WEDNESDAY, MARCH 13, 1895.

THE members of the late Congress should now go to work to live down the miserable record they have made.

THE South now has four of the Cabinet offices, and will thus be compelled to bear her proper share of responsibility for the follies and mistakes of the Administra-

BLAND's Democratic foes kept him out of the monetary commission, but they can not prevent him from being the biggest man in the silver end of the Democracy, which is the big end.

It is gratifying to be able to point to one praiseworthy act passed by the recent Congress and signed by the President. It is true, the law is in response to a universal sentiment, but Mr. Cleveland and the Fifty-third Congress have so repestedly defied public opinion and shecency that when they do break over this rule it constitutes a noteworthy exception which deserves to be placed to whelr credit. The act in question is the the owner, William F. Lennon, are found mew lottery law. This measure empowers the Postoffice authorities to open sealed letters which they have cause to suspect contain express orders in payment for lottery tickets. It has been known for some time that the Louisiana lottery, which has maintained headquarters in Honduras since it was driven from the United States, has piled its traffic in this senate. It provides for repealing the act under which female juvenile offenders country by this means, and, while the Postoffice authorities have refused to issue money orders to the lottery company, it could not prevent the mails from orders. The new law is intended to put a stop to this practice, and it seems well devised for accomplishing its purpose. The new lottery law has been criticised on the score that it is drastic and arbi-Erary legislation. Unquestionably the act is an exceptional one, but the abuse for the prosecution. He put forth the at which it is aimed is also exceptional, theory that Gibbs resisted being held up It is not likely that the law will be employed as a precedent for oppressive grasp of the legislation in the future, and even should Sadie placed her revolver against his head it be used as a precedent, the people have a safeguard and remedy in their own mands so long as they have access to the pallot box.

EVERY native American in whose veins where runs a drop of the old Revolutionary blood, every adopted American who came to this country to escape oppression elsewhere, must sympathize earnestly with the gallant effort which the people of Cuba are making to emancipate themselves from Spanish domination. The revolt is declared to be insignificant in its proportions by the Spanish authorities. But all authentic news from the scenes of the outbreaks is sternly suppressed, and the statement that General Martinez Campos, who subdued the Cuban insurrection which broke out in 1868, is to be dispatched to Cuba with seven battallions of troops indicates that the existing rebel-Rion is much more formidable than Spain is willing to acknowledge. Whatever the facts may be, the American people will wish success to the Cuban revolutionists. The population of this fertile island has been subjected to a systematic process of spolistion and oppression which outweighs a thousand times the injuries that lied our forefathers to rebel against Great Britain. Spain has treated Cuba as a conquered and hostile country. The natunal development of the island has been hindered, its revenues have been diverted into the pockets of a horde of Spanish officials as dishonest and rapacious as Tammany politicians, and its people have been kept in a condition of servitude by Spanish cannon and bayonets. Spain uncloubtedly has the right to require the mecall of Consul-General Williams if he has overstepped the limits of diplomacy In giving assistance to the insurgents, but this does not alter the fact that justice is on the side of the Cubans, and no technical terms in antiquated treatles will prewent American citizens from expressing warm sympathy for the plucky little community that is fighting for the freedom that is the inalienable heritage of smankind.

GOVERNOR IS VIL'S ILLNESS.

It Couses Gravest Auxiety to the Citizens of Delaware.

LAUREL, Del., March 13.—Governor

Joshra H. Marvil is seriously iii at his iome here, although it is now said that he is in no immediate danger and that his condition is slightly improved. The governor for many years has been a sufferer from heart diseases and dropsy, but in spite of this he has been in almost daily attendance at the sessions of the legisla ture in Dover until last Friday, when he took to his bed. The resident physician yesterday sent for Dr. William Pepper,exprovost of the University of Pennsylvania, who came to Laurel. The governor was to have gone to Philadelphia, but he was unable to do so because of an unfavorable

All during the canvass before the Republican nomination for governor the conlition of his health caused much appre hension. It has been the ambition of his life to be governor of Delaware, and he secured the naminat' n without opposition At the time of the inauguration Governor Marvil made no speech and did not read his address, because his physicians in Philadelphia had advised him not to beome unduly excited. This fact at the time gave rise to the cruel story that Govstnor Marvil could not read nor write, which is, of course, untrue.

