay $40 and $50 per month, since the High Constables in the w places are required to speak a dozen (r high owing to dislocation of their jawa

M. M. Burke, Esq., found himself in a relicament when about to leave the Pottsville court house yesterday. Lawyers are in the habit of leaving their hats and coats in Prothonotary Deegan's vault while they are in attendance at the court room. Yesterday Mr. Burke was detained at court later than usual and upon going to the Prothonotary's office found that Mr. Deegan had gone home and the vault was looked with the coat, hat and over shoes on the wrong side of the door. Commissioners' Clerk, Phil. Connell, kindly loaned Mr. Burke a Fedora with which to make the journey home.
