WANSY PILLS!

THE REVOLT IN CUBA.

More Formidable Than Reports from Spain Acknowledge. SIXTHOUSAND INSURGENTS ARMED.

Defeat for Government Troops Reported as Victories—People Shot for Expressing Opinions—The Revolt Will Kill Business in Cuba for Two Years.

KEY WEST, Fla., March 18.—A trustworthy report of the condition of affairs in the eastern end of Cuba is brought by a passenger on the steamer Mascotte.

"I have traveled throughout the mountainous district constantly since the trouble began," said he, "and matters are now in a much worse condition than at the beginning. The fighting started in a desultory and scattered fashion, but the forces gradually became organized, and there are now fully 6,000 insurgents under arms.

"Many leaders are springing up, and by force of their intellect and ability they have induced the insurgents not to hold of longer for the arrival of old leaders. The general opinion in Santiago is that if the insurgents can hold out until summer the yellow fever will help them greatly."

"It is said that both Pabn and Maso are guarding every road, and nobody is allowed to pass without giving the strictest account of himself. It is as much as a man's life is worth to talk in favor of the Cubans. Several persons have been shot on account of an expression of opinion.

"Instances where the Spaniards were defeated have been published as government victories. Four Spanish cruisers were in the harbor of Santiago one week ago, now there are but two guarding the eastern coast and one the southern."

The passenger also said the revolt would kill business in Cuba for two years. Money is already scarce, and prices are high. A panic is feared. It seems to be the general impression among the Spaniards that the United States feels bitter toward the Spanish government, and would like nothing better than an excuse to seize the island, hence their hatred of the Americans.

Thirteen hundred prisoners are reported in the prisons of Havana. San Juill and Aguirre are being tried by civil court as requested by Consul Williams and it is believed that they will be freed, although it is asserted that should San Juill be released his life will be in peril.

The Cubans had a recent engagement with Spanish troops in the outskirts of Bayamo. It is said that citizens saw the fight from the housetops. The fray lasted two hours, and 300 Spaniards were killed and wounded.

The Cubans gave an entertainment in Ybor City, the proceeds being for the treasury of the revolutionary party. The house was crowded.

Nothing official has been received on the report of the Spanish cruiser firing on the Alliance. It is understood that the Spanish officials in Havana claim the Alliance was within three miles of shore, and that the cruiser had a right to sink her on her refusal to halt.

Jersey Legislators Will Tarry. TRENTON, March 18.—The legislature will not adjourn sine die next Friday, as had been agreed upon, and it is now quite certain that the time will be extended at least another week.

Three Drowned by a Waterspout. BIRMINGHAM, Ala., March 18.—Thirty miles from Gadsden, near the Coosa river, a waterspout burst, flooding a valley for three miles. Many houses floated from their foundations, and much live stock drowned. Jacob Alverson, a farmer, his wife and 4-year-old son all lost their lives. Their cabin was near a creek which had swollen into a river and was quickly swept away with its occupants. It is feared several other lives were lost.

Will Make a Fight for His Children. CHICAGO, March 18.—Mr. Aubrey, Chief Justice Fuller's son-in-law, will not contest his wife's application for divorce, but he will endeavor to prevent her having full control of the children, and will also try to prevent her from changing the names of the children to Fuller.

Died from His Injuries. ALTOONA, Pa., March 18.—Thomas Connors, of Pittsburg, who was struck by a freight train near this city on Friday night, died in the Altoona hospital yesterday afternoon.

Tin Plate Works Resumes. HARRISBURG, March 18.—The Lalancie-Sherman tin plate works, which closed town last December, resumed operations this morning, giving employment to 250 men.

HELD IN BONDAGE.

All Her Life—Happy Release at Last of Miss Alice Young, who Resides at 392 Alexander Street, Rochester, N. Y.

(From Rochester Democrat and Chronicle.) Our representative was received very pleasantly at 392 Alexander Street, by Miss Alice Young, who told how since childhood she had been held in the bondage of pain from her back, never remembering the time that she had not suffered pain or aches in the region of the kidneys.

