The New Laws Prepared for the Selection of Officials for Boroughs.

ARE FAVORABLY REPORTED

EXTRACTS QUOTED FROM THE LAWS APPLYING TO THE ELECTION OF BOROUGH OFFICERS.

Senator John J. Coyle Has the Measures in Hand and Says They Will be Passed by the Senate Without a Doubt.

Special HERALD correspondence

HARRISBURG, Mar. 22 .- Senator Coyle's bills providing for the election by the people of treasurers, supervisors and town clerks in boroughs, instead of appointment by Councils, have met with much favor here and have been reported favorably by committees. Senator Coyle says he is confident the three bills will pass the Senate either next week, or the week made or not. The hest men's hats, $1. A big line of pauts and vests. Single pants following.

The treasurer's bill provides that the qualified voters of every borough in the Commonwealth shall at the next regular election for borough offices and triennially thereafter vote for and elect a properly qualified elector of the borough for treasurer, who shall serve for the term of three years. The treasurer so elected shall receive all moneys due or accruing to the borough and pay the same on orders drawn and attested by the town clerk and signed by the president of the town council. He shall keep a just and true account of all moneys received and disbursed, which account shall be at all times open to the inspection of the town council. He shall once in three months and oftener, if required, furnish the town council with a statement of all moneys received and disbursed since the date of his last statement, exhibiting the balance remaining in his hands, together with the names of the persons in whose hands any arrearages may remain, with the amount thereof; and shall once in one year state his accounts and produce his vouchers, which, after examination by the town council, shall be by said body laid before the borough auditors for settlement. He shall pay over all moneys remaining in his hands and deliver all books, papers, accounts and other things belonging to the corporation to his suc-The bill also provides that the treasurer shall, before entering upon his Jennie Taylor, Emma and Katie Boehm. duties, take his oath of office and give a towa council. The bill further provides borough treasury the sum of not less than one hundred dollars per year as a salary

The bill providing for the election of states that at the next regular election for borough officers and triennially thereafter the qualified voters shall vote for serve for the term of three years; that such supervisor shall perform his duties under the direction of the town council, who shall fix his salary.

The bill providing for the election of a town clerk has been reported favorably,

but is not yet in print

By a careful perusal of the two bills furnished it will be observed that they in no way change the character of the offices of borough treasurer and supervisor, but leaves them as they now are, with the exception that in the case of the treasurer the bond is fixed at the uniform figure of $10,000. This amount has been decided upon after some conference as ample A comparison of notes has shown that, in the absence of extensive public improvements, it is seldom that a borough treasbond at one time. It is true that when boroughs receive their share of the county revenue the treasurer gets as high as fifteen thousand dollars in his hands, but it has been that outstanding orders and other obligations quickly reduce the amount of the holdings to a figure within | Funeral will take place on Monday, 25th that prescribed by the new law.

True, it practically extends the terms of the police from one to three years, and thus does not subject competent men to such frequency of removal as now exists but it carries with it an implication of a limit of service, namely a term lasting as long as the Chief Burgess remains in office. It does not embrace the princi ple that a policeman shall remain in ser vice as long as he is qualified and faithful. On the contrary it keeps the police force subject to the change of administrations and that has long since been declared bad policy. A better plan would be to have the Chief of Police elected by the people and let him appoint his subordinates, subject to the approval of Councils.

The Clair Patee Company is as prolific in presenting dramatic novelties as they are artistic, capable and thorough in their The Talk About Mad Dogs is Not interpretation. The bill last night was "Infatuation," by Sir Charles Gomig, and a grand play of deep human interest it proved to be. With a story entirely probable, in fact many can recall instances where the plot of this drams has been relterated in real life, it was absorbing that even the gallery, which HE IS CALLED UPON TO KILL AN usually grows restless when subjected to too severe a test in emotional drama joined in the applause and throughout the play sustained a silence indicative of intense interest. Many in the large audience were moved to tears in sympathy with the wronged wife, excellently interpreted by Miss Virginia Bray. In strong emotional characters this lady is indeed superior, and her efforts last even ing places her easily at the head of all actresses appearing here in similar roles, and will be long remembered by those who were so fortunate as to be present. William Nichols has won decided favor and commendation here in all his work, but last night he gave a superior rendition, moving his audience at will, always proving more than equal to the strong situations of a most difficult role, his acting being of that intense quality so secessary in dramas of this order. Miss Eva Taylor can congratulate herself upon having won additional laurels in her in personation of the adventuress. So wel did she present the part, that while she was the cause of all the discension, ye she received hearty approbation for her clever work. Mr. J. W. Davenport had a good character, sustaining it well, and Miss Hanchett, Mr. Gordon, Mr. Livingston and Mr. Murray were deserving of special mention. Miss Florence Hadley as usual held favor with the audience by her superior singing. Taken as a whole

CONSTABLE BOLAND SHOOTS

ANIMAL THAT HAD BITTEN A NUMBER OF COWS.

Worthless Curs Are Increasing to an Alarming Proportion, and the Borough Authorities Should Take Some Action.

The borough authorities will be obliged to take some action regarding the dog nuisance that exists in the town. A few days ago the HERALD gave an account of the shooting of a valuable dog owned by B. J. Yost because it was feared that the animal was going mad, and the report was followed by a statement by Mr. Yost in which he stated that there never has been a period when there were more mad and vicious dogs at large than at the present time. Mr. Yost's statement is strengthened by a report by Constable Boland, of the Fifth ward, that last night he shot a dog on West Centre street that had been run ning at large and had bitten several cows. It is claimed that the ordinances in the various towns of the county regarding the care of dogs have been neglected to such an extent during the past few years that the animals have multiplied to immense proportions and they run wild. Chased and teased by the children the animals have grown victors and are a source of great annoyance. If the present state of affairs existed in the summer months there would be considerable alarm. If the authorities wait for the summer months to arrive be fore taking action this year they will find it difficult to cope with the evil, as the dogs are multiplying at a rapid rate. Many of them have become so wild that they keep within shelter in the daytime and only venture out at night on foraging expeditions.
