Shenandoah, Penna.

Evening Herald.

MONDAY, MARCH 18, 1895.

NOT a single American merchant vessel passed through the Suez canal last year, but more than one American cargo did. Oh, to be sure, yes.

SECRETARY GRESHAM has been laid up with stomach trouble, and no wonder, poor man, when one thinks of the things he has had to swallow.

THE latest glorification of Andrew Jackson is that he was "a splendid fighter, courageous against the enemies of his country and of his party, and indifferent to duels."

SENATOR GOETMAN goes to Germany shortly, to remain till fall, for the good of his health, and the Maryland Democratic party, which just now, must recover as best it may.

AND now England is also threatening to exclude American meats from her markets, notwithstanding all the benefits she has derived from the Democratic tariff law, and from the financial policy of the Cleveland Administration.

AGE would be a little against Morton in the race for the Presidency. He is making a grand record, however, as Governor of the greatest state in the Union, and is thus gaining honors next to those which the Presidency would confer.

GOOD crops in the United States and bad ones in Europe for two or three years in succession, beginning in 1878, did fully as much as resumption in 1879 to wind up the panic started near the end of 1873. Large crops this year, too, would help business.

A POPULIST paper charges that the Chicago Times had become such an effective champion of free coinage that the gold-bugs purchased it. This recalls the Indiana Democratic explanation of a Republican victory in that state: "They bought us, d---n 'em."

BOSTON has a talented interviewer. At the close of an elaborate lecture on art he went up to the professor and asked, "What is your opinion of art?" He should be sent to Washington to ascertain Mr. Cleveland's general impression of the recent Congress.

CRISP has had two terms in the Speakership, and Reed will have at least two. Not many speakers beat that record. Carlisle, Blaine and Colfax had three terms and Randall two and a half, but more than half of the Speakers have secured only one term.

THE Democratic party has forfeited the robust and aggressive Americanism that characterized it in former days. There is nothing Jeffersonian or Jacksonian about its present attitude towards foreign nations. It was once noted for its determined opposition to the idea of imitating other countries or of being dictated to by them, but now it is tamely willing to order its course according to foreign intimidation. The American spirit seems to have oozed out of it, and it looks to Europe for inspiration and guidance. It is principally animated by what Senator Lodge calls "the melancholy doctrine that there is no higher aim or purpose for men and nations than to buy and sell, to trade jack knives and make everything cheap," and in giving practical effect to this doctrine, it does not hesitate to sacrifice patriotism in order to gain the favor of other countries. This is one of the reasons why it has made such a mess of the great work of conducting the affairs of the Government during the past two years. It is not in sympathy with the best interests and aspirations of the American people, but has become demoralized in its feelings and tendencies. Such a party is manifestly disqualified for sound and efficient service, and its present lease of power will be its last one until it learns that the policy of surrender is the policy of disaster and dishonor.

OKLAHOMA METHODS

An Armed Gang Robs Many People and Murders a Rich Peddler.

UNTOWNS, Pa., March 18.—A band of masked highwaymen, armed to the teeth, raided the Young region from Layton Station to Broadford, murdering Max Samuel, a wealthy Hebrew peddler, and robbing six watchmen on the Pennsylvania and two farmers, besides ransacking several farmhouses. Officers are in search of the marauders, but they were so thoroughly disguised that it will be impossible for any of their victims to identify them.

Samuels was murdered at Broadford in cold blood, his head being split open by a blow from an ax or a cleaver. The burglars went through his pockets, taking every cent of money and also his watch and other jewelry. They even ripped open his clothing to get at the money he had sewed up in the seams. The murdered man was a very eccentric character. His fortune is estimated anywhere from $50,000 to $50,000, and consists of real estate in Pittsburg, where he lived with his family. He made his money by peddling tin and by some lucky speculations.

After the murder of Samuels the highwaymen crossed the river on the Pemkey bridge and extended their depredations for eight miles along the Pemkey railroad. Friday was pay day on that road, and all the watchmen robbed lost their month's salary.

His Body Hidden by His Murderers.

CAHEY, O., March 18.—H. D. Reynolds, a prominent business man of this place, is missing under the most sensational and mysterious circumstances, every indication pointing to his murder and subsequent taking away by burglars. A few days ago Mrs. Reynolds went away for a few days' visit in the country, and when she returned she found the house in the utmost confusion. The bed clothing was torn and besmeared with blood, there were pools of blood on the floor, and every indication pointed to a desperate struggle having taken place. Everything of value had been taken, and the premises had been searched for money and valuables. The most diligent search has failed to unearth the body.

Escaped the Colorado Lynchers.

WALDENBERG, Colo., March 18.—Pietro Giabano, one of the men supposed to have been killed at Bear Creek last Tuesday night, has been found. He was discovered by some Mexicans about ten miles from the scene of the tragedy. His feet were frozen and he was in a pitiable condition from exposure, hunger and fright. The sheriff took him to Pueblo, where he was placed in jail. Antonio Biabatto, the other prisoner, has not yet been found, and Pietro does not know where he is. When Pietro's feet were frozen, and he was unable to walk, Antonio left him.