Many were the means she used to find relief, but there seemed no remedy for her case and she still remained a captive; then along comes these little enemies to backache, Doan's Kidney Pills, and a half box releases the bonds, as one by one the aches and pains disappear, she finds herself a slave to pain no more, by their continued use. She says: "I was entirely relieved of all my suffering and now I am perfectly strong, healthy and well."

"How did you take this remedy?" Miss Young was asked by our representative, she replied that she followed directions explicitly. Miss Young then told how the malady affected her, saying her symptoms were: "Stooping, bending over, walking or standing any length of time always gave me a pain in the small of my back. I had a pain in the kidneys all the time, and if I caught cold it would always settle there; the pain I suffered was of a very exhausting nature; at night I could only lie flat on my back any other position causing pain and suffering; the nerves passing up my back, were affected and this brought with it severe headaches, but as I said before, Doan's Kidney Pills have removed all pain and suffering entirely and I never felt better and healthier in my life."

Doan's Kidney Pills are for sale by all dealers, price 50 cents, mailed by Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., Sole Agents for the United States.

LEXINGTON, Ky., March 18.—The jury in the celebrated Gratz will case returned a verdict yesterday and sustained the will. This is a great victory for Mrs. Thomas H. Clay, who was bequeathed the largest share of the property of her mother, Mrs. Bernard Gratz. The will was contested by General Joseph O. Shelby, United States marshal of Missouri, a half brother of Mrs. Clay, in co-operation with the four children of Admiral Pierce Crosby, United States navy, one of whose wives was a sister of Mrs. Clay. General Shelby and the Crosby children will appeal the case.

Urging Desist Expulsion. TORONTO, March 18.—The executive committee of the G. P. A. (Canadian Protective association) has issued a manifesto, in which a solemn protest is entered against dominion interference in the Manitoba school question. Continuing the manifesto says: "To prevent a recurrence of attempts to destroy the public school system of the various provinces, and to restore harmony among all our people, irrespective of creed, we ask all our members and every patriotic citizen to unite in the just demand that Jesuits be forthwith expelled from this country."

Electrical Workers' Strike Ended. NEW YORK, March 18.—Two thousand striking electrical workers and building workmen went back to work today. They resumed work on John Jacob Astor's mansion at Sixty-fifth street and Fifth avenue, the American Trust society's new building, at Spruce and Nassau streets, and on the Wolf building, at William street and Maiden lane. These men are in the employ of Builder John Downey. The executive committee of the board of walking delegates and Mr. Downey had a meeting that lasted all day yesterday, with the following result:

The commands of the Hamadieh (irregular cavalry) pitched their tents on some of the heights, and with field glasses in their hands they observed the sides of the mountains, and if they perceived near our destroyed houses or behind a stone the head of a man they ordered the cavalry to go there. And the soldiery cut to pieces all they found there, without distinction of age or sex. The heads of the victims were brought as trophies to the commanders.

"The Kurds hunted for children, threw them on the ground and plunged daggers into their bodies. After this they pitched them into the air and turned the daggers in their bodies and threw them against a stone, saying: 'When you are grown you would fight us. Better go into hell.' Then they tramped the bodies under foot.

"The Kurds hunted me to kill me because they knew that I was neither lazy nor sleepy in killing them. We decided, I and my two companions, to fly to Russia. We fled from Sassoun and reached the forest. Entering we heard a heavy and heartrending sigh. Going to the sound we found Miro, from Khtan, a courageous Sassoun man, from whose mouth flowed blood. We took Miro and carried him secretly, but when we reached the wheat field the Kurds saw us and pursued. Then each of us gave a kiss to our dying comrade and fled. The Kurds took Miro, dragged him into a sheepfold and set fire to it. All was burned.

"My uncle was killed in the fighting. The other members of our family took refuge in a cavern. The place was so difficult to reach that we had to draw up the women and children one by one by ropes.

"After many days of flight we came to the village of Ziz, and then to Edhnapte. We were six, and all wore strange clothing. We had coats of moose and hats of moose. If we had worn our Sassoun aba (overcoat) and our Sassoun hats the Kurds would have recognized us, and we should have been killed."

I have no doubt Marto told the truth, and it is well for him he is on Russian soil.