The Illness of the governor has caused much commotion in political circles. He is more than 70 years old. All the state officers are appointed by the governor, and should this illness terminate fatally he will be succeeded by Speaker William T. Watson, of the senate, who is a Democrat. If Speaker Watson becomes governor a new state senator would have to be chosen from Kent county. With Mr. Watson governor the senate would stand four Democrats and four Republicans.

The Democrats carried Kent county last fall by about 100 majority. If a new elec-tion were ordered it would be very exciting, owing to the contest for the United States senatorship, as the control of the egislature would be involved in the elecion of this senator. So much depends on Governor Marvil that the precarious conlition of his health excites the greatest

The Bill Probibiting Religious Garbs in Meantime the Chinese Have Suffered Par-Public schools Passed Finally.

HARRISBURG, March 13.-Mr. West, Berks, put in a bill in the house vesterday providing that it shall be unlawful for any corporation, firm or person doing business in the state to compel any of the employes to take out policies of insurance in any accident, casualty; or hability comterested, the cost of the policy being de-ducted from the wages of the employe-Penalties for violation are provided.

Mr. Burrill, of Moreor, presented a bill lamations in three newspapers in each county, two of which shall represent the majority party and the third the minority

The house went into consideration of the special order on third reading of the Smith religious garb bill. Mr. Long, of York opposed it as un-American, and intimated that back of it was the American Protec tive association. Such legislation, he said was unwise and unjust.

In defending the bill Mr. Spangler, o. Cumberland, made a speech denouncing the Roman Catholic church and its head to whom he referred as "that man, Pops Leo the Tweitth." He said of National Chairman Hacrity, "Follow this man up along the Ailegheny mountains, and we hear that he was in consultation with three Roman Catholic priests, who said to these men: 'Denounce these orders and we will give you the votes of our church."

At the close of his speech Mr. O'Mailey, of Lackawanna, took the member from Cumberland to task for his intimation that Mr. Harrity had made a deal with three priests. "I am a member of the Roman Cathode church," said Mr. O'Malley, and I have never known one of its elergymen to make a political bargain. The Age of Tidbits.

This is the age of tidbits. People are content to be fed by literary cat's meat men on "scraps" and to neurish the soul on journalistic essences. Such a state of things is the Nemesis of the printing press. It is so much simpler to glance a the newspaper review of books than to read the books for ourselves. As a rule too, we merely read the startling or spicy extracts which the reviewer is compelled to tear from the context. The result is that the ordinary person who passes some glib judgment on such a work as the "Thomas Carlyle" of Mr. Froude knows as much of its actual con tents as the fashionable idiot in Dickens knew about Shakespeare's sublime tragedy of "Macbeth." To that gentleman "Macwas the play in which there was "a dem'd proprietable woman who insists on getting up in the middle of the night and walking about the room with a light-ed candle."—National Review.

Formula For Kerosens Emulsion.

This formula for a kerosene emulsion was given by a professor in one of our agricultural colleges some years ago, and I was requested to experiment with it on greenhouse plants. I did so, with highly satisfactory results, writes Eben E. Rexford in The Ladies' Home Journal. It is made as follows: Two parts kerosene, on part slightly sour milk. Churn together until a union of milk and oil results. When they unite, a white jellylike substance will be secured, which will mix readily with water. Dilute this jelly with 18.or 20 times its quantity of water and shower your plants thoroughly. Soft leaved plants, like begonias, primroses and gloxinias, are frequently injured by it, if applied in the strength advised above. Therefore it is well to dilute the application by using at least 80 parts of water to one of the jelly.

Love of Work.