Rabbi Charged with Embezzlement.

PATRISON, N. J., March 18.—Rev. I. N. Benson, rabbi of the Barnett Memorial temple, at Broadway and Straight street, this city, was arrested, charged with embezzlement, and released on bail to await requisition papers from Philadelphia or from Council Bluffs. Rabbi Benson formerly practiced law in Council Bluffs, Ia., where he was given a claim for $350 to collect by Abram Hirsh & Bros., of Philadelphia. He claims to have collected only a part of the money, while Hirsh & Bros. claim the whole amount was collected.

Forty-three Miners Killed.

VIENNA, March 18.—An explosion of fire-damp occurred in the Hohenegg mine at Troppau, Austria, on Saturday. Two hundred men were in the mine when the explosion occurred, most of whom escaped. Forty-three dead bodies have been recovered. Only six of the miners are now unaccounted for. Archduke Frederick, the owner of the mine, will pay a pension of 100 florins each to the widows. The widows and orphans will also receive a pension from the miners' benevolent fund.

A Quiet Sunday in Cincinnati.

CINCINNATI, March 18.—The Law and Order league closed up the city yesterday. Slot machines and all such devices were run into the collars last week. Gambling places have been closed wherever it was possible to shadow them for some time. During the past week the midnight closing law has been strictly enforced. The records show over forty saloonists arrested yesterday for keeping open in violation of the Sunday law.

Spain Won't Do It Again.

WASHINGTON, March 18.—The state department has received a dispatch from Minister Taylor, at Madrid. The Spanish government has given assurance to the United States that there will be no more repetition of such offenses as the firing upon the mail steamer Allanca. The reply of the Spanish government is couched in courteous and temperate phrases.

Protesting Against Sunday Opening.

NEW YORK, March 18.—A mass meeting was held in the Park Avenue Methodist church last night to protest against the opening of saloons on Sunday. The meeting was addressed by the Rev. Dr. John Hall, ex-Judge Noah Davis, Dr. James King, A. J. Palmer and the Rev. Ferdinand Iglehart, pastor of the church.

From LaGrippe.

How Dr. Miles' Nervine Brought One of Kentucky's Foremost Business Men Back to Health.

NO DISEASE has ever presented so many peculiarities, developed so many aggravating symptoms and baffled so many physicians as LaGrippe. No disease leaves its victims so debilitated, useless, sleepless, nerveless, as LaGrippe. It is a disease of the nerves, it saps up the tissue, the vitality, the life-giving nerve force that feeds the brain.

There is one remedy that will replace this worn-out tissue; that will restore this lost vitality and restore health. Read what Mr. D. W. Hilton, state agent of the Mutual Life Insurance Co., of Kentucky, one of the best known insurance men in the south, and whose portrait appears above, says about how Dr. Miles' Nervine restored him to health when all else had failed.

"In 1889 and '90 I had two severe attacks of LaGrippe, about eight months intervening between them, the last one confining me to my bed for four months and attacking my nervous system, with such severity that my life was despaired of. I had not slept for more than two months except by the use of narcotics that stupefied me, but gave me no rest. For more than eight long weeks I was only conscious of intense mental weakness, agonizing bodily pain and the fact that I was hourly growing weaker.

When in this condition, it seemed like a providential circumstance that I learned of Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine, for in two days after I commenced using it, I began to improve and in one month's time I was virtually cured, and very much to the surprise of everybody who knew of my condition; for some of them believed I would never recover. I have been in excellent health since and have recommended your remedies to many of my friends, not one of whom has failed to thank me for doing so, when I have met them again.

But the best remains to be told. Mrs. Hilton had suffered with severe nervous troubles for thirteen years and had been treated by several physicians, who stand high in their profession, without any perceptible improvement. Seeing how the Nervine had so effectually cured me, she commenced using it and is now in excellent health. We never fail to recommend it."

SPAIN'S MINISTRY RESIGNS.

Premier Sagasta Will be Succeeded by General Martinez de Campos.

MADRID, March 18.—The Sagasta ministry has resigned in consequence of the trouble in the chamber of deputies on Saturday, when all the reporters withdrew from the house as a protest against the official defense made by the minister of war of the officers who attacked and wrecked the offices of El Globo, the organ of Senor Castelar.

The ministers decided to resign at a council held last evening. Senor Sagasta subsequently went to the palace and handed the resignations to the queen regent, who accepted them. It is expected that Marshal Martinez de Campos will form a business cabinet. Senor Sagasta has declared that it is his intention not to resume the premiership. The Herald today says that Marshal de Campos will assume command of the troops in Madrid before he forms a cabinet. General Bermudez Reina, the military governor of Madrid, resigned that position on Saturday.

While the council was sitting last night a deputation of military officers presented itself. It is not known whether the officers were summoned by General Dominguez, the minister of war, or came of their own accord.