Back from the Dead. RALEIGH, March 18.—J. M. Newcomb, of Petersburg, Va., was believed to have been drowned by falling from a steamer last September, on the way from Baltimore to Norfolk, but he has turned up at Greensboro. His family were in mourning, the courts had declared him dead and $10,000 life insurance had been paid on his life. When Newcomb got out of the water his mind was impaired by exposure and fright, and he wandered from Baltimore to New York, Chicago and New Orleans.

Detective Joined a Thieving Gang. RALEIGH, N. C., March 18.—For six months an organized gang of thieves has been terrorizing the seaport town of Beaufort to such an extent that no one felt safe. All the principal stores and many dwellings have been robbed. A detective was employed who got in with the burglars and joined them in breaking into a store. Four of the gang were captured and are in jail.

Conductor Goodman Acquitted. CHARLOTTEVILLE, Va., March 18.—Conductor F. A. Goodman, of the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad, who has been on trial here for the murder of Colonel H. C. Parsons, of Natural Bridge, Va., was acquitted by the jury on Saturday. This was the second trial of the case, the first having resulted in a second degree verdict and a sentence of eighteen years.

MURKERS OF ARHENAIA.

Another Chapter Anent the Work of Bloodthirsty Kurds AS TOLD BY A YOUNG SURVIVOR.

Armenian Women Joined Their Male Defenders in Fighting for the Defense of Their Homes—Little Children Tossed in the Air and Impaled on Daggers.

LONDON, March 18.—The following letter has been received from the special correspondent of the Associated Press, who is examining into the Armenian atrocities. The letter, which bears date of Kara, Feb. 28, says:

An Armenian refugee has just arrived here after many dangers and privations since his escape from his home at Sassoun. His name is Marto, he is a shepherd, 30 years of age, and though belonging to a race made energetic by the rigors of the climate of their native mountains, and inclined to be taciturn to strangers, he spoke of the horrors of Sassoun with such an angry light in his eyes, and all the time simply, straightforwardly, that I could not but feel in listening to his narrative that I was at least listening to the truth.

I gave his words as they fell from his lips after I had told him I wished to know just what happened under his own eyes. He said:

"My name is Marto. I am the son of Stepan. Our family name is called Nekko, and the name of our village is Azhbi. In my neighborhood were also the villages of Khtan, Heting and Gueharash. My village Azhbi consisted of seventy houses. Now there remains not a single man, not a single house. All is destroyed. The people are all killed save three families. In my family were nine members. My father was the most considerable man in the village. There were in all four men in our family. My father was the most courageous, and was at the head of the fighting.

"By order of the Vall Kalmadkan Sassoun was attacked by a very great number of Kurds. The Kurds assailed us like wolves, but they could not conquer us. Not only we men took part in the fighting, but all the women, even the old ones—as my mother—tucked up their clothes, armed themselves with daggers and helped us to fight the Kurds. Twenty-one days our battle continued. We beat and were beaten.

"But we showed no sign of defeat or intention to retire from the battle. When we had succeeded in killing some of the Kurds Vall Pasha and Vall Kalmadkan sent many regular troops—how many there I do not know, maybe five, maybe twenty thousand. One thing is very certain, there remained no place without some soldiers. They placed cannon and began to fire. We had never before heard the name of cannon, nor had we seen them. At their sound the women fainted, and the shells spread everywhere, terror, death and destruction. The troops showed mercy to nobody, neither to children nor old men. The shells mowed down all before them as grass before a scythe. We fled and began to seek refuge in our rocks and caves, but the cannon continued to sweep away everything—stones and men. The flames and smoke of our burning homes, reached us in our caverns.

"The commands of the Hamadieh (irregular cavalry) pitched their tents on some of the heights, and with field glasses in their hands they observed the sides of the mountains, and if they perceived near our destroyed houses or behind a stone the head of a man they ordered the cavalry to go there. And the soldiery cut to pieces all they found there, without distinction of age or sex. The heads of the victims were brought as trophies to the commanders.

COTTOLENE.

It's Provoking to be deceived; it's annoying to have a poor article of shortening. You can avoid both by seeing that your pail of COTTOLENE bears the trade mark—steer's head in cotton-plant wreath—and be sure of having delicious, healthful food. Other manufacturers try to imitate COTTOLENE, that's the best reason why you want the original article.