The love of work, which was one of the characteristics of the historian Froude, is well illustrated in a story told of his last illness. The cancerous affection of which he after died was slowly destroying his healthy and vigorous frame. At one time he seemed to be much better, and when the physician came to see him he noted the improvement and told his patient of it. Froude asked whether it was likely that he would be able to go back to his Froude asked whether it was likely work again. On hearing that this was impossible he said, "If that is the case, I do not wish to live."

THE TERMS OF PEACE

About to be Concluded Between Japan and China.

GREAT CONCESSIONS BY CHINA.

Japan Will Annex the Island of Formosi and Occupy Port Arthur and Wei-Hal-Wei for a Term of Years-Cores to be

WASHINGTON, March 13 .- As a result of the negotiations between Minister Dun in Japan and Minister Denby in China, the terms of the peace about to be concluded between China and Japan are now known with little short of exactness. As under stood in high official circles they are as fol-First-The treaty between Japan and

China has ceased to exist by reason of the war, but on the renewal of peace the new treaty will grant Japan extra territorial jurisdiction over China, but the latter country will surrender the extra terri-torial jurisdiction she formerly held in Second-There will be no extension of Japanese territory on the mainland of Asia. But the Island of Formosa, a Chinese possession lying off the coast, will be permanently ceded to Japan.

Third—The Japanese will by treaty be granted the right to continue the occupa-tion of Port Arthur and Wei-Hai-Wei, the two great naval stations leading to the Gulf of Pechili, for a term of years.

Fourth-The claims of China that Cores is a dependency of hers shall be forever relinquished, and Corea shall henceforth be independent.

Fifth-The eash indemnity to be paid by China will not exceed $250,000,000 in

The purpose not to extend Japanese ter-ritory to the mainland, but to confine it to the outlying Island of Formosa, assumes the conclusion of a peace without Euro-pean intervention. The maintenance of Japan's extra territorial jurisdiction in China, while the latter country surrenders a similar jurisdiction, leaves China as the only oriental country submitting to this outer jurisdiction. Japan now terminates China's consular courts in Japan, al though Japan's consular courts in China are to be continued. This presents the very singular spectacle of China's conceding the advance of Japan into modern methods, while at the same time conced ing that she is still in the benighted con dition requiring extra territorial jurisdic tion to protect foreigners in China.

Probably the most important concession is Japan's occupation of Port Arthur and Wei-Hai-Wei for a term of years. This will assure a continuance of the peace for many years to come, as China will be in no condition to renew hostilities so long as the gateway to Pekin an I to China's commerce is guarded on either side by the great fortresses which China grants to apan for a term of years.

The permanent annexation of Formosa to Japan will add a rich and fertile country to the Japanese group. The tea production of the island is very extensive. Morever, there are extensive tracts of arable land well suited to Japanese coolle labor, should it be desired to withdraw the Japanese from Hawaii.

A QUADRUPLE LYNCHING.

It Has Doubtless Resulted in a Race War at Walsenburg, Colo.

PURBLO, Colo., March 13.-On Sunday Deputy Sheriff Hixon was brutally murdered at Walsenburg by several Italian coal miners. After pounding the deputy's head into a pulp the body was hidden, and was not found until Monday morning. When a general alarm was given bloodhounds were put upon the murderers' trail, and in a short time the well trained dogs succeeded in running down the gang of nine Italians.

costerday afternoon an inquest was held and the guilt of the gang clearly es-tablished. At 7:30 last night, as the nine were being taken to jail in a wagon, were fired upon from ambush. Four of the prisoners, whose names cannot be learned on account of the excitement. were instantly killed. Joe Welby, a young American boy who was driving the wagon, was also killed. The officers returned the fire, which lasted several minutes. The most intense excitement reigns.

One hundred or more Italians, seeing their countrymen lying around dead, be came frenzied, swearing they will have vengeance. Both factions began arming themselves, and at last accounts were expected to come together at any moment, The telegraph operator at Walsenburg has abandoned his post, leaving no way to se cure further information, except as it is brought into surrounding towns by people who are fleeing from the scene of trou ble, or deputy sheriffs seeking assistance.

Colombian Revolution Not Ended.