Bond Robber Duke Convicted.

HOLLIDAYSBURG, Pa., March 18.—In the Blair county court Thomas Duke was convicted of robbing the office of the Altoona city treasurer and stealing $5,000 worth of bonds. Solomon Wood was acquitted of the same crime. The jury did not believe the evidence of Willie Potter, Wood's sweetheart, who testified that Solomon had confessed his guilt.

Little Fots Intoxicated.

PORT JENNIS, N. Y., March 18.—The two children of Patrick Knoud, of Tuxedo Park, a boy aged 5 and a girl aged 3 years, found a bottle of whisky on the table during the absence of the mother and drank freely of it. Both became intoxicated, and the little girl, in attempting to go downstairs, fell headlong, sustaining fatal injuries.

CRUSHED TO DEATH

Under the Walls of a Falling Round House at Toledo.

THREE MEN DEAD, NINE INJURED.

The Twelve Men Were Endeavoring to Extinguish a Fire When, Without a Moment's Warning, the Walls Collapsed. Two Crushed Beyond Recognition.

TOLEDO, O., March 18.—The round house of the Wabash Railroad company in this city, located at the foot of South street in Dock front, burned to the ground between 10 and 11 o'clock yesterday morning. Three-quarters of an hour after the first alarm was sent the southwest wall of the building, sixty feet in circumference, fell in, burying twelve men underneath it. Two of them were instantly killed, a third died a short time after being taken out of the debris and the others were all badly hurt, one probably fatally. All but one, John Bowen, were employes of the Wabash.

The dead—R. H. Bohlman, aged 56, painter, married, six children; J. J. Preston, aged 35, car inspector, married, six children; John Bowen, aged 18, inspector.

The injured—John Leary, machinist, arm crushed and skull fractured, may die; F. H. Howard, general foreman eastern division, head bruised, face cut and slightly burned, will recover; Patrick McDonough, fireman, skull fractured and shoulder broken, will recover; Martin Greenburg, car repairer, head cut, will recover; Harry Zimmerman, painter, legs sprained and body bruised; Louis Becker, painter, head bruised and shoulder sprained; Henry Gerding, car repairer, head bruised and cut; T. C. Lauer, truck foreman, head and neck sprained and head cut; Jasper Becker, painter, head and shoulders cut.

The first alarm of fire came by telephone to the district offices at 10:10 a. m. General Foreman Howard summoned the company's private fire department, consisting of fifteen men, to the scene, and a stream of water was directed towards the blazing cupola. A heavy wind was blowing, and the fire soon ate its way down to the roof.

When Fire Chief Mayo reached the fire he saw there was danger of the flames reaching the oil house and repair shop and the Wabash elevator, all in close proximity, and he immediately sent in a general alarm.

Meanwhile the road's fire company had directed its efforts towards smothering the flames in the southeast end of the structure, which menaced the oil house, and the fire at this point was held fairly in check. The roof was already ablaze and threatened to collapse every moment, but the falling of the walls was not at this time anticipated. The iron braces supporting the roof expanded in the intense heat and the frail frame covering gave way with a muffled roar, falling in on the stalled engines.

At this moment the southwest wall, eighteen feet high and eighteen inches thick, was seen to totter outward from the lateral pressure of the falling roof, and a yell went up to apprise of their danger the fifteen at work at this portion of the building. The warning came too late, and twelve of the men were buried in a pile of brick several feet high. That only two were killed outright was nothing short of miraculous. Streams of water were poured on the smoking debris, and as soon as possible the work of rescue began.

Preston and Bowen were buried completely, and were dead some time before their bodies were reached. They were badly crushed, Bohlman's features being unrecognizable. Bohlman was taken out of an unconscious condition and removed to his home, where he died a few hours afterward. By this time half a dozen persons had reached the scene, and attention was directed toward caring for the injured. Leary, the machinist, was found to be the worst sufferer, and it was feared he would scarcely live out the day. The others, though badly used up, will recover.

The firemen had a stubborn fight with the now doomed round house, the heavy wind greatly aiding the flames. At noon the fire was practically under control, after destroying all that was inflammable of the building.

The property loss is estimated at $100,000; probably included. The round house, which had a capacity of twenty locomotives, contained only six engines, and these were all badly damaged. A Wheeling and Lake Erie coal car and Baltimore and Ohio box car were consumed.

Probably a Wife Murderer.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 18.—Charley Rice, a variety actor, well known on the Pacific coast, was found in a street near his lodging house yesterday morning blowing a police whistle. He said his wife was dead upstairs. Investigation revealed a horrible sight. The woman's throat had been cut with a razor from ear to ear, her head being all but severed from her body, and the bloody razor hidden under a pile of clothes. Rice said that he left the room for a short time, and on returning found his wife dead. Quarrels between the couple were frequent. The woman deserted her husband for Rice several years ago. She was known on the stage as Cora Everett.

The Spaniards captured four cannon and a number of rifles.
