THE NEWS GLEANINGS

An Inmate of the Lockup Makes Things Exceedingly Lively for a Time.

TRIES TO WRECK HIS CELL.

TORE OUT ONE OF THE WATER PIPES IN HIS RAVINGS AND FLOODS THE PLACE.

The Break in the Breastwork of the Davis' Run Reservoir is Temporarily Repaired—Inspected by Councilmen.

Brief mention was made yesterday of the arrest of a strange man on Thursday night for trying to clean out a store on West Centre street. The man was well stocked with liquor and in a condition bordering on delirium tremens. Neither his name nor address could be learned at the time and after vainly trying to pacify the man Policeman Lee ran him into the lockup.

When placed in the cell the man acted like a maniac. He attacked the cell door like an enraged lion, but accomplished nothing. He eventually turned his attention to a water pipe and tugged at it until he got it loose and the water poured into his cell. Nature finally asserted itself and the man fell exhausted upon the wooden bench. He was kept prisoner until last night, when he was allowed to go home. Before leaving the man said he was Joseph Hillsbush and that he resided at Yatesville. He was dressed like a farmer and it was supposed that he was from the Catawissa Valley until he disclosed his identity last night.

TEMPORARILY REPAIRED.

The Breastwork at Davis' Run Secured Against Further Damage.

Councilmen McElhenney, Straughn, Meluskey and Magargle spent yesterday afternoon at Davis' Run, inspecting the breastwork of the public water works reservoir and report that the damaged portion has been sufficiently repaired to withstand any freshet that may occur this spring, although the repairs are of only a temporary character. As soon as all danger attending the breaking up of the winter season is passed it will be necessary to make permanent repairs to some extent. For the present the break has been filled with a mixture of cement, pebbles and gravel and no trouble is expected even if the water should rise two feet above the waste way. The Councilmen are now convinced that the break in the breastwork was due entirely to poor material used in the construction, and not in any measure to springs. There is a spring in the center of the breastwork, but that has an outlet through a pipe. There is also one in the waste way, but that has no connection with the breastwork.

AT THE HIGH SCHOOL. Best and Finest

Special Exercises of a Very Interesting Character Held Yesterday Afternoon.

MUSICAL AND LITERARY!

PUPILS INDULGE IN VOCAL SOLOS AND CHORUSES, RECITATIONS, READINGS AND OTHER EXERCISES.

One of a Series of Very Pleasant Entertainments That Bring Great Benefit to the Pupils of the School.

The special exercises in the High school yesterday afternoon attracted quite a large attendance of friends of the pupils and they were given a rare and exceedingly pleasing program of vocal and instrumental music and literary exercises.

Public interest in these exercises of the High school is increasing and it will only be a question of time when they will be looked upon and patronized as regular lecture courses are patronized in other places. They are not only found pleasing and instructive to the patrons, but are of immense benefit as a training course for the pupils. It accustoms them to appearing and speaking in public, so that when the time for the graduating exercises arrives the pupils are prepared to meet the ordeal of addressing the large audiences in the opera house with self possession and grace. The exercises also practically form a course in elocution. They are held every six weeks. Allen Seltzer is the president of the school and Miss Leckie the secretary. Misses Muir and Lizzie Dougherty and Mr. Luther Edwards were the judges on the debate.

The exercises were opened at two o'clock with an address by the president on "Our Opportunity," which was followed by the following numbers: Singing, "Our Country's Call," school; recitation, "The Old Man in the Model Church," Miss Folmer; referred question, "What is the Moon?" John Conroy; recitation, "The American Flag," Miss McManus; recitations, Misses Fox and Hand and Mr. Beacher; singing, "Stars of the Summer Night," school; reading, "Barbara Fritchie," John Keogh; referred question, "Who Was Mme. De Stael?" Miss Burke; recitation, "William Tell," Miss Stanton; instrumental solo, "The Star Spangled Banner," with variations, Miss Price; recitations, John Adamson, M. Byrne and Miss Shanks; referred question, "Who is the Mikado?" Arthur Levine; reading, "The True Philanthropist," Miss Sheehy; singing, "Ode for Washington's Birthday," school; recitation, "The Progress of Humanity," Miss Gunter; referred question, "Michael Angelo," Miss Cantlin; reading, "The Boston Boys," Miss Uable; oration, "Improvement of Time," Cornelius Campbell; recitations, Misses H. Davis and Kane and Frank Conroy; referred question, "Frederick Douglass," Waelow Czeveski; singing, "Hail Columbia," school; reading, "Pearl Fishing," Miss M. Davis; referred question, "What are Comets?" James Creary; recitation, "Tribute to Washington," Miss McDonnell; recitations, James Stack and Miss Eisenhower; referred question, "Who was George Peabody?" Miss Campbell; singing, "Swanee River," school. The exercises also included a debate on the proposition, "Resolved, that the study of history is more beneficial than the study of geography." Misses Finberry, Meahan, Lechleitner and Harry Gable took the affirmative side of the question and Misses North, Mansell and Straub and Mr. A. D. Beck the negative. The debate was an exceedingly interesting one and was decided in favor of the negative by the votes of two of the judges, one voting in favor of the negative. Miss Lilwell read the critic's report and the exercises closed with the singing of "My Country 'tis of Thee" by the school.

No St. Patrick's Day Parade.

For the first time in several years there will be no St. Patrick's Day parade in town this year. A parade was looked for on Monday, but as the St. Patrick's band, which usually took the lead in celebrating the day, has been dissolved and as the people are anxious to take advantage of all the working time they can get, it has been decided not to have a formal observance of the day.

ODDS AND ENDS.

Interesting Paragraphs and Movements in Railway and Other Circles.

As it seems no two persons versed in ground hog lore can agree as to whether or not his noisily saw his shadow on February 2, the weather man has accommodatedly given both sides the best of the argument by handing out their respective weather on alternate days.

U. S. Express Agent Smith, of Allentown, on the route between Hazleton and Mauch Chunk, has resigned already, and it is said the cause of his resignation was the fear of being swallowed up some night in the mine breaches near Stockton. The Lehigh Valley shops at Hazleton are to be converted into a boiler manufacturing plant by the company and all the boilers needed along the line are to be made at that place, just as the foundry work is now done at Weatherly and the machine work at Delano.

Clergy men, who have for years enjoyed the privilege of reduced transportation rates upon the railroads of the country, will have those privileges entirely cut off in the near future. The New York Central, New York, Lake Erie & Western and West Shore have already done so, and the Pennsylvania, Reading, Baltimore & Ohio and Lehigh Valley will follow suit at the end of the present year. A letter-box swindler is operating through the eastern and middle counties of this state. He claims to be the agent of a manufacturer who makes letter boxes. These boxes he offers to lease for a term of five years at the startling low rate of five cents a year. The lease is a very liberal document and permits the lessee to remove the letter box to another house if it is necessary. The money is required to be paid in advance, though, and here is where the swindle comes in, for no one ever sees the letter box. A receipt is given for the money, of course, but it is always written with a lead pencil and signed in such a manner as to be illegible.
